Zucker's Friends, Foes Crowd Board Hearing

Challenge To Lund Position

By WAT TAKESHITA

The biggest crowd in the history of Marin County government converged on the Civic Center today to blast and defend Planning Director Paul C. Zucker at a public hearing to determine his fate before a board of supervisors which is split almost down the middle.

MAIN FACTIONS

A crowd estimated at 500 persons overflowed into the corridors and the veranda outside the building amid a tense atmosphere that threatened to explode into a minor version of the big quake that rocked the Bay Area 63 years ago today.

Spectators who flocked to the Civic Center reported that every parking stall was filled, and cars were lined up toward Highway 101.

From the outset, it was evident that the main battle would pit developers, unhappy over what they consider Zucker's "arrogance," against conservationists, who look to Zucker as their champion in the defense of the county's environment and natural beauty.

JURY LEADERS

Zucker was accompanied to the hearing by an aide, Albert Solnit, chief of advanced planning.

Among the complainants was Arthur J. Lang, San Rafael civil engineer, who has long criticized the planning department for lack of communication and lack of courtesy.

Two grand jury foremen, Clifford S. Lund of the 1967 jury, and Austin W. Little of the 1968 jury opened their case against Zucker, presenting a series of developers who complained about Zucker's tough attitude toward such developments as Tom E. Nowell's service station and commercial project in Richardson Bay, Burge's drive-in at Ignacio, Wiltshire Towers across the highway from the Civic Center, and Stanley W.

HINTS SURTAX REDUCTION

Nixon Hopeful On Peace; Defends Missile Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon declared today that chances for peace in Vietnam "have significantly improved" since he took office—but added he does not want to raise false hopes that peace is around the corner.

Nixon told a news conference his assessment was based on "a number of developments," but when he listed them, he gave no indication that the Communists have signaled a willingness to move toward settlement.

Instead, he stressed improvement of the capabilities of South Vietnam, Saigon's willingness to accept some compromise in the makeup of a future government, and greater political stability in the South.

He said the latter factors would "give a better opportunity for negotiating room" at the Paris peace conference.

He also said flatly "I am not" considering a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. forces from the war zone.

Nixon's discussion of South Vietnam was marked at the outset by one ironic slip: he twice referred to that nation as South Korea.

For it was Korea, and the downing of the Navy intelligence plane, which seemed uppermost in his mind.

On an issue of major domestic importance, Nixon said the administration intends that the 10 per cent income surtax will be "reduced and removed as soon as we are able to do so."

He gave no indication how soon that would be.

Back on the subject of Vietnam, Nixon said he does not intend to order any reduction in U.S. activity on the battlefield. He said U.S. casualties have decreased because of a reduction in offensive action by the Communists.

He said there is no prospect that U.S. forces can be withdrawn until South Vietnam takes over a greater share of the combat burden, or the Paris peace talks produce progress warranting such a step.

On the question of taxes, Nixon added that he still believes that taxes are too high and still believes—as he contended during his election campaign—that the surtax should be removed as soon as this becomes possible by reason of an end to the Vietnam hostilities or other reasons.

Nixon told questioners that the administration's tax reform package will be sent to Congress next Monday or Tuesday. He said he has already approved the message, and it will contain proposals "of interest to all of you."

On another major point, Nixon said he has no plans to take to the country his case for deployment of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system. Nixon said he believes his news conferences—this was his fifth as President—cover that.

Nixon said his decision for de-

Nixon Orders Flights Resumed With Cover

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — President Richard M. Nixon today ordered resumption of U.S. reconnaissance flights off the North Korean coast and served notice that "they will be protected."

"When planes of the United States or ships of the United States in intelligence gathering, are in international waters or international air space, they are not fair game," the President told a news conference. "They will not be in the future." He declared, "this will be protected. That is not a threat, but a statement of fact."

He said that further U.S. moves as a result of loss of a an unarmed Navy reconnaissance plane, with a crew of 31 to North Korean MIGs "will depend on the circumstances."

U.S. Accuses North Korea Of Calculated Aggression

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) —The United States today accused North Korea of a "calculated act of aggression" in shooting down an American spy plane and told the Communists they must "account for the consequences."

The first face-to-face meeting of U.S. and North Korean officials since the Navy plane went down with 31 mean aboard Tuesday pitted U.S. Air Force Maj. Gen. James B. Knapp against North Korean Maj. Gen. Ri Choon-Sung at this truce village between the two Koreas.

It ended abruptly 42 minutes after it began. Knapp stalked out of the quonset hut meeting with Ri demanding to know: "What was the belonging of the EC121 aircraft? . . . Why do you not tell us the belonging? . . . Tell us the belonging."

Apparently under orders not to debate the incident, Knapp climbed into his car and headed south, his statement delivered. It said the U.S. Navy EC121 reconnaissance plane was well outside North Korean territory, posed no threat to the Communists and was engaged in a "completely legitimate" operation.

"It was not attacking you or preparing to attack you or supporting an attack on you," Knapp's statement said. "The shooting down of this United States plane was not an act of self-defense. It was a calculated act of aggression."

Anti-ROTC Drive Gains At Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Harvard Corporation, one of the troubled university's two governing boards, said today it will abide by a faculty resolution to reduce the university's Reserve Officer Training Corps program to an extra curricular activity without special privileges or facilities. (See also campus unrest roundup, page 7.)

William L. Marbury, a Baltimore, Md., lawyer and senior member of the seven-man corporation, told newsmen he hoped the action will help settle the tension and student strike at the nation's oldest college.

He said that subject to approval by other Harvard faculties, the 385-25 vote of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences will be adopted by the corporation.

That resolution recommends an end to present ROTC contracts "as soon as legally possible" and asks that no new arrangements be made.

"We share the faculty's concern" over meeting the "special interests" of Negro students, Marbury said, adding that when the faculty votes Tuesday on a black studies program, the corporation will then have a chance to approve it.

Abolition of ROTC and creation of a black studies department were two of the eight demands made by the protesters, led by students for a Democratic Society.

Negro Is Candidate For Atlanta Mayor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Negro educator, Dr. Horace E. Tate, announced today he will be a candidate for mayor of Atlanta.

Tate holds a Ph.D. in education administration and has been a school teacher and college professor.

Stanford Militants End Sit-In At Lab

The 600 students who had participated in the occupation of the Applied Electronics Laboratory voted almost unanimously to "temporarily suspend" the protest and leave the building.

Doron Weinberg, one of the protest leaders, said President Kenneth S. Pitzer had agreed to keep the building closed to all but maintenance personnel for one week.

The demonstrators, who marched into the lab April 9 to protest war-related research at Stanford, said they would hold a mass meeting next Friday to consider future tactics—including "reoccupation of a university building."

In deciding to abandon their camp-in, the students talked of "not being prepared to stand up against police or federal troops."

The university had repeatedly said it would not call outside forces if the protest remained peaceful.

The end of the sit-in came a few hours after the Stanford Judicial Council gave Pitzer emergency powers to cope with the protesters on the 11,300 student campus.

The student-faculty council, which handles campus discipline, agreed unanimously the occupation of the lab was a violation of campus rules on disruption.

Then it paved the way, on a 5-2 vote with two students dissenting, for Pitzer to remove 100 students who have occupied the lab.

Meanwhile, at Pitzer's instigation, questionnaires were mailed yesterday to all of the school's students faculty, asking their views of the Stanford Research Institute, the Menlo Park affiliate to the school that conducts $6.5 million Defense Department research annually.

Key questions inquired about severing the institute completely from the school, as a faculty-student committee recommended this week, or integrating it into the university more fully.

Hayakawa Says Freedom In Peril

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, said today that "academic freedom is in jeopardy from radical elements in the student body and faculty."

He told a news conference that radical students are making "an energetic attempt to suppress freedom of speech."

Hayakawa, whose college has been disturbed by frequent disorders, came to Chicago to speak before the Executives Club. A detail of 10 policemen was assigned to the Palmer House, where the club met.

Missile Launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The Air Force fired a Minuteman II intercontinental missile down the western test range today in a test of system components.

Reagan Favors Nixon Policy

BERKELEY (AP) — Gov Ronald Reagan said today that "I think most people in this country are going to be gratified" by President Richard M. Nixon's decision to provide protection for reconnaissance planes in the Sea of Japan.

"If there is not some decision made that makes the enemy realize it cannot take place again, there will be another one," Reagan said, referring to the recent shooting down of an American plane.

Reagan was attending a session of the University of California regents.

Delinquent Tax Tab Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total of delinquent federal taxes climbed past $1.5 billion last year, Sen. John J. Williams told the Senate today.

That figure does not include another $563 million written off as uncollectible or abated in the same year.

The delinquencies of $1.58 billion represents an increase of $190 million over 1967, Williams said.

Streamlining Plea Sounded By Rafferty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State schools chief Max Rafferty urged today a major overhaul of the Department of Education which he said would give California the most streamlined education operation in the world.

Rafferty spoke in support of a State Board of Education reorganization plan that has been in the works for six years — and been put on ice by the Reagan administration.

Speaking of the plan, he said, "No other state is doing this."

The plan would establish three new divisions in the education department. More importantly, Rafferty said, it would enable department personnel to cut across the entire spectrum of education problems and enter "the little antiseptic compartmentalized divisions" that now exist.

The board plan, adopted last December, represents a compromise between recommendations from a task force appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan and a management study by the Arthur D. Little Co. Rafferty warned that unless the plan is adopted, the six-year $260,000 investment in studying reorganization "would go down the drain."

The Department of Education requested $900,000 for 55 new positions to implement the plan, but the Department of Finance refused to include the program in the 1969-70 budget.

Rafferty told a joint legislative committee the state will receive $1.8 million in 1969-70 from federal funds for reorganization.

Royal Birth

The agency said the princess and the child are doing well.

The newlyborn princess is the first daughter and the third child for Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko.

Hits Politics

CASTELLON DE LA PLANA, Spain (AP)—The Roman Catholic primate of Spain warned his priests and bishops yesterday to leave political activity to the laymen.

Vicente Cardinal Tarancon, archbishop of Toledo, told a congregation at nearby Villareal: "The priest, in the temporal field, has something to say; so has the hierarchy on the political, social and economic order. But the hierarchy and the priest have a sacred mission, and it is not their function to mix into temporal things."

Pike Foundation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James A. Pike, former Episcopal bishop of California, has formed a foundation to "rehabilitate" clergymen who decide to leave the church as he did.

"We want them to land on their feet, if they leave, or to regain their orientation if they stay inside the church," Pike said in announcing the formation of the Foundation for Religious Transition.

Pike told a news conference yesterday at the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles he was not planning to start a new church or lure clergymen away from existing ones.

Turn Violent

MANILA (AP) — A handful of Filipino youths, part of a large group demonstrating peacefully, turned violent last night during a protest rally before the American Embassy. They hurled lighted torches and rocks at the mission's guardhouse and consular section, and burned a U.S. flag.

Police estimated the demonstrators numbered about 1,500, part of a splinter group from a crowd twice that size which had marched earlier before Congress and the Presidential Palace. The demonstrators were protesting the presence of U.S. military bases in the Philippines, and demanding the recall of Philcag, a Philippine civic action-combat battalion, from Vietnam.

Claim Settled

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the United States agreed today to pay $5 million each in settlement of Micronesian claims for World War II damages.

The U.S. Embassy said Charge d'Affaires David L. Osborn and Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi signed an agreement concerning the Pacific islands administered by the United States. A note attached to the agreement gives Japan the right to salvage Japanese vessels sunk in Micronesian waters during World War II.

Tentative Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American Airways and the AFL-CIO Transport Worker Union have reached tentative agreement only a short time before a strike deadline, the National Mediation Board announced.

Details of the agreement were withheld until it is submitted for ratification by the union's 15,000 members. The union was seeking 30 cents an hour in wage increases over three years.

The agreement was announced shortly before the midnight strike deadline yesterday. The deadline was extended 24 hours the night before.

Pueblo Verdict Not Yet Reached

HONOLULU (AP) — Dozens of Navy specialists are still poring over the 20 volumes of testimony piled up during the long court of inquiry into the USS Pueblo seizure, the Navy says.

A Navy spokesman says an official finding will not be issued for several days, despite a radio news report in California that the verdict had been reached.

"Looking over all this takes time." The spokesman at the U.S. Pacific Fleet headquarters here said yesterday. "We will warn the news media well in advance of an announcement."

KFWB, a Westinghouse broadcasting station in Los Angeles, reported Monday that the Navy had cleared Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucker of any guilt in the loss of his intelligence ship to the North Koreans.

Troubles Close Peninsula Prep

SAN MATEO (AP)—Because of a false fire alarm, classes were dismissed again yesterday at San Mateo High School after being interrupted the previous day by fistfights between Negroes and whites.

Principal Paul Bowers ordered the school reopened today and called a general assembly "so that all students will be able to ask whatever questions they wish in order to resolve current problems."

There are 185 Negroes among the school's 1,825 students.

A First-Hand Look At Suez Canal Crisis

By DEREK LAMBERT

EL QUANTARA, Israel Occupied Territory (London Express) — An Egyptian sniper yesterday slammed home to me the reality behind the official communiques which over the past few weeks have told the story of the Arab-Israeli gun battle across the Suez Canal.

A bullet whipped into a concrete pillar six inches from my left ear, slivers of concrete sang around the shell-scarred observation post and an American photographer was cut about the face.

I drove by night across the Sinai Desert with other correspondents to view the canal battleground as the Big Four representatives prepared to resume their talks at the United Nations on the Middle East conflict.

At the ghost town of El Quantara, evacuated by the Israelis after continuous Arab bombardment, a senior army spokesman gave his assessment of the sniping and artillery duels across the waterway.

He believed, he said, that it was the Egyptian intention to warm up the area to remind the four powers that a major explosion could happen any day, but a full-scale crossing of the line by the Egyptians was impossible.

He added: "From a military point of view we have never had it better."

He said there were rumors that the Egyptians were starting to evacuate Port Said and Port Fuad and told of Egyptians claims that 250-300 Israelies had been killed since March 24. "We have lost only nine or 10 dead," he said.

Death Penalty Is Overturned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The death sentence was overturned yesterday for a Los Angeles man convicted of the fatal stabbing a housewife.

The California Supreme Court ruled prospective jurors were questioned improperly in the trial of Jerry Lee Goodridge for the murder of Donna Gay Scheibler, whose body was found in her home Oct. 29, 1966.

But the court, in an automatic appeal, upheld Goodridge's conviction. He will now receive a new penalty trial.

Pacification Team Caught In Cong Path

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong killed at least 51 South Vietnamese and wounded 93 yesterday in two battles a few hours and 12 miles apart in the Mekong Delta, reports from the area said today.

In the first battle, Viet Cong troops before dawn attacked an infantry post manned by about 100 militiamen and a team of civilian pacification workers, 12 miles northwest of Bac Lieu and 125 miles south of Saigon.

Field reports said the Viet Cong overran the post, killing 19 militiamen and six pacification workers and wounding 19. In addition, seven militiamen and three pacification workers were missing, and AP photographer Henri Huet reported from Bac Lieu that there was no word of the families of the soldiers, who customarily live in or near such posts.

Reinforcements from the South Vietnamese 21st Division reached the post about dawn but the Viet Cong had pulled out, leaving the bodies of 11 of their men, South Vietnamese officials said.

About 12 miles to the northwest, another militia company ran into Viet Cong troops during the afternoon while searching for 75mm howitzers that had shelled the nearby town of Vi Thanh. Helicopters rushed in two battalions from the South Vietnamese 21st Division, and the battle raged until about 3 a.m. today.

About midnight one government battalion tried to assault the Viet Cong's command post on a river bank, but eight men were killed when the enemy set off pellet-spewing Claymore mines sowed in three rows around the command bunker.

U.S. F100 Super Sabre jets attacked the Viet Cong positions with bombs and napalm. Tracers from the enemy's .50-caliber machine guns arched into the sky as the planes attacked.

A sweep of the area after dawn produced 21 enemy bodies, but 26 government troops were killed and 71 were wounded.

Prosecutor Asks Stiffer Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The district attorney's office is going over the head of a Superior Court judge who granted probation to a man convicted of rape and robbery.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas Norman asked the District Court of Appeal yesterday for a stiffer sentence for William August Morris, 22, who was sentenced by Judge Bernard Glickfeld to 52 weekends in jail and three years probation.

Judge Glickfeld, who said the purpose of law is "not retribution but rehabilitation," said Morris had a good work record in an apprentice program.

Morris and two companions were accused of kidnaping a cocktail lounge waitress as she got off a bus Nov. 20 and taking her to Rockaway Beach in San Mateo County where she was raped six times.

One companion, Kenneth Beasley, 19, was given an indeterminate sentence at a California Youth Authority facility. The other, Rickie Jackson, 22, was sentenced to a minimum of six months in state prison.

Bomb Threat Hoax

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bomb threat mailed to Mayor Sam Yorty's office yesterday proved unfounded, said police and no explosives were found.

Yorty was in New York.

Soviet Naval Threat Seen

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The commander of NATO forces in Southern Europe said today that an increase in Soviet naval strength in the Mediterranean in the past week, including the addition of more submarines, has created "a real problem" for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

U.S. Adm. Horacio Rivero told a news conference that the Soviet Union "may be preparing to conduct a major exercise" in the Mediterranean. He said the Soviet ships undoubtedly will observe the big NATO sea and air maneuvers that get under way Sunday.

Rivero said Soviet naval combat strength in the area is "at an all time high." He noted that 50 or more Soviet ships are now operating in the Mediterranean, and that there were more than 60 last September. But he said the number of combat vessels in the present lineup is higher than ever before.

Novato English Teachers Ask Lighter Load

Novato teachers have asked that English classloads in the upper grades be limited to 125 students starting with next school year and reduced to 110 over a five-year period.

This request came in a meeting Wednesday between the negotiating council and school administrators.

George P. De Tuncq, American Federation of Teachers Association representative on the council, said that English was a vital skill and that lower total class loads would result in better learning for the students.

OTHER CLASSES

Gregg W. De Gear, English teacher at Sinaloa Junior High School, said it could be accomplished by a tightening up of other classes when there were only a few students in them.

Lowering of the class loads in English could only be accomplished by the addition of one teacher at each of the two high schools and three junior high schools, according to Paul C. Mobley, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction. This would cost about $50,000 additional to the district each year, Mobley said.

Supt. James G. Bunker asked that the request be qualified by the addition of the phrase "within the framework of the district's financial ability."

SPENDING MONEY

S. Thompson Walker, science teacher at San Jose Junior High School countered by questioning the spending money on playfield improvement at San Jose Junior High School. (The playing field is being improved with money from the federal government for capital improvements in districts with military bases.) Walker also suggested cutting back clerical help to hire the English teachers.

Bunker said he was not willing to place the request in the proposed preliminary budget when it was submitted, but would consider it as a high priority item to be considered along with such things as additional instructional supplies, to be included if revenue permitted.

De Tuncq also asked that junior high school teachers be relieved of supervision duties as are high school teachers. Bunker suggested a subcommittee be named to study this. This subcommittee should include all three junior high school principals, he said. The committee was not named at the meeting.

Novato Rezoning Freeze Favored

The Novato Downtown Study Committee has endorsed the recommendation of the city planning commission for a moratorium on rezoning and use permits for new building, according to City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The recommendation would limit use permits for new businesses in the commercially zoned areas to one year and put off major rezonings in the downtown study area for five months.

The proposal will go before the Novato City Council at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The council had requested the committee and commission recommendation on such a moratorium while Sedway and Cooke, planning consultants make a $30,020 federally financed study of the downtown area.

Hub Chamber Sets License Views

San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce directors agreed yesterday to recommend to the San Anselmo City Council that business license fees be set at a minimum of $15 and a maximum of $200 per year, board president Jeremiah V. Sullivan reported. The current fees are set at $10 minimum and $50 maximum.

The board also decided to recommend to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that Paul C. Zucker, whose job as county planning director is being scrutinized by the supervisors, be retained in his post.

Petaluma Education, City Vote June 10

The June 10 Petaluma municipal election will include two candidates for mayor, nine candidates for three city council seats and six nominees for board of education posts.

Candidates for mayor include the incumbent, Helen Putnam, 59, of 900 B Street. Mrs. Putnam, teacher-principal, will seek her second four-year term.

Opposing her will be councilman Robert S. Lipman, 31, of 1217 West Street, who is completing his first four-year council term. Lipman is a public relations consultant.

In the council election, Phillip L. Joerger, 43, of 1 Jensen Drive, is the only incumbent seeking re-election. Joerger, also completing his first council term, is a businessman.

Other council nominees include Lawrence R. Bernauer, 28, of 842 St. Francis Drive, grocery store owner; Robert A. Brunner, 31, of 212 Seventh Street, an insurance agent; Rodney L. Cameron, 33, of 1537 Lauren Drive, a computer operator; Lawrence E. Forney, 56, of the Petaluma Hotel, ex-prize fighter and retired Navy man; Fred V. Mattei, 53, of 23 La Cresta Drive, a merchant; Donald P. Petro, 36, of 1300 Glenwood Drive, a construction office manager; James R. Reed, 35, of 962 McNear Avenue, an electronics production manager; and Eulon O. Stanley, 55, of 1432 East Madison Street, a salesman.

All three incumbents will seek to retain their seats on the board of education. They are Sol Fishman, 50, of 1265 Dutch Lane, Penngrove, a businessman; Dr. William Kortum, 41, of 180 Ely Road, a veterinarian; and Clay Thompson, 43, of 610 Petaluma Boulevard North, a hatchery owner.

Challenging them will be Alfred N. Brengle, 26, of 531 Virginia Drive, a teacher; Arthur Lafranchi, 32, of 12 Parkside Terrace, an attorney; and John K. Murphy, 34, of 102 Seventh Street, a technical cost estimator.

The Musk Oxen Are Thriving Once Again

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The musk oxen, which became extinct from the Arctic Slope more than 100 years ago, are thriving again. A herd of 34 imported from Greenland and put on Nunivak Island in the Bering Sea in 1930 has grown to 750.

Gov. Keith Miller's office said yesterday 48 animals have been transferred from the island to Barter Island in the Arctic Ocean—their ancestral habitat—so that winter rangeland at Nunivak won't be overgrazed.

Take-Home Food Business Opens In San Rafael

A new "take-home" food business, Mr. Scalopini, will open tomorrow at 5 p.m. at 508 Third Street, San Rafael.

Specializing in veal scalopini, fried chicken and chicken cacciatora, Mr. Scalopini is owned by Mitchell Vezilich of Oakland and Peter Bozovich of San Francisco. Vezilich retired last July from Veneto's Restaurant in San Francisco. Bozovich has cooked for the TraveLodge chain of motels.

Business hours will be from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except Mondays. Some tables have been installed for eating on the premises.

Reed Officials Decry 'Taxpayers' Revolt'

Defeat of the Reed School District's proposed 50 cent tax rate increase in Tuesday's elections have been attributed by Reed School District board Vice Chairman Thomas S. Price to a taxpayers' revolt.

Supt. H. Joe Edgington said he was extremely disappointed and that the staff would have to make budget cuts in "almost every area . . ."

"There is no question that class sizes will have to be increased significantly," Edgington said.

He added that the district "has no other option" but to reduce the program and "the quality of education . . . will suffer as a result."

Noting that incumbents Alyce Farkas and Charles Patterson were defeated in the election, Price said he hoped the new board members "will approach the district's problems constructively and be willing to give the time and effort necessary to help Reed become even a better district."

Low bids for carpeting and cabinets for Reed School were accepted by the district board at their meeting Wednesday.

A low bid of $9,221 submitted by Western Contract Furnishers of San Francisco was accpeted for 1,300 yards of carpeting. Kent Manufacturing Co. of San Rafael $7,990 for 40 cabinet units.

Trustees also hired Leland Spenser, vice principal of Del Mar School, as summer school principal at a salary of $1,200.

Reed School District board also:

PURCHASE — Authorized the purchase of an accounting machine from the NCR Cash Registrer Co. of Novato for $4,291.

SPECIAL MEETING — Set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bel Aire School to discuss the new Reedland Woods School, salary negotiations for 7969-70 school year and how to establish better communication with district residents.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Cynthia Tippett, second grade teacher at Tiburon School; Robert Goldstein, fifth-sixth grade, Reed School; Wallace Thompson, fourth-fifth grade, Reed School; Carol Farrior, first grade, Bel Aire School and Ann Burke at Granada School; Douglas Pollard, fourth-fifth grades, Reed School; Robert Young, Granada custodian and Charles O'Neal, Del Mar custodian.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE — Granted leaves of absence to Christopher Bogios, half-time instrumental music instructor, Del Mar School; Helen Garvin, second grade teacher, Bel Aire School; James Mumma, fifth-sixth grade teacher, Bel Aire School; and Theodore McMillan, math-science teacher at Del Mar School.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Allen Kendall as a Gardener and Wayne Burke as custodian.

PLANE

The propeller-driven EC121 was shot down by North Korean jets (Monday, Washington time). Following the incident all such flights off Korea were canceled.

Nixon said both U.S. and Soviet radar sightings definitely established that the U.S. plane was "approximately 90 miles" at sea at the time of the attack —far beyond the 12-mile limit claimed by North Korea.

"This attack was unprovoked, it was deliberate, it was without warning," Nixon said in a grave voice that seemed husky with emotional tension.

Nixon said the reconnaissance flights were immediately suspended after the EC121 was lost but that he had ordered such missions resumed. He emphasized the few flights would be made with protection but declined to say what type of protection was provided.

The President refused to explain what he meant by protection of reconnaissance planes and of ships like the Pueblo which was seized by North Korea in January 1968.

Warships in the vicinity of a cruising spy vessel could be one answer to surface attack by North Korean forces in the future.

He stressed that the decision to continue flights with protection was not necessarily the "final" U.S. step. "Our actions in this matter will be determined by what happens in the future," he said.

Nixon also said the plane incident was different from the Pueblo affair because there was some question for a time where the U.S. spy ship was at the time of its capture by North Korean gunboats.

"There was no uncertainty whatever where this plane was," he said. And he added, "There is no question of what they claim is their air space."

North Korea claims only 12 miles out to sea, so the plane was never within more than 28 miles of North Korean territorial limits, he said.

"It was a completely surprise attack," he said, and did not give time for protective action which he said he would have taken had there been time.

Asked about the Soviet role in the incident, he said it was one of assistance in helping looking for survivors.

Returning to his pledge to provide future flights with protection, Nixon said, "When planes of the United States or ships of the U.S. are in international air space, they are not fair game. they will not be fair game in the future. That was the basis for this interim decision."

Prior to Nixon's press conference, the Pentagon said the search in the Sea of Japan for survivors has been unsuccessful.

Meanwhile the U.S destroyer Tucker received from the Soviet destroyer Vdoknovenny some debris of the plane the Soviet ship had recovered in the Sea of Japan.

It included a 20-man rubber lifeboat, three leather jackets, a parachute, two exposure suits and some aircraft seats which the Tucker was taking to Sasebo, Japan.

Already aboard the Tucker were the bodies of two members of the 31-man crew, the only bodies recovered so far.

ZUCKER

Taylor's developments on the Strawberry Peninsula.

Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. questioned the role of Lund, who was finance chairman for Supervisor Louis H. Barr, the supervisor who promised to fire Zucker during his campaign for supervisor last year.

Wornum wanted to know if Lund were speaking as an individual. "You were finance chairman for Mr. Baar's campaign, and Mr. Baar said he wanted to fire Mr. Zucker. So as an individual, you'd be biased."

Arrigoni noted that the 1967 grand jury's official report said that "hearings were held . . . and everything appears to be resolved to the satisfaction of all concerned." So, why was new testimony being introduced today, Arrigoni wanted to know.

"You appear now as a foreman of a long dead grand jury, is that it?" asked Arrigoni.

Lund replied he is not sure of the legal status of his 1967 grand jury, but he was testifying at the invitation of the supervisors, which met in closed session last Tuesday to consider Zucker's firing.

Richardson Bay developer Nowell declared he was "appalled" by "Zucher's actions on at least two occasions. One was when Zucker appealed to the supervisors a service station which had been approved by Zucker's own planning commission. Another was when Zucker attended a meeting of a conservation group driving a county car and proceeded "to tear down the county's official position" on Richardson Bay.

Robert Roberts, Novato developer, charged that in processing Marin Highlands subdivision, Zucker had added a condition to the development plans without notifying the developer beforehand.

Ronald L. Pardini, former official of Permabilt Construction, charged that on one occasion Zucker removed himself as the county planning director and spoke up as a private citizen against a development in Lucas Valley. "Never in my life have I run into a situation where the director would step down and argue as a private citizen," said Pardini.

Lund, speaking for David P. Dean, architect for Burge's Drive-in in Ignacio, charged that restrictions put up by Zucker has forced Burge's to close down. Lund argued that these restrictions are keeping commercial and industrial development out of Marin, and thus forcing taxes to increase because of lack of a broad tax base.

Zucker's supporters did not have a chance to speak this morning, but their presence was documented by prepared statements and placards announcing "Support Zucker."

Former Supervisor Peter H. Behr, one of the supporters of Zucker, said Tiburon was backing the 34-year-old planning director, and the Sausalito City Council was also considering similar support.

Rallying to Zucker's support were about 50 telegrams that poured into the Civic Center, and letters from Gallinas Village Improvement Association, San Anselmo City Council, Marin Council for Civic Affairs and other orgainzations.

The supervisors were believed divided 2-2, with Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato in the swing position.

The hearing showed signs of continuing into the late hours tonight, with Gnoss stating he was "willing to stay all night."

OBITUARIES

Mary F. Fiedler Dies At 67

Mary F. Fiedler, 67, retired Camp Fire Girls executive who lived in Marin County many years, died today in a local hospital after a long illness.

Miss Fiedler, who was born in Ottumwa, Iowa, moved to San Rafael about 1946 and lived there until 1966, when she retired and moved to Rossmoor in Walnut Creek.

A graduate of Northwestern University, she began work with the Camp Fire Girls in 1926 as council director in Minneapolis, Minn. She later served in Des Moines, Iowa and then Berkeley.

In 1946 she became area director for California, Utah, Nevada, Hawaii and Arizona for the youth group, a position she held until her retirement.

While living in San Rafael, Miss Fiedler helped organize the Zonta Club of Marin County and served as president. She was also a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael and served on the vestry of the church.

She was a member of the National Camp Fire Girls and the National Association of Social Workers.

After moving to Walnut Creek, Miss Fiedler belonged to the Church of the Resurrection in Pleasant Hill and the Rossmoor Women's Club.

She is survived by two sisters, Lydia Fiedler of Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. Benner Criley of Elizabethtown, Pa., and a brother, Frank G. Fiedler of Ottumwa, Iowa.

Private funeral will be tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

A memorial service will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Church of the Resurrection in Pleasant Hill.

The family prefers contributions to local Camp Fire Girls organizations or favorite charities.

MARY E. LAYTON

Funeral was held today for Mary E. Layton, 89, of Sebastopol, who died Wednesday after a long illness. Burial was at Sebastopol Cemetery.

She is survived by two sons, Ernest Layton of Petaluma and Leslie Layton of Santa Rosa; and three daughters, Mrs. Joe E. Gallemore of Sebastopol and Berniece Bodie and Veda Layton, both of St. Helena.

GORDON CARRIER

Memorial service for Gordon L. Carrier, 24, of 471 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, will be at 1 p.m. Sunday at the post chapel (Building 130) of the Presido of San Francisco.

Carrier, a student at College of Marin, was swept out to sea off the rocks of Fort Cronkhite Saturday. A search failed to turn up any trace of the body.

Carrier was the son of retired Maj. and Mrs. Roland C. Carrier of Mill Valley and had lived in Marin the past nine years.

JOHN FORSTER

Requiem Mass for John F. Forster of Mill Valley will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley. Burial will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapels in Mill Valley.

Forster died Wednesday at a local hospital following a short illness. He was 67.

Born in Los Angeles, he had lived in Mill Valley for the past 13 years at 31 Bay Vista Drive. A retired salesman, he previously was employed by the Cal-Sweep Co. of San Jose.

He is survived by his wife, Madeleine R. Forster of Mill Valley; three daughters, Sister Lorraine Marie, JMJ, of Arequipa, Peru, Mrs. John Weisenberg of Costa Mesa, Orange County, and Theresa F. Stimpson of Burbank. Also two sons, Juan F. Forster of Guatemala City, Guatemala, and James A. Forster of Rialto, San Bernadino County; a stepson, Raynolds Johnson of Los Angeles; 18 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

CLARE ARGALL

Clare W. Argall, 42, of 336 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, died yesterday at a local hospital following an illness of about six weeks.

She was the wife of Frank G. Argall, loan officer with the Franciscan Savings and Loan in Novato.

A native of San Francisco, she was the daughter of the late Clarence W. Morris, a San Francisco Superior Court judge for 25 years. She attended Dominican College of San Rafael and had lived in the Bay Area all her life, the last four year in Marin.

Survivors are her husband; two sons, Matthew and Grier Argall, both of the home; her stepmother, Mrs. Leola Morris of San Rafael, and two sisters, Billye Grier of San Francisco and Jacqulene Burmeister of San Mateo.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Dominic's Church, San Francisco, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Godeau Funeral Home, San Francisco.

GEORGE WHITTELL

REDWOOD CITY — (UPI) — Millionaire sportsman and financier George B. Whittell, who once owned virtually all of Lake Tahoe's Nevada shore, died yesterday at the age of 87.

Whittell, the scion of a pioneer San Francisco family, once kept lions and elephants on his vast estates at Woodside and Lake Tahoe. He was often in court defending his animals against visitors who said they were mauled. He once set a pack of dogs on process servers at Woodside. Whittell eventually sold one of his best Lake Tahoe frontage to the state of Nevada for a park.

He served as a volunteer in the American Ambulance Unit in Italy during World War I, later transferring to the U. S. Army with rank of captain. During the 1920s, he was often described as a "millionaire playboy."

He married twice. His first marriage, to Josephine Cunningham of the Floradora Sextet, ended in divorce. In 1919, he married Elia Pascal, his only survivor.

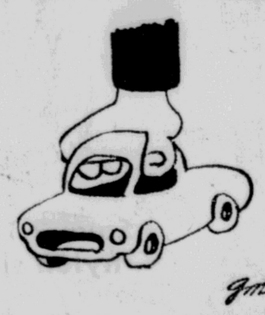
LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Liens Insure Honoring Debts



A "lien" is a security interest a creditor has on your property. If the debt is not paid, the creditor may sell your property to pay off the debt.

Many liens are voluntary. You can mortgage your house. Or you can buy appliances or a car "on time" and give the creditor a lien on your purchase. A written document spells out the terms of the lien. These are "contractual liens."

Other liens are involuntary. Here are some examples:

The repairman for your home, auto, or appliance can place a lien on the property he repaired until his labor and materials are paid for. On real property a lien must be filed within 90 days.

Some liens require court suit to enforce the lien. The property owner can challenge the lien in court.

Other liens may be enforced by a public sale after publishing a notice of sale in a newspaper.

On items such as cars and appliances, the mechanic has the right to keep possession of the item until paid. Notices for enforcement of the lien must be given the owner.

Autos often have a legal owner as well as a registered owner. The mechanic who claims a lien of over $200 for repair work must get the consent of the legal owner.

Laborers in specific industries also have certain kinds of liens — loggers for their wages, drycleaners on clothes cleaned, jewelers on repair work.

An innkeeper has a lien on your personal property kept in the hotel or inn, to insure payment of the bill. The hotel has the right to enter the premises to enforce payment.

Apartment owners also have a lien for unpaid rent on some possessions of their tenants. But a tenant may claim many exemptions. Often household furniture, tools, clothes and garaged autos are exempt.

Bankers have liens on bank accounts for unpaid debts to the bank.

Attachment and garnishment liens are commonly used to force payment of a contract debt. The creditor files a court action to seize or garnish some asset of the debtor. In "attachment" the sheriff holds the asset until the end of the court action.

In "garnishment" the garnishee, usually the debtor's employee or his bank, holds funds owed to the debtor. If the creditor wins, he can then use the asset to collect his judgment.

Bar Fine To Offset Suspension Order

SACRAMENTO (CNS) -- The state department of Alcoholic Beverage Control announced yesterday it has accepted a $486 penalty payment in lieu of suspension of the on-sale general liquor license held by Geraldine and Lino Nardi, operating the Pago Pago at 803 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

The establishment was charged on Feb. 26 with permitting a bartender to remain on duty in an intoxicated condition, and two counts of possession of alcoholic beverages that were adulterated.

Locomotive Leaves Scares Burglar

CREW, England (UPI)—The powerful locomotive thundered out of the station after the signal turned green and disappeared into the darkness. But the six passenger cars and a string of mail cars that made up the rest of the train remained behind.

Someone at Crew Station had forgotten to couple them to the engine. The oversight was discovered about 20 miles away.

Bus Driver Fined For 'Slow' Driving

SUTTON, England (UPI)—Bus driver Bill Mordey was fined four pounds ($9.60) for driving too slowly—not faster than seven miles an hour.

Mordey said he was just trying to keep to his schedule. But the judge ruled he was "driving without reasonable consideration."

Scarce Hides

NEW YORK (AP) — If you've ever wondered why you see a limited number of wallets made of elephant hide when shopping, the reason is that elephants are never killed to obtain leather. According to elephant-wallet specialist Enger Kress, availability is determined by the death rate of elephants from natural causes or conservation-controlled harvests. The current supply is approximately 1,000 square feet per month.

Lots Of Sweetness— 50 Tons Of Sugar

FORT LEWIS, Wash. (UPI)—Sometimes the purchasing office for this military post can be very sweet.

The office called for bids recently to supply the fort with sugar for April, May and June. The bid invitation was for 50 tons.

Sirhan Penalty Trial Expected To Be Brief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan is guilty of first-degree murder for assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Now, the same jury that convicted him must decide whether he lives or dies.

The penalty phase of Sirhan's trial begins Monday and is expected to last no more than a day or two. The jury will choose one of two sentences: life in prison or death in the gas chamber. A life sentence precludes parole for at least seven years.

Unknown until he murdered the 42-year-old presidential candidate last June, Sirhan tried—even after the first-degree verdict yesterday—to put testimony about the Arab-Israeli conflict into the court record.

Sirhan, passionately partisan to the Arab cause, said his love for Kennedy turned to hate when he decided the New York senator was pro-Israel.

Defense counsel Grant B. Cooper asked to bring witnesses representing Arab countries to the penalty phase "to show the surrounding circumstances" of Sirhan's youth in war-torn Palestine "so the jury can understand the situation and understand his frame of mind more fully."

The defense is allowed to bring out background and other mitigating circumstances during the penalty phase.

But the state argued that such witnesses as Cooper mentioned —none knows Sirhan—would have no more relevance to the trial than experts on World War II or the Korean conflict. Judge Herbert V. Walker denied Cooper's motion.

In Taiyebeh, Occupied Jordan, the father of Sirhan today swore "revenge on American politicians" if his son is executed.

"The revenge won't be in words," Bishara Sirhan declared. He did not elaborate.

"I accept the fact that my son killed Senator Kennedy," he said. "But Senator Kennedy was to blame. He provoked my son by threatening to supply arms to the Middle East which would have caused the death of thousands, and the displacement of many more."

"My son did well," said the 55-year-old Arab.

"Many Americans have come to my house and told me they were happy to get rid of Kennedy," he added.

Dead GI's Mother Takes Stand In Court-Martial

FORT ORD (UPI) — The mother of a soldier who was shot to death by a guard at the San Francisco Presidio stockade testified briefly yesterday at the trial of 14 GI prisoners charged with mutiny for a sit-down demonstration.

Mrs. Ginger Bunch, 38, Dayton, Ohio, was called by the defense to testify about the mental condition of Pvt. Richard Bunch when she last saw him.

She identified a suicide note written by her son, but was not allowed to give any other testimony on grounds it had no relation to the demonstration by 27 inmates at the Presidio stockade last Oct. 14.

The defense has contended they were protesting conditions at the stockade and the shooting of Bunch three days before the demonstration. It claims Bunch committed suicide by purposely drawing the fire of the guard.

Eight of the 27 defendants already have been convicted of mutiny and sentenced to terms ranging from nine months to 16 years. Two are under medical care, and three have escaped from the stockade.

Two of the 14 soldiers presently on trial also testified yesterday.

Pvt. Michael Marino, 21, Vacaville, said he was repeatedly accused of being a subversive while stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., because he wrote a letter advocating peace and was caught reading "underground" papers.

Earlier, Pvt. Roy Pulley, 19, Clear Lake, said he didn't remember how the demonstration was organized or who directed it. He said the defendants discussed their grievances the night before, and when "I saw the other people go, I went."

Guilty Decision In Morals Case

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday found Robert Berg, 42, of San Anselmo guilty of lewd and lascivious acts with a child.

A second charge of sex perversion involving a child was dismissed.

Judge Haley decided the case after reviewing the transcript of the preliminary hearing. Both Berg and the district attorney's office had waived a jury trial.

Yesterday the judge appointed three psychiatrists to determine whether Berg is a mentally disturbed sex offender. He set May 26 for hearing their reports and sentencing.

Classes Shuffled By Hub Trustees

Shifts of several classes in the San Anselmo School District for the 1969-70 school year were approved last night by the board of trustees.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported the fourth grade at Yolansdale School will be moved to Isabel Cook School. The change makes Yolansdale a primary school, Parodi reported. Students attending Yolansdale already switch to Isable Cook for fifth and sixth grades.

The educationally handicapped primary group now at Brookside School will be moved to Yolansdale and the educationally handicapped fourth, fifth and sixth grades now at Isabel Cook will be switched to Brookside, Parodi said.

The changes in the educationally handicapped classes will permit those youngsters to mingle with other students their own ages, Parodi said.

He reported there have been no objections to the changes.

San Anselmo School District Board Also:

TRUSTEE — Appointed and seated housewife Mary Helen Olive to replace Robert W. Corlett who resigned. Mrs. Olive was the nonincumbent who received the most votes in Tuesday's election.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Appointed Richard B. Judd, principal at Wade Thomas School, and Donald L. Shaw, principal at Red Hill Intermediate School, as joint principals of summer school with the $800 salary to be split between them.

REORGANIZATION — Appointed Mrs. Olive and Trustee Cornelia B. Busse to study suggestions for the County Committee on School District Reorganization.

MATHEMATICS — Approved an application to individualize the mathematics program through the use of a math inquiry center under a National Defense Education Act program. The project will cost $3,199, to be split by NDEA and the district.

PHILOSOPHY — Learned the final report of the educational specifications committee studying district philosophy and goals will be presented at 7:30 p.m. May 20 at Red Hill Intermediate School.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Charles G. Evans, school psychologist, effective April 30 because he is moving to the Midwest; Nancy Schwartz, second grade teacher at Brookside, Laurie Lewis, kindergarten teacher at Yolansdale and Barbara Jo Scales, second grade teacher at Isabel Cook, all effective at the end of the year.

LEAVES — Denied a request for a leave of absence from Marilyn Hurt, second grade teacher at Brookside, because she had been on leave in 1961-62 and 1967-68; granted requests for a leave from Margaret Ridge who plans to attend graduate school, and Susan McBride and Kathleen Cluse for personal reasons.

PERSONNEL — Hired Sharon Hammond at a salary of $7,348 and Louella Lamb at $8,122, both for Brookside; Philip W. Neff at $7,967 and Linda Rowe at $8,122, both for Sleepy Hollow, and Mary Waters at $6,961. Parodi said all salaries are based on the existing salary schedule and subject to change if salaries are increased.

NEGOTIATIONS — Agreed to meet with the teachers' negotiation committee at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Red Hill School.

BLACK HISTORY — Authorized in-service credit for teachers who take an Afro-American history and culture course to be sponsored by the Marin Committee for Fair Play.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden, trustee, was absent.

U.C. Regents Tackling The Money Crisis

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California regents were told today that a $250 million bond issue plus tuition or new student fees may be the only solution to a growing money crisis.

The nine-campus university's governing board also prepared to review a controversial proposal that would give regents full authority over hiring professors and assistant professors.

Gov. Ronald Reagan who planned to attend today's board meeting, said he was disappointed last month when regents refused to approve the faculty hiring plan proposed by Regent Edwin W. Pauley of Los Angeles.

The regents' Educational Policy Committee voted yesterday to retain the current policy giving campus chancellors hiring authority. By close votes the committee rejected Pauley's plan for a compromise offered by U.C. President Charles J. Hitch.

Later, Hitch told the regents' finance committee that the university will need more than double the construction money expected to come from state funds over the next six years.

Condition Better

Cecilia Diez, 24, who works as a cook and maid at a Kentfield residence, was reported improved and in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today after an overdose of pills Tuesday. Mrs. Diez had been reported in critical condition in the hospital's intensive care unit since her husband found her unconscious shortly before midnight Tuesday.

Teen-Agers' Drive To Aid Boys Club

A do-or-die fund drive to raise $40,000 to have the Boys Club of Southern Marin in Marin City will be conducted by 1,000 to 1,500 Marin County high school students tomorrow, sponsors of the drive said today.

Club president Richard Bale, of Tiburon, said possibly as many as 1,500 teen-agers from seven high schools will join the drive. The club hopes to raise $40,000 so it can stay in operation another year.

If the "desperately needed" money is not raised, club leaders said, the boys club will fold.

The youths canvassing the county tomorrow will wear identification tags bearing the inscription "Marin City Boys' Club," Bale said. The tags were made for the club by inmates at San Quentin.

"We realize tax time just passed and people are short of money," Bale said in urging residents to help the club, "but nowhere will any citizen have a more worthy cause to which to contribute. This is a different kind of 'march' than we are accustomed to reading about."

Bale said students were recruited from Tamalpais, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake, San Rafael, Terra Linda, Marin Catholic and San Domenico high schools.

Accident Victim's Condition Improves

Harold Robert McAfee, 44, of 5 Kristin Way, Novato, who was critically injured when his car went over a steep embankment beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Wednesday, was reported in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today.

Killing Suspects On Way To Bay

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI)— Charles Johnson, 22, and his girl friend, Terry J. Phelps, 19, both of Jackson, Mich., were scheduled to arrive in Oakland today where they have been extradited in connection with two slayings.

They were being transferred in separate planes.

Both were convicted and sentenced on armed robbery charges here but will face murder charges in California.

Both are charged in the slaying of Dr. Glen K. Olsen, 54, Oakland dentist, and Johnson is accused in the slaying of Loren Silliphant, 18, in Hollywood.

New Police Chief

Shoreline Access Bill Gains Assembly Floor

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to require cities and counties to see that public access to public tidelands is provided through coastal subdivisions before they approve the subdivisions yesterday passed it first legislative test with a unanimous "do pass" recommendation by the Assembly Local Government Committee.

The bill (AB 941), by Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo, went to the Assembly floor for a vote. From there, it still must hurdle a Senate Committee and the Senate before it can reach Gov. Ronald Reagan's desk for signature.

The bill is similar to one Dunlap introduced last year at the height of the controversy on access to tidelands along the Sonoma County coast. That bill was defeated.

This year, Dunlap deleted a provision that parking areas may be provided.

The bill would leave it up to the county or city to determine what "reasonable access" means. The bill states that access may be by highway, foot trail, bike trail, horse trail or any other means of travel.

Two minor changes were made in the bill by the committee. One made it clear that it would not apply to subdivisions for which tentative maps already have been filed. The other added that the bill need not require access through every subdivision if that subdivision already had reasonable access adjacent to it.

Committee members reported receiving several hundred telegrams from throughout the state urging a favorable vote on the bill. Testifying for it was Richard R. Day, Rohnert Park attorney for Californians Organized to Acquire Acccess to State Tidelands.

Opposition was expressed by representatives of the Sea Ranch, the Sonoma development that sparked the battle last year, the Laguna Niguel Corp. and Irvine Co., Orange County firms with extensive coastal properties, and the California Cattleman's Association, whose members own large coastal areas.

The bill is expected to face opposition from these groups as it moves through the Legislature.

Singer's Mother Granted Decree

The wife of Dr. Earle M. Marsh, Mill Valley gynecologist, has been granted an interlocutory divorce decree in Marin Superior Court.

Mary C. Marsh, who had charged cruelty, received the family home at 118 Woodbine Drive in a property settlement.

The couple, whose daughter is soprano Jane Marsh, were married in 1940 in Reno, Nev.

Czechs Quiet After Fall Of Dubcek

PRAGUE (AP) — Police reinforcements and soldiers guarded strategic points in Czechoslovakia today, but there were no reports of disturbances protesting the replacement of Alexander Dubcek as Communist party chief.

The 190-member Central Committee at a crisis meeting yesterday named Gustav Husak, the dour pro-Moscow head of the Slovak party, to replace Dubcek.

No plans for demonstrations were reported so far. Moscow was reported to have warned that Soviet occupation troops would step in if local forces could not keep order.

CTK, the Czechoslovak news agency, said the Central Committee had finished its plenary session and further details of the leadership reshuffle would be announced later.

Students and young workers were reported planning meetings to determine how they would react to the leadership change. Although Dubcek, 47, lost much of his wildly enthusiastic following as he was forced to make concession after concession in the wake of the Soviet invasion last August, Husak is generally disliked and mistrusted by freedom-minded trade unionists and students.

Draft Case Uproar Leads To Sentences

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A federal judge fined 14 courtroom spectators for contempt of court yesterday when a disturbance broke out after he sentenced a draft card burner to five years in prison.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sherrill Halbert ordered the spectators into custody when they refused to sit down and remain quiet following the sentencing of Peter W. Schurman, a student at the University of California at Davis.

Fines ranged from $100 or 25 days in jail to $20 or five days. One spectator, Charles Papke, 28, of Davis, received a 30-day suspended sentence and was ordered on five years probation.

"You're not fooling around with some professor," Halbert told the spectators, including college-age youths and several housewives. "At least you should have some courtesy.

"This is not a show where you come in and sit down for the first reel and leave," Halbert admonished them. But when the commotion persisted, he ordered federal marshals to make contempt arrests.

"What a bunch of smart alecs you are," he said.

Fingerprint records in the U.S. Marshal's office indicated most of those cited for contempt were UCD students living at Davis, or were Sacramento housewives and mothers.

Hearing Scheduled In Escape Case

A preliminary hearing has been set Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court for Daniel Thomas Stathos, 22, of Pacifica, who is accused of escaping Sunday from Marin County Jail in a garbage can.

Stathos, who is awaiting trial on charges of robbing and kidnaping restaurant owner Luciano A. Sabella and of robbing the Greenbrae Lanes, was picked up about an hour after his escape. He was found walking along Woodland Avenue in San Rafael.

Six Convicted On Campus Mass Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The second jury to reach a verdict in the San Francisco State college mass arrest cases convicted all six defendants yesterday.

Six men and six women found the defendants guilty of unlawful assembly, failure to disperse and disturbing the peace. Spectators sat in stunned silence. Only 24 hours earlier another jury in another courtroom found 10 defendants innocent on the same charges. Then, the spectators cheered.

Convicted were Frank Alvarado, Ernest Brill, Connie Brozicevic, Carl J. Butz, Benjamin M. Cavanaugh and Laureen Chew.

Municipal Court Judge James J. Welch set May 19 for sentencing and hearing of motions for a new trial.

The trial of six other defendants ended in a hung jury. Five other trials still are in progress.

After yesterday's verdict was read, Judge Welsh cleared the courtroom of spectators and offered the jurors and three alternates free taxi rides home. Eight accepted. He refused to explain his unusual security measures.

The Republic of Liberia is about the size of Ohio.

Washington's Needy Due Federal Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, moving to meet some of the problems turned up by a Senate probe of hunger in the capital, will provide special food packets for some 45,000 needy mothers and children.

The decision to supply $3 million worth of "food for health" packets in Washington, similar to a program instituted earlier for 18,500 persons in 78 smaller communities, was sponsored by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and announced yesterday in his office by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

It enabled the Republican administration to seize the initiative on the hunger problem, which until now has been held by a Democratic-controlled Senate committee headed by George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

Javits, senior Republican on the committee, moved into the situation after reportedly becoming upset earlier in the week when the administration's revised budget failed to add anything to government food programs except $15 million for nutrition education.

Hardin announced two programs:

The supplemental food packets, which contain iron-enriched baby cereal, fruit juice, evaporated milk, corn syrup, peanut butter, canned meats and poultry, will be given to needy mothers, pregnant women and young children free at health centers in Washington.

Some 100,000 youngsters who receive free lunches at school during the year will continue to receive them at summer recreation centers.

Hardin indicated that the administration still hopes to expand other federal programs, relying on food distribution plans that are not covered by the monetary ceiling on the food stamp program.

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Dorothy B. Larson of 51 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

Columbia Sit-In Gets Rough; Other Campuses Restless

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

About 200 militants seized a Columbia University building for a seven-hour sit-in marked by a violent clash with security guards as several of the nation's campuses continued to stir with student unrest.

The Columbia group voluntarily left Philosophy Hall late yesterday after being served with a restraining order. The students emerged chanting, "This is just the start. We will win."

Two administration officials accompanied by security guards served the court order. They were met by hostile students who unleashed a barrage of bottles and discharged fire extinguishers.

The officials escaped by throwing a chair through a window and jumping to safety. Three students were injured and one of the officials was cut on the wrist.

Many of the students then broke up furniture in the building, taking table legs to use as clubs if police were called. But acting President Andrew Cordier said no police would be summoned.

The demonstration led by the Students for a Democratic Society was to demand "open enrollment" at Columbia for all New York high school students who want to attend the Ivy League school.

At Harvard, the faculty of arts and sciences voted overwhelmingly to ask the school's two governing boards to reduce ROTC to an extracurricular activity without "special privileges or facilities."

There are only 322 ROTC students at the 15,000-student university.

Another general meeting of the student body was called for today to consider whether to continue the strike which began last Friday. An informal poll of nearly 2,000 students last night showed 75 per cent favored a return to class.

In Miami, a homemade bomb's explosion blew in the door and shattered windows of the dean of men's office at the university of Miami last night. No one was in the office and there were no injuries.

A school spokesman said he knew of no reason why anyone would want to damage the building.

In Ithaca, N.Y., a burning cross was dropped on the steps of a Negro woman's cooperative house at Cornell University.

Eleven Negro women live in the house set up after demands by black women students who said they felt ill at ease in regular dorms.

An earlier series of four false alarms occurred while a student-faculty disciplinary board weighed misconduct charges against six members of the Cornell Afro-American Society stemming from vandalism last December.

In Philadelphia the LaSalle College Council, an advisory body on student affairs, voted to make ROTC voluntary instead of compulsory for freshmen.

As many as 200 students have held a sit-in at the administration building since Tuesday to protest the compulsory program. LaSalle had an enrollment of about 3,300.

In Atlanta, trustees of Atlanta University were blockaded inside a conference room for two hours yesterday by protesting black students.

Is Personnel Panel Getting The Brushoff?

Is the Marin County Personnel Commission a do-nothing body that can be bypassed or ignored any time the county supervisors feel so inclined?

That in essence was the question posed repeatedly by Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie yesterday afternoon during a meeting of the commission at the Civic Center.

McKenzie, who has been in the labor relations field for 20 years and is a member of the National Panel of Arbitrators of the American Arbitration Association, declared that the personnel commission is "highly technically qualified" and its talents should be used.

He gave several instances where the personnel commission was ignored:

The New Careers program, aimed at bringing relatively untrained people into county jobs, was never referred to the personnel commission.

Supervisors picked a county bargaining team to negotiate with employee organizations without consulting the personnel commission.

Furthermore, said McKenzie, rules and regulations drafted by the commission after months of work can be rescinded by an agreement reached between the county team and an employee bargaining unit.

"That's my whole sense of frustration," said McKenzie. "I get a little disturbed over what I'm appointed to do. The technical experience of this commission is valuable. If our views are not wanted, then I'd like to be told. I'm not rocking the boat. I just want to know what chores I'm going to."

"I'm getting a little seasick myself," agreed Commissioner Robert B. McCreadie.

Commissioners agreed that the entire question of conflict between personnel commission rules and agreements reached through labor negotiations should be taken up at a workshop session with the Marin County Board of Supervisors, set for 9 a.m. May 27.

Other items on workshop agenda will be:

Availability of commissioners to attend statewide meetings such as the California Personnel Administrators Association, and if not, are commissioners authorized to sit in on such meetings if they pay their own way.

The county's philosophy on opening up new avenues for less qualified persons to get county jobs. "For example, exactly what is being done in the field of minorities," said Chairman Bella Aaron.

Bank Robbery Suspect Turns Out A Friend

PACIFIC PALISADES (AP)—Denise Rutkoskie looked up from her teller's cage at Glendale Federal Savings Co. yesterday to see a bandid. "Hello Frank," she said. "How are you?"

"Fine," he replied. "Gimmie the money."

Miss Rutkoskie, 21, handed $2,371 and called police, telling them her sister's former boyfriend had just robbed her again. She reported he took $745 at gunpoint March 27.

When Frank Sundey, 23, drove into his Santa Monica garage three hours later he was arrested on suspicion of armed robbery.

Police said Sundey gave up $2,371—except for $1,500 he used that afternoon as a down payment on his new car.

New Careers Compromise Plan Backed

A compromise New Careers program, which would open up 24 county jobs to the relatively untrained at a cost of $92,000, won the approval of the Marin County Personnel Commission yesterday.

Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie abstained from voting. "I'm just confused why a program of this nature was not brought to the personnel commission first," said McKenzie.

On a motion by Commissioner Robert B. McCreadie, the four other commissioners endorsed the program and urged that at least a portion of the program be adopted even if the supervisors decide not to accept the whole package.

Last week, the Marin County Human Rights Commission also approved the New Careers program in principle.

The Marin County Personnel Commission also:

AGE LIMIT — Received word from the Marin County Retirement Board that it is opposed to the proposed lifting of the maximum 35-year age limit for persons seeking safety jobs in the fire department and sheriff's office.

HEARINGS — Voted that in closed hearings involving dismissal, suspension or charges against an employee, the findings and decision of the commission will be public records. However, charges and answers will be private records unless the commission votes to make it public. A. Bruce McKenzie said he preferred to see a trend toward more open meetings, but he voted with the rest when assured that scurrilous attack under the cloak of secrecy would not be possible.

SPECIAL MEETINGS — Decided to give 72-hour notice, instead of the required 24-hour notice, of special meetings of the commission.

Bay Oil Curbs Gain Support

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Two bills limiting oil drilling in San Francisco Bay were endorsed yesterday by the Assembly Natural Resources and Conservation Committee.

One measure would prohibit oil drilling in state-owned San Joaquin Delta tidelands and other parts of the bay, including the San Jose area. The other would require the State Lands Commission to get approval of supervisors of affected counties before authorizing oil leases on state tidelands.

The bills, both by Assemblyman James W. Dent, R-Concord, and Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, are designed to prevent an oil well blowout in the bay such as occurred in the Santa Barbara Channel.

"Youth March for Youth" Tomorrow

WILL YOU HELP THE MARIN CITY* BOYS' CLUB?

(*Official name - Boys' Club of Southern Marin)

Executive director Manny Chandler instructs Boys' Club members in woodshop. Club wants to expand all programs currently in operation, add new ones, and add more personnel to the staff.

Some of the fine high school students who will be going door-to-door tomorrow (Saturday, April 19) collecting funds for the Boys' Club of Southern Marin (Marin City). If they come to your door, please help.

Marin City Boys' Club Desperately Needs Funds For Remainder of Year

The Boys' Club of Southern Marin is doing an outstanding job in serving the youth of Marin City.

HOWEVER, THE CLUB IS DESPERATELY IN NEED OF FUNDS TO OPERATE THROUGH THE BALANCE OF THIS YEAR.

Without additional funds, this club could easily fall by the wayside, and we think you will agree there is a definite need for a Boys' Club in this area.

WILL YOU HELP WITH YOUR CONTRIBUTION — LARGE OR SMALL?

FOUR TYPES OF MEMBERSHIPS (donations)

- ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR — $500 or more.
- V.I.P. MEMBER — $97.50 or more (it takes $97.50 to take care of one boy for one year).
- ASSOCIATE MEMBER — $25 or more.
- CONTRIBUTING MEMBER — $5 or more. (We'll welcome anything you might want to give . . . a dollar or two or three, etc.)

MAKE "IN MEMORIAM" DONATIONS TO BOYS' CLUB OF SOUTHERN MARIN

If you are making a contribution to a worthy cause in the event of the death of a relative or friend, why not make the donation to the BOYS' CLUB OF SOUTHERN MARIN? We will send suitable acknowledgement.

Thousands of High Schoolers March Tomorrow For Funds For Marin City Boys' Club

Tomorrow several thousand fine young men and women from seven Marin County high schools will ring as many doorbells as possible to ask for donations for the Boys' Club.

Here is an outstanding example of youth working for the betterment of other youth. We hope you will be able to make their door-to-door campaign tomorrow a rousing success.

CRAFT PASSES TEST

An X24A manned lifting body, one of two wingless craft being developed by the Air Force for use in the space shuttle program, goes aloft at Edwards Air Force Base. Tucked under a wing of its B52 mother ship, it was released yesterday at 45,000 feet and four minutes later its pilot Maj. Jerauld Gentry brought it to a safe landing on a dry lake bed. Also tested yesterday was the Air Force's other wingless craft, the HL10. (AP Wirephoto)

ABAG Will Delay On Regional Plan

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY—The Association of Bay Area Governments executive committee decided last night to wait until June to come up with details of its legislative proposal that ABAG be given broad powers over regional problems.

ABAG president Jack D. Maltester, mayor of San Leandro, pushed unsuccessfully for earlier action. By June, he said, "we may be sitting here debating something they've already passed" in Sacramento.

But Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, chairman of the special committee drafting details of the bill introduced last week by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the work could not be done faster. Bagley's bill, based on an ABAG-sponsored "skeleton" bill that failed to pass two years ago, was introduced at the urging of several executive committee members who oppose another bill to set up a regional government that would elminate ABAG.

After debating for 40 minutes on when to meet again, the committee set a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. May 8 to receive a report from Bort's committee, and a general assembly meeting at 7:30 p.m. on June 11 to act on the committee's recommendations. Both meetings will be in the Hotel Claremont, where the executive committee met last night.

Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis and Sonoma County Supervisor Ignacio A. Vella are on the 11-member special committee.

Bort said the committee will make two assumptions in its work: that there should be some sort of continuation of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and that whatever regional government may be formed should be dominated by ABAG.

Victor Jones, University of California government professor helping ABAG draw up its legislation, cautioned that unless the skeleton bill by Bagley is filled in with details, "you'll introduce a skeleton bill every session."

The Executive Committee Also:

MARIN CITY — Endorsed Marin County's application for a $50,000 federal urban planning assistance program grant for a two-year community planning program for Marin City. Total cost of the plan will be $75,000. The federal government requires ABAG review of such grants.

ROHNERT PARK — Endorsed an application by the City of Rohnert Park for a $45,350 federal water and sewer facility grant to expand its water supply. Total cost of the project is $90,700.

PLANNING — Endorsed an application for a $96,694 federal grant toward ABAG's regional planning program next fiscal year. Total cost of the program is $144,446.

CRIME STUDY — Approved a proposal for a planning program of how to overcome deficiencies in law enforcement in the nine-county Bay Area. The program, proposed by ABAG's advisory board in comprehensive justice planning, would be financed by an annual federal planning grant of $113,000.

Investors Suing For $1.1 Billion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A group of former investors filed a $1.1 billion civil lawsuit against Insurance and Securities, Inc., charging misrepresentation in commissions for trust fund management.

The complaint was filed yesterday in federal court by William F. McGraw Jr. of Los Angeles. It also named Security Pacific National Bank of San Francisco.

Involved are brokerage commissions to ISI which were described in the complaint as "gratuitious payments for whch no service of value is rendered."

A similar complaint was rejected last July by U. S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert who called it "inadequate and unfair."

That decision is being appealed.

Mill Valley Budget Session Hears Police, Fire Personnel Requests

Mill Valley City Council heard a plea last night from Police Chief Dan Terzich for an additional patrolman to beef up the midnight to 8 a.m. graveyard shift.

Another officer is needed "desperately," the chief said as the council was reviewing sections of a proposed $2,381,770 budget for fiscal 1969-70.

There are four persons on the shift, a sergeant, two officers and a clerk, and because of days off, there are two days a week when "we have only two," the chief said.

Councilmen took no action on the request or any other budget matter discussed. Mayor Dean N. Meyer explained the session was just for budget review.

The chief also requested a relief police clerk, noting that on days when the present clerks are off, police officers have to serve as clerks. "Taking a car off the street is pennywise and pound foolish," he said.

There has been no increase in the number of police clerks, three, since 1964 and the workload for clerks has increased 400 per cent since then, the chief contended.

He also requested $4,500 so officers could be paid for holidays, rather than receive compensatory time off.

"At the present time we owe police employees a total of 316 days off," City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer reported. Granting holiday pay, he said, "with the size of our force, is impossible without seriously reducing the protection we require. Holiday pay, in lieu of time off, would add 192 days of additional policeman coverage."

The chief also requested that $2,000 be allocated to buy uniforms for reserve officers, who have been buying their own, noting some of the uniforms "are getting pretty tacky."

The proposed police department budget totaled $219,031, as compared to $195,676 for the current year.

Fire Chief Leslie Armager requested two additional firemen at a cost of $16,008 so he could have full strength on each shift and promote a man to captain.

For department equipment, the chief requested a new fire engine, estimated to cost $32,000 and the council suggested that the city investigate the possibility of buying it through the state purchasing system.

The proposed fire department budget is $174,804, as compared to $151,619 during the current year.

Councilmen also briefly reviewed the proposed parks recreation and golf course budgets.

The proposed parks allocation $104,207, up from $83,729 this year, includes $3,000 for material to construct 30 picnic tables at Boyle and Old Mill Park, and $1,200 for ground cover at Old Mill Park.

The proposed recreation budget, $51,560, up from $35,439, includes an $8,665 hike in salaries, to hire additional leaders for the after-school and summer programs.

Recreation director Don Dimitratos explained the intent to expand the after school program from three to five days a week, with two leaders at each playground, and to expand the summer program.

He reported that the park and recreation fund revenue during the current year was $14,778.

In the proposed capital improvements budget $30,500 has been earmarked for two new tennis courts at Boyle Park and resurfacing of existing courts.

The proposed golf course budget, $57,421, down from $58,461 for the current year, had few changes, but the capital improvements budget earmarked $8,000 for golf course improvements.

Also reviewed were the proposed streets budget, $128,952, up from the current $118,355, with $4,000 for street lighting.

A new street sweeper at a cost of $12,476, and a loader at a cost of $11,550, were included in the proposed equipment replacement budget.

Councilman George E. Wickham proposed that the city start on a street resurfacing program and Ross J. Benson, public works superintendent, noted streets haven't been resurfaced "for years and years."

Also reviewed were the proposed corporation yard budget, $14,938, up from $12,804; including a part-time auto maintenance man to service city vehicles at a cost of $1,320; water pollution control plant, $64,667, up from $62,922; sewer lines, $42,387, up from $33,798.

It was the council's second budget review, and Mayor Meyer announced that the third budget review would be at 8 p.m. next Thursday at city hall.

Gen. George A. Custer was indirectly responsible for the first documented discovery of gold in South Dakota, now the nation's third most important gold-producing state. Two miners attached to an expedition led by Custer found gold in gravel bars in the Black Hills, touching off a series of claims throughout the area.

Terra Linda Gets Mathletes Title

Marin Catholic High School students won the April Mathletes Contest held at San Domenico High School Wednesday in the final contest of the year for Marin County high school mathematicians but the season title went ot Terra Linda High.

The Marin Catholic team, captained by Katherine Paulist, includes Paul Butterworth, Les Catala, Edward Gutteling, Richard Howard, Douglas Moler and Steve Purcell.

Park District Signs Union Pact

OAKLAND (AP) — All of the East Bay Regional Park District's 130 employees must either join a union or pay it the equivalent of union dues.

The district announced that order yesterday, saying it had made the agreement with Local 1675 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Union spokesmen said such an agreement was rare for a public agency.

A "memorandum of understanding" names the union as the exclusive representative of the employees and says that those who do not join should pay for the services the union will be required to provide for them.

HIGH-RISE BASE

Agency Denies Richardson Fill

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — An application for a permit to fill 15 acres in Richardson Bay for a $25 million high-rise development was denied yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Commissioners by 16 to 5 vote turned dwon the application of Sausalito Associates. Voting with the majority to deny the permit were commissioners Melville Owen of Kentfield and Dr. William F. Upton of San Rafael. Approval would have required 13 affirmative votes.

Chairman Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park, noting that use of Richardson Bay is exceptionally complicated because the tidelands long ago were subdivided as if they were dry land, said the commission will tackle the problem — if it does not go out of existence 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

The commission's staff had recommended on April 3 that the permit be deinied on the ground that it would violate the commission's adopted master plan for the bay, which stated that a "substantial portion" of such a project must be built on existing land. Of the 17.2 acres to have been included in the project, only 2.2 acres already are filled.

Also, because adjacent property owners would be entitled to high-rise development, too, approval of the permit would "open the door wide to much more filling," the commission was told by its executive director, Joseph E. Bodovitz of Mill Valley.

Bodovitz also noted that an eight-acre lagoon in the project would "use property not owned by the applicant, thus an important part of the proposal could not be carried out unless a public agency were to acquire the property for a lagoon and devote it to this use."

The Architect for the project, Robert A. Bennighof of San Francisco, argued that it met an informal guideline by the Marin County Planning Commission that bay projects leave one third acre open for each two thirds acre filled. Commissioner Hans Feibusch of San Francisco, however, said this rationale would permit the filling of 56 square miles of the bay.

The applicant's attorney, Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere, told the Independent-Journal that his clients "probably" would try again for a fill permit from the commission. He said he did not know if they would amend their plan.

Their rejected plan included a 550-room, 14-story hotel, a 130-room motel about 10 stories high, a boatel-motel with shops up to four stories high, a restaurant, cocktail lounge, gas station, lagoon, and "transportation center for boats and helicopters.

Commissioners authorized the staff to work with Marin County officials in determining an over-all plan for Richardson Bay. The complicated problem could be worked out by the Marin County Board of Supervisors "if they don't chicken out," said Sonoma County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker, a member of the commission.

Commissioners, meeting at the Hilton Hotel, unanimously approved an application by Edgewater Yacht Co. to fill about one sixth of an acre on the Sausalito waterfront north of Turney Street for a restaurant parking lot.

The parcel to be filled is adjacent to a 101-seat restaurant planned in an existing building. The fill work, to cost up to $10,000, is to take a year to complete, according to the application.

The fill was recommended by the BCDC staff as consistent with the bay plan's approval of projects that provide for public access to the bay and for shoreline improvement, but with only minor filling, Bodovitz said.

Commissioner Owen stated that the permanent public access to be provided by the applicant was a result of the commission's existence. If the commission went out of business, as scheduled under current state law, the entire fill could be used for parking he noted.

Radios, TV Stolen

Mary A. DeGrasso of 85 Stuyvesant Court, Sleepy Hollow, has reported to the sheriff's department that someone broke into her home Tuesday and stole two radios, a portable television set, two cameras and a bank containing $45.

McCarthy's Plan For Bay Under Attack

By PAUL E. PETERZEL

SAN FRANCISCO — A bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, to emasculate the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and to give public navigation and fishing easements to bay fillers free, was strongly attacked yesterday by commission officials.

Chairman Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park labeled the bill (SB 1181) "disastrous to our cause." It would take away virtually all of the commission's regulatory powers and make it only an advisory body, Lane said.

The implications of McCarthy's bill are "very serious" and could only mean that all the people of the Bay Area would lose the bay, Lane declared.

The commission's legal adviser, Deputy Atty. Gen. E. Clement Shute, asked his opinion of the McCarthy bill's provision that would abandon existing public easements over privately owned tidelands, said "it would be questionable" even if the California Constitution were amended. Such public trusts have been protected by law for centuries, Shute said.

Lane's report of this provision brought laughter from many commissioners.

Commissioner David C. Joseph, an alternate for Norman B. Livermore Jr., administrator of the state Resources Agency, warned that the public was being confused by about a dozen bills affecting the commission, which will go out of existence late this year unless there is legislation to extend its life.

Adding to the confusion, said commissioner Han Feibusch of San Francisco, was the headline over the Independent-Journal's story on Wednesday about the McCarthy bill. The headline termed the bill "mild" and said it "would keep BCDC on books."

"But what it would do," Feibusch said, "is put BCDC on the shelf."

McCarthy, who told the Independent-Journal on Tuesday that he owned about 1,000 acres in the bay, proposed in his bill that the commission would have to issue fill permits whenever the applicant had obtained local approval for his project "irrespective of any conflict with the commission's plan."

McCarthy's bill specifically would allow residential developments on bay fill. The BCDC's adopted plan for the bay would limit housing to the existing shoreline on the ground that there is no need to fill the bay for housing.

Youth Cuts Head In Auto Accident

Richard Paul Silvas, 19, of 242 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital today for a head cut suffered when his car went off Highway 101 on Puerto Suello Hill at 2:20 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

The patrol, which said his car skidded 600 feet and hit a guard rail, cited Silvas for speeding, after estimating his speed at 85 miles per hour.

Buses Still Not Without Danger

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. says the 4,000 school buses that received new brake parts in a nationwide recall campaign should be removed from service at once.

G.M. said the modifications may have caused six minor accidents.

Last month, G.M. began a recall campaign to correct a potential brake defect on 10,450 buses.

The giant automaker said yesterday the modified seal placed on the brake's check valve of the 4,000 buses brought in so far may have caused loss of braking. A new seal is being supplied for the buses.

Cousteau Will Design Museum

LONG BEACH (AP)—Jacques-Yves Cousteau, the underwater explorer, has been named chief designer-planner for the Museum of the Sea in the retired Cunard liner Queen Mary.

The liner is now owned by the City of Long Beach, but the oceanographic museum will be financed by the nonprofit California Museum Corp.

Cousteau told a news conference yesterday it will be "the largest oceanographic museum in the world."

1906 Quake Celebration Draws 5,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—More than 5,000 San Franciscans gathered before sun-up today to laugh and sing as they watched their city rocked by a giant rolling earthquake and a leveling fire.

But the devastation was on a movie screen as the city held a unique celebration on the 63rd birthday of its famed quake. It was April 18, 1906, when the city was ripped by the most disastrous temblor and fire in the nation's history. Nearly 500 died and 350,000 were left homeless as the three-day fire roared through 28,000 buildings.

Although today's ceremony was held at 5:13 a.m. to commemorate the moment of the quake, the big outdoor party was thrown by Mayor Joseph Alioto as a gentle put-down to the band of mystics, seers and assorted prophets of gloom who have said that an April quake will split California in two. Most of their predicted dates already have come and gone.

"We know we live in earthquake country, but there's no need to get hysterical," Mayor Alioto said.

The mayor's hour-long bash at Civic Center Plaza included records of Enrico Caruso singing selections from Carmen as he did here the night before the 1906 quake.

MGM made available its mid-30s film "San Francisco" and its famous earthquake and fire scenes were shown on a huge screen. A dazed Calrk Gable wandered through the city as firemen blew up buildings behind him to form a fire break. A high-volume sound system sent the sound of explosions roaring through the downtown area.

As the party ended, the big crowd sang "San Francisco" and then local restaurants provided soup and the Army passed out coffee and doughnuts —just as they did 63 years earlier.

One Coffee Break Proves Life Saver

NEWPORT, Ky. (UPI)—An Episcopal rector's decision to take a coffee break recently may have saved his life, or at least spared him from serious injury.

Rev. Edwin Taylor left his office at St. Paul's Church here to get a cup of coffee in the church's undercroft. When he returned, he found an out-of-control car had crashed through a wall of the office.

Cotati Council Votes For Wrecking Yard

The Cotati City Council last night heard protests, but approved the rezoning of an area on Industrial Avenue which could permit an auto wrecking business.

Several residents complained that an auto wrecking firm would be an unsightly addition to the area off East Cotati Avenue. Officials from Sonoma State College had protested at an earlier hearing that such a use would harm the appearance of the college entrance.

The front section of the land owned by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. was zoned for commercial use, but the rear section was zoned industrial which would permit the auto wrecking use. The railroad intends to lease the land.

Councilmen Alfred Falletti, John I. Groom and Robert Rasmussen approved the rezoning, saying architectural controls could be imposed at the time of the use permit application to control the appearance of any business. Mayor Frank P. Dolinsek and Councilman Morris J. Houser dissented.

The Cotati City Council Also:

REZONED — Approved the rezoning of 8356 Gravenstein Highway from rural residential to commercial to permit the installation of a commercial sign by Foster Freeze.

COMMISSION — Adopted an ordinance reducing the membership of the park and recreation commission from seven to five members.

LOITERING — Introduced an ordiance prohibiting loitering on streets, sidewalks and public places.

WEEDS — Approved resolution declaring weeds in several properties as public nuisances and directing the city clerk to post notices.

POLICE — Asked City Mgr. Gordon C. Howe to investigate the possibility of combining the Cotati police department with the Rohnert Park force.

SPECIAL MEETING — Scheduled a special meeting for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to consider adoption of the loitering ordinance. After adjournment, the council will hold a combined study session with the planning commission.

Nixons To Honor Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon will hold a black-tie dinner Wednesday in honor of Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren.

The White House, announcing the event today, said some 110 guests were being invited.

The chief justice tendered his resignation during the Johnson administration and is expected to leave the court by the end of the present term in June.

Nixon and Warren have had political disagreements in the past and the dinner party was seen as a special gesture.

Two Convicted On Marijuana

Two Forest Knolls residents, Terry David Haggerty and Sara Diane Hatch, both 21, were found guilty yesterday by Judge E. Warren McGuire of possessing marijuana Feb. 13, 1968, in San Geronimo.

Judge McGuire decided the case on the basis of the transcript of the preliminary hearing. He had earlier denied a motion to suppress evidence.

Sentencing was set for May 22.

North American Indians To Meet

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—A conference of representatives of all North American Indians will be held this summer in upstate New York.

"We're uniting all our people for action," said Iroquois Chief Leon Shenandoah, in explaining the conference will discuss treaty violations and the current status of the Indian in society. The meetings will begin Aug. 16 in Tonawanda, and conclude with a four-day session in Syracuse beginning Aug. 24.

The Scotch Drinkers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Four of the five top Scotch-drinking metropolitan areas are also in the top five in population, according to a survey by Barton Distilling Company. They are, in order, (1) New York, (2) Chicago, (3) Los Angeles and (5) Detroit. Status-conscious Washington is fourth.

California GI Sentenced For Passing Drugs

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—A U.S. military court today sentenced Chief Warrant Officer William J. Fry III, 23, of Ojai, to five years imprisonment at hard labor after the pleaded guilty to passing marijuana and opium to other servicemen.

The court-martial board also sentenced Fry to dishonorable discharge from the Army and forfeiture of all pay and benefits for the five years.

Under U.S. military law Fry could have gotten up to 20 years for the offenses.

Abel Reelected As Steel Boss

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers announced officially today that I. W. Abel won reelection as president of the 1.2 million member union by 75,000 votes.

The union's international tellers said Abel polled 275,651 votes to 181,122 for Emil Narick, a union lawyer who opposed him in the Feb. 11 election.

Also re-elected were Walter J. Burke as secretary-treasurer and Joseph P. Molony as vice president.

Copter Makes Street Landing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A helicopter landed at the busy Fifth and Bryant intersection in downtown San Francisco in the midst of workbound motorists today.

No traffic accidents were reported.

Pilot Bob Hallbeck, who operates the copter for KGO radio and television stations, said he was forced down by engine trouble, He was not hurt..

Finch Pleads For Clearer Campus Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration urged Congress today to clear up confusion in its laws aimed at student rioters and to give the academic community time to deal with the situation before enacting any harsh new penalties.

At the same time, Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, called on the colleges to take a long hard look at their policies on the right of dissent in order that students will have a proper outlook for their views.

Finch said the federal government would assist the colleges through funds and information in their attempt to come to grips with the new phenomenon of campus disorders.

In testimony before a House education subcommittee Finch called the violence and classroom disruptions on the campus "a tragic element in the history of American higher education."

"We must focus on the hard core extremists," he said, "not the vast majority of hard working students, and adopt the appropriate instruments of policy. We want to solve the problem, not to wield an indiscriminate bludgeon."

Reno Schools Opened Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Nevada teachers, pressuring the legislature for higher pay, closed public schools in the Las Vegas area but returned from a one-day walkout in the Reno area.

"We've been slapped in the face, It's disgusting," said Assemblyman Douglas J. Webb, R-Sparks.

Washoe County teachers in the north said they had ended their walkout which closed secondary schools. The Clark County Classroom Teachers Association in Las Vegas vowed to stay out until given $8,000 starting pay or the membership votes to go back.

Plan To Liberalize Abortions Defeated

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Assembly has rejected a proposal endorsed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to liberalize the state's 1883 abortion statute.

The 78-69 adverse vote yesterday, after five and one-half hours of emotional debate, complete with pictures of deformed fetuses, means the issue is dead for the Legislature's 1969 session, already in its final days.

The Earl of Leicester entertained Queen Elizabeth I of England at Kenilworth Castle for 19 days in July 1575. Clocks stopped when she arrived. Guns saluted, fireworks flared and 320 casks of beer slaked the guests' thirst. Amid halloos of huntsmen, Elizabeth hunted deer with bow and arrow.

Peace Pilgrim Visits Marin

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Peace Pilgrim is her name — really.

She is a white-haired woman of uncertain age who has walked 25,000 miles through 48 of the United States, many parts of Mexico and 10 Canadian provinces in the interest of world peace.

PENNILESS, SHE has blotted out her identity and history prior to the 15 years before she began her pilgrimage because, she says, they are no longer of any significance.

Everywhere she goes she speaks in private homes, churches of all denominations — seven sermons in one Sunday is her record — schools and college and universities.

Wednesday in Sausalito at the home of her hostess, Althya Youngman, she told her story and that of her crusade.

"My name is legally Peace Pilgrim," she said, "because it has the status of a professional name. My purpose is to put emphasis on my pilgrimage, not on myself. I would not even get a letter addressed to my old name."

HER HEAVY mail, she says, is addressed to a post office in Cologne, N.J., where it is forwarded general delivery to the various cities she visits. The only thing she would say about her previous life was that she had money and success and had spent 15 years in preparation — not in walking or speaking — for her mission.

"I had found life empty, and I decided I would live to give what I could instead of what I could get," she explained. "After I had sufficient stability in my own life, in those 15 years I did various things to be of service, beginning with work with the elderly and psychologically disturbed.

"My first vow was one of simplicity: 'I shall not accept more than I need while others in the world have less than they need.' My next vow was one of faith: 'I shall remain a wanderer until mankind has learned the ways of peace, walking until I am given shelter and fasting until I am given food.' "

Peace Pilgrim began her walk in January, 1953, publicizing it by walking along the line of march of the Tournament of Roses Parade before it began.

SHE COLLECTS no money and plans her itineraries according to where she is invited,

Leisure And Hobby Areas Are Features Of Fairhills Tour

Leisure and hobby areas of seven homes will be featured in Hillside Homes, a house tour sponsored by the Fairhills Guild of the Boyd Marin Museum of Science.

The tour Thursday will begin at 11 a.m. with luncheon served poolside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spero P. Spiliotis.

THE OTHER homes on the tour are the residence's of Messrs. and Mmes. Lawrence L. Luchetti, Joseph Anthony Lukes, Max Saul, Herbert C. Johnson, John D. La Noue and Ulrich Kraemer, all of Fairhills.

The LaNoue home has an interesting interior, which includes a provincial kitchen, displaying a copper collection.

The Ulrich Kraemer home, designed By David Coleman Associates, has a large deck and offers a spectacular view of Mt. Tamalpais and San Francisco. The old oak trees lend an extra charm to the grounds.

LEISURE TIME artists Mr. and Mrs. Max Saul will have their paintings on display in their home. The Sauls' son Charles, a student at San Rafael High School, designed and built most of the deck and pool houses using an Oriental theme.

The Spero Spiliotis home reflects the family's active life. They enjoy relaxing by the pool, and Mrs. Spiliotis spends much of her time in Little League and Parent-Teacher Association activities.

The Herbert Johnson home was designed by Ursula Johnson, an artist and her husband, an engineer. The oak trees add a rustic beauty to the three-level home.

Mrs. Johnson is an art volunteer at West End School, a member of the Marin Museum Association and has had art shows in Sonoma, Marin and San Francisco.

"ART IS not just a hobby; it's a part of my life," she says.

The Johnson children are also involved in unusual artistic projects such as landscaping an electric train board, and a piece of Mrs. Johnson's pop art, an assortment of toys and household items sprayed gold, will also be on display.

All native plants and trees were retained on the grounds of the Joseph Lukes' home. LaVerne Luke's hobby is renovating older properties, and she enjoys swimming with her daughter Elizabeth. Several areas of the home were designed just for children.

The playroom leads to an upper level play yard, designed for small children, who require maximum supervision. This area provides a haven when adults relax a few steps away on the deck or are in the kitchen.

THE LOWER level provides much space and shade for summer and is an ideal spot for entertaining.

The wings of the house are built for the large family with the kitchen as the central point. Many of the paintings on display were done by the Luchetti children.

Mrs. Theodore A. Martin is chairman of the house tour, and Mrs. LaNoue is assistant chairman. Committee chairmen are Mmes. Bryce Anderson, sponsors; Neil Jannes, reservations and invitations; W. Charles Hasler, publicity; Jason Widmer, hostesses; B. J. Whitlow, refreshments; and Elsa Kay, luncheon.

"WE MIXED a little of this shade of orange oil paint with white wall paint to get this color for the walls," Mrs. Herb Johnson tells Mrs. John D. LaNone, seated in Mrs. Johnson's studio. Ursula Johnson's paintings will be on display in her rustic home on the Hillside Homes house tour Thursday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Provisional Junior League Members Told

By MOLLY MARIN

Seven Marinites are among the new provisional members of the Junior League of San Francisco and will be introduced Wednesday at the annual meeting at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

They are Mmes. Blaine Scott Boyden (Nancy Cusack) of Greenbrae, John S. Caple (Ann Marie Lloyd) of San Rafael, Donald R. Cottle (Dulce Wilmott) of Mill Valley, Michael Demetrios (Patricia Ellerd) of Belvedere, Richard M. Duff Jr. (Julie Schieren) of Belvedere, Frank Ribbel III (Mary Jane Bennett) of San Rafael and Jeffrey Skov (Paula Daly) of Kentfield.

Among the league's new officers is Mrs. Kingsley L. Rice Jr. of Tiburon, who will serve as corresponding secretary.

SOME LUCKY guests at the cocktail preview at the Norman B. Livermore house in Ross tonight will make the trip from the rendezvous point at Ross Common aboard a vintage Rolls Royce driven by Alan Preston Maginis or Ross or a Chrysler Landau '32. David Marshall will drive the latter vehicle wearing a costume of the early 1930s. Another amusing vehicle to be used is the London double-decker bus on loan from Shaun Wiltshire of San Rafael.

Attending the opening with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. MacMillan of San Rafael will be Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Smith of Sonoma and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawson Jr. of San Rafael. The three couples have a dinner date in San Rafael afterwards.

Sponsors from Marin who will be greeting preview guests from 6 to 9 p.m. at the home are Messrs. and Mmes. Frank H. Abbott III, A. Barlow Ferguson, Dr. and Mrs. Mervyen F. Burke, Mrs. Courtney M. Benoist and Mrs. Thomas T. Kent, of Kentfield; Messrs. and Mmes. Curtiss Hayden Jr., Charles O. Jones, Percival M. Scales, John Irving Witter, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Homans Conner, of Ross; Messrs. and Mmes. Herbert A. Jacobs, Robert A. Jepprey Jr., and Miss Catherine Oberto, of San Rafael; Mrs. and Mrs. Lawrence Boucher and Gen. and Mrs. C. W. McColpin, of Novato; Messrs. and Mmes. Robert D. Ford, Gerald Kelleher Jr., Warren C. Meeker, Richard Mercer, of San Anselmo; Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Eichaedt of Larkspur, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Manning of Belvedere; Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Smith of Tiburon, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Shaper of Sausalito.

The Robert Pomeroys of Ross, who have purchased the Livermore home and will raze it prior to constructing a Japanese style dwelling, are also sponsors. Mr. Pomeroy is chairman of the board of HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Disrespectful Son Blames Mother For Present Army Status

DEAR HELEN:

Please tell me, am I a terrible person?

I tried to raise my son right, but he started drifting away from our church, and got in with a shiftless crowd. While I was working as a housekeeper, he was chasing around, giving me no help.

One day I came across a letter on his desk, stating that he was failing several courses at college. I asked him about it, and he shouted, "Why don't you mind your own d— business?"

Things got worse, and he finally flunked out of college. Then he started staying out all night, but not with the lovely girl he is engaged to. Instead of looking for work, he'd sleep all day.

In desperation I called his draft board, as I was afraid if he wasn't settled in something he'd get into the Army. As it turned out, he had never notified them he left college, but they heard it from me. I didn't "inform." I just assumed they knew.

Well, that was November and by December he had his call. He is now in the Service, but still in the States, and he has never forgiven me. He writes hateful letters and blames me for all his troubles.

Did I commit such an awful crime? — H. B. M.

DEAR H:

You notified the draft board of a change in your son's status, and that's no crime! Let's hope the Army makes a man of him! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I must argue. You said service station managers don't hire Peeping Toms, but sometimes they don't know.

A long time ago I used to hang around a gas station. The young men who worked there thought it was "cute" to peep into the ladies' room through a ventilator.

Recently on a trip through New York State, we stopped at a station and my wife and children went to the rest room. I walked into the servicing area and noticed a young man scrambling down from a ladder. I could see there was a small ventilator near the ceiling and it opened into the woman's rest room. I didn't report him because I couldn't prove he was peeping, but Helen, these things do happen. I would suggest that service station managers be more alert. — JAMES

DEAR HELEN:

I am a lone recluse of 74 and I like it that way.

On my birthday, I was in bed, trying to get over the flu, when I was awakened by red flashlights in my face. Two police officers said they were going to take me to the hospital. I said, "I'll be okay in a day or two. Leave me alone." They said. "No, we are going to do this for your own good."

Good indeed! After being assured that my bills would all be paid by Medicare, I am now hit with repeated duns for ambulance, hospital room, medical care. I keep mailing the bills to the prattling Police Department, as I will not pay for something I did not ask for.

Another thing: They assured me my house would be safe. While I was imprisoned in the hospital, someone broke in and stole $300 and a watch!

There ought to be a law that would protect a man from do-gooders in uniform! — ALONE

DEAR ALONE:

Contact your Chief of Police. Inasmuch as his men "helped" you into this problem, he should help you find the agency which can best solve it — and his call will carry a lot more weight than yours . . . Also I hope you get your $300 back, one way or another! — H.

P.S. Don't blame the police: They may have saved your life!

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES CASAZZA
(Jeff Wiener photo)

Tina Ragghianti Bride Of Charles Casazza

Tina Ragghianti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nello Ragghianti of Greenbrae, became the bride of Charles Casazza of San Francisco at a Saturday afternoon ceremony at St. Sebastian's Church in Greenbrae.

Patti Smith of Mill Valley was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Jacque French of Greenbrae, Mrs. Gary Ragghianti of San Rafael, and the bride's sisters, Mrs. Donald De Bisschop of San Rafael and Marylou and Charlene Ragghianti of Greenbrae.

Jack Rowe of Incline Village, Nev., served as best man for his brother-in-law. Ushers were Donald DeBisschop, Alan Grieve and Gary Ragghianti, the bride's brother, all of San Rafael, and Ronald Ross of San Francisco.

A reception was held afterward at the Athletic Club in San Francisco and the couple left on a Carmel wedding trip. They will live in San Francisco.

Tina is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and is employed with the Bank of America in San Francisco. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Shoneff and Mrs. Leona Ragghianti, both of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. John Casazza of Brooklyn, N.Y., are parents of the bridegroom, who is a graduate of Fort Hamilton High School there. He is employed with Safeway Stores in San Francisco and served two years with the Army. Mrs. Jack Rowe of Incline Village and Mrs. Alan Weiss of Brooklyn are his sisters.

MRS. SERGE PETROFF

School Group Elects Head

Mrs. Serge Petroff, this year's secretary-treasurer, is the new chairman of the board of directors of the Tamalpais Nursery School Corporation which operates the Tamalpais Nursery School in Mill Valley and Maringate Nursery School in Marin City.

The new chairman is a newcomer to the area, having moved to Mill Valley two years ago with her husband, who is general manager for the New York Life Insurance Company in San Francisco, and their four children Paul, 12; Elizabeth, 10; Gregory, 5; and Andrew, 4.

Jane, or "Bunny" as she is known to friends, is also active in the Homestead Valley Parent-Teacher Association and is on the board of the Parents' Club of the Martin Luther King School in Sausalito.

A graduate of Simmons College in Boston, Mass., she was editor of a company newspaper in Boston and also worked in public relations for Shell Oil Company before her marriage.

The Petroffs have a cabin at Alpine Meadows, and Jane says she enjoys outdoor activities, such as skiing and back packing in the Sierra in the summer. She also enjoys attending the opera and symphony concerts.

PILGRIM

going South in the winter and North in the summer. She has slept in barns and places open all night like bus stations, but usually she is invited into the homes of strangers.

To call attention to her crusade, on her dark blue uniform she has painted in white letters on the front "Peace Pilgrim," and on the back, "25,000 miles on foot for world peace." In the pockets of her cobbler-apron-like tunic are her total worldly possessions, a comb, folding toothbrush and ball point pen.

"The purpose of the words on my tunic is to make my contacts with people," she says. "They approach me when they see them."

The peripatetic wanderer says she has had no difficulties with people, even when walking through ghettos, except for being hit once by a mentally disturbed youth.

"I WAS able to meet the attack with love," she says. "This changed his life, and he is a fine person today."

The planet, she notes, however, has deteriorated.

"We need to deal with water and air polution, depleted farm lands and despoiled forests. These problems are increasing."

But her outlook on the human condition is optimistic.

"One hopeful thing is that people have turned so far in the direction of peace that the polls indicate this, and some congressmen are changing to peace positions.

"ANOTHER HOPEFUL thing is the awakening of youth — sometimes called the youth rebellion. Violence is an infinitesimal part of it. In general it is a good rebellion against the false values of society—war, racial prejudice, materialism and hypocracy.

"Most hopeful of all is the wonderful spiritual awakening among both the elderly and young people."

This the the fourth visit of Peace Pilgrim to Marin. Others were in 1955, 1959 and 1966.

She has a very heavy speaking schedule in California this time. She lectured Wednesday at the University of California anthropology extension division in San Francisco. This afternoon she spoke at the home of Mrs. S. E. Hool in San Rafael and will speak there tonight — 7 Lisa Court — at 8 p.m. Anyone interested is invited.

Curtains Usable

Plastic shower curtains no longer nice enough for bathroom duty can still be useful—as covers for outdoor furniture and grills. Just machine-wash them in soap or detergent suds, along with a couple of bath towels which rub the plastic clean. Remove curtains before final spin, allow to drip dry and cut them to size. If desired, glue weights around the edges to hold covers when wind blows.

A 'Fun Day' In The City

By STEVE BASSETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Need any partially used cans of shoe polish?

How about a 100-pound, hand-carved, wooden statue of a leering Japanese god — minus the big toe of its right foot?

If you're interested, the U.S. Post Office's frequent auctions of unclaimed merchandise may be the place for you. But first a warning:

THE AUCTIONEERS are fast and smooth and you'll be up against a flinty-eyed, shrewd bunch of bidders, many of whom have not missed an auction in decades.

Even if you don't bid, watching is fun.

At a recent auction in San Francisco an elderly woman sat toward the back of the hall. Settling in a chair, she removed cigarettes from her pocketbook, took out her false teeth, wrapped them in a handkerchief and settled down for a long and happy day.

SHE NODDED approvingly when a bidder made a good buy and chuckled sardonically when a novice bidder got stuck, in this case, with some leaky cologne bottles.

"We get a lot of stuff here we don't even know what to call it," said Martin Mardorf, a postal employee who has worked every auction in San Francisco since 1941.

"But I guess it evens out."

A closer look disclosed a multitude of mysterious little objects of different shapes. The whole batch cost her $10. It fit nicely in the trunk of the shiny, new Cadillac waiting at the curb.

"Eight, nine, ten, the deodorants go to the man in the back for $10," said Potts, late in the day. "Right now I could use some."

"Get it up fella, get it up," Potts yelled at a timid bidder. "Soon as ya drop that hand I forget ya."

"YOU IN or out?" he reproached a youth, who, intimidated by Potts and embarrassed by the attention he was receiving, dropped out of the bidding.

Potts and two women auctioneers moved the goods with speed and humor. Most of the merchandise went to bidders in the first three rows, many of whom were dealers owning second hand stores and other outlets.

The woman had several cartons of goods in front of her and more outside in the hall.

FARTHER DOWN the row was a bidder from San Diego. Across the aisle was one from Reno. Another came from as far as Las Vegas.

"Don't ever try to judge these people by their clothes," said Richard Kechler, director of administrative services at the San Francisco post office. "I've seen people who don't appear to have a dime in their pockets peel off bills from a roll that would choke a horse," said Kechler. "Some of the best dressed ones really watch their pennies."

THE AUCTION at the Civic Auditorium cleared 12,000 items and netted about $25,000 for the U.S. Treasury. The goods came from 2,600 post offices in California, Arizona, Hawaii, Utah, Nevada, Guam and Southeast Asia.

Included were government salvage goods, damaged merchandise which had been insured and packages which people never bothered to pick up.

The influence of our servicemen in Asia was apparent.

There were sets of china, mostly damaged, which had been purchased in Tokyo. Another popular item was stereo equipment. There were cameras, watches, kimonos and even a few suits made in Hong Kong.

EVERYTHING IS LISTED in a catalogue by lot and prospective buyers can check the merchandise the day before the auction — circling the item and marking the price they think it's worth.

Potts said veteran bidders scrupulously adhere to their guidelines.

But it was apparent the amateurs were the ones really enjoying themselves, as they returned — often puzzled — from the auctioneer's block with their leadky deodorant bottles, panty girdles and rusty can openers.

Anyone need a dead reckoning computer — or for that matter, know what it is?

Legal Secretaries Give Scholarship

Sandra Michel, a senior at Tamalpais High School, was selected to receive the $100 scholarship award of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association.

Annette Crawley, a senior at San Rafael High School, was second choice and received honorable mention.

Sandra will be presented as the recipient of the scholarship award to a student who is studying to become a legal secretary or a student who plans to become a legal secretary, at the installation dinner meeting of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association on May 2.

Sandra plans to major in business education at the College of Marin in the fall and to continue with her secretarial skills and hopes to take court reporting in the future.

This is the third scholarship program instituted by the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association as special project for the year.

trustees of San Dominico School.

The home will be open for art exhibits and light refreshments, with backround music from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Works by artists Stella Powowski of Sausalito and Rose O'Kane of San Rafael will be displayed along with those of other artists.

Tomorrow Mrs. James McCone of San Francisco, the first president of Dominican College student body, her sister, Miss Geraldine Hall of Corte Madera, Miss Estelle Nolan of San Francisco, and Mrs. T. Crockett Macormack of San Francisco will tour the Livermore home, then go on to Dominic's restaurant for lunch. Mrs. McCone is planning to move to Corte Madera soon.

Coming from their home in Hollister for the Sunday event are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith Jr. and their daughter, Robin, who will enter San Domenico in the fall. In the party will be Mrs. Smith's mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. Robertson Ward of Ross, and Russ Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Smith of Ross.

MRS. JOHN ANDERSON

President Is Elected

Mrs. John K. Anderson is the new president of the Young Wives of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, now busily preparing for the church's largest money-making project of the year, the Marin County Antiques Show and Sale, which opens at the IDESST Hall in Sausalito on April 24.

Founded two years ago to help young couples in the church become acquainted, the young wives meet once a month on Friday mornings at the church. They also have a number of evening and weekend social gatherings.

Home-making is a full-time hobby for Annette, who loves to cook and entertain. She is a new antique collector and enjoys refinishing old furniture and doing "anything creative — to make her home a more interesting place."

Annette and her husband grew up in Lodi, where their families are both connected with the wine industry. She attended Sacramento Junior College and then worked for a securities firm in San Francisco until John was graduated from Stanford University. He is now a bond trader with Dean Witter and Company in San Francisco, and they have a two-year-old son, Jeff.

The Andersons moved to Marin four years ago and live in Mill Valley. The new president is also a member of the Tamalpais Guild of Sunny Hills.

Mill Valley Rite Unites Miss Burke, Stephen Wehr

Married Sunday in a ceremony at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley were Patricia Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Burke of Mill Valley, and Stephen Wehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Wehr of Sacramento.

The bride's attendants were Sandra Drange of San Rafael, maid of honor; and the bride's sister, Mrs. John Christiansen of Mill Valley, the bridegroom's sister, Kathy Wehr of Sacramento, and Nancy Brown and Linn Dillon of Greenbrae, bridesmaids.

Best man was John C. Kerr of San Francisco, and ushers were Roger Ray Mulholland and Jeffrey A. Harper of Mill Valley and Thomas G. Pattenson of San Francisco.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Refectory in Greenbrae and the couple left afterward for a wedding trip to Carmel. They are living temporarily in Mill Valley until the bridegroom, a lieutenant with the Army, goes to Viet Nam.

The bride is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and attended San Jose State College. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Smith of Corte Madera.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of California. He is the grandson of Donald K. Baird of Oakland.

DRAMA REVIEW

'War Games' Fades Into Tedious Show

NEW YORK (AP) — The romantic woes of a draft-dodger fill "War Games," which opened last night at off-Broadway's Fortune Theater, unfortunately.

The piece by Neal Weaver tries to be slickly hip but comes off self-conscious silly with a jumble of homosexuality and straight boy-girl entanglement.

As a parable, hinted at times, of personal and social violence, the whole thing ticks off half a dozen mildly amusing lines. The rest is tedium.

Don Warfield plays a lad who has jumped the border to sanctuary in Canada with enthusiasm extending to total rear nudity but stadily diminishing credibility. As his first bedmate, Jean-Claude Vasseux conveys a deceptively soft savagery. Jane Whitehill rearranges the lopsided menage without giggling once during a sordid seance of confession.

Also on hand are a blustery general in search of the prodigal, performed by Shev Rodgers, and his cornpone-voiced wife in the person of June Graham.

The luckiest participant is Dorothy Greener, a veteran comedienne who animates short and abysmal lines with verve, then vanishes swiftly.

"War Games" was directed by James E. Dwyer, with most of the affray centered upon the rumpled bed that features a dilapidated setting by Neil Jampolis. Thanks to Dennis Parichy, the lights finally are turned off on the tedious rumpus.

Mill Valley To Present Ghost Opera

An ensemble of actors, musicians and singers known as the Ghost Opera Company will present a program of spontaneous opera at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in the Mill Valley golf clubhouse.

The company is composed primarily of members of the Committee, the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and several jazz and rock groups in the Bay Area.

Bill Mathieu, a resident of San Anselmo and musical director of the Committee, explains: "Our style runs from Berg to the Beatles. We play a kind of omnistyle that is at the same time an abstraction of style and antistyle."

Composed of music, acting and singing, the program, according to Mathieu, one of the founders of the four-year-old group, is termed "opera" because it is a presentation of dramatic events surrounded by music.

In the company are Bruce Mackey, an actor with the Committee; Victoria Domagalski, a performer at the Cannery; Tom Buckner, a student of Ali Akbar-Kahn; Judy Ledford, cellist with the San Francisco Conservatory symphony orchestra; David Wessel, who teaches mathematics and psychology at San Francisco State College; Susan Baldwin, an actress with the Committee theater experimental wing; and Steve Busfield, a member of the Loading Zone, rock group.

Court Orders Suspension Of Novato Attorney

Jack L. Burnam who maintained law offices in San Francisco and Novato, has been suspended by the State Supreme Court after a complaint was filed by the State Bar of California, according to records of the state bar in San Francisco.

Burnam's suspension was asked by a committee of the state bar on charges of mishandling of $1,500 in funds belonging to a San Francisco client. After investigation, the charges were brought by the committee last Oct. 18, according to the state bar. The court suspension was for 24 months with all but three months stayed. The three months run from March 1 to June 1 according to the state bar records. He will be on probation for the remainder of the supension.

Burnam maintained an office at 1708 Grant Avenue and one in San Francisco. He worked out of his Novato office one day a week. Telephones in each office have been disconnected.

Macmillan Undergoes Gallstone Operation

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has undergone an operation for removal of a gallstone.

The hospital said his condition was satisfactory after the surgery yesterday. MacMillan is 75.

Dominican Lecture, Recital Set

Dr. Marion Morrey Richter, New York composer and pianist, will present a lecture-recital on "Aspects of Americana" at 8 p.m. Thursday in Calruega Hall at Dominican College of San Rafael.

The program for the benefit of the American Music Research Center at Dominican College is sponsored by the college, the California Federation of Music Clubs and the Marin chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honor society.

The lecture-recital, stressing the role of music in American and world culture, will include works by 15 American composers: Louis M. Gottschalk, Edward MacDowell, Charles Ives, Ulysses Kay, Howard Swanson, William Grant Still, R. Nathaniel Dett, Julia Ott Smith and Charles T. Griffes.

In addition to her own contemporary compositions Richter will also play those of Gail Kubik, Wallingford Riegger, Norman Dello Joio and Samuel Barber.

Library Open House Is Set

Archaeological collections of Dr. Kyle M. Yates Jr., professor of archaeology, at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry, will be on display at the seminary library 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through next Friday.

Student, faculty and staff art work will also be displayed in the library which is holding a special open house in observance of National Library Week.

A special open house will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday so that residents will be able to tour the library.

Theft Admitted By School Aide

OAKLAND (AP) — The former business manager of the Livermore United School District has pleaded guilty to embezzling $9,018 from school funds.

Walter L. Killion, who resigned in February after a special audit showed a $600,000 arithmetical error in the district's $8 million budget, entered his plea yesterday in Superior Court.

Judge Leonard Dieden set June 4 for hearing a probation report and for sentencing.

Amateur Dog Show Slated At Center

An amateur dog show open to all children and their dogs will be held at the Red Hill Shopping Center, San Anselmo, April 26 starting at 10 a.m. under the sponsorship of the Red Hill Merchants Association and Ken-L Ration.

There will be prizes for best costumed, best trick, smallest, largest and best groomed dogs. Winners in each class will compete for the top award of best in

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The councils' findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael library.

FAMILY:

"Support your Local Sheriff" — Clever spoof of western melodrama full of high adventure and laughter.

"Yours, Mine, and Ours" — An ingratiating cast in a warm, lively domestic comedy. Very human , filled with fun and laughter.

ADULTS AND TEENS:

"Charley"—Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Dracula has Risen from the Grave" — Effectively produced, gory British horror tale.

"Hell in the Pacific" — Set on uninhabited Pacific island during World War II. Film depicts the struggle for survival of two men. Handled with taste and sensitivity, photography is beautiful.

"Illustrated Man" — Carnival man has each of his adventures tattooed on his body. The stories are, to say the least, weird and best left to interpretation of the viewer.

"Lady in Cement" — Private eye Tony Rome again copes with murder. Crime is treated as comedy, language is gutter foul, action is brutal with lots of violence.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

BORDERLINE:
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"I Love You, Alice B. Toklas" — Establishment and the hippies are spoofed to a farethee-well in this lively contemporary comedy.

ADULTS ONLY

"Killing of Sister George" — Title taken from character which an actress portrays on TV. Film treats lesbianism with unprecedented explicitness with lewd scenes blatantly shown.

"The Magus" — Symbolic mystic drama in which no identity is clearly defined, has suspense and romance. Its abscure message is that "we all must learn to love." Much explicit sex and nudity.

"Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" — Story of the unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a girls school in Scotland in the 1930s. Her behavior is presented as amusing and acceptable. Nudity and sex are explicit.

"Touchables" — British sex fantasy, a wild, absurd tale of depravity.

"Two for the Road" — Sophisticated comedy has several explicit love scenes and extremely frank dialogue.

Marin City Has First Burglary In Three Months

A three-month respite from burglaries in Marin City was broken yesterday with the burglary of an old mansion while the victims were at home, sheriff's deputies said today.

Deputies said the home of Clyde Collings, located near the Marin County Housing Authority office on Drake Avenue, was broken into between 4:45 and 5:15 p.m. yesterday while both Collings and his grandmother were in the house.

Among the loot taken by burglars, who pried open a locked window in the living room, was a sterling silver service valued 40 years ago at $1,000. Also taken was a $150 portable television set, an FM tuner and radio and six bottles of liquor.

Neither Collings nor his grandmother heard the burglars, deputies said, adding that it was the first burglary in Marin City in three months.

Marin Dining And Wining

Survivor Of The 1906 Quake Plans Another Grand Opening

On this 63rd anniversary of the San Francisco earthquake, there is a grand opening celebration going on at the old Marshall Hotel and Tavern on the east shore of Tomales Bay.

At least — a grand opening was planned for tonight. If there should be a recurrence of the 1906 quaver as has been predicted, all bets are off. On that memorable occasion, the hotel which was built about 1865 and was then known as the North Coast Hotel, dropped off its pilings into the bay. But it landed right side up and more or less intact and was subsequently raised a respectable distance above the high tide mark. It went back into business as usual, and I understand this included a variety of operations, some frowned upon.

All that has been changed. A few years ago the hotel was completely done over, although it still retains a Victorian decor and is furnished with antiques. The tavern and restaurant are located in a separate building and these have been done over,too.

Now operating both facilities — 13-room, year-round accommodations, food and bar — are two Marinites who have already attained some distinction for their past accomplishments — Mike Considine of Mill Valley, who lost his Lion's Share club in Sausalito last November when it was badly damaged by fire, and attorney and former Marin County supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

The tavern operates on a seasonal general liquor license nine months of the year February through October. This means that only wines and beer are served November, December and January — but those months aren't generally noted for a rushing business at the coast.

Starting this weekend, dinners will be served Fridays from 6 to 10:30 p.m. and the dining room will be open straight through for lunches and dinners on Saturdays and Sundays. Food is being prepared by Jenna Nichols McBride (recently married), whom you may remember for her cooking at Farallon East in Stinson Beach. Before that she was at the famous Red Dog Saloon in Virginia City. Steaks, chops and such good American food are on the menu.

Mike tells me that starting June 1 they hope to be open seven days a week for both lunch and dinner during the summer season.

Other plans include live entertainment on weekends and old fashioned movies, including a W. C. Fields film festival. Appearing tonight is John Stewart, formerly of the Cumberland Three. Buffy Ford will appear on another occasion. "Weird and unusual acts" are scheduled for the coming months. Tonight there's a belly dancer performing and she may be followed at other times by anyone from a magician to a sword swallower. There will be Dixieland jazz on Sunday afternoons, not this Sunday, but starting April 27.

All in all I'd say the Marshall Hotel and Tavern promises to have quite an interesting future. Of course, it is located on the edge of the San Andreas fault, and lightning has been known to strike twice in the same place.

A TERRIFIC DISH for dinner at the Oak Tree Inn in San Geronimo is the lobster a l'Armoricaine. It's a delectible lobster steak if you ever tasted one.

But there are a dozen other entrees you might enjoy, too, from spaghetti and canelloni to chicken cacciatora to veal scaloppini to steaks to Russian cabbage rolls.

Right now this is a Friday, Saturday and Sunday dinner house, like the Marshall Hotel and Tavern, with food service from 5 to 11 p.m. The bar is open throughout the week from 9 a.m. to 2 a.m. And like the Marshall Hotel, in bygone years the Oak Tree Inn has a "past" which eventually was lived down, as I expected a lot of places did west of White's Hill.

Over the years the road across the hill has improved and no one thinks of it anymore as a major driving hazard. I still remember back to the days when the turns were turnier, steeper and not well graded in the beam. And there was a spring at the side of the road for those overheated motors and boiling radiators that couldn't make it to the top in one lap. With the old lunk that provided me with transportation then, I had to patronize it regularly each trip, summer or winter.

In the four years Dee and Ray Brunal have had the Oak Tree, business has picked up amazingly among both denizens of the valley and visitors from afar — which probably accounts for the fact that Ray now actually looks like a happy man. I'm told that the first time he was seen to let loose with a smile, one customer at the bar was so overcome he spilled his drink.

Oh, yes: I should remind you, at the Oak Tree, Dee speaks Spanish, Polish and Russian. And I think Ray speaks some French, or at least he smiles in it.

FAMILY STYLE DINNERS now make up the evening food service at Anjo's at 535 Fourth Street, San Rafael. Menu includes steaks, barbecued spareribs, Italian dishes and seafood. Price range is from $2.50 to $4.25, including soup and salad. And youngsters under 12 travel at half price.

No more Chinese food here or decor either, as was the case when this place was known as Quan Lin of Marin. Everything has been changed. The dining room has blossomed out in new paneling, old wine casks and some enclosed booths.

Hours are from 11 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. for lunches and dinners, but with no food service on Sundays.

THE MARSHALL HOUSE in Santa Rosa (not to be confused with the Marshall Hotel on the Marin Coast) is closing the rest of the month for a doing over and will reopen May 1.

This is an interesting old Victorian house at 835 Second Street, close in to town. For about five years owner Harriette Watson has served lunches only and it has been a gathering place for groups and parties. Recently she has been joined by June Simpson, who had her own dinery in Carmel for many years. Now the Marshall House has also turned to serving dinners.

Menu specialty is pot roast, but also features other roasts, chicken and lamb but no steaks. The choice is generally limited to about four entrees. Wines and beer are served.

On reopening, the new schedule will call for lunches Mondays through Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and dinners Wednesdays through Sundays from 5 to 8:30 p.m.

A number of Marinites have already "discovered" it.

CHEF RICHARD RICHARDSON'S Cote Rouge Cooking School at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo has only 11 more enrollments available following last week's announcement. It will start the first Wednesday in May.

Next Thursday's California Night, features Mike Elwood, president of Llords and Elwood Winery. He will conduct "blind" tastings of his own award winning wines and equivalent wines of Europe. So you can tell which is which? Here's your chance to prove it. Just make your reservations early.

House Sinking Is Blamed On Widening Project

A Loch Lomond homeowner charged yesterday that his home suddenly sank six or more inches because of the county's road widening project along San Pedro Road at Lochinvar Road.

A. Thomas Panages of 5 Lochinvar Road filed a claim for damages against the county as a prelude to a formal court suit. He did not specify the amount of damages because "at this point, I am at a loss to place a value."

He said he has occupied the home for nearly 10 years, but and unnoticeable. Yet, the moment heavy equipment began working on the road next to his home, that side of the home sank, said Panages.

More Bids On Station Sought

The Bolinas Fire Protection District board will hold a special meeting at the Bolinas Fire Station at 7:30 p.m. Monday to call for fresh bids on a new fire station, Manuel S. Peters, chairman, announced today.

The board rejected two bids submitted Monday night without opening them, because it wanted more bids than just two.

The district can spend up to $45,000 for a new station, he said.

Registration Dates

Kindergarten registration for the 1969-70 school year will be held in each of Larkspur's four schools from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. on April 30.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

WINE BAEDEKER

(A guidebook to wine things)

At Cafe Bon Vin, events having to do with wine occur with delightful frequency. As wine lovers are captured by happy repetitions of pleasurable experiences here, and interest in the establishment mounts, it becomes more necessary than ever to phone ahead, reserve a place, plan the party, order the wine, sign up for the course, write the check—and all the intrusive details events of small capacity and large appeal always require.

Here is a check list of things both regular and occasional to take place in the weeks ahead. Check what you like and mail the ad to us; then it will be our job to see you're present and pleased.

☐ JUG OF THE MONTH. Only 220 jugs still remain of the thousand delivered. Foppiano Petit Sirah, aged to velvet softness. $3.50 gallon — and worth four times the price.

☐ APRIL 24. Mike Elwood of Llords and Elwood comes with wine and recipes for tasting, talk and a Vintner's banquet. Reserve now.

☐ COTE ROUGE COOKING SCHOOL. Instructions in classic French cooking by Chef Richardson plus special events—fashions, dance, and Fred Cherry's quick course in Wine Appreciation. Every Wednesday afternoon in May; enrollment very limited.

☐ CHAMPAGNE BRUNCH . . . "Doctor's Cap" and eleven other happy entrees rarely if ever served in America. With bottle-fermented brut champagne — $3.95.

☐ WINE DISCOVERIES. A new selection each month of a distinctive wine probably new to you but of surpassing quality. Usually $3 fifth or less. Prepaid memberships at discounts of 5% for 6 months, 10% for the year.

☐ PARTIES, RECEPTIONS. Ice carvings, champagne fountains, wine tastings, original hors d'oeuvres, butter sculpture, photographs, wine registry — already Cafe Bon Vin is considered the most fashionable wedding and party service in the Bay Area. Arrangements for groups up to 80 readily discussed over a glass of Hermitage.

☐ TEN AND NINE. Ten epicurean courses, $10. A different wine available for each of 9 courses—as well as fifty other "Wine Discoveries" by the bottle or half. (Petit dinner for a mere $4 — for lesser appetites and people from Missouri.)

Supervisor Salary Hike Aired Again

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Grand Jury last night gathered information for a review of salaries of county supervisors and plans another session for Monday to prepare a decision.

Representatives of the Irate Taxpayers of Sonoma County appeared to protest the jury's recommendation last month to increase supervisors' salaries from $13,200 to $16,000 in January 1971.

Jury foreman Herbert Schulze said the taxpayers presented a comparison of supervisoral pay in other countries and also discussed the influence of governmantal costs on inflation of the economy.

Also appearing were Supervisors Ignacio A. Vella of Sonoma, Robert Theiller of Sebastopol and Arthur R. Ruonavaara of Healdsburg. Vella gave information concerning a proposed salary of $2,600 per year for the supervisors when acting as directors of the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

An amendment to a bill coauthored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would pay the men $50 per day for directing the district affairs.

Controversial Artist Loses Home In Fire

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y. (AP) — A ball of fire and an explosion today destroyed the sprawling, Adirondack Mountain home of controversial artist Rockwell Kent, sending the aging Kent and his wife fleeing into a predawn rainstorm.

Firemen said the bulk of Kent's paintings were in a separate studio untouched by the fire. Some art works inside the frame home, however, were burned.

The two-story, ranch-style Kent home, 1.5 miles from here, was a total loss.

Fireman Henry Roudeau of Ausable Forks said that, from two miles away, he saw a ball of flame puff up from the vicinity of the Kent home at about 2:30 a.m. He told reporters he believed a bolt of lightning had hit on or near the home.

Kent, 87, has lived in this area for many years.

An artist who won fame for his landscapes, Kent renewed the lengthy political storm that embraced him when he visited Moscow in 1967 and received the Lenin Peace Prize.

He donated prize money of $10,000 to North Viet Nam.

Deadline April 30 For Report To State

The deadline for filing state unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the first quarter of 1969 is April 30, Charles J. Brady, auditor in charge at the state Department of Employment office in San Rafael, reminded today.

Penalty and interest will be charged if a report is filed after the deadline, Brady said.

INDUSTRIAL SITES

North Marin Potential Boosted During Tour

Novato Chamber of Commerce officials showed off the growing North Marin area yesterday to a busload of businessmen, military officials and newsmen.

The occasion was the chamber's Spring Industrial Tour, which had been planned for months.

The tour, first ever conducted by the chamber, sought to wipe out Marin's image as being opposed to industrial development.

"We want to show that we welcome development suitable to Marin," said chamber president George Barnwell. "We seek to erase the notion that Marin is antagonistic."

Beginning and ending at the Civic Center, the tour passed knots of construction throughout North Marin and even included a trip to Hamilton Air Force Base to watch the 78th Fighter Wing scramble two of its jets.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato greeted the group of about 30 persons — which included bankers and industrial real estate brokers — at the Civic Center in the morning. He told of the history of the Civic Center and cited statistics reflecting Marin's economic growth.

Large envelopes, containing maps, industrial park brochures and Marin facts and figures, were passed out.

The first stop was at the Holiday Inn under construction across from the Northgate Shopping Center. Scheduled to open next month, the inn will have 118 units and a banquet room seating 400 persons.

After the stop at Hamilton and a visit to 26-acre Hamilton Industrial Park off Highway 101, city officials greeted the tour at a luncheon at the Marin Golf and Country Club. After lunch, the bus passed through downtown Novato and the sprawling San Marin development, stopping at Gnoss Field, the county airport.

The McGraw Hill Book Co. distribution center, across Highway 101 from the airport, was the final stop of the tour from the airport, was the final stop of the tour. The center distributed about 6.5 million books in 1968 and employs 275 persons.

Harry P. Graves, vice president in charge of western operations for the book company, said that the facility formerly was located in San Francisco but was moved to Marin because of a better tax climate and a good labor supply.

"We have more applicants for jobs than we know what to do with," Graves said.

Ross Tankersley, chairman of the Novato chamber's economic development committee, said he felt North Marin's big attractions for industry were the climate and "uncluttered conditions."

"We hope to get any businesses in," he said "We're not kidding ourselves to think that the tour will bring a lot of industry into the area."

60 Bids Made On Apartment

The flat, a 12-room cooperative, went on the market soon after the Nixons moved to the White House.

Nixon recently valued it at $166,860, but real estate men say it probably will bring a high bid of $200,000 or more.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
The major problems confronting Marin County are also the principal problems of its neighboring counties. Therefore, believes the membership of the Bay Area Leagues of Women Voters, they must be approached on a regional level, if they are ever to be solved satisfactorily. In tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine, editor Don Keown writes about the leading part the two Marin leagues are playing in this growing movement for Bay Area regional government.
Next week lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs will be observing the 150th anniversary of the fraternal society in the United States. The IOOF has also played an important civic and humanitarian role in Marin County. William T. Ortman, a pioneer member of the organization, has written about the Odd Fellows and their many contributions to Marin community life in a special feature article for tomorrow's issue of the I-J's weekend supplement.

Black Student Needs Spark Shouting At College Board

Although Louis H. Herkenhoff, acting college president, and other officials and board members explained to the students that local tax money cannot be used for student aid, there was finally agreement to look for other sources.

Dean Irwin P. Diamond, who was shouted down when he attempted to explain the current sources of student aid, told the black students that the situation probably will be even worse next year because federal funds have been cut.

Sizemore said that the $270,000 is needed for aid to "ethnic groups" but added that it was not clear how much would have to be raised by the college.

"Hunger and lack of shelter are not abstract," Sizemore said, "but maybe hungry students shouldn't be in college."

CHARLES SIZEMORE
Voices black stand

Sizemore also added that black students did not want to go out and raise funds in the community and were not enthusiastic about work programs where students are paid for jobs.

"You'd be just like the rest of us if you had to work," shouted a white girl.

A middle-aged white woman suggested that funds from the student bookstore could be used for black students, and after a confused discussion, it was agreed to look at this source of money.

Board President Theodore C. Wellman pointed out that it would be illegal for the board to appropriate funds to the student government to distribute to black students, but Sizemore said he was not interested in discussing legalities.

After a good deal more confusion about whether a suggested committee should include a designated number of persons or anyone who showed up for a meeting, it was agreed to have some kind of a committee meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at a place to be announced.

When Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy earlier said that trustees could not come at 9 a.m. today to such a meeting, several students jeered at the trustees for putting their work above the students' demands.

Planned Flood Control Protest Bows To Black Student Demands

Residents of Kent Woodlans, in a last-ditch stand to prevent Tamalpais Creek from being cemented as part of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project, last night joined College of Marin students in a donnybrook staged before college trustees.

No action came out of last night's meeting of the Marin Junior College District board except the scheduling of another meeting after black students muddied the waters even further by shouting demands for immediate student aid.

The issue at the moment is a temporary right-of-way across college land which the Flood Control Project contractors need in order to construct a new bridge over Corte Madera Creek.

The board long ago agreed to the Flood Control project, but Kent Woodlands residents hope that if they can further delay the completion of phase two of the project (which includes the bridge), they can prevent phase three.

Residents of the plush suburb have tried for some months to have the third phase re-routed for the benefit of Kent Woodlands and have underground pipes instead of a concrete channel to carry off flood waters.

Told some months ago by the Board of Supervisors and the Army Corps of Engineers they could have this change if they (the residents) paid for it, the change floundered when only $17,000 of the needed $100,000 was raised.

Last night college planning director Dale E. Fleming attempted to describe the flood control project to the more than 200 people in the crowded room, but was shouted down by black students.

"We don't want to talk about water and mud when black students are coming to school hungry," cried one student.

After a monologue by black student Walter Turner, who called board members a "group of puppets" and an exchange of angry comments from various corners of the room, Fleming tried again.

At that point William M. Bennett, a Kent Woodlands resident, suggested the flood control project be deferred to the black students' demands. Architect Lawrence Halprin, another Kent Woodlands resident, agreed.

After County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost was booed when he said that the college had long ago agreed to the flood control contract, the board voted to continue the discussion of the whole matter next week.

A special meeting on the subject of flood control was set for 8 p.m. next Thursday with the place to be announced later.

Some Rainfall In Heavy Fog

A soupy fog rolling in off the Pacific yesterday turned into rain along the ocean shoreline but fizzled into an unmeasurable mist on the bayside in Southern Marin.

Bolinas reported .14 of an inch, the only measured precipitation in Marin County yesterday.

The fog rolling through the Golden Gate dipped down to the tops of the lower hills of Southern Marin during the afternoon but lifted in the early evening.

Crash Injures County Worker

James Michael Wong, 31, an employee of the Marin County Health Department, was injured yesterday when his car smashed into a tree west of Nicasio after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The highway patrol said the accident happened on San Geronimo-Nicasio Road at about 4:15 p.m.

The patrol said Wong, who lives in San Francisco, complained of a pain in his left shoulder and elbow and said he would see his own doctor.

Rohnert Park Has New Mayor

Rohnert Park City Councilman James W. Rodgers was chosen last night to head the council as mayor for the next year, succeeding Arthur N. Roberts.

Rodgers, who served as mayor in 1965-66, was first appointed to the council in June 1963 and was elected in 1966. He is the city's eighth mayor.

Named as vice mayor was Councilman Vernon P. Smith, who had served as mayor in 1963-64.

Board Votes For Building Despite Tax Rate Rebuff

Faced with the need to cut programs and postpone building programs after the defeat of a tax override Tuesday, the Marin Junior College District board last night nevertheless decided now is not the time for another election.

Trustees also decided to go ahead with planned building on the Kentfield campus for which funds are already available and voted to advertise for bids for a new science center and Harlan Center.

The science building is estimated to cost $2,378,300 and Harlan Center, which will contain laboratories, classrooms and seminar rooms, $898,000.

Trustee Donald K. Felt, in discussing the election failure, suggested that a very specific program should be offered to voters at any future election.

"We should be able to say, 'here is a program which will put Marin County on the map educationally,' " Felt said.

Felt also suggested that the board should reconsider hiring a superintendent for the district this year to lead the college in presenting programs to the community.

Although Trustee Harry J. Moore said he wanted building to start on the Novato campus before any more building is done in Kentfield, other trustees voted against him 6-1 to go ahead on the southern campus.

Students at the meeting objected to spending money on buildings and a superintendent instead of programs, but trustees pointed out that building money cannot be used elsewhere.

Student Michael McGinn suggested that the community residents and students design and build their own buildings on the new campus, but Moore said that Novato residents are "having trouble enough putting in a sprinkler system" at a community park in Novato.

Architects for the school agreed, however, to meet with the students and faculty to discuss new buildings.

Runoff Election Held At College

The Black Sea is black because of a high concentration of hydrogen sulphide. The Red Sea gets its red hue from the recurring bloom of small algae. Russia's White Sea earned its name from the ice that covers it most of the year. The Yellow Sea derives its color from mud that rivers carry into it.

$33,000 Worth Of Welfare Checks Lost

Welfare checks totaling $33,000 for Petaluma residents have disappeared, the Sonoma County County Sheriff's office reported today.

Officials said two mail sacks containing the checks have apparently been lost in the mail en route to Petaluma, but banks and grocery stores have been alerted to watch for the checks in the event they have been stolen.

The Asmat of New Guinea believe so strongly in equality that when some schoolchildren were taught to play soccer, the game invariably ended in a tie. Only after much prompting did the children learn to play to win, according to the National Geographic Society.

LEAP INJURES WOMAN

Two Escape Death In Greenbrae Blaze

A Greenbrae housewife who leaped from the third floor of her burning home last night was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken back.

Elizabeth Susan Finsland, 47, jumped from the third floor of her home at 170 Corte Ramon about 10 p.m., minutes before the Larkspur Fire Department arrived on the scene.

Her husband, John P. Finsland, was trapped on a rear deck when firemen arrived. Firemen said they were unable to run a ladder to him because of the steep terrain, so Asst. Chief William Lellis donned a smoke mask and entered the house. He reached Finsland, gave him another smoke mask and led him to safety.

Firemen reported the blaze cause heavy fire damage to the living and dining rooms and extensive smoke damage to the second floor. Damage was estimated at a total of $10,000.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation, firemen said. However, Chief William C. Shurtz said it may have started in a couch, possibly from a cigarette.

Coroner Unsure Of Youth's Death Cause

Although toxicology tests showed a "moderate amount" of various drugs in the body of a 21-year-old San Anselmo man who died suddenly on March 26, Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, Marin coroner, said today he did not know if the drugs caused his death.

Forrest L. Rankin died when he choked on his vomit, Dr. Cooke said, but added that he did not know what had caused this to occur.

Moderate amounts of barbiturates and methamphetamine and traces of morphine were found during tests, he said, but Dr. Cooke said not enought facts were known to determine if they caused death.

The youth's friends who brought him to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael after finding him unconscious said that he had fallen from a motorcycle earlier in the day and then had taken drugs for pain.

Dr. Cooke said that bruises were found on the body but no serious injuries were present.

Rifle, Ammo Stolen

Burglars who entered Tarr General Store in Woodacre either Monday night or early Tuesday morning stole a .22 caliber rifle and 30 boxes of ammunition, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Enrichment Courses Set For Summer

The Old Adobe School board last night approved a summer school program that will include enrichment courses rather than remedial programs.

Norman Ross, principal of La Tercera School, was named summer school principal for the session which will run from June 16 through July 9 at La Tercera. All students in the Petaluma area living on the east side of Highway 101 are eligible to attend, regardless of what school district they are in.

Ross said the remedial programs were dropped this year because it was found at last year's session that students received very few benefits from the short-term program.

Enrichment programs will include arts and crafts, physical education, choral singing, and a combined creative writing and dramatics course in which students will write and produce plays. Courses in mathematics, science, reading, language arts, history and geography will also be offered in two-hour sessions.

The Old Adobe School board also:

SUPERINTENDENT— Voted unanimously to offer Supt. Dean Magowan a four-year contract, the maximum permitted under the law. His salary will be discussed in June.

salaries — Approved resignation of trustee James Gambonini as board liason with the salary negotiating committee. Trustee Margaret Kullberg was named to replace him.

HIRE — Approved employment of Elaine Harris as a full-time speech therapist, and as unassigned teachers, Patricia Buford, Karen Carsey, Janice Hoove, Alice Morse and Karen Willis. Salaries have not been set for the new employees.

Teen-Age Park Hirings Asked For Tiburon

Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended that the city council hire three teen-age boys to work for the city's public works department during the summer, according to Russell L. Melquist assistant to the city manager.

The commissioners also suggested the council appropriate $1,500 for the salaries for the three youngsters, Melquist said. This is the third year the commission has recommended a summer work program but the council in past years has refused to approviate money for salaries.

The Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission also:

SUMMER RECREATION — Agreed to sponsor a summer recreation program for teenagers in cooperation with the City of Belvedere. The Reed School District will run a recreation program for kindergarten-eighth grade children.

AYALA DAY — Tentatively set Sept. 6 as Ayala Day to be celebrated by a picnic on Angel Island.

LANES — Heard that garbage is being dumped on some of the lanes and footpaths and agreed to ask the council to do something about the problem.

FIVE CITIZENS SEEK TO JOIN ROSS COUNCIL

At least five aspirants for appointment to the Ross town Council are expected to be interviewed at a closed council session at 8 p.m. today at the town hall.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said today five Ross citizens had submitted applications "at the last count."

The appointment will be to fill out the term of Jack Carney, radio personality who was elected a year ago but resigned March 27.

Restoring Bike Trail Funds Will Be Sought

The Sausalito Recreation Commission last night asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors to restore $25,000 sliced from requests for a bicycle trail system in the county.

Sausalito Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger said the commission would write a letter to the supervisors asking them to restore the funds cut by County Administrator Alan Bruce from the county parks and recreation department's proposed 1969-70 budget.

Pierre W. Joske, director of the county department, had requested $50,000 for bike trails, $20,000 of which already has tentatively been approved by the supervisors. Bruce would agree to only $5,000 more and advised Joske to try to get the other $25,000 from the federal government.

The commission also began discussions last night on setting up a summer bowling program to provide free bowling lessons to the city's young people, Wohlschlaeger said.

Prosecutors Study Burglaries Wave

A representative of the Marin County district attorney's office said today that he and others in the office are still reviewing the almost 100 burglary cases allegedly cleared by the breakup of a five man ring.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunino added that no new charges have been filed yet against four of the alleged group who already have been arrested in connection with some of the burglaries.

Meanwhile, after a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court yesterday, Andrew Moncur Gillespie III, 19, of San Rafael was bound over to superior court on a charge of burglarizing a Greenbrae home on April 14.

A co-defendant in that case, who, police say, has also been a member of the ring, Robert Charles Baldi, 19, of San Rafael, was released when witnesses failed to identify him positively as having been connected with the offense.

Preliminary hearings for other cases in which Gillespie and Gordon Keith Jennings, 21, of Novato, have been accused of burglaries were continuing today in Marin Municipal Court.

A fourth man allegedly involved is in county jail awaiting a preliminary hearing on six charges of burglaries in Tiburon. He is Steven Wayne Mitchell, 19, an AWOL Marine from San Rafael.

The fifth alleged ring member has not yet been arrested.

Inspector Guido Battaglia of the sheriff's department said today he had received several calls from people who thought the ring had burglarized their homes.

He added that he had told the callers that the possibility of recovering their stolen property was negligible because the group disposed of it so quickly through San Francisco fences.

Gallinas Panel To Meet On Thursday

The Gallinas Village Community Services District directors did not meet last night but will meet next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Fireside Room of the Presbyterian Church on Adrian Way.

Secretary Marguerite F. Clark said the directors will discuss summer recreation and confer with the new maintenance supervisor, John Endemann of Fairfax about park maintenance. Endemann was hired a week ago to succeed William Toba, who resigned.

Teen Commission On Council List

The Mill Valley City Council will consider establishing a youth commission at 8 p.m. Monday at city hall.

The Parks and Recreation Commission has approved the plan to establish a 13-member commission with seven members under 21 years of age and six over 21.

The council also will hear a report on major street needs and will consider street lighting for Sycamore Avenue and Miller Avenue.

Bolinas-Stinson Budget Session Off

The Bolinas-Stinson School District board did not hold its scheduled meeting on the proposed 1969-70 school budget last night for lack of a quorum, Supt. Clarence B. Larison said.

The next board meeting is at 8 p.m. May 13 at Bolinas School.

ZONED R-3
This older 3 bedroom home is situated on a level, close in lot in San Rafael that is zoned for seven apartments. We estimate an income of $2100 per year meaning you can be building an equity while making plans to build. We recommend this property be given serious consideration by those who want to accumulate capital but can make only a limited investment at this time. Price $23,950.

TAKE A STEP UP
This lovely 3 bedroom, 2 bath home boasts extras for every member of the family! A double car garage with work bench and easy commuting for Dad; built-in kitchen and wall-to-wall carpets thruout (even in the kitchen) for Mom; a family room off the large patio for the kids, along with a Doughboy pool and dressing room for the whole family! Extras include new paint, fireplace, matching refrigerator and dishwasher. Vacant — Our guaranteed trade in program should help with the financing. Price $34,950.

ON THE CANAL
Are you imaginative?? Think what you could do with a home that already has all these important qualities: 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, a huge kitchen, covered backyard BBQ, a 100' frontage on a deep water canal close to the Marin Yacht Club, and your own spacious dock. This home on Pt. San Pedro Road needs just a little fixing up. Price $59,950.

PRIVACY PLUS
One Acre: This peaceful family home high in the hills of Fairhills in San Rafael has a U-Shaped floor plan encompassing a delightful outdoor living area with ample room for a pool. The house has a separate dining room, a kitchen with a distinct breakfast area, four bedrooms in addition to a den or family room. If you have been looking for a home in this price range, this property is well worth the time to inspect and check the value at the price of $69,500.

ROOMS GALORE
Wish you had a separate room for sewing or the Hi-Fi or perhaps overnite guests? With this lovely home you would have the luxury of "rooms to spare." It includes 5 bedrooms, 4½ baths, a family room covering the entire first floor, and a balcony encircling the better portion of the home. There is even plenty of room for a pool! This is a "must-see" for any large family with that "fenced-in" feeling!!! Price $69,500.

MEADOWOOD???

16 NEW LEVEL BUILDING

SITES IN LARKSPUR!!!

A BEAUTIFUL HIDDEN MEADOW!!!

4 NEW HOMES OPEN EVERY DAY!!!

HERE ARE A FEW OF THE OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF MEADOWOOD—

* If you have the time to read this, then you have the time to see these now!!

★ Best weather in Marin. ★ All underground utilities, including TV cable. (No ugly telephone poles or wire.) ★ Quiet cul-de-sac with no through traffic. ★ Walk to all schools including Redwood High School. ★ Walk to all shops and buses. ★ No overcrowding—plenty of breathing room. ★ Your investment protected with all homes being of comparable value. ★ Excellent area for swimming pools (two going in now). ★ Typical Larkspur setting — many oaks, weeping willows, and groves of Redwoods. ★ A few cypress and maples. ★ Quality construction by one of Marin's leading contractors. (Please compare.) ★ There will never be another MEADOWOOD—this is One-of-a-Kind. ★ All level entrys (no steep slopes or hundreds of steps). ★ All the best restrictions for your protection. ★ Subject to architectural committee approval. ★ All homes designed and built under the supervision of Reid and Drosihn, Architects. ★ All homes built by Fred DeCook, Master Builder. ★ All homes $50,000 and up.

Have you outgrown your present home? Are you cramped for space? Why not take a look at something new and refreshing? Use your present home as your down payment. Ask about our guaranteed trade-in program. Most likely you can move into a new custom-built home of your own design with no cash out of pocket at all!

Paradise Cay

★ Important Announcem'nt ★
Paradise Cay has only a limited number of lots & houses available at this time due to rapid sales in the last 6 months. Of the 132 lots developed the company has only 4 finished lots for sale. Prices have been held without increases.

Buyers are recognizing the limited opportunity for waterfront property. Paradise Cay is the only true deep waterfront development right in San Francisco Bay affording sheltered harboring for boats.

★ NEW ★
The only bay front view property left is a just completed 2800 sq. ft. 4 bdrm. home in utmost luxury. $78,000. This home was built by Pullman Building Co. (18 yrs. in luxury homes.) Now based at the Cay. You can have your plan built for you by them or buy your lot and select your own builder.

★ NEW ★
Horst Hanf, a well known Marin County builder, has recently completed a 4 bdrm., 2 bath home featuring a dining rm., family rm. w/frplc. & paneled walls, living rm. w/frplc., a deep water berthing area in the back yard. This is abundant living at the lowest price in the Cay, on the water for $59,500. THIS WILL SELL FAST!

Enjoy level living with sidewalks & the beauty of underground utils. In Reed Union School District with school bus service at entrance. If you haven't visited the Cay lately we suggest you find out what you are missing.

CONTEMPORARY MEDITERRANEAN VILLA
We are privileged to present one of the most distinctive and beautiful homes in San Rafael where man has vied with nature for superb effects, combining a level ½-acre with an unobstructed view and a 5000-sq.-ft. villa to bring you one of the finest marine pictures you will ever see. This magnificent home is only 2 years old and overlooks the bay and the San Rafael Canal, surrounded with terrazzo decks and balconies with wrought iron railings. The private driveway leads to a beautiful garden, with lawns, aggregate patios and a fountain. The entrance and reception hall are done in terrazzo, with a beautiful staircase and balustrade, 4 bedrooms, a family room, 4 bathrooms (all terrazzo floors), a study, family kitchen with too many features to describe, living room, formal dining room and a social room with a 15-ft. wet bar. This room you won't believe until you see it. We could go on and on describing this magnificent home. No cost has been spared in its construction, but seeing is believing. NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals or bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT at the Administration Building, 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, Belvedere-Tiburon, California, up to 4:00 o'clock P.M., April 30, 1969, for the construction of

REEDLAND WOODS MIDDLE SCHOOL, REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT, BELVEDERE-TIBURON, CALIFORNIA

located at Blackfield Drive and Via Los Altos, Belvedere-Tiburon, California.

Wages Scales:

All workmen employed by the Contractor or any sub-contractor in the construction of the above-named project must be paid in accordance with the scale of wages found to be prevailing and most recently adopted by the Board of Supervisors by resolution as the prevailing scale of wages and which is on file in the office thereof. Such prevailing wage scale resolution as it applies to the locality in which the work referred to is to be performed, is hereby incorporated in this notice by this reference as though fully set forth, and including specifications therein of per diem wages for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality of the project, and all fringe benefits included in labor agreements.

Said schedule of per diem wages is based upon an eight hour working day unless otherwise specified herein, and the wages prescribed are the per diem rates divided by the number of hours constituting the working day.

All skilled and other labor not listed is to be paid not less than union scale for such labor.

Bid Bond:

Each bid must be accompanied by cash, a certified or cashier's check, or a Bidder's Bond by a Surety Company satisfactory to the District in the sum of 10% of total aggregate amount of bid, and such checks or bond shall be made payable to the order of the School District giving this notice as liquidated damages, actual damages being difficult to ascertain, in case the successful bidder fails to file satisfactory bonds as required by the Contract Documents, or fails, refuses, or is unable to enter into a written contract within the specified time. Checks and bid bonds may be submitted separately from bids and will be opened along with the Proposal by the District's Administrator for inspection.

Performance Bond, Labor and Material Bond:

The successful bidder must furnish a Performance Bond and a Labor and Material Bond each in an amount equal to the total amount payable under the Contract.

Plans and Specifications:

Plans, specifications, and other documents may be secured at the office of the Architect:

RON D. YOUNG,
Architect & Associates
1330 Duane Avenue
Santa Clara, California 95050
Telephone: (408) 244-4880

A deposit of $50.00 will be required for each set of plans and specifications. If these documents are returned in good condition within ten days after the date of bid opening, the full amount of the deposit will be returned. Each Contractor will be limited to two sets of plans and specifications.

Time Limit:

The work of the Contract shall be full completed not later than 310 calendar days as called for in Article 5 of the Agreement.

Midyett Sued For Divorce

Donald E. Midyett, 51, senior criminal investigator for the Marin district attorney's office, has been sued for divorce by his third wife, Georgia.

They were married in Reno, Nev., in 1962, according to the suit filed Tuesday in Marin Superior Court and separated Tuesday.

Mrs. Midyett asked reasonable support and that the court award her all of the community property.

Reagan Support For Tax Refunds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has given his support to a bill which would extend for six weeks the deadline for homeowners to apply for their $70 refund on last year's property taxes and to file for this year's exemption.

The Republican governor sent a message to legislators yesterday asking for support for a bill introduced by Assemblyman George Milias, R-Gilroy.

Under Prop. 1-A approved by voters last November, homeowners are eligible for a $70 rebate on last year's taxes and a $750 exemption on the assessed valuation of their property for this year.

But the deadline for filing for both was April 15, and Reagan said that in Los Angeles County alone more than half a million property owners who asked for forms have not mailed them in.

The governor said the taxpayers should have "every possible opportunity to claim these benefits."

Schools' Image Hurt By Campus Violence?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Public confidence in state-supported schools never has been as low as it is today, declares the tentative report of a special Assembly committee on campus unrest.

The Select Committee on Campus Disturbances will meet several more times on the 14-point paper before it is put into final form, said Chairman Victor Veysey, R-Brawley, also Assembly Education Committee chairman.

Then it will go to Republican Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan of Tracy and be given wide public distribution, Veysey said folowing a committee hearing yesterday.

Other major findings of the draft copy:

The low level of public confidence is a direct result of disorder and disruption on college and university campuses — a position challenged by two Democrats on the committee, Assemblymen Willie Brown of San Francisco and John Vasconcellos of San Jose.

It is important to distinguish between legitimate dissent and social protest and unlawful activities and forced concession.

Administrators must do more to communicate with students.

Governing boards of the state's university, colleges and junior colleges must share blame for the situation.

Nonmilitant students also should assume roles of leadership rather than to "sit idly by."

Veysey emphasized the report is not in formal form.

At one point yesterday, Republican Newton Russell of Tujunga said: "We have to some way bear in mind that the public has had its belly full. We have to say we recognize this and we agree."

Russell was calling for a minimum three-month suspension or dismissal for any student convicted of a felony crime committed on campus.

Airport Noise Crackdown Bill Granted For Repair

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democratic Assemblyman John F. Foran of San Francisco thinks it's about time California stopped waiting for the federal government to deal with "noise pollution," jet noise at airports.

He proposed — and the Assembly Transportation Committee seemed in general agreement — that the state or counties should take the lead in setting noise limits at airports and fining violators $1,000 for each infraction.

But his measure doesn't specify which agency would determine the standards, who would enforce them, when they would go into effect and who would provide the funds for the overall operation.

So at Foran's request yesterday, the committee held over for one week his bill to give him time to prepare the amendments. The decision followed more than three hours of testimony.

The two sides were clearly defined — spokesmen for citizens groups and individuals and communities embroiled in airport noise lawsuits favoring the bill, representatives of aviation organizations opposing it.

Los Angeles attorney Gerald Fadem said damage suits involving individuals, communities, cities and airports are springing up because the airports are occasionally in jurisdictions other than the areas which get the worst of the noise.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

THE SENATE

No major action.

BART Warns Against Delays

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — As they sold their next-to-last issue of construction bonds yesterday, Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors warned against additional expenses.

Additions and delays threaten completion of the San Francisco Municipal Railway system subway through Twin Peaks, they said.

A syndicate headed by Halsey, Stuart and Co. made the low bid of 5.27 per cent for the $70 million issue, the highest yet for a BART issue.

Only one more issue, for $72 million, remains to be sold from the $792 million voted in 1962.

BART is constructing a rail line in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Agnew Sets Visit To California

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will make his first visit to California since taking office when he delivers speeches May 6 and in Sacramento and San Francisco.

Gov. Ronald Reagan's office announced yesterday that Agnew will meet with the governor during his California visit and discuss federal-state relationships.

On May 6 Agnew will attend a meeting of the governor's cabinet at the Capitol and hold a news conference. That night he is scheduled to address a Republican fund-raising dinner sponsored by the Sacramento Republican Fund.

U.S. Churches Facing Historic Fiscal Pinch

"The national church structures are hurting," says Rev. Francis X. Pirazzini, Silver Spring, Md., chairman of a special ad hoc committee set up in the United Church of Christ to analyze the problem.

"Some denominations are feeling it worse than others—but it seems to be hitting almost across the board," he said.

STAFF SQUEEZE

In numerous cases, the monetary squeeze has forced cutbacks in programs and personnel—with headquarters staff reductions estimated at 2 to 3 per cent in several major Protestant bodies.

Rev. Dr. John Coventry Smith, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church, says the churches may "be experiencing some of the antinational organization attitude that other institutions are experiencing."

A key feature of the trouble, as some officials see it, is an increasing diversion of church resources away from the national level to meet the costs of new local projects.

"The center of power is shifting," Rev. Pirazzini said in an interview. "It's taking more money to deal with a whole constellation of crises on the home scene, and this is siphoning support away from the big institutional operations."

OTHER FACTORS

Other factors cited as part of the situation includes:

Rising costs, with the inflationary climb outpacing income growth.

The redirection of substantial resources to finance urgent, new projects, involving slums and civil rights.

"It's quite evident that some people have withheld support because of the churches' stand on Vietnam and their activity for racial justice and on behalf of the poor," said Rev. Pirazzini, his church's Atlantic Conference executive.

"But new support has come from others who thank God that the churches now are doing something relevant to human need. Obviously, there's been a balancing out process taking place in this regard."

The Episcopal Church, its expected receipts down sharply had to trim its 1969 general budget to $14.2 million, down more than $1 million from the amount set by its governing convention, and $229,500 below that of last year.

The church had to use some reserves to meet even the lowered figure. Bishop Stephen F. Bayne, the Church's program coordinator, said it is suffering from a financial "problem unprecedented in our time," forcing retrenchments in various departmental programs.

The United Presbyterian Church reports that receipts for its general budget, for missions at home and abroad, decreased by $1.3 million last year, falling to $29.9 million from $31.2 million in 1967, the biggest drop since depression years, and $2 million below a projected budget, forcing program cutbacks.

LUTHERAN CUTS

The American Lutheran Church, at its convention last fall, cut its budget by about 5 per cent, reducing appropriations to missions and various educational and other institutions, because of reduced income.

The Christian Church Disciples reports receipts are down, with some agencies, such as domestic and overseas missions, facing a deficit this year, despite budget cuts.

Roman Catholic financial accounts generally are not publicized, but lack of funds is forcing the closing of a swelling number of parochial schools.

The Southern Baptist Convention wound up last year $722,530 short of its $27.7-million budget goal, preventing the distribution of some fund allocations for capital needs.

In contrast to the widespread pinch, the United Methodist Church still is in sturdy condition economically, a spokesman said, with receipts ahead of schedule this year, and a special $20-million racial reconciliation fund already oversubscribed. However, the Church involves two newly merged bodies, and comparisons with past statistics are not feasible.

NATIONAL COUNCIL

The National Council of Churches ran up a $110,180 general fund deficit last year, drawing on reserves. In an economy move, its relief arm, Church World Service, is closing down four clothing receiving centers July 1, concentrating operations at six other receiving and processing centers.

The American Bible Society says contributions from denominations dropped $101,675 in 1968 to $1.3 million.

Some local interdenominational bodies also were having financial trouble, including interchurch councils in Milwaukee, Louisville and Minneapolis, resulting in operational consolidations or special appeals.

Edward Johnson, finance director for the Minneapolis council, recently warned in a banking magazine that churches have become bad risks financially because "a sophisticated generation" is disenchanted with church institutions.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Not All High Temperature Is Caused By Fever In Human Body

VAN DELLEN

The clinical thermometer was invented 100 years ago, yet many misconceptions about fever continue. We know that every rise in body temperature is not fever. The reading may be elevated after eating, following exercise, and during ovulation, menstruation and pregnancy.

Many active convaelscent children have been kept in bed because their fever did not subside. Perhaps the mother does not realize that the temperature goes up briefly after a bit of roughousing in bed.

THE STANDARD 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit is a working average because normal body temperature varies a degree or two in different persons. It is highest in the afternoon and lowest between 3 and 5 a.m. This is reversed in night workers.

The mechanism that regulates temperature is monitored in the brain, and fever occurs when more heat is generated than the body is able to dissipate. Heat is lost mainly through the skin via radiation and sweating. Smaller amounts are expelled during exhalation as moist, warm vapor. Urination also eliminates some body heat. Drinking cold water does the same because the system uses some of its own heat to warm up the fluid.

ON THE OTHER HAND, fever can indicate disease, and although the cause must be treated, we must also try to lower the temperature.

Fever speeds up the metabolic rate which, in turn, increases the need for oxygen. Breathing becomes more rapid, and the pulse is faster. Tissues are broken down to supply the needed energy. Children with sustained high fever may devlop convulsions.

SPONGING WITH alcohol and water is cooling. In addition, many antipyretic drugs reduce temperature. Aspirin, the salicylamides, acetaminophen, and some of the newer synthetics are examples.

Most of us associate fever with infection, but body temperature goes up following heart attack, and when cancer exists. The symptom is caused by destruction of tissue.

BRANDY CURES NOTHING

A reader writes: In 1918 some people took brandy every day to ward off the Spanish flu. Would this help to ward off Hong Kong flu?

REPLY

Brandy cures nothing, but some people take it before, during, and after an illness. It's a good alibi, if nothing else. Flu vaccine is the only preventive of which I know. It offers up to 80 per cent protection.

CAUSES OF ERRATIC HEART

L. S. writes: What causes attacks of palpitation and fast pulse?

REPLY

Irritability of the timing mechanism of the heart, indigestion, or nervousness. In many instances the cause is not known. Send stamped, addressed envelope for our leaflet on heart symptoms.

BALANCED BLAND DIET

B. D. writes: If a person is on a bland diet for a long time, does he get all the essential food elements?

REPLY

Yes, provided his meals are balanced. After all, there is a wide selection of foods in the bland diet.

HEMORRHOIDS AT 2

I. T. writes: Could difficult bowel movements in a 2-year-old boy lead to hemmorrhoids?

REPLY

No. Strain does not cause hemmorrhoids but will aggravate this condition when it is present.

SHOTS FOR PRESSURE

S. G. B. writes: Can a person be given shots to reduce high blood pressure?

REPLY

Yes, if the level is exceedingly high. But as a rule, these medications are taken by mouth.

HARDENED ARM ARTERIES

A. K. writes: Do the arteries of the arms ever harden?

REPLY

Yes, but the vessels rarely become so narrow that symptoms develop.

WHY WATER ON BRAIN

A reader writes: What causes a baby to be born with water on the brain?

REPLY

The brain and spinal cord are bathed constantly in cerebrospinal fluid. The youngster with hydrocephalus has an abnormal accumulation of fluid due to obstruction of this liquid in the cranium. Tumor, malformation, or inflammation may be responsible for the blockage.

New Education Concept Is Due

"On Location Education," a project designed for non-motivated students from diverse backgrounds, will be proposed as an experimental program to the Tamalpais High School District board at its 8 p.m. meeting, Monday.

The pilot project, if approved, would set up single classes within schools for students who are identified as needing special attention or who are potential drop-outs. It will cost $2,745.

Trustees will also consider for adoption new 1969-70 courses of study, many of them elective English courses and a credit or no-credit grading program. They will look again at the 1969-70 budget forecast and will consider the appointment now of newly-elected trustee Robert W. Corlett whose term officially begins July 1.

Classes Still Open

Registration is still open for the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department's spring classes in beginning and intermediate folk guitar and karate. Persons interested in joining the classes, presently underway, should contact the recreation department at the Mill Valley Community Recreation Center.

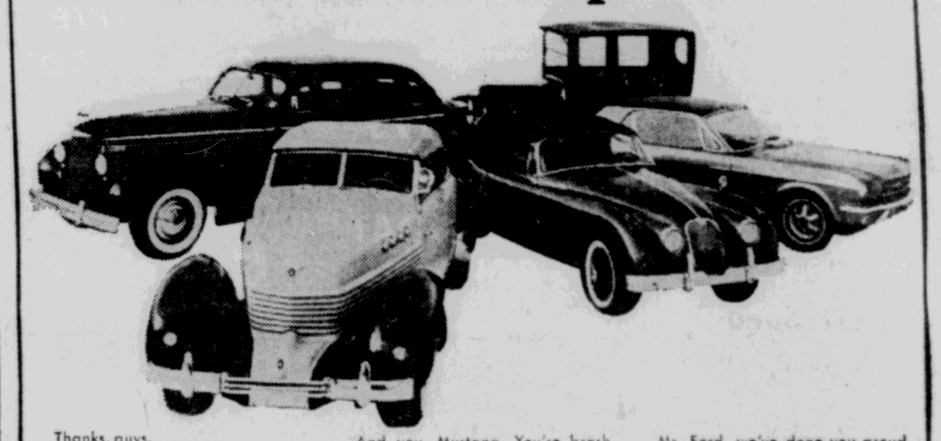
We'd like to thank all the guys who helped make the Austin America possible.



Thanks, guys.
We couldn't have done it without you.
You had some great ideas. And from bumper to bumper, we're loaded with them.
Like you, Cord.
Long before we were a glimmer, you were barreling around on front wheel drive. Safe, sure steering. Solid cornering. Okay, so maybe you were a little ahead of your time, but that's just the breaks of the game.
And you, Jaguar. Most guys just think about starting up and driving, but who thinks about stopping? You did, Jag. And if disc brakes are good enough for you, they're good enough for us.

And you, Mustang. You're brash and you're still a kid. But we love you anyhow. You dreamed up a fully automatic transmission that can be shifted manually also. It's beautiful, Mustang. All we've done is make it more so. Ours has four forward speeds instead of the usual three.
Now, every team has some forgotten soul who made a big contribution, and we've got ours.
It's you, Model T.
Henry, when you built that car, you really built a car. You put a rich man's luxury within every man's reach. A car that runs on pennies and lasts for years.

Mr. Ford, we've done you proud.
Last, but not least (and we get a little choked up here), we'd like to thank you, La Salle—wherever you are. You had one roomy rear, La Salle. Leg room, head room, knee room. You had it all. We think you'll be happy to know that your room lives on—even if you don't.
Well, guys, that about wraps it up.
Except for a few extra touches.
Like price.
An incredible $1860, automatic transmission optional.
And for that, there's absolutely no one around to thank.
Fortunately.

Marichal Had Better Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Juan Marichal has turned in better performances among his 172 career victories and the San Francisco Giants' pitching ace was happy and disappointed at the same time.

He hurled seven innings and received credit for the victory Thursday as the Giants clipped the expansion San Diego Padres 5-4 in the baseball opener at Candlestick Park.

But Marichal, who won 26 last year and has beaten the Padres twice this season, gave up 12 hits and two walks, and was in trouble every inning. He threw 133 pitches.

TIGHT ARM

"I'm used to the cold weather but my arm was tight," Marichal said as he sat on a clubhouse stool and rubbed his right arm.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was there and Marichal had plenty to tell him about the new rule lowering the pitcher's mound.

"No pitcher likes it," Marichal said. "There's no way I can like it."

"I wasn't too concerned because they weren't hitting the ball very hard," said Clyde King, whose club is now 4-4 in his first season as Giants' manager.

"He's not strong enough yet," King said of Marichal. "He came to me and told me his arm was stiff. I admire a player for doing that. He could have stayed in and finished but might have hurt his arm. That's the kind of attitude we're trying to build."

COMPETITION

Old-pro Davenport, who is 35 and in his 11th season with the Giants, faces tough competition at third base from youngsters Bob Etheridge and Don Mason.

'I'll play Jimmy until he gets tired," King said. "He's a good influence on the club." King described Davenport's blooper to right as "like a 9-iron" in golf.

Padres' centerfielder Tony Gonzalez, who rapped Marichal for three straight singles, said he's always had success with Marichal, but commented, "Today, he couldn't get the ball where he wanted to."

JIM GILMARTIN

And 14,000 People Came Dressed As Empty Seats

THE OPENER — I got the impression yesterday that baseball is in trouble. I mean, I attended the opening game of the 1969 major league season at Candlestick Park and there were only 30,722 souls there plus about 14,000 other persons who came dressed as empty seats.

I can remember in the not too distant past when opening games were sure sellouts. Heck, EVERYONE who was anyone would go to the opener just because it was the thing to do, the time and place to be seen. Society matrons who ordinarily wouldn't be caught dead at a n y t h i n g so violent as an athletic contest would be promintent at openers.

So what happens yesterday? Just before game time Shaun Wiltshire of San Rafael tried to give away six extra tickets. He brought a crowd of 60 Marin fans to the game aboard his famous double-decker London bus and had a half-dozen extra pasteboards which he had hoped to give to some youngsters. Not a kid in sight so Shaun just shrugged and "ate" the ducats.

Players May Be Lonely In August

What's going to happen in the days of August and September when expansion teams like Montreal and San Diego come to Candlestick. If by then there is not much of a pennant race in the making I think the players will be lonely. You'll be able to shoot a cannon into the bleachers without drawing blood.

Upon hearing the official attendance of 30,722, one press box wag said facetiously, "We wouldn't have had that many if San Diego wasn't playing here."

Except for the lonlinesss, it was a good opener for the home club, thanks to the muscles of Willie McCovey and Bobby Bonds who bailed Juan Marichal out of a lot of trouble. It was a rare sight indeed to see the patsy Padres cuff around the great Juan. Any guy who pitches a 12-hitter and wins has to be lucky. To borrow a golf term, Marichal "scrambled" to his second victory of the campaign.

Same Old Opening Day Jokes

There were the usual opening day jokes, too. About the 30,722 funerals for departed grandmothers.

And I overheard one gent say to his wife, "Gee, I wish I brought the piano along."

"Why?"

"Because I left the tickets on it."

The gentlemen of the press were invited to meet baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn after the game, a rare treat indeed. Snarled the cynical Charles McCabe of Tiburon: "You mean we get a private audience? Do I get to kiss his ring?"

As usual, the trip aboard Wiltshire's double-decker bus was a barrel of fun. Borrowing a line from the airlines, Wiltshire welcomed the p a s s e n g e r s aboard, announced "flight plans" and weather conditions, suggested the fastening of seat belts and concluded, "We hope you enjoy our non-stop flight to San Francisco. Thank you for flying Wiltshire Towers."

Double-Decker Barrel Of Fun

The double-decker shared equal billing with the Roos-Atkins cable car in the Candlestick parking lot. With about 50 Greyhound buses in the lot, the Wiltshire fans had little trouble locating their vehicle. It stood out like Carol Doda at a girl scout camp.

And it's always a blast when driver Clyde Robinson tools up to the bridge toll plaza. As the 60 passengers give out a roaring rendition of "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow," Wiltshire emerges from the rear exit and presents the toll collector the 50-cent fee. Yesterday, a toll taker named Jovliet joined in the singing and it was quite a show.

BELATED CONGRATULATIONS to Denny O'Brien of Novato, an employee of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., for his recent hole-in-one at Peacock Gap golf course in San Rafael. It was the first ace for O'Brien who has been golfing since 1926. W i t n e s s i n g the 155-yard 8-iron shot were Elmo Petterle, Andy Anderson and Tex Newton.

'TAKE ME OUT'

Juan Surprises Skipper

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clyde King wasn't visibly shocked when he heard the request, but there were a couple of slack jaws among the press corps when he told about it later.

"Juan said he was stiff and cold," King said. "He asked to to be taken out."

For Juan Marichal to ask to be taken out of a game was, in a word, a surprise.

Of Marichal's last 115 victores, 110 of them were complete games. Yesterday's 5-4 victory by the San Francisco Giants over the San Diego Padres makes it 110 out of 116.

San Diego Manager Preston Gomez was not surprised when Marichal left the game for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning, saying, "I don't think he's right yet. It looked like he couldn't get the ball where he wanted to."

Marichal said his foot, which recently underwent minor surgery, bothered him. So did the new lower mound. Juan said he couldn't get his pitches low enough. And for a while that meant trouble.

HOLD ON

The Padres, who have now lost six games in a row and four to the Giants, took a 3-0 lead in the first two innings on six hits. All Juan wanted to do after that, he said, was hold San Diego until the big Giant bats changed things around.

That started in the fourth inning when Bobby Bonds hit a line drive to the farthest reaches of center field for a 410-foot homer and Willie McCovey followed with a towering shot 390 feet to right. McCovey has now driven in at least one run in all eight Giants' games.

ADMIRATION

King said he admired Marichal for telling him he wasn't up to finishing. Joe Gibbon came on in the ninth to get the Padres out 1-2-3 and end the game.

"I want to give Juan a chance to get stronger as the season goes on," said King. "I won't ask my pitchers to go the distance if they're not strong enough."

Gomez explained the Padres' trade, made earlier in the day, giving up veteran pitcher Al McBean to the Los Angeles Dodgers for shortstop Tommy Chance and pitcher Leon Everitt.

"It was a matter of needing a shortstop now," said Gomez. "We think Chance can help us right away and Everitt has good potential. We know McBean can help the Dodgers, but we're thinking of the future."

Tars Win In Normal Fashion, 9-6

College of Marin's streaking baseball team did things the easy way for a change, jumping off to a quick lead to down Contra Costa, 9-6, in a Camino Norte Conference game at Richmond yesterday.

The win kept the Tars tied for the league lead with DeAnza of C u p e r t i n o, a 9-5, come-from-behind winner over Solano. Both teams have 9-3 league records with eight games left.

The Tars jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead and led 9-1 when Contra Costa scored five runs in the ninth inning. Jeff Paquett with three singles and Bob Torre with a pair of doubles topped the hitting.

Frustrations For Chandler In Troubled Boy's Club

By GARY TISCHLER

Athletes live in a world of reasonable certainties.

Somebody will win the game, the season starts on this day and ends on that day, so much equipment will be used and so many players will play.

For Manny Chandler, who has been an athlete, there are hardly any such certainties in his present position as activities director of the Boys Club of Southern Marin.

For the club, tomorrow is at best a risky proposition, and the possiblity that next year may not come is always just around the corner. E q u i p m e n t is scarce, catch-as-catch can, often a case of square pegs in round holes. Transportation is private and limited.

The one thing the club does not lack is enthusiam on the part of the youngsters from whom it was intended. The 350 some youngsters, almost all from Marin City, who use the club, its equipment and facilities as a way to grow and to keep busy, creatively, show a continuous enthusiasm for the club, an enthusiasm etched sharply in frustration.

MANNY CHANDLER
Frustrations

MIXTURE

For Chandler, a former Boys Club member and a transplant from New York, his job is a mixture of frustration and reward. On the one hand, he envisions expanding the club's activities and facilities, now centered primarily around athletics and sees the need for balancing the activities. On the other hand he and the club's directors and personnel face the problem of raising and receiving enough money to merely survive for another year.

Part of that particular problem will hopefully be taken care

No Nerves In No-Hitter

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was a pretty good reason why Bill Stoneman wasn't nervous. The situation was completely unfamiliar.

"I never even came close to a no-hitter before," said the Montreal Expos' chunky little hurler after baffling Philadelphia with a 7-0 masterpiece last night.

The main reason for this is simple. Stoneman was consigned to an apparent life of oblivion in the bullpen until rescued by the Expos in the expansion draft.

Yesterday's brilliant effort was his first complete game in the majors, and only the second in his entire pro career. The first was with a minor league team two years ago.

That, explained the 25-year-old right-hander, was probably why he didn't "think there was any pressure. The nerves weren't there. I wasn't as nervous as I should have been. I had good stuff and I was getting the ball where I wanted it."

Before the Expos drafted him from the Chicago Cubs, Stoneman generally was a reliever because, "I'm so short (5-foot-10) that my managers and coaches always said, 'You're a reliever.' I was successful at it so I stayed there."

IMPRESSED

But Gene Mauch, Montreal manager, said he was impressed with Stoneman's appearances against Philadelphia, a team he managed for nine years until he was fired last summer, and decided to give him a shot at being a starter.

He lost his first two tries this season, but was untouchable against the Phils last night.

Stoneman, who said he threw a fastball and curves with a few change-ups, walked five and struck out eight for the nine-game old Expos, marking the first time an expansion team hurler has pitched a no-hitter in the team's debut year.

The closest Philadelphia came to a hit came in the first when Deron Johnson smashed a liner down third that was foul only by inches, when center fielder Don Bosch made a shoestring catch on Don Money in the second, and when Rusty Staub made a long running catch of a line drive to right field by Tony Taylor in the third.

ALLEN OUT

Meanwhile, Staub backed Stoneman with a homer, three doubles and three RBIs.

In other National League games, the sizzling Chicago Cubs boosted their record to 9-1 by blanking St. Louis for the second straight night 3-0, Pittsburgh stopped the New York Mets 4-0, Atlanta ripped Houston 9-3, and San Francisco edged San Diego 5-4. Los Angeles and Cincinnati were idle.

Dick Lotz Takes Lead At La Costa

RANCHO LA COSTA (AP)—Young Dick Lotz, who tamed La Costa with a fantastic start, held a two-stroke lead going into today's second round of golf's Tournament of Champions, but there was an omnious group of five charging at his heels.

Lotz, a dark-haired 26-year-old native Californian, tore five strokes off par in his first four holes yesterday, coasted in and announced that it was nice to be back to his own territory.

"I didn't play well in Florida," the stocky, good looking guy said. "I'm not used to that kind of grass. And there was still a different kind of grass in North Carolina.

"It's always nice to get back around your home area. You're more adapted to the conditions and you play with more confidence. I know the course here. I can't complain about anything."

OTHER MOANS

His opening 67, five under par for the 7,114-yard La Costa Country Club layout, helped. But there were plenty of other

HERB MICHELSON

Last Few Words On Oakland Seals

OAKLAND — Before the ice melts completely, and to satisfy the needs of historians yet unborn, let us quickly wrap up the decline, rise and decline of the Seals.

That they are not still involved in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoffs these days is inexcusable, despite a bunch of plea-coppings coming from club headquarters.

The official word is that they were tired, that inexperience in the wrong places finally caught up with them, that they did much better than anyone dreamed in the first place.

I RECALL Hubert Humphrey spouting similarly on a Wednesday morning last November.

It's not that I have a winner complex. Simply, I despise a team that loses in an embarrassing manner — and the Seal performance in the seventh game of the Cup series against Los Angeles was preposterously embarrassing.

After the first 10 minutes, only two or three of the Greenshirts appeared to be interested in their occupation. This is downright deplorable; you should excuse the faint praise.

ENOUGH ABOUT a performance that will annoy me for weeks to come, and on to the Seal ownership situation.

Two months ago we described the team's supposed takeover by a group of Easterners calling themselves Trans National Communications or something. Among their numbers is Whitey Ford and former CBS-TV sports executive Bill Creasy. At that time, the conclusion was that the Seals had new, fresh ownership.

Really?

NO, NOT really.

The Seal franchise was purchased by the Knox Brothers of Buffalo — also known as Niagara Frontier Corp. or something. (I'm weak on conglomerates.) And Trans-Nat was picking up 80 per cent of Niag-Front's $4½ million purchase price.

They were?

NOT YET they haven't, although Creasy has been running the operation, and getting mixed reaction from the old timers in the front office.

Still, the Knox boys have not received the purchase dough from Creasy's people. And my sources say the payment deadline is Saturday.

So what happens if the big check doesn't happen? Well, the Seals will belong to two gentlemen from Buffalo who want to own a hockey team in Oakland as much as I want to own a delicatessen in Buffalo. (Although I understand there are a couple of good downtown delicatessen locations in Buffalo now available.)

THE BROTHERS Knox would love to move the team to Buffalo. They would love to move any team from any major league to Bufffalo. But the NHL is on record as wanting the Seals to remain in Oakland.

And if anyone from Buffalo saw the Seals in the seventh Cup game, I doubt if they'd want the franchise moved. Oakland's experienced players are the forwards — aging, tired forwards. And their green kids are the defensemen — young, healthy, error-prone defensemen.

NHL ROUNDUP

Plante Magic Rubbing Off On Cheever

Cheevers brushed aside 34 Montreal shots last night and Phil Esposito triggered the Bruins' attack with two goals and three assists in a 5-0 shutout victory over the Montreal Canadiens.

The victory vaulted the Bruins back into contention in their National Hockey League East Division final playoff series after a pair of sudden-death setbacks at Montreal.

Plante, who tied Turk Broda's playoff record of 13 shutouts by blanking Los Angeles 4-0 Tuesday night in the opener of the West Division finals, became the second goalie ever to record an assist in Cup play as the Blues edged the Kings 3-2.

The Bruins, down 2-1 in their best-of-7 set, entertain Montreal again Sunday afternoon. St. Louis takes its 2-0 advantage over the Kings to Los Angeles for Saturday night's third game.

GREAT GLOVE

"That was really Stanley Cup goalbending," Boston Coach Harry Sinden exclaimed after Cheevers' acrobatics helped end the Canadiens' skein of successive playoff victories at 11. "He had a great glove tonight. He really hit it moving."

Montreal captured the Cup last year by sweeping its last five games—four of them against St. Louis in the finals. The Canadiens also ousted New York in four straight to move into this year's showdown with Boston.

Esposito, who didn't pick up a point in the two playoff games at Montreal after setting an all-time regular season record of 126, broke loose on home ice. The rangy center scored a first-period goal, set up Ed Westfall's marker in the middle period and hit for a power play goal early in the finale before assisting on wrap-up tallies by Ron Murphy and Ken Hodge.

EARNS ASSIST

Gary Sabourin's second goal of the game, with less than six minutes to play, snapped a 2-2 tie at St. Louis. Plante earned an assist on Sabourin's second period tally with a long pass from the crease to Larry Keenan, who relayed to Sabourin in front of the Los Angeles cage.

Vince Brown Leads Novato Track Victory

Vince Brown won the 100 and 220 yard dashes in 10.3 and 23.7 seconds yesterday to lead the Novato High School track and field squad to a 74-53 victory over the Tamalpais Indians in a Marin County Athletic League meet at Novato.

Top varsity performances were a 49-foot, 6¾-inch shot put by Verdean Herbold of Tam and a 148-9 discus mark by Novato's Ray Sparling.

Tam had a triple winner in Gerald Robertson (high and low hurdles and high jump) and a double winner in Mark Miller (880 and 440-yard runs).

Money, People Needed For Club

of by a county-wide fund drive march of several thousand Marin County high school students Saturday. It's called "Youth March for Youth," and it is designed to help the club survive for another year.

The youngsters will gather at Redwood High School beginning at 9:30 a.m. and will canvass the county in a door-to-door plea for help.

The youths will have identification tags, reading "Marin City Boys' Club" — although the official name of the club is the Boys' Club of Southern Marin. High schools participating are Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake, San Rafael, Terra Linda, Marin Catholic and San Domenico.

"Right now, the athletic part of the club is pretty well built up," Chandler said. "But we have to have some kind of balance. The arts-craft section needs more people and work. The woodworking, the photography, they all need growth.

"Not all kids like to run off their energy in running, or some kind of sport," he said. "You'd be surprised how a kid can get with a piece of clay, or a camera, or some shop project or painting and get totally wrapped up in it."

FRUSTRATION

Part of the problem in attaining some kind of diversity in the club is getting the right kind of personnel to supervise or teach an activity. And here too, is where it can get frustrating for a child.

"We've had part-time people in arts and craft," Chandler said. "But these people have their own lives to lead, and they can't do it permanently. So a man takes over a project, the kids get to identify with him and know him and vice versa, and he's gone. This can be frustrating."

Even in athletics, there are certain logistical problems.

"We use some of the facilities at Tamalpais High School," Chandler said. "A boy has to either take a bus to get there, or hitchhike, which is illegal. And trying to set up some kind of track meets, ball games with other boys clubs is difficult, because we don't have a regular bus."

Still, Chandler, an all-around athlete in the Marine Corps and a professional baseball player in the now defunct Negro National League, feels that he's established some rapport and had some success with the boys.

GETTING ALONG

"You have to get a boy involved early," he said. "And they really do get involved, if they get the opportunity. We have out little sessions, our boy talks.

Chandler has worked with the Bedford-Stuyvesant Boys Club in New York, a club that seemed to operate much more fluidly.

"In a city, you have a bigger conglemeration of boys," he said. "Transportation is not much of a problem, since the club is centrally located, along with its facilities. A kid can just walk a couple of blocks and be there."

Tomorrow's fund drive would seem to point out the chancy financing of the club. It exists on foundation funds, fund drives and private donations. It has yet to be included in the Bay Area United Fund Crusade.

"What we need is a regular source of income," Chandler said. "We need nore varied facilities and more volunteers. Then we'd have a chance to grow, and offer the boys what they need."

moans from the select 28-man field—about the deep, damaging rough.

"A 69 here is like a 65 and place else in the world," said globetrotting Gary Player, the British Open champion and another member of the quintet two shots back. "A 67 is a fantastic, phenomenal round."

Defending champion Don January, Masters champ George Archer and Billy Casper, one of the pre-tourney favorites, all had 71s. U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino went to a 74 and Gene Littler, the season's leading money winner, had a 75.

NBA ROUNDUP

Lakers Take 3-1 Lead Over Hawks

ATLANTA (AP) — The New York Knicks' battle with the Boston Celtics will be followed closely tonight by the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Atlanta Hawks aren't very interested.

The victory enabled the Lakers to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-7 series and they can wrapt it up by winning the fifth game in Los Angeles Sunday.

So the Lakers naturally want to know what team they probably will face in the playoffs for the NBA championship.

Los Angeles Coach Bill van Breda Wolff refused to claim the division title but he did admit the triumph in Atlanta was "a very big one for us.

"I don't think we're over the hump yet. You never think that," he said, "until the last game is won.

"But it was a big victory for us, coming on the road. Anytime you win on the road it's great. Now we've got to work to win one at home."

Atlanta Coach Richie Guerin said, "We're in a difficult spot, trailing 3-1 and going to Los Angeles."

The Celtics also are counting on the home-court edge tonight when they try to clinch the Eastern Division title by beating the Knicks.

NO CLAIMS

Van Breda Kolff points out, however, that neither the Western or the Eastern crowns have been decided yet.

"Nobody is going to claim the title until its won," he said.

However, the Lakers' coach was elated about beating Atlanta after an erratic start.

"Both teams played like college teams in their first tournament he said. "I don't know how many times we lost the ball without getting a shot, and so did Atlanta."

The low-scoring battle finally was broken open in the last seven minutes when the Lakers scored 38 points.

Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West led the outburst, including a surge in which the Lakers scored 12 straight points and turned a 73-70 deficit into an 82-73 lead.

"Wilt blocked a few shots, West made a few steals, and we finally got rolling," Van Breda Kolff said.

Chamberlain wound up with 25 points and 19 rebounds and West scored 22 points.

Lou Hudson scored 22 for the Hawks, and Zelmo Beaty got 18. But Joe Caldwell was held scoreless, Walt Hazzard scored only five and Bill Bridges was limited to seven.

Mays Likes To Pull A Few Surprises

Chris Cannizzaro knew what Willie Mays was up to. Cannizzaro had seen the captain of the Giants go from first to third before. And Cannizzaro knew instinctively that Mays now would try to advance from corner to corner on a slow roller Ron Hunt tapped to Ed Spiezio, third baseman of the Padres, San Diego's new expansion team in the National League.

It happened in the first game ever played between the Giants and Padres last weekend in San Diego Stadium. Most players are surprised by the chances Mays takes. Rookies, such as Nate Colbert, are astounded at Mays' daring.

MAYS TAKES great delight in doing the unexpected, exploiting the element of surprise. He had just reached first base on a throwing error by Spiezio. Clyde King, rookie manager of the Giants who moved Mays from the No. 3 batting position into the No. 1 spot, flashed the hit-run signal to Mays and Hunt.

Mays was off and running as Hunt sent the slow grounder to Spiezio at third base. Spiezio routinely threw to first base for the putout of Hunt. Before he threw to first, Spiezio, of course, checked to see if he had a possible force play on Mays at second base. He didn't. In fact, Mays already was at second as Spiezio threw to Colbert, the rookie first baseman.

CANNIZZARO, a veteran of seven major league campaigns, six of them as catcher for the Mets against whom Mays used to enjoy running from first to third, immediately analyzed the setup and Cannizzaro started running to third base even before Spiezio made his throw to Colbert.

It seemed like Cannizzaro was reading Mays' mind. As soon as Spiezio threw to Colbert, Mays shifted into high gear and sped toward third where Cannizzaro moved into a blocking position instead of assuming a catcher's customary backup role on such a developing play.

CANNIZZARO literally stationed himself in front of third base. He was going to defend it with his shin guards in the same manner a catcher protects home plate while waiting for a throw. Spiezio was a bit startled. He, too, was covering the bag — but in back of the Padre catcher.

Mays, running all-out, took just one look at Cannizzaro and decided what he would do. Willie took off 10 feet in front of the bag in a crunching slide. Colbert's return throw to third base skipped past Cannizzaro and Spiezio as Mays upended both of them.

THEN, MAYS, seeing the ball rolling away from the fallen Padres, calmly picked himself out of the dirt and leisurely jogged home.

Mays not only had gone from first to third on a ball that didn't get out of the infield, he actually scored on it by teasing a rookie into a throwing error.

A Rare Victory

Drake High School handed Tamalpais its first loss in three years yesterday, 60½ to 27½ in a girls' track and field meet at Tam.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Weekend Prospects Dependent On Winds

This weekend's fishing is going to depend almost entirely on the winds.

Each year at this time and usually through June, the northwest winds blow every day. Most of your fishing will have to be done in the morning hours before these winds come up.

SALMON FISHING continues to be good out of Sausalito, especially in the morning. The improved river and stream conditions will probably bring about a change in the salmon limits. It is now very possible that an emergency measure will be put through and that the former limit of three salmon instead of the present two will go back into effect, probably in late May.

Charlie Davis, the congenial barber from Point Reyes Station who like all barbers has Monday off, took an early ride to the mouth of Tomales and picked up tow salmon while drifting for halibut.

STRIPED BASS — With most fish going up the delta to spawn, things have slowed down, though it's not impossible to still pick up a good fish or so. It's certainly possible to pick up a trophy sturgeon anytime.

NICASIO LAKE — If it's nice and not windy, fishing immediately picks up. Lots of small bass caught last Saturday before winds came, if windy, stay home. Winds blowing nearly all this week.

CLAMS AND COCKLES — On Saturday at 7:12 a.m., and on Sunday at 7:54 a.m., the tides will be minus -0.5 and -0.3. These are excellent clam tides and with the clams in top shape at this time, it is worthwhile going. Remember, a fishing license is required.

Gaper Clams (Horsenecks) are found in Bolinas Lagoon and Tomales Bay areas. They are found in Drakes Estero too, but with some access problems. I would suggest going to either Bolinas or Tomales.

In the Bolinas Lagoon, they are found generally throughout the area, especially on the islands near the mouth of the lagoon. Their presence is easily noted by the tips of the necks sticking out of the mud and when touched, the withdrawing action causes the clam to squirt.

IN THE TOMALES Bay area, most of the Gapers are found north of Hog Island. If you have a skiff, you can launch at Nick's Cove. A good bet for a fun family outing is to go to Dillon's Beach, near the town of Tomales on Highway 1, by car. At Dillon's a barge takes clam diggers across the channels to the excellent beds. The limit on Gaper Clams is 10 per person.

It is possible to take Washington clams at either of these areas. They are more difficult to find, but an experienced digger can usually find them by their tell tale "keyhole-like" opening in the surface of the mud. The limit on Washington clams is 10. One can have both a limit of gapers and a limit of Washingtoms at the same time.

THE GIANT Geoduck clam is also found at Dillon's Beach, but in very limited numbers. I checked about 10 of these monsters on a day when 400 people were out, so they are scarce. The limit on Geoducks is three per person — but it is possible to get one of these clams that weigh up to six pounds.

Cockles are found at both Bolinas and Tomales bays also. The bed at Bolinas is small and heavily dug, so limits are a rarity. The type of cockle from this area is called the "sea cockle." In Tomales Bay, cockles are found from the Marconi Cove Launching area almost to the mouth of the bay, along both shorelines. These cockles are known as bay cockles and are much more abundant than sea cockles.

Not long ago it was estimated that there were 200 cars along the Tomales Bay shoreline with an average of four people to the car. That would be 800 people. If they all took a limit of cockles, that would be 40,000 clams. The limit on cockles is 50 per person, none can measure less than 1½ inches in diameter. Undersized clams in your bucket will be considered to be in your possession by the Department of Fish and Game. It is important that the under-sized cockles be returned and buried as they are the spawners which enables the cockle population to continue to exist.

McLain-Boudreau

DETROIT (UPI)—Denny McLain was the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1968. Exactly 20 years ago, in 1948, his father-in-law, Lou Boudreau, won the award for the Cleveland Indians.

AL ROUNDUP

O's Enjoy Boston Stay

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ah, Friendly Fenway. If only the Baltimore Orioles could spend the whole season playing in Boston's cozy ballpark.

But a whole season in Fenway isn't Boog Powell's idea of paradise. "Heck no," says slugger Powell, "then we wouldn't be able to look forward to coming back."

Powell and the rest of the Orioles can't wait for the next trip to Fenway after winning three straight from the Red Sox climaxed by a 9-5 victory yesterday.

Baltimore scored 30 runs and had 48 hits in the three games and gave the Red Sox' outfielders quite a workout.

The Orioles had 17 safeties yesterday including home runs by the Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, Rookie Billy Conigliaro had his third homer in two days for the Red Sox and Boston's Rico Petrocelli also connected.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit outlasted Cleveland 7-6 and New York split a doubleheader with Washington, taking the 10-inning opener 7-3 on Joe Pepitone's grand sam home run and dropping the nightcap 5-2. The other teams were not scheduled.

Dave Johnson led the Orioles' attack against Boston with his second straight four-hit day. Johnson had two doubles and two singles.

IN TROUBLE

The Red Sox knew they were in trouble right away when the Orioles loaded the bases on starter Lee Stange's first three pitches, Don Buford opened with a first-pitch double, Paul Blair singled on the next one and then Frank Robinson was hit by the third.

Two runs scored when Ken Harrelson threw wild on Powell's grounder and then Baltimore tacked on three more in the second when Frank Robinson tagged his fifth homer of the year and 423rd of his career.

Mel Stottlemyre won his third straight and Stan Bahnsen lost his third straight for the Yankees, who split with the Senators.

THIRD LOSS

Washington tied the opener in the ninth inning on a two-run homer by Mike Epstein. But the Yankees loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the 10th and then Pepitone tagged his grand slam.

Pinch hitter Gary Holman's double broke an eighth inning tie and pushed the Senators to their second game victory and the split. Bobby Murcer homered in each game for New York, running his season's total to five.

Detroit scored three runs in the ninth inning and then held off a Cleveland rally to beat the Indians.

Campbell Shares Golf Lead

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI)—Joe Campbell, who smokes a lot of cigars, and graying Bob Stone hold a one-stroke lead going into the second round of the Azalea Open golf tournament today.

But there's a mob right behind them.

Campbell and Stone both shot 66 yesterday to take the opening-round lead of the 21st Annual Azalea which is worth $35,000 this year.

44 BREAK PAR

In opening action, 44 of the 134 golfers broke par 71 on the 6,470-yard Cape Fear County Club course and 60 were at or under par. Campbell and Stone were five under.

Tied with 67s were Tommy Bolt, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Jim Langley, Salinas, Calif.; John Joseph, Greensboro, N.C.; Dick Hart, Hinsdale, Ill.; Chick Evans, Chicago, Ill.; Hugh Royer, Columbus, Ga.; Skee Riegel, Jamison, Pa.; Wilf Homenuik, Winnepeg, Can.; and Lee Elder, Washington, D.C.

Elder and Mike Reasor played the hottest nine holes yesterday. "I changed my putting stance about midway through the round and things started to drop," said Elder, who had a 31 on the back nine.

Reasor had to beg an invitation to play in the tournament, having failed the PGA pro school by two strokes. He was not eligible for competition unless he got special permission and an invitation from Wilmington. Both happened and he had fans stirring when he shot a 30 on the front nine. He finished at 68.

Cokes Rated As Favorite Over Napoles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World welterweight champion Curtis Cokes regained the role of favorite—at least until fight time— in defense of his title tonight against Jose Napoles of Mexico.

The 31-year-old veteran from Dallas opened as a 10-6 betting choice two weeks ago. Several days ago the odds dipped to even money and take your pick.

Lastest on the score today was Cokes 10-8, with the possibility the champion and 29-year-old challenger would enter the ring at the Forum in neighboring Inglewood again on even terms.

Cokes, defending the 147-pound division crown for the sixth time, and Napoles, a Cuban expatriate now living in Mexico City, figured to attract some 14,000 fans and gate receipts of possibly $180,000.

Oaks Rested Up, Set To Battle New Orleans

OAKLAND (UPI) — If anything, the Oakland Oaks should be rested when they open their final ABA Western Division playoffs against the New Orleans Buccaneers at the Oakland Arena tomorrow night.

The Oaks have been biding time since beating Denver 115-102 Wednesday night to win their semifinal series four games to three.

New Orleans downed Dallas 101-95 last night to take the other semifinal, also 4-3. The Bucs should be a bit more pooped than the Oaks, considering they must travel to Oakland.

The second Oakland-New Orleans game will be played Tuesday night at the Arena instead of Sunday as had been previously announced. This was due to scheduling difficulties in New Orleans.

The third and fourth games of the series will be played next Thursday and Friday at New Orleans.

MARIN COUNTY BOWLING NOTES

A Big Pro Show; Lu Sharp Rolls 622

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Things are getting back to normal at Nave Lanes near Ignacio these days, following a two-day invasion of the pros.

From all reports we've heard, the Professional Central California Bowlers tour will again hit Nave Lanes next year. The PCCB officials had a lot of kind words for the grand Bill Nave and his three boys, Bill Jr., Bob and Rich.

Novato's Terry De Young, who won $400 for second place, averaged 211 in qualifying rounds, then rolled games of 238, 246, 215, 247 before that final match with Joe Spano of Fresno. The Fresnan won that match, 185-155, Spano rolling three splits in that game and De Young four.

Also in that tournament, Bill Henderson of San Rafael, lanes man at Country Club Bowl, made it to the Sunday finals, but lost his first two matches. He still picked up $105 for his 23rd place finish.

THIS AND THAT — What about that 662 series Lu Sharp of

LU SHARP
Best ever

San Anselmo rolled in the Mixed Travel League when it stopped off at Country Club Bowl. It's Lu's highest series ever. A 174 average roller, Lu had games of 212, 234 and 216. That's quite a score for Mrs. Sharp, mother of two . . . Another 600 by a woman, this one a 606 by Roberta Thorsen in the Hits and Mrs. League at Greenbrae Lanes — was Roberta's first time in the sixes . . . Nancy Richards had an all-spare game in the Nave Lanes' Lutheran Early League, coming out with a 184 line . . . Kitty Weber missed a 144 triplicate by three pins in her last game, a 141, and that was in the Nave Lanes Classy Lassie League.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — The Marin County Ladies 600 Club Tournament is scheduled Sunday, 5 p.m., at Greenbrae Lanes . . . Don De Vere wowed them in the Nite Owls League with a 255 game and 606 series at Country Club Bowl . . . Marge Lehman had high game in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes, 226, while Sheila Bebo had high series, 589 . . . Maria Von Lowenfelt missed a 118 triplicate series by just one pin in the Magic Four League at Country Club Bowl . . . Verna Cook rolled her first 200, a 202 in the Forget Me Nots League at Nave Lanes . . . In the Gutter Belles League at Greenbrae Lanes, Arlene Parker went 76 pins over her average with a 220 game, while Eloise Burns rolled a single pin step ladder, 111, 112, 113.

PIN CRACKERS — Butch Steele picked up a 6-7-10 split in the Agents 1108 League (sounds like spies) at Country Club Bowl . . . It's a unique international bowling league, with teams from 21 countries scheduled to start May 12 at Downtown Bowl in San Francisco . . . In junior scores coming out of Country Club Bowl, Rich McPherson is the leader, 217-561, while bantam Larry May rolled a 329 two-gamer and 7-year-old Guy Henderson a 128 line.

49ers Hire Holovak As New Aide

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mike Holovak, deposed head coach and general manager of the Boston Patriots, has another job across the country and in another league.

Head Coach Dick Nolan of the San Francisco Forty Niners of the National Football League announced yesterday he has hired Holovak as his offensive backfield coach. Holovak has been without a job since January when he was fired by Patriots President William Sullivan after Boston posted a disappointing 3-11 record in the American Football League last fall.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Saturn, Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1775 American patriot, Paul Revere, began his famed ride through the Massachusetts countryside, calling . . . "The British are coming."

In 1906 the San Francisco earthquake began. When it ended, three days later, 500 persons were dead.

In 1964 17 servicemen were killed when two troop planes collided over Ohio.

A thought for the day: John Selden said, "They that govern the most make the least noise."

Matched Shirts, Ties Make It Easy

NEW YORK (UPI)—Every man who wears a shirt and necktie to work has, at last, the perfect answer to the question he asks himself every morning of his working life: what tie shall I wear today?

Meinhard-Commercial Corp., a financing firm for apparel companies, say shirt manufacturers are now featuring matched sets with the necktie made from the same fabric as the shirt. You also can also get a matching pocket handkerchief.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

An Alert Player Sometimes Can Invent A Tricky Play

A certain type of false card is invented every day by some desperate bridge player when he judges that nothing else will lure declarer away from the winning line of play. You may be the next to invent this play if you are desperate and alert enough — but your task may be easier if you've seen the play in operation.

LOW SPADE

West led the eight of spades, and East topped dummy's king with the ace. East removed dummy's single trump with the ace and then took the ace of clubs. West signaled encouragement with the ten, and East continued with the three of clubs to declarer's king.

South led the queen of hearts to drive out the king, and East led another club to the queen. Now West saw that a club continuation would allow South to ruff and draw trumps. South would then obviously make the rest of the tricks.

The only chance was to put declarer in the dummy and hope that he'd find the wrong way to get to his hand. West therefore switched back to spades.

CASHES DIAMONDS

Declarer took the queen of spades and the top diamonds, intending to ruff a third diamond in his hand. It was at this stage that a desperate West re-invented a play familiar to experienced bridge players. When declarer cashed dummy's second top diamond, West dropped the queen.

Of course, South should have paid more attention to East's ten of diamonds than to West's queen. Of course, West's opening lead indicated shortness in spades. The fact remains that only the fall of the queen of diamonds could make any impression on South.

Declarer actually did fall for the antique swindle. He led a spade from dummy instead of a diamond. Now if South ruffed low, West would get the setting trick by overruffing; and if South ruffed high, West's ten would become the master trump.

DAILY QUESTION

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one club.

If partner responds in a red suit, you can bid one spade. If partner bids one notrump, you can raise to two or three notrump. You avoid an opening bid of 1-no-trump with a very weak doubleton, and it's easy to steer clear of this danger when you have a comfortable rebid of one spade.

Lapps in arctic regions traditionally try to improve the weather by speaking the names of seven bald men, then throwing salt into a camp fire. The men named must be completely bald, not a hair on their heads, or the magic won't work, says the National Geographic Society.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

It's Possible To Acquire Shares From Other Nations

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Is it possible to buy shares in a foreign-based company? If so, how does one go about making such a purchase? — S.K.

A. Yes, and the most common method is through the purchase of American Depository Receipts. These certificates neatly circumvent the entangling legal restrictions and heavy taxation frequently involved in the actual ownership of foreign shares. Although ADRs are usually issued in a 1-to-1 ratio, the buyer should check this point prior to purchase.

The issuing bank or agent — Morgan Guaranty Trust represents the greatest number of issues — forwards dividends, annual reports and proxies to holders. ADRs are not available on all foreign securities, but are issued as the result of domestic interest in the shares or at the request of a company. Because price differentials occur between foreign shares and their domestic representatives there is a certain amount of trading by arbitrage specialists. ADRs are actively traded on the various exchanges and have been in use for over 60 years.

Q. We have 50 shares of Pan American World Airways and are concerned over reports of Resorts International "raiding" the shares.—S.P.

A. Resorts International has disclosed its recent activities in regard to the purchase of Pan American shares. A maximum of 1,650,000 shares or 4.8 per cent of the outstanding stock, half the amount planned originally, may be purchased. The apparent object of Resorts' maneuver is Pan American's hotel subsidiary, Intercontinental Hotels. Through private placement of 275,000 Resorts shares, the company has raised more than $10 million. Included in these transactions were 150,000 warrants to purchase Resorts shares. An additional $8 million was raised by mortgaging a hotel. The maximum purchase of Pan Amer. shares could involve 2.5 million shares of Resorts; there are fewer than 4 million. A and B shares outstanding at present. In view of the recent congressional attitude toward mergers, it is doubtful that any raid will be successful.

March's Banking Up For Marin

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco reported unadjusted debits of $205,240,000, compared with $168,994,000 in March, 1968. Unadjusted deposits increased to $101,705,000 from $96,641,000 a year ago.

Seasonally adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are not yet reported for Marin County.

Howard Hughes' Air West Plans Get Boost From Federal Ruling

Civil Aeronautics Board hearing examiner Ross I. Newmann this week approved industrialist Howard Hughes' $94 million purchase of Air West, following extensive public hearings last month in Washington, D.C.

In his decision hearing Newmann stipulated that Hughes' purchase would be in the public interest and insure the financial responsibility of Air West and continuance of its air service.

Final Civil Aeronautics Board and White House approval is anticipated by the end of next month.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES has agreed in principle to acquire all outstanding shares of stock in the San Franciscan Hotel in San Francisco. The airline has no plans to change the present methods of operation and agreements with other major airlines and travel agents throughout the United States for tour packages at the Franciscan will be continued.

INSURANCE AND SECURITIES, INC., owner of several diversified mutual funds, has changed it corporate name to I S I Corp. Directors of I S I Income Fund, Inc. have recently increased the quarterly dividend from 3 cents to 4 cents per share.

MORRIS PLAN CO. shareholders have voted to change the name of the company to Morlan Pacific Corp., earlier recommended to avoid confusion with its principal operating subsidiary, The Morris Plan Co. of California. Consolidated net earnings of Morlan for the first quarter were $439,714, or 58 cents per share, compared with $331,733 or 47 cents per share in the first quarter last year.

THE BEKINS CO. shareholders have authorized a two-for-one stock split of the outstanding $5 par value common shares as part of a change in the stock structure of the company. The corporation is now authorized to issue 10 million shares of common stock without par value and one million shares of preferred stock in series. Approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission is required before new stock may be issued or sold.

MARCOR, INC., recently formed parent company of Montgomery Ward and Container Corp. of America, has reported a 43 per cent increase in earnings on a 6 per cent increase in sales for the 1968 fiscal year. Total sales were $2.5 billion and profits were $53.8 million. Sales in 1967 were $2.35 billion and profits were $37.4 million.

FIDELITY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, Berkeley has record earnings of $1,-109,000, equal to $1.80 per common share for the three months ended March 31, compared to last year's first quarter profits of $220,000, or 53 cents a share. Fidelity will acquire Don Pedro Savings and Loan of Modesto, subject to approval by state and federal regulatory agencies.

GEOTHERMAL RESOURCES INTERNATIONAL, INC., which has developed several producing steam wells in The Geysers area of Sonoma County, will commence drilling a test well in the Kelley Springs area of Modoc County by May 1.

STAUFFER CHEMICAL CO., San Francisco has reported record sales and earnings for the first quarter ended March 31. Net earnings were $8.9 million or 90 cents per share, up from $7.4 million or 74 cents a share last year.

MONSANTO CHEMICAL CO., St. Louis first quarter sales were up 7 per cent and net income increased 20 per cent over figures of a year ago.

Stocks Close Higher In Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished slightly higher today as an apparent calm settled over the latest Korean incident. Trading was moderate.

President Nixon called the downing of a U.S. reconnaissance plane by North Korea "unprovoked, deliberate and without warning." But it seemed that Washington would limit its action only to a stiff warning.

Steels were mostly higher, partially reflecting a price hike by U.S. Steel on bar products. This move followed recent action by Republic Steel.

Texaco, Superior and Clark Oil gained ground in the oils. Clark officials announced the beginning of drilling concessions in North Africa and the East Indies.

Conglomerates moved in mixed fashion, while chemicals showed scattered strength. Motors generally gave ground.

Airlines ranged to about a point higher. Rails and aircrafts traded in both directions.

Drugs Criticized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration has proposed that 78 combinations of antibiotic products be withdrawn from the market on the grounds they are no more effective than the separate ingredients. The pharmaceutical companies have 30 days to file objections and supporting evidence.

Manufacturing Grows In March

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California manufacturing swelled to $25.18 billion in March, the Bank of America said.

The metal industrial complex, accounting for 48 per cent of all manufacturing, increased .83 per cent in one month to $12.4 billion.

Primary metal production led the gains, advancing 10.8 per cent in 12 months to $820 million. Fabrication of metal parts was up 9.3 per cent to $1.64 billion. Machinery increased 8.2 per cent to 2.11 billion.

Food processing went up 7.9 per cent in a year to $3.41 billion and the printing and publishing industry gained 5.4 per cent to $1.16 billion.

No gains were reported for transportation equipment, lumber and apparel.

Annexation Of Voters May Not Annex Votes

Ten years ago, there was a big drive to annex Terra Linda to San Rafael. An election was held, but residents of the Terra Linda tracts — at that time mostly north of Manuel Freitas Parkway and well west of Highway 101 — turned annexation down. Instead, they organized their own community services district and recreation district.

Residents of one small part close to the highway, Terra Linda Oaks, favored annexation. So, after a suitable interval, they voted their land into the city.

As the years went along, the original Terra Linda became pretty much surrounded by San Rafael. Freitas, Pimentel and Nunes ranchlands were annexed as uninhabited territory. Such things as the Northgate Shopping Center, Northgate Industrial Park, Terra Linda High School, and a spate of new Dixie School District elementary schools arose on those lands. Also, many acres of them were filled with new apartment buildings and single-family homes.

THESE ANNEXATIONS brought within the city quite a lot of land that is in Dixie School District, thus further confusing the school boundary nonsense which has San Rafael Meadows and Santa Venetia in the San Rafael Elementary School District though outside the city. (All are in San Rafael High School District.)

For the first time this week — thanks to a change in the city charter — San Rafael combined its municipal election with school board elections throughout the county.

An interesting thing happened.

IN THOSE PRECINCTS which are within the city but in Dixie School District, from 8 to 20 per cent more votes were cast for elementary school trustees than for mayor or city councilmen or city charter amendment proposals.

Still more interestingly, the vote on the proposed Marin Junior College District 77-cent special tax was almost identical at these polling places with that on the mayoralty — from 8 to 20 per cent below the vote on Dixie School District trustees.

THERE CAN BE no doubt of the tremendous value to San Rafael of the annexations which have given the city sales tax revenues from Northgate Shopping Center and real property taxes from development of Northgate Industrial Park.

But the fact that in some areas one out of every five voters who went to the polls didn't bother to ballot on the men who run his city, although he voted on elementary school district trustees, is rather disconcerting. (Unfortunately, there is no way to tell whether the interest is limited to the elementary schools, for the two incumbent candidates for San Rafael Board of Education — which runs Terra Linda High School — were unopposed so naturally quite a few didn't bother to vote for them.)

FROM TIME TO TIME we hear complaints that the city does not give enough attention to its residents who live "over the hill."

The vote tallies would cause us to think that too many of our "over the hill" residents do not give enough attention to their city.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Lack Of Offers For Bonds Puts State In Financial Bind

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The problems of inflation which are now besetting thousands of California families are not confined to the citizens. The state of California itself faces a crisis in the sale of bonds.

Recent failure to receive bids for a $40 million block within the five per cent limit the state can pay as interest resulted in the cessation of some activities.

IVY BAKER PRIEST, state treasurer, is holding up sale of other bonds until the bond market approaches this rate.

Bonds totaling $1.34 billion are authorized to be sold, but when the people voted this authorization, they also set the interest limit. The bonds are for the water project, school construction aid, state construction, higher education construction, and veterans' farm and home loans.

Mrs. Priest has come up with a solution which may solve the problems temporarily at least.

She has recommended the finance committees of the various state bond programs that the best available method for raising money to continue operations is to issue "bond anticipation" notes.

This would be something like selling futures in the market. The bond anticipation notes, in amounts necessary to assure continued functioning of the program, would be sold and the money used in anticipation of a later bond sale, after which the notes would be replaced with bonds.

Mrs. Priest proposes a two-year maturity time for the notes. She thinks this should make them readily saleable under the constitiutional five per cent ceiling.

ONLY ONCE previously has this method of financing been used in California, and this was not because bonds were unsaleable but becausethe validity of state water bonds was being tested in the courts. The notes were sold in 1963, to permit work to proceed on the state water project.

The bond situation serves to point up additional massive charges to be faced by taxpayers in the future. It may, in fact, prove the death knell of future bond issues as taxpayers become more reluctant to finance long-term public works because of the impending high interest rates.

Thus, it could cause a trend toward more pay-as-you-go financing, which has been sought since the administration of Gov. Ronald Reagan took over the reins of state government.

The $1.34 billion of unsold bonds authorized by the people, when eventulally all sold, will cost the taxpayers some $67 million a year in interest, in addition to the interest already being paid to fund the state's outstanding bonds.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

The end of the law is, not to abolish or restrain, but to preserve and enlarge freedom; for liberty is to be free from restraint and violence from others, which cannot be where there is no law.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Spanish Schooner And State History

I, too, would like to enter the game: When was California settled? If not in 1769, as Glen Dines declares ("Readers Say" April 12), but in 1781, then our celebration this year of two centuries since discovery stands as a most embarrassing error in our records as well as those of Spain and Mexico, and, what is least, those four years I passed as an undergraduate in pursuit of historical accuracy were days utterly wasted in this regard.

The mail packet San Carlos was, indeed, under order to supply and support the Portola expedition in the spring of 1769 — not long after it was built at San Blas. Later, in 1775, it was under orders to support Anza, when that hard-riding captain was en route with the colonists who were to compose the First Families of California in San Francisco.

It is to be hoped the San Juan Sebastian has or will enter the port of San Diego during her voyage this year, then, in order to signal the triumph of two full centuries behind Spanish seamanship.

(Editor's note: Glenn Dines' disagreement was not over the settlement of California, but over when the schooner entered San Francisco Bay—if ever.)

Decorative Displays Worth Encouraging

I have enjoyed the bright display of artificial flowers, and other decorations, in front of Dollars and Sense, on Magnolia Avenue, for some time now. It provides a pleasant oasis of color all year on a street that is otherwise rather dreary much of the year. True, it cannot compare with such things as the Magnolia tree at the intersection of Magnolia and Piedmont, or the baby rose that climbs the tree near the foot of the Corte Madera-Mill Valley Road. But these, as well as beautiful garden displays, endure for too short a time.

Is it true that the City of Larkspur is attempting to prevent the store owners from continuing to put out these colorful and pleasant displays? If this is true, I wonder what the objection is. . .

I appreciate any business man who tries to improve the appearance of his place of business. I believe such activities should be encouraged, even though they have a commercial aspect.

TV Viewers Hold Final Trump Card

Remember the day parents were shocked by headlines, "Johnnie Can't Read"? Johnnie now at the tender age of innocence finds the stork story of his baby sitter is untrue. The parents are shocked when they discover Johnnie knows the mystery of it all. They go into a tizzelewhiz, and rush to every parents' meeting on juvenile delinquency. Some guest speakers are prominent judges, lawyers, and psychiatrists. The words of these wise men soothe many parents.

The mothers, relieved in mind, settle to their home duties. One of these is to wax and polish that beautiful handcrafted TV set. Little do they know, this elegant harmless thing has today an uncontrolled power of a powder keg, and if not controlled can destroy the minds of their children.

Some radio and TV smutmongers brazenly tell the home viewers, if you don't like what you see or hear, flip the switch. The TV drama backup behind some products is on a down spiral of moral decay. They are simply vulgar, and in bad taste. Flip the switch; there is no guarantee another program on the dial is not contaminated, and offcolor . . .

These same smut-creative writers, condoned on lewd programs, would shriek to high heaven if a member of their family by telephone be insulted by a voice whispering obscenities. Yet they have the unmitigated gall to tell the consumer viewer of the goods they advertise, if you don't like our presentation, snap it off!

It is up to us, the consumer, radio listeners and TV viewers, to snap our trump card to Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C.

Baar Overloks Voters' Decision

I attended the meeting of the board of supervisors yesterday (April 15) and must say I was distressed at the attitude of L. H. (Bud) Baar on the Bolinas Lagoon, since this is the district which he represents.

The former board of supervisors authorized an election on this matter in good faith, the people of the two precincts concerned have shown how they feel about it by an election, yet he now appears to question the election result and raise the whole matter again.

He objected to possible future costs to the county. The obligatory cost was stated on the ballot and any other costs will have to be approved by the board of supervisors. He even mentioned the $6 million breakwater, long since a dead issue. If Mr. Baar fails to support the state legislation, already introduced, he also fails to support his constituency and furthermore would load two precincts with exhorbitant costs and debts through the board of harbor commissioners which so far has shown little restraint.

He also suggested that the Board should hear the opinion of the board of harbor commissioners, already rejected by the voters who elected them.

Bolinas Lagoon is an asset and a resource for all of the county, and the county is surely better prepared to plan its future than a local board from unincorporated areas.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

April 18, 1959

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization dropped a proposed study of countywide unification because of lack of public interest.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower named Christian A. Herter as secretary of state to succeed John Foster Dulles, who resigned.

20 YEARS AGO

April 18, 1949

Marin County supervisors voted to spend $43,000 for a two-lane roadway through Fairfax along the old Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way.

Infanticide Not Same As Abortion

Your headline on page 17 of the April 1 edition contains a misleading error. Killing newborn babies is not the same thing as abortion and your paper's terminology is a disservice to doctors and women who terminate pregnancy in its early development.

THOMAS P. LOWRY, M.D.
Kentfield.

(Editor's note: The headline read, "Clues Sought on Abortion Ring in East." The story told of what it called an "abortion ring," members of which persuaded pregnant women seeking abortions to wait for the babies' birth, then took them "for adoption" and smothered them.)

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A CONSERVATIVE city girl, vacationing in the Adirondacks, threw caution to the winds one hot summer morning and, seeing nary a soul in view, took a dip in the lake naked as a jay-bird. To her consternation she suddenly heard a voice informing her, "No swimmin' allowed in this spot, ma'am." It was the sheriff, his badge gleaming in the sun!

"You must have seen me disrobe," she cried indignantly. "Why didn't you stop me before I jumped in?"

THE DRUMMONDS

Liberals Now Telling Nixon: 'Not So Fast, Not So Far'

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — It is fantastic to see the political liberals — heckling and pulling at President Nixon's coattails — trying to keep him from entering full scale into the era of negotiation with the Soviet Union.

Mr. Nixon didn't make many campaign promises, but he made some. One important end the era of "confrontation" and begin the era of "negotiation."

But now that the President has told the Soviet Union that he wants the negotiating agenda to include not only arms control but also political questions like the Middle East, Berlin, European security and Vietnam, the Democratic liberals are raising their hand in horror and saying, "Not so fast, not so far!"

Both the conservative left, like Hubert Humphrey, Edmund Muskie and Clark Clifford, and the more radical left, like Edward Kennedy, Eugene McCarthy and George McGovern, are joining forces to try to persuade Mr. Nixon that he ought to move to the era of negotiation with small steps on a small agenda.

But the President won't buy a tiptoe policy and there is some irony in the fact that he is finding it easier to persuade the Russians of the merits of the broad agenda approach than his critics at home.

THERE ARE THREE ways to approach the U.S.-Soviet talks:

1—The John Foster Dulles approach: There could be no arms control without prior agreement on political issues.

2—The Humphrey-McCarthy-J. William Fullbright approach: There can be no useful negotiation on political issues lest they make it impossible to reach any agreement on nuclear arms.

3—The Nixon approach (which seems to us to us the best): U.S.-Soviet talks on both political and arms controls matters could best go forward in parallel.

MR. NIXON is not talking an either-or attitude. He is not saying that political issues must be resolved simultaneously with arms control issues. He is saying that we should begin the discussions of them simultaneously and it is his conviction that "progress" — that's the word he used — on one or more political issues would improve the prospect of getting mutual arms reduction because it would vastly improve the climate for arms reduction.

It should be understood that Mr. Nixon is not contending that agreement on political issues is indispensable to arms talks. He is simply saying that progress would be a valuable boon.

On this approach the President is being supported by Humphrey's chief campaign foreign policy adviser, Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski, director of the Columbia University Research Institute on Communist Affairs and a widely recognized expert on the Communist world.

On a "Meet the Press TV show, Brzezinski said he thought talking simultaneously about both arms and political issues was "a practical and realistic" thing to do. It is his view that substantial progress on political issues could so enhance mutual confidence that an arms agreement would be easier to reach and would not have to be so tightly controlled.

THERE IS HONEST argument on the side that the Soviet Union may want the nuclear arms reduction and nothing else and that, if so, we ought to take what can be had. But it just desn't make sense not to try for both and to find out soon whether Moscow might not want to remove one or more of the causes of the cold war which brought about the arms race in the first place.

Mr. Nixon intends to try, and there is every reason why he should reject the timid counsel of those who fear he is undertaking too much.

New Court Decision May Muddy Election Races

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court has given the state legislatures another dose of confusion with its latest decision on the one-man, one vote requirement for charting congressional districts.

After six years of turmoil over population equality of legislative and congressional districts, political party officials thought they had entered a period of quiet to last at least until after the 1970 census. Now they are not sure.

IN ONE of two congressional apportionment decisions April 7, the Supreme Court ruled that Missouri congressional districts failed to meet adequate standards of equality. The largest district, on the basis of 1960 census figures, was only 3.1 per cent larger than the average population for all districts. The smallest was 2.8 per cent below the average.

More shifts in population since 1960 could account for greater discrepancies.

EVEN BEORE the court first applied its one-man, one vote doctrine to the state legislatures in 1962, the legislatures were wrestling more than usual with congressional redistricting because of population shifts in the 1950s.

Twenty states redistricted as a result of the 1960 census for the 1962 elections. The court's 1964 decision applying the same principle to congressional districts set off another wave of reapportionment; some states have redistricted two or three times and federal courts did the job when the legislatures could not agree on a plan.

PARTY OFFICIALS are uncertain whether more lawsuits will compel further reapportionment before the 1970 elections. The cases last week affected Missouri and New York.

Even before the most recent decisions, the legislative elections of 1970 were regarded as "supervital," the term used by one Republican agent, because party control of the legislatures will determine the way congressional districts are drawn in 1972.

Each party now controls both houses in 20 legislatures. Control is divided in eight, and two states do not elect legislators formally identified with the national political parties.

FROM 1872 to 1929, a federal law required congressional districts to be equal in population as closely as practical. The law never was enforced.

In 1964, the Supreme Court decided that the 14th Amendment compelled that equality. But it has said nothing about the gerrymander—the mapping of districts equal in population to favor the party controlling the legislature.

The House passed a bill in 1967 to require compact and contiguous districts in each state with population deviations among districts no more than 15 per cent above or below the average for each state. The bill got lost in the Senate.

The "inalienable rights" referred to in the preamble to our Constitution are often given away. Not trampled by government, not stolen by foreign nations, not ignored by giant corporations or labor unions—but given away by the people of the United States, given away by unconcern and apathy.

Mystery Of DOIBOCFMMFS– Are You Listening, Wally Hickel?

Memo from Minor Mysteries of Marvelous Marin Department to the Interior Department's Bureau for Better Bureaucratic Bungling (cc to Secretary Wally Hickel): We've found your marine mammal field station. It's alive and well — if somewhat inactive — in Mill Valley.

Since this is the season for thinking about giving money to our friendly federal government, we were browsing through the new numbers book the other day just to see what we're getting for our annual contribution to bigger and better government.

Hark, what's this? "We thought as we ran across the rather portentous announcement of the Marin County phone number of the Department of Interior Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Field Station.

DASHING to the nearest phone to call this new government activity in Marin to see what marvelous thing the government was doing for us now, we got no answer from the DIOBOCFMMFS.

No mind, we thought assuredly as we dialed the number of the Department of Interior Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife Tiburon Marine Lab (listed in your new phone book just under the Department of Interior Bureau of Mines Marine Mineral Technology Center). Surely the DOIBOSFAWTML will know about the DOIBOCFMMFS, we reasoned.

You may have guessed already that it didn't. "That is a puzzle," mused the DOIBOSFAWTML man. He said he would check up on his sister operation and call us back.

WHILE WAITING for him to call back, we whirled away the time by dialing the new listing without success. The next day, the DIOBOSFAWTML man called back to say,"That is a puzzle."

He had, he said, called the Seattle regional office of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Laboratory. "Seattle said they didn't have a field station here," he reported.

A CALL to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., however, revealed that the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Laboratory did indeed have a bona fide paid-up phone number for a field station in Marin. What's more, the phone people said, the bill was paid by the DOIBOCFMML in Seattle. What's even more than that, the phone people continued, the Seattle office had faithfully paid the monthly bill since last September.

Call back to Seattle.

"What a puzzle!" the Seattle Marine Mammal people said.

They did, they said, have a man in Mill Valley named Bernard Lenheim who did work on whales for them intermittently. But still, according to the man at the marine lab in Tiburon, "They were as puzzled as I was."

DETERMINED NOW to solve this mini-mystery of Marin and make sure we taxpayers knew what we were paying for, we started dialing the Mill Valley number of B. H. Lenheim.

Finally he answered and yes, indeed, he did know about the number listed for the COIBOCFMMFS. In fact, that was his house, he said.

Where is this laboratory located? we asked interestedly.

Well, there's not actually a lab, Lenheim said. He does, however, do research on whales brought into area whaling stations during the shaling system.

A LITTLE WHILE later, we wondered why this relatively short-term type of research — after all, even the longest whaling seasonis not very long — should require a year-around phone number.

We tried to call the new number of the Department of Interior Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Field Station in Marin to find out.

But of course there was no answer.

COUNTY COMMENT

'10 Per Centers' Still Figuring In Events Of Decade Later

Fusselman

There were two errors in the column last week which must have confused you somewhat. Here is the way the next to the last paragraph should have read:

"In late February of this year Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell presented some figures to the board which were repeated in this column at the time — just under $20 million (not $30 million as appeared) for the Administration Buidling and the Hall of Justice. With the interest item of $3,242,751 it comes to $24,222,009 (not $28,183,740 as appeared). Then with the figure of $3,761,731 for the Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building project the total is $27,983,740 and when the three-acre exhibit building, which Wright showed in his design plans, is completed it will top $30 million."

In the middle of the typing the "M" type bar seemed to think it was a taxpayer and understandably became weary with the repeated demand for more and more "millions" and balked. The result was a pile-up each time an "m" was needed for a word. Yours truly, struggling to meet a deadline, got a sweat up and goofed the biggest mistake. I don't know who did the other. Sorry, real sorry.

THOSE OF YOU who read "10 and 20 Years Ago" noticed that 10 years ago on April 9, Mr. Wright passed away. This brought to mind an occurence which was checked out for me at the paper. Here is an excerpt from the May 26, 1959 issue:

"The Marin County Board of Supervisors voted 4-1 to continue the architectural contract with the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation on the same basis the county had with the late architect.

"The action means that the foundation will be paid 10 per cent architect's fee. A reduction to 8 per cent had been sought last week by Supervisor William D. Fusselman, and at the time there was an indication that the other board members would go along with him." It goes on to say that I voted no after written statements by me and the principal proponent on the board had been presented, and: "Comments were heard from Harold Stockstad, a structual engineer of . . . Mill Vallley, and Felix Warburg, an architect of . . . Belvedere.

"They both called for a continuation of the contract. 'I think the work is amazingly complete,' Warburg said." (I couldn't get a second upon the death of Mr. Wright, over a month before, to have the board see the plans so as to know how much work had been done.) "Stockstad said that keeping the fee to 10 per cent would mean only a few cents more in taxes."

Stockstad now heads the Fair-Marin group and Warburg was largely instrumental in getting Paul C. Zucker employed as planning director.

THIS IS BEING written Thursday morning. By the time you get your I-J on Friday, the hearing on Zucker's performance as planning director will quite likely be over. Nevertheless, here are a few comments, dating back to his being hired in 1966:

He was 31 years old and had been employed for four years by three professors at Cambridge, Mass. — Adams, Howard and Opperman, who had a contract with the town of Brookline, Mass. This was an old established New England community of about 54,000 population. He then had worked for a few months as an aide to the chairman of the National Capitol Planning Commission — hardly such an impressive background as to pay a man $18,000 for a position which had been paying $14,000.

He has been arrogant and cheeky with both the planning commission and the board of supervisors on numerous occasions, has elbowed into matters that were no concern of his at all, has built up an expensive staff that has been, in the main, making work for itself that rarely reached fruition (the Parkinson Law procedure).

After Friday's hearing, it may be well to sight some specifics.

Meeting Off In Marin City

The monthly meeting of the Marin City Community Services District directors was canceled last night, apparently without notice.

Reached at home, board member Alvin C. Bynum said that the meeting was not held "because of the people didn't show up and some were sick."

The board meetings are scheduled for the third Thursday of each month and are held in the Manzanita Center in Marin City. About six persons showed up for the meeting and waited until 8:30 before leaving.

The meetings are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mill Valley School Workshop Postponed

The workshop originally was scheduled April 26 but has been postponed since April 26 is opening day of the Little League baseball season.

Novato Candidates Ballots Are Listed

In the vote tabulation for the Novato Unified School District trustee candidates in the Independent-Journal on Wednesday, Ronald D. Schenck was erroneously listed as having 1,461 votes. He received 1,521 votes.

The number of votes for John M. Lane was omitted. He received 612 votes.

SAVE ZUCKER — An unidentified supporter of Paul C. Zucker, one of hundreds who crowded into the Civic Center today to rally for the much-criticized planning director, watches sternly the proceedings against him. Zucker's Friends, Foes Crowd Board Hearing

Challenge To Lund Position

By WAT TAKESHITA

The biggest crowd in the history of Marin County government converged on the Civic Center today to blast and defend Planning Director Paul C. Zucker at a public hearing to determine his fate before a board of supervisors which is split almost down the middle.

MAIN FACTIONS

A crowd estimated at 500 persons overflowed into the corridors and the veranda outside the building amid a tense atmosphere that threatened to explode into a minor version of the big quake that rocked the Bay Area 63 years ago today.

Spectators who flocked to the Civic Center reported that every parking stall was filled, and cars were lined up toward Highway 101.

From the outset, it was evident that the main battle would pit developers, unhappy over what they consider Zucker's "arrogance," against conservationists, who look to Zucker as their champion in the defense of the county's environment and natural beauty.

JURY LEADERS

Zucker was accompanied to the hearing by an aide, Albert Solnit, chief of advanced planning.

Among the complainants was Arthur J. Lang, San Rafael civil engineer, who has long criticized the planning department for lack of communication and lack of courtesy.

Two grand jury foremen, Clifford S. Lund of the 1967 jury, and Austin W. Little of the 1968 jury opened their case against Zucker, presenting a series of developers who complained about Zucker's tough attitude toward such developments as Tom E. Nowell's service station and commercial project in Richardson Bay, Burge's drive-in at Ignacio, Wiltshire Towers across the highway from the Civic Center, and Stanley W.

HINTS SURTAX REDUCTION

Nixon Hopeful On Peace; Defends Missile Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon declared today that chances for peace in Vietnam "have significantly improved" since he took office—but added he does not want to raise false hopes that peace is around the corner.

Nixon told a news conference his assessment was based on "a number of developments," but when he listed them, he gave no indication that the Communists have signaled a willingness to move toward settlement.

Instead, he stressed improvement of the capabilities of South Vietnam, Saigon's willingness to accept some compromise in the makeup of a future government, and greater political stability in the South.

He said the latter factors would "give a better opportunity for negotiating room" at the Paris peace conference.

He also said flatly "I am not" considering a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. forces from the war zone.

Nixon's discussion of South Vietnam was marked at the outset by one ironic slip: he twice referred to that nation as South Korea.

For it was Korea, and the downing of the Navy intelligence plane, which seemed uppermost in his mind.

On an issue of major domestic importance, Nixon said the administration intends that the 10 per cent income surtax will be "reduced and removed as soon as we are able to do so."

He gave no indication how soon that would be.

Back on the subject of Vietnam, Nixon said he does not intend to order any reduction in U.S. activity on the battlefield. He said U.S. casualties have decreased because of a reduction in offensive action by the Communists.

He said there is no prospect that U.S. forces can be withdrawn until South Vietnam takes over a greater share of the combat burden, or the Paris peace talks produce progress warranting such a step.

On the question of taxes, Nixon added that he still believes that taxes are too high and still believes—as he contended during his election campaign—that the surtax should be removed as soon as this becomes possible by reason of an end to the Vietnam hostilities or other reasons.

Nixon told questioners that the administration's tax reform package will be sent to Congress next Monday or Tuesday. He said he has already approved the message, and it will contain proposals "of interest to all of you."

On another major point, Nixon said he has no plans to take to the country his case for deployment of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system. Nixon said he believes his news conferences—this was his fifth as President—cover that.

Nixon said his decision for de-

Nixon Orders Flights Resumed With Cover

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — President Richard M. Nixon today ordered resumption of U.S. reconnaissance flights off the North Korean coast and served notice that "they will be protected."

"When planes of the United States or ships of the United States in intelligence gathering, are in international waters or international air space, they are not fair game," the President told a news conference. "They will not be in the future." He declared, "this will be protected. That is not a threat, but a statement of fact."

He said that further U.S. moves as a result of loss of a an unarmed Navy reconnaissance plane, with a crew of 31 to North Korean MIGs "will depend on the circumstances."

U.S. Accuses North Korea Of Calculated Aggression

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) —The United States today accused North Korea of a "calculated act of aggression" in shooting down an American spy plane and told the Communists they must "account for the consequences."

The first face-to-face meeting of U.S. and North Korean officials since the Navy plane went down with 31 mean aboard Tuesday pitted U.S. Air Force Maj. Gen. James B. Knapp against North Korean Maj. Gen. Ri Choon-Sung at this truce village between the two Koreas.

It ended abruptly 42 minutes after it began. Knapp stalked out of the quonset hut meeting with Ri demanding to know: "What was the belonging of the EC121 aircraft? . . . Why do you not tell us the belonging? . . . Tell us the belonging."

Apparently under orders not to debate the incident, Knapp climbed into his car and headed south, his statement delivered. It said the U.S. Navy EC121 reconnaissance plane was well outside North Korean territory, posed no threat to the Communists and was engaged in a "completely legitimate" operation.

"It was not attacking you or preparing to attack you or supporting an attack on you," Knapp's statement said. "The shooting down of this United States plane was not an act of self-defense. It was a calculated act of aggression."

Anti-ROTC Drive Gains At Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Harvard Corporation, one of the troubled university's two governing boards, said today it will abide by a faculty resolution to reduce the university's Reserve Officer Training Corps program to an extra curricular activity without special privileges or facilities. (See also campus unrest roundup, page 7.)

William L. Marbury, a Baltimore, Md., lawyer and senior member of the seven-man corporation, told newsmen he hoped the action will help settle the tension and student strike at the nation's oldest college.

He said that subject to approval by other Harvard faculties, the 385-25 vote of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences will be adopted by the corporation.

That resolution recommends an end to present ROTC contracts "as soon as legally possible" and asks that no new arrangements be made.

"We share the faculty's concern" over meeting the "special interests" of Negro students, Marbury said, adding that when the faculty votes Tuesday on a black studies program, the corporation will then have a chance to approve it.

Abolition of ROTC and creation of a black studies department were two of the eight demands made by the protesters, led by students for a Democratic Society.

Negro Is Candidate For Atlanta Mayor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Negro educator, Dr. Horace E. Tate, announced today he will be a candidate for mayor of Atlanta.

Tate holds a Ph.D. in education administration and has been a school teacher and college professor.

Stanford Militants End Sit-In At Lab

The 600 students who had participated in the occupation of the Applied Electronics Laboratory voted almost unanimously to "temporarily suspend" the protest and leave the building.

Doron Weinberg, one of the protest leaders, said President Kenneth S. Pitzer had agreed to keep the building closed to all but maintenance personnel for one week.

The demonstrators, who marched into the lab April 9 to protest war-related research at Stanford, said they would hold a mass meeting next Friday to consider future tactics—including "reoccupation of a university building."

The university had repeatedly said it would not call outside forces if the protest remained peaceful.

The end of the sit-in came a few hours after the Stanford Judicial Council gave Pitzer emergency powers to cope with the protesters on the 11,300 student campus.

The student-faculty council, which handles campus discipline, agreed unanimously the occupation of the lab was a violation of campus rules on disruption.

Then it paved the way, on a 5-2 vote with two students dissenting, for Pitzer to remove 100 students who have occupied the lab.

Meanwhile, at Pitzer's instigation, questionnaires were mailed yesterday to all of the school's students faculty, asking their views of the Stanford Research Institute, the Menlo Park affiliate to the school that conducts $6.5 million Defense Department research annually.

Key questions inquired about severing the institute completely from the school, as a faculty-student committee recommended this week, or integrating it into the university more fully.

Hayakawa Says Freedom In Peril

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, said today that "academic freedom is in jeopardy from radical elements in the student body and faculty."

He told a news conference that radical students are making "an energetic attempt to suppress freedom of speech."

Hayakawa, whose college has been disturbed by frequent disorders, came to Chicago to speak before the Executives Club. A detail of 10 policemen was assigned to the Palmer House, where the club met.

Missile Launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The Air Force fired a Minuteman II intercontinental missile down the western test range today in a test of system components.

Reagan Favors Nixon Policy

BERKELEY (AP) — Gov Ronald Reagan said today that "I think most people in this country are going to be gratified" by President Richard M. Nixon's decision to provide protection for reconnaissance planes in the Sea of Japan.

"If there is not some decision made that makes the enemy realize it cannot take place again, there will be another one," Reagan said, referring to the recent shooting down of an American plane.

Reagan was attending a session of the University of California regents.

Delinquent Tax Tab Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total of delinquent federal taxes climbed past $1.5 billion last year, Sen. John J. Williams told the Senate today.

That figure does not include another $563 million written off as uncollectible or abated in the same year.

The delinquencies of $1.58 billion represents an increase of $190 million over 1967, Williams said.

Streamlining Plea Sounded By Rafferty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State schools chief Max Rafferty urged today a major overhaul of the Department of Education which he said would give California the most streamlined education operation in the world.

Rafferty spoke in support of a State Board of Education reorganization plan that has been in the works for six years — and been put on ice by the Reagan administration.

Speaking of the plan, he said, "No other state is doing this."

The plan would establish three new divisions in the education department. More importantly, Rafferty said, it would enable department personnel to cut across the entire spectrum of education problems and enter "the little antiseptic compartmentalized divisions" that now exist.

The board plan, adopted last December, represents a compromise between recommendations from a task force appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan and a management study by the Arthur D. Little Co. Rafferty warned that unless the plan is adopted, the six-year $260,000 investment in studying reorganization "would go down the drain."

The Department of Education requested $900,000 for 55 new positions to implement the plan, but the Department of Finance refused to include the program in the 1969-70 budget.

Rafferty told a joint legislative committee the state will receive $1.8 million in 1969-70 from federal funds for reorganization.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Royal Birth

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Princess Michiko of Japan gave birth to a princess at the Imperial Household Hospital today the Imperial Household Agency announced.

The agency said the princess and the child are doing well.

The newlyborn princess is the first daughter and the third child for Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko.

Hits Politics

CASTELLON DE LA PLANA, Spain (AP)—The Roman Catholic primate of Spain warned his priests and bishops yesterday to leave political activity to the laymen.

Vicente Cardinal Tarancon, archbishop of Toledo, told a congregation at nearby Villareal: "The priest, in the temporal field, has something to say; so has the hierarchy on the political, social and economic order. But the hierarchy and the priest have a sacred mission, and it is not their function to mix into temporal things."

Pike Foundation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James A. Pike, former Episcopal bishop of California, has formed a foundation to "rehabilitate" clergymen who decide to leave the church as he did.

"We want them to land on their feet, if they leave, or to regain their orientation if they stay inside the church," Pike said in announcing the formation of the Foundation for Religious Transition.

Pike told a news conference yesterday at the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles he was not planning to start a new church or lure clergymen away from existing ones.

Turn Violent

MANILA (AP) — A handful of Filipino youths, part of a large group demonstrating peacefully, turned violent last night during a protest rally before the American Embassy. They hurled lighted torches and rocks at the mission's guardhouse and consular section, and burned a U.S. flag.

Police estimated the demonstrators numbered about 1,500, part of a splinter group from a crowd twice that size which had marched earlier before Congress and the Presidential Palace. The demonstrators were protesting the presence of U.S. military bases in the Philippines, and demanding the recall of Philcag, a Philippine civic action-combat battalion, from Vietnam.

Claim Settled

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the United States agreed today to pay $5 million each in settlement of Micronesian claims for World War II damages.

The U.S. Embassy said Charge d'Affaires David L. Osborn and Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi signed an agreement concerning the Pacific islands administered by the United States. A note attached to the agreement gives Japan the right to salvage Japanese vessels sunk in Micronesian waters during World War II.

Tentative Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American Airways and the AFL-CIO Transport Worker Union have reached tentative agreement only a short time before a strike deadline, the National Mediation Board announced.

Details of the agreement were withheld until it is submitted for ratification by the union's 15,000 members. The union was seeking 30 cents an hour in wage increases over three years.

The agreement was announced shortly before the midnight strike deadline yesterday. The deadline was extended 24 hours the night before.

Troubles Close Peninsula Prep

SAN MATEO (AP)—Because of a false fire alarm, classes were dismissed again yesterday at San Mateo High School after being interrupted the previous day by fistfights between Negroes and whites.

Principal Paul Bowers ordered the school reopened today and called a general assembly "so that all students will be able to ask whatever questions they wish in order to resolve current problems."

There are 185 Negroes among the school's 1,825 students.

Pueblo Verdict Not Yet Reached

HONOLULU (AP) — Dozens of Navy specialists are still poring over the 20 volumes of testimony piled up during the long court of inquiry into the USS Pueblo seizure, the Navy says.

A Navy spokesman says an official finding will not be issued for several days, despite a radio news report in California that the verdict had been reached.

"Looking over all this takes time." The spokesman at the U.S. Pacific Fleet headquarters here said yesterday. "We will warn the news media well in advance of an announcement."

KFWB, a Westinghouse broadcasting station in Los Angeles, reported Monday that the Navy had cleared Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucker of any guilt in the loss of his intelligence ship to the North Koreans.

A First-Hand Look At Suez Canal Crisis

By DEREK LAMBERT

EL QUANTARA, Israel Occupied Territory (London Express) — An Egyptian sniper yesterday slammed home to me the reality behind the official communiques which over the past few weeks have told the story of the Arab-Israeli gun battle across the Suez Canal.

A bullet whipped into a concrete pillar six inches from my left ear, slivers of concrete sang around the shell-scarred observation post and an American photographer was cut about the face.

I drove by night across the Sinai Desert with other correspondents to view the canal battleground as the Big Four representatives prepared to resume their talks at the United Nations on the Middle East conflict.

At the ghost town of El Quantara, evacuated by the Israelis after continuous Arab bombardment, a senior army spokesman gave his assessment of the sniping and artillery duels across the waterway.

He believed, he said, that it was the Egyptian intention to warm up the area to remind the four powers that a major explosion could happen any day, but a full-scale crossing of the line by the Egyptians was impossible.

He added: "From a military point of view we have never had it better."

He said there were rumors that the Egyptians were starting to evacuate Port Said and Port Fuad and told of Egyptians claims that 250-300 Israelies had been killed since March 24. "We have lost only nine or 10 dead," he said.

Death Penalty Is Overturned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The death sentence was overturned yesterday for a Los Angeles man convicted of the fatal stabbing a housewife.

The California Supreme Court ruled prospective jurors were questioned improperly in the trial of Jerry Lee Goodridge for the murder of Donna Gay Scheibler, whose body was found in her home Oct. 29, 1966.

But the court, in an automatic appeal, upheld Goodridge's conviction. He will now receive a new penalty trial.

Pacification Team Caught In Cong Path

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong killed at least 51 South Vietnamese and wounded 93 yesterday in two battles a few hours and 12 miles apart in the Mekong Delta, reports from the area said today.

In the first battle, Viet Cong troops before dawn attacked an infantry post manned by about 100 militiamen and a team of civilian pacification workers, 12 miles northwest of Bac Lieu and 125 miles south of Saigon.

Field reports said the Viet Cong overran the post, killing 19 militiamen and six pacification workers and wounding 19. In addition, seven militiamen and three pacification workers were missing, and AP photographer Henri Huet reported from Bac Lieu that there was no word of the families of the soldiers, who customarily live in or near such posts.

Reinforcements from the South Vietnamese 21st Division reached the post about dawn but the Viet Cong had pulled out, leaving the bodies of 11 of their men, South Vietnamese officials said.

About 12 miles to the northwest, another militia company ran into Viet Cong troops during the afternoon while searching for 75mm howitzers that had shelled the nearby town of Vi Thanh. Helicopters rushed in two battalions from the South Vietnamese 21st Division, and the battle raged until about 3 a.m. today.

About midnight one government battalion tried to assault the Viet Cong's command post on a river bank, but eight men were killed when the enemy set off pellet-spewing Claymore mines sowed in three rows around the command bunker.

U.S. F100 Super Sabre jets attacked the Viet Cong positions with bombs and napalm. Tracers from the enemy's .50-caliber machine guns arched into the sky as the planes attacked.

A sweep of the area after dawn produced 21 enemy bodies, but 26 government troops were killed and 71 were wounded.

Prosecutor Asks Stiffer Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The district attorney's office is going over the head of a Superior Court judge who granted probation to a man convicted of rape and robbery.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas Norman asked the District Court of Appeal yesterday for a stiffer sentence for William August Morris, 22, who was sentenced by Judge Bernard Glickfeld to 52 weekends in jail and three years probation.

Judge Glickfeld, who said the purpose of law is "not retribution but rehabilitation," said Morris had a good work record in an apprentice program.

Morris and two companions were accused of kidnaping a cocktail lounge waitress as she got off a bus Nov. 20 and taking her to Rockaway Beach in San Mateo County where she was raped six times.

One companion, Kenneth Beasley, 19, was given an indeterminate sentence at a California Youth Authority facility. The other, Rickie Jackson, 22, was sentenced to a minimum of six months in state prison.

Bomb Threat Hoax

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bomb threat mailed to Mayor Sam Yorty's office yesterday proved unfounded, said police and no explosives were found.

Yorty was in New York.

Soviet Naval Threat Seen

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The commander of NATO forces in Southern Europe said today that an increase in Soviet naval strength in the Mediterranean in the past week, including the addition of more submarines, has created "a real problem" for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

U.S. Adm. Horacio Rivero told a news conference that the Soviet Union "may be preparing to conduct a major exercise" in the Mediterranean. He said the Soviet ships undoubtedly will observe the big NATO sea and air maneuvers that get under way Sunday.

Rivero said Soviet naval combat strength in the area is "at an all time high." He noted that 50 or more Soviet ships are now operating in the Mediterranean, and that there were more than 60 last September. But he said the number of combat vessels in the present lineup is higher than ever before.

Novato English Teachers Ask Lighter Load

Novato teachers have asked that English classloads in the upper grades be limited to 125 students starting with next school year and reduced to 110 over a five-year period.

This request came in a meeting Wednesday between the negotiating council and school administrators.

George P. De Tuncq, American Federation of Teachers Association representative on the council, said that English was a vital skill and that lower total class loads would result in better learning for the students.

OTHER CLASSES

Gregg W. De Gear, English teacher at Sinaloa Junior High School, said it could be accomplished by a tightening up of other classes when there were only a few students in them.

Lowering of the class loads in English could only be accomplished by the addition of one teacher at each of the two high schools and three junior high schools, according to Paul C. Mobley, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction. This would cost about $50,000 additional to the district each year, Mobley said.

Supt. James G. Bunker asked that the request be qualified by the addition of the phrase "within the framework of the district's financial ability."

SPENDING MONEY

S. Thompson Walker, science teacher at San Jose Junior High School countered by questioning the spending money on playfield improvement at San Jose Junior High School. (The playing field is being improved with money from the federal government for capital improvements in districts with military bases.) Walker also suggested cutting back clerical help to hire the English teachers.

Bunker said he was not willing to place the request in the proposed preliminary budget when it was submitted, but would consider it as a high priority item to be considered along with such things as additional instructional supplies, to be included if revenue permitted.

De Tuncq also asked that junior high school teachers be relieved of supervision duties as are high school teachers. Bunker suggested a subcommittee be named to study this. This subcommittee should include all three junior high school principals, he said. The committee was not named at the meeting.

Novato Rezoning Freeze Favored

The Novato Downtown Study Committee has endorsed the recommendation of the city planning commission for a moratorium on rezoning and use permits for new building, according to City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The recommendation would limit use permits for new businesses in the commercially zoned areas to one year and put off major rezonings in the downtown study area for five months.

The proposal will go before the Novato City Council at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The council had requested the committee and commission recommendation on such a moratorium while Sedway and Cooke, planning consultants make a $30,020 federally financed study of the downtown area.

Hub Chamber Sets License Views

San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce directors agreed yesterday to recommend to the San Anselmo City Council that business license fees be set at a minimum of $15 and a maximum of $200 per year, board president Jeremiah V. Sullivan reported. The current fees are set at $10 minimum and $50 maximum.

The board also decided to recommend to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that Paul C. Zucker, whose job as county planning director is being scrutinized by the supervisors, be retained in his post.

Petaluma Education, City Vote June 10

The June 10 Petaluma municipal election will include two candidates for mayor, nine candidates for three city council seats and six nominees for board of education posts.

Candidates for mayor include the incumbent, Helen Putnam, 59, of 900 B Street. Mrs. Putnam, teacher-principal, will seek her second four-year term.

Opposing her will be councilman Robert S. Lipman, 31, of 1217 West Street, who is completing his first four-year council term. Lipman is a public relations consultant.

In the council election, Phillip L. Joerger, 43, of 1 Jensen Drive, is the only incumbent seeking re-election. Joerger, also completing his first council term, is a businessman.

Other council nominees include Lawrence R. Bernauer, 28, of 842 St. Francis Drive, grocery store owner; Robert A. Brunner, 31, of 212 Seventh Street, an insurance agent; Rodney L. Cameron, 33, of 1537 Lauren Drive, a computer operator; Lawrence E. Forney, 56, of the Petaluma Hotel, ex-prize fighter and retired Navy man; Fred V. Mattei, 53, of 23 La Cresta Drive, a merchant; Donald P. Petro, 36, of 1300 Glenwood Drive, a construction office manager; James R. Reed, 35, of 962 McNear Avenue, an electronics production manager; and Eulon O. Stanley, 55, of 1432 East Madison Street, a salesman.

All three incumbents will seek to retain their seats on the board of education. They are Sol Fishman, 50, of 1265 Dutch Lane, Penngrove, a businessman; Dr. William Kortum, 41, of 180 Ely Road, a veterinarian; and Clay Thompson, 43, of 610 Petaluma Boulevard North, a hatchery owner.

Challenging them will be Alfred N. Brengle, 26, of 531 Virginia Drive, a teacher; Arthur Lafranchi, 32, of 12 Parkside Terrace, an attorney; and John K. Murphy, 34, of 102 Seventh Street, a technical cost estimator.

The Musk Oxen Are Thriving Once Again

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The musk oxen, which became extinct from the Arctic Slope more than 100 years ago, are thriving again. A herd of 34 imported from Greenland and put on Nunivak Island in the Bering Sea in 1930 has grown to 750.

Gov. Keith Miller's office said yesterday 48 animals have been transferred from the island to Barter Island in the Arctic Ocean—their ancestral habitat—so that winter rangeland at Nunivak won't be overgrazed.

Take-Home Food Business Opens In San Rafael

A new "take-home" food business, Mr. Scalopini, will open tomorrow at 5 p.m. at 508 Third Street, San Rafael.

Specializing in veal scalopini, fried chicken and chicken cacciatora, Mr. Scalopini is owned by Mitchell Vezilich of Oakland and Peter Bozovich of San Francisco. Vezilich retired last July from Veneto's Restaurant in San Francisco. Bozovich has cooked for the TraveLodge chain of motels.

Business hours will be from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except Mondays. Some tables have been installed for eating on the premises.

Reed Officials Decry 'Taxpayers' Revolt'

Defeat of the Reed School District's proposed 50 cent tax rate increase in Tuesday's elections have been attributed by Reed School District board Vice Chairman Thomas S. Price to a taxpayers' revolt.

Supt. H. Joe Edgington said he was extremely disappointed and that the staff would have to make budget cuts in "almost every area . . ."

"There is no question that class sizes will have to be increased significantly," Edgington said.

He added that the district "has no other option" but to reduce the program and "the quality of education . . . will suffer as a result."

Noting that incumbents Alyce Farkas and Charles Patterson were defeated in the election, Price said he hoped the new board members "will approach the district's problems constructively and be willing to give the time and effort necessary to help Reed become even a better district."

Low bids for carpeting and cabinets for Reed School were accepted by the district board at their meeting Wednesday.

A low bid of $9,221 submitted by Western Contract Furnishers of San Francisco was accpeted for 1,300 yards of carpeting. Kent Manufacturing Co. of San Rafael $7,990 for 40 cabinet units.

Trustees also hired Leland Spenser, vice principal of Del Mar School, as summer school principal at a salary of $1,200.

Reed School District board also:

ENROLLMENT — Heard that 19 students have left the district since January.

PURCHASE — Authorized the purchase of an accounting machine from the NCR Cash Register Co. of Novato for $4,291.

SPECIAL MEETING — Set a special meeting for 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bel Aire School to discuss the new Reedland Woods School, salary negotiations for 7969-70 school year and how to establish better communication with district residents.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Cynthia Tippett, second grade teacher at Tiburon School; Robert Goldstein, fifth-sixth grade, Reed School; Wallace Thompson, fourth-fifth grade, Reed Schol; Carol Farrior, first grade, Bel Aire School and Ann Burke at Granada School; Douglas Pollard, fourth-fifth grades, Reed School; Robert Young, Granada custodian and Charles O'Neal, Del Mar custodian.

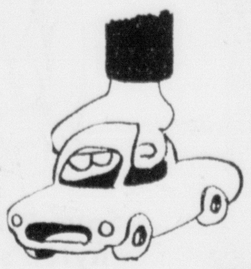
LEAVES OF ABSENCE — Granted leaves of absence to Christopher Bogios, half-time instrumental music instructor, Del Mar School; Helen Garvin, second grade teacher, Bel Aire School; James Mumma, fifth-sixth grade teacher, Bel Aire School; and Theodore McMillan, math-science teacher at Del Mar School.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Allen Kendall as a Gardener and Wayne Burke as custodian.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Liens Insure Honoring Debts



A "lien" is a security interest a creditor has on your property. If the debt is not paid, the creditor may sell your property to pay off the debt.

Many liens are voluntary. You can mortgage your house. Or you can buy appliances or a car "on time" and give the creditor a lien on your purchase. A written document spells out the terms of the lien. These are "contractual liens."

Other liens are involuntary. Here are some examples:

The repairman for your home, auto, or appliance can place a lien on the property he repaired until his labor and materials are paid for. On real property a lien must be filed within 90 days.

Some liens require court suit to enforce the lien. The property owner can challenge the lien in court.

Other liens may be enforced by a public sale after publishing a notice of sale in a newspaper.

On items such as cars and appliances, the mechanic has the right to keep possession of the item until paid. Notices for enforcement of the lien must be given the owner.

Autos often have a legal owner as well as a registered owner. The mechanic who claims a lien of over $200 for repair work must get the consent of the legal owner.

Laborers in specific industries also have certain kinds of liens — loggers for their wages, drycleaners on clothes cleaned, jewelers on repair work.

An innkeeper has a lien on your personal property kept in the hotel or inn, to insure payment of the bill. The hotel has the right to enter the premises to enforce payment.

Apartment owners also have a lien for unpaid rent on some possessions of their tenants. But a tenant may claim many exemptions. Often household furniture, tools, clothes and garaged autos are exempt.

Bankers have liens on bank accounts for unpaid debts to the bank.

Attachment and garnishment liens are commonly used to force payment of a contract debt. The creditor files a court action to seize or garnish some asset of the debtor. In "attachment" the sheriff holds the asset until the end of the court action.

In "garnishment" the garnishee, usually the debtor's employee or his bank, holds funds owed to the debtor. If the creditor wins, he can then use the asset to collect his judgment.

Locomotive Leaves Scares Burglar

CREW, England (UPI)—The powerful locomotive thundered out of the station after the signal turned green and disappeared into the darkness. But the six passenger cars and a string of mail cars that made up the rest of the train remained behind.

Someone at Crew Station had forgotten to couple them to the engine. The oversight was discovered about 20 miles away.

Bus Driver Fined For 'Slow' Driving

SUTTON, England (UPI)—Bus driver Bill Mordey was fined four pounds ($9.60) for driving too slowly—not faster than seven miles an hour.

Mordey said he was just trying to keep to his schedule. But the judge ruled he was "driving without reasonable consideration."

Bar Fine To Offset Suspension Order

SACRAMENTO (CNS) -- The state department of Alcoholic Beverage Control announced yesterday it has accepted a $486 penalty payment in lieu of suspension of the on-sale general liquor license held by Geraldine and Lino Nardi, operating the Pago Pago at 803 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

The establishment was charged on Feb. 26 with permitting a bartender to remain on duty in an intoxicated condition, and two counts of possession of alcoholic beverages that were adulterated.

Scarce Hides

NEW YORK (AP) — If you've ever wondered why you see a limited number of wallets made of elephant hide when shopping, the reason is that elephants are never killed to obtain leather. According to elephant-wallet specialist Enger Kress, availability is determined by the death rate of elephants from natural causes or conservation-controlled harvests. The current supply is approximately 1,000 square feet per month.

Lots Of Sweetness— 50 Tons Of Sugar

The office called for bids recently to supply the fort with sugar for April, May and June. The bid invitation was for 50 tons.

PLANE

The propeller-driven EC121 was shot down by North Korean jets (Monday, Washington time). Following the incident all such flights off Korea were canceled.

Nixon said both U.S. and Soviet radar sightings definitely established that the U.S. plane was "approximately 90 miles" at sea at the time of the attack —far beyond the 12-mile limit claimed by North Korea.

"This attack was unprovoked, it was deliberate, it was without warning," Nixon said in a grave voice that seemed husky with emotional tension.

Nixon said the reconnaissance flights were immediately suspended after the EC121 was lost but that he had ordered such missions resumed. He emphasized the few flights would be made with protection but declined to say what type of protection was provided.

The President refused to explain what he meant by protection of reconnaissance planes and of ships like the Pueblo which was seized by North Korea in January 1968.

Warships in the vicinity of a cruising spy vessel could be one answer to surface attack by North Korean forces in the future.

He stressed that the decision to continue flights with protection was not necessarily the "final" U.S. step. "Our actions in this matter will be determined by what happens in the future," he said.

Nixon also said the plane incident was different from the Pueblo affair because there was some question for a time where the U.S. spy ship was at the time of its capture by North Korean gunboats.

"There was no uncertainty whatever where this plane was," he said. And he added, "There is no question of what they claim is their air space."

North Korea claims only 12 miles out to sea, so the plane was never within more than 28 miles of North Korean territorial limits, he said.

"It was a completely surprise attack," he said, and did not give time for protective action which he said he would have taken had there been time.

Asked about the Soviet role in the incident, he said it was one of assistance in helping looking for survivors.

Returning to his pledge to provide future flights with protection, Nixon said, "When planes of the United States or ships of the U.S. are in international air space, they are not fair game, they will not be fair game in the future. That was the basis for this interim decision."

Prior to Nixon's press conference, the Pentagon said the search in the Sea of Japan for survivors has been unsuccessful.

Meanwhile the U.S destroyer Tucker received from the Soviet destroyer Vdoknovenny some debris of the plane the Soviet ship had recovered in the Sea of Janan.

It included a 20-man rubber lifeboat, three leather jackets, a parachute, two exposure suits and some aircraft seats which the Tucker was taking to Sasebo, Japan.

Already aboard the Tucker were the bodies of two members of the 31-man crew, the only bodies recovered so far.

Taylor's developments on the Strawberry Peninsula.

Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. questioned the role of Lund, who was finance chairman for Supervisor Louis H. Barr, the supervisor who promised to fire Zucker during his campaign for supervisor last year.

Wornum wanted to know if Lund were speaking as an individual. "You were finance chairman for Mr. Baar's campaign, and Mr. Baar said he wanted to fire Mr. Zucker. So as an individual, you'd be biased."

Arrigoni noted that the 1967 grand jury's official report said that "hearings were held . . . and everything appears to be resolved to the satisfaction of all concerned." So, why was new testimony being introduced today, Arrigoni wanted to know.

"You appear now as a foreman of a long dead grand jury, is that it?" asked Arrigoni.

Lund replied he is not sure of the legal status of his 1967 grand jury, but he was testifying at the invitation of the supervisors, which met in closed session last Tuesday to consider Zucker's firing.

Richardson Bay developer Nowell declared he was "appalled" by "Zucher's actions on at least two occasions. One was when Zucker appealed to the supervisors a service station which had been approved by Zucker's own planning commission. Another was when Zucker attended a meeting of a conservation group driving a county car and proceeded "to tear down the county's official position" on Richardson Bay.

Robert Roberts, Novato developer, charged that in processing Marin Highlands subdivision, Zucker had added a condition to the development plans without notifying the developer beforehand.

Ronald L. Pardini, former official of Permabilt Construction, charged that on one occasion Zucker removed himself as the county planning director and spoke up as a private citizen against a development in Lucas Valley. "Never in my life have I run into a situation where the director would step down and argue as a private citizen," said Pardini.

Lund, speaking for David P. Dean, architect for Burge's Drive-in in Ignacio, charged that restrictions put up by Zucker has forced Burge's to close down. Lund argued that these restrictions are keeping commercial and industrial development out of Marin, and thus forcing taxes to increase because of lack of a broad tax base.

Zucker's supporters did not have a chance to speak this morning, but their presence was documented by prepared statements and placards announcing "Support Zucker."

Former Supervisor Peter H. Behr, one of the supporters of Zucker, said Tiburon was backing the 34-year-old planning director, and the Sausalito City Council was also considering similar support.

Rallying to Zucker's support were about 50 telegrams that poured into the Civic Center, and letters from Gallinas Village Improvement Association, San Anselmo City Council, Marin Council for Civic Affairs and other orgainzations.

The supervisors were believed divided 2-2, with Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato in the swing position.

The hearing showed signs of continuing into the late hours tonight, with Gnoss stating he was "willing to stay all night."

Camp Fire leader

OBITUARIES

Mary F. Fiedler Dies At 67

Mary F. Fiedler, 67, retired Camp Fire Girls executive who lived in Marin County many years, died today in a local hospital after a long illness.

Miss Fiedler, who was born in Ottumwa, Iowa, moved to San Rafael about 1946 and lived there until 1966, when she retired and moved to Rossmoor in Walnut Creek.

A graduate of Northwestern University, she began work with the Camp Fire Girls in 1926 as council director in Minneapolis, Minn. She later served in Des Moines, Iowa and then Berkeley.

In 1946 she became area director for California, Utah, Nevada, Hawaii and Arizona for the youth group, a position she held until her retirement.

While living in San Rafael, Miss Fiedler helped organize the Zonta Club of Marin County and served as president. She was also a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael and served on the vestry of the church.

She was a member of the National Camp Fire Girls and the National Association of Social Workers.

After moving to Walnut Creek, Miss Fiedler belonged to the Church of the Resurrection in Pleasant Hill and the Rossmoor Women's Club.

She is survived by two sisters, Lydia Fiedler of Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. Benner Criley of Elizabethtown, Pa., and a brother, Frank G. Fiedler of Ottumwa, Iowa.

Private funeral will be tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

A memorial service will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Church of the Resurrection in Pleasant Hill.

The family prefers contributions to local Camp Fire Girls organizations or favorite charities.

NIXON

ployment of a limited missile defense system was not based on politics, but what he considered best for the nation.

On another domestic issue, Nixon said he would "enthusiastically support" the direct popular election of the president if Congress approved such a constitutional amendment.

But he told his nationally broadcast news conference that he doubts whether this plan could win a three-fourths majority of the state for ratification. He said his own choice is the proportional electoral system.

Any one of several new proposals would be preferable to the existing system, Nixon said, and would get his support if approved by the House and Senate.

But he expressed the view that the direct vote, which the House Judiciary Committee is expected to endorse next week, stands "far less chance to get the requisite number of states to support it."

Under the plan preferred by Nixon, each state's delegation to the Electoral College would be divided by some formula approximating the division of the popular vote in that state.

Nixon brought up himself, since he wasn't asked, the U.S. view of the government shakeup in Czechoslovakia, with the replacement of Communist Party chief Alexander Dubcek by Kremlin-line Gustav Husak.

Nixon said the Soviet Union is aware of U.S. disapproval of the move. He said Americans and people all over the free world see this as perhaps the final phase in "the great tragedy of the Czech people," who sought to liberalize their Communist government.

MARY E. LAYTON

Funeral was held today for Mary E. Layton, 89, of Sebastopol, who died Wednesday after a long illness. Burial was at Sebastopol Cemetery.

She is survived by two sons, Ernest Layton of Petaluma and Leslie Layton of Santa Rosa; and three daughters, Mrs. Joe E. Gallemore of Sebastopol and Berniece Bodie and Veda Layton, both of St. Helena.

GORDON CARRIER

Memorial service for Gordon L. Carrier, 24, of 471 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, will be at 1 p.m. Sunday at the post chapel (Building 130) of the Presido of San Francisco.

Carrier, a student at College of Marin, was swept out to sea off the rocks of Fort Cronkhite Saturday. A search failed to turn up any trace of the body.

Carrier was the son of retired Maj. and Mrs. Roland C. Carrier of Mill Valley and had lived in Marin the past nine years.

JOHN FORSTER

Requiem Mass for John F. Forster of Mill Valley will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley. Burial will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapels in Mill Valley.

Forster died Wednesday at a local hospital following a short illness. He was 67.

Born in Los Angeles, he had lived in Mill Valley for the past 13 years at 31 Bay Vista Drive. A retired salesman, he previously was employed by the Cal-Sweep Co. of San Jose.

He is survived by his wife, Madeleine R. Forster of Mill Valley; three daughters, Sister Lorraine Marie, JMJ, of Arequipa, Peru, Mrs. John Weisenberg of Costa Mesa, Orange County, and Theresa F. Stimpson of Burbank. Also two sons, Juan F. Forster of Guatemala City, Guatemala, and James A. Forster of Rialto, San Bernadino County; a stepson, Raynolds Johnson of Los Angeles; 18 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

CLARE ARGALL

Clare W. Argall, 42, of 336 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, died yesterday at a local hospital following an illness of about six weeks.

She was the wife of Frank G. Argall, loan officer with the Franciscan Savings and Loan in Novato.

A native of San Francisco, she was the daughter of the late Clarence W. Morris, a San Francisco Superior Court judge for 25 years. She attended Dominican College of San Rafael and had lived in the Bay Area all her life, the last four year in Marin.

Survivors are her husband; two sons, Matthew and Grier Argall, both of the home; her stepmother, Mrs. Leola Morris of San Rafael, and two sisters, Billye Grier of San Francisco and Jacqulene Burmeister of San Mateo.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Dominic's Church, San Francisco, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Godeau Funeral Home, San Francisco.

GEORGE WHITTELL

REDWOOD CITY — (UPI) — Millionaire sportsman and financier George B. Whittell, who once owned virtually all of Lake Tahoe's Nevada shore, died yesterday at the age of 87.

Whittell, the scion of a pioneer San Francisco family, once kept lions and elephants on his vast estates at Woodside and Lake Tahoe. He was often in court defending his animals against visitors who said they were mauled. He once set a pack of dogs on process servers at Woodside. Whittell eventually sold one of his best Lake Tahoe frontage to the state of Nevada for a park.

He served as a volunteer in the American Ambulance Unit in Italy during World War I, later transferring to the U. S. Army with rank of captain. During the 1920s, he was often described as a "millionaire playboy."

He married twice. His first marriage, to Josephine Cunningham of the Floradora Sextet, ended in divorce. In 1919, he married Elia Pascal, his only survivor.

Sirhan Penalty Trial Expected To Be Brief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan is guilty of first-degree murder for assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Now, the same jury that convicted him must decide whether he lives or dies.

The penalty phase of Sirhan's trial begins Monday and is expected to last no more than a day or two. The jury will choose one of two sentences: life in prison or death in the gas chamber. A life sentence precludes parole for at least seven years.

Unknown until he murdered the 42-year-old presidential candidate last June, Sirhan tried—even after the first-degree verdict yesterday—to put testimony about the Arab-Israeli conflict into the court record.

Sirhan, passionately partisan to the Arab cause, said his love for Kennedy turned to hate when he decided the New York senator was pro-Israel.

Defense counsel Grant B. Cooper asked to bring witnesses representing Arab countries to the penalty phase "to show the surrounding circumstances" of Sirhan's youth in war-torn Palestine "so the jury can understand the situation and understand his frame of mind more fully."

The defense is allowed to bring out background and other mitigating circumstances during the penalty phase.

But the state argued that such witnesses as Cooper mentioned —none knows Sirhan—would have no more relevance to the trial than experts on World War II or the Korean conflict. Judge Herbert V. Walker denied Cooper's motion.

In Taiyebeh, Occupied Jordan, the father of Sirhan today swore "revenge on American politicians" if his son is executed.

"The revenge won't be in words," Bishara Sirhan declared. He did not elaborate.

"I accept the fact that my son killed Senator Kennedy," he said. "But Senator Kennedy was to blame. He provoked my son by threatening to supply arms to the Middle East which would have caused the death of thousands, and the displacement of many more."

"My son did well," said the 55-year-old Arab.

"Many Americans have come to my house and told me they were happy to get rid of Kennedy," he added.

Dead GI's Mother Takes Stand In Court-Martial

FORT ORD (UPI) — The mother of a soldier who was shot to death by a guard at the San Francisco Presidio stockade testified briefly yesterday at the trial of 14 GI prisoners charged with mutiny for a sit-down demonstration.

Mrs. Ginger Bunch, 38, Dayton, Ohio, was called by the defense to testify about the mental condition of Pvt. Richard Bunch when she last saw him.

She identified a suicide note written by her son, but was not allowed to give any other testimony on grounds it had no relation to the demonstration by 27 inmates at the Presidio stockade last Oct. 14.

The defense has contended they were protesting conditions at the stockade and the shooting of Bunch three days before the demonstration. It claims Bunch committed suicide by purposely drawing the fire of the guard.

Eight of the 27 defendants already have been convicted of mutiny and sentenced to terms ranging from nine months to 16 years. Two are under medical care, and three have escaped from the stockade.

Two of the 14 soldiers presently on trial also testified yesterday.

Pvt. Michael Marino, 21, Vacaville, said he was repeatedly accused of being a subversive while stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., because he wrote a letter advocating peace and was caught reading "underground" papers.

Earlier, Pvt. Roy Pulley, 19, Clear Lake, said he didn't remember how the demonstration was organized or who directed it. He said the defendants discussed their grievances the night before, and when "I saw the other people go, I went."

Guilty Decision In Morals Case

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday found Robert Berg, 42, of San Anselmo guilty of lewd and lascivious acts with a child.

A second charge of sex perversion involving a child was dismissed.

Judge Haley decided the case after reviewing the transcript of the preliminary hearing. Both Berg and the district attorney's office had waived a jury trial.

Yesterday the judge appointed three psychiatrists to determine whether Berg is a mentally disturbed sex offender. He set May 26 for hearing their reports and sentencing.

Classes Shuffled By Hub Trustees

Shifts of several classes in the San Anselmo School District for the 1969-70 school year were approved last night by the board of trustees.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported the fourth grade at Yolansdale School will be moved to Isabel Cook School. The change makes Yolansdale a primary school, Parodi reported. Students attending Yolansdale already switch to Isable Cook for fifth and sixth grades.

The educationally handicapped primary group now at Brookside School will be moved to Yolansdale and the educationally handicapped fourth, fifth and sixth grades now at Isabel Cook will be switched to Brookside, Parodi said.

The changes in the educationally handicapped classes will permit those youngsters to mingle with other students their own ages, Parodi said.

He reported there have been no objections to the changes.

San Anselmo School District Board Also:

TRUSTEE — Appointed and seated housewife Mary Helen Olive to replace Robert W. Corlett who resigned. Mrs. Olive was the nonincumbent who received the most votes in Tuesday's election.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Appointed Richard B. Judd, principal at Wade Thomas School, and Donald L. Shaw, principal at Red Hill Intermediate School, as joint principals of summer school with the $800 salary to be split between them.

REORGANIZATION — Appointed Mrs. Olive and Trustee Cornelia B. Busse to study suggestions for the County Committee on School District Reorganization.

MATHEMATICS — Approved an application to individualize the mathematics program through the use of a math inquiry center under a National Defense Education Act program. The project will cost $3,199, to be split by NDEA and the district.

PHILOSOPHY — Learned the final report of the educational specifications committee studying district philosophy and goals will be presented at 7:30 p.m. May 20 at Red Hill Intermediate School.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Charles G. Evans, school psychologist, effective April 30 because he is moving to the Midwest; Nancy Schwartz, second grade teacher at Brookside, Laurie Lewis, kindergarten teacher at Yolansdale and Barbara Jo Scales, second grade teacher at Isabel Cook, all effective at the end of the year.

LEAVES — Denied a request for a leave of absence from Marilyn Hurt, second grade teacher at Brookside, because she had been on leave in 1961-62 and 1967-68; granted requests for a leave from Margaret Ridge who plans to attend graduate school, and Susan McBride and Kathleen Cluse for personal reasons.

PERSONNEL — Hired Sharon Hammond at a salary of $7,348 and Louella Lamb at $8,122, both for Brookside; Philip W. Neff at $7,967 and Linda Rowe at $8,122, both for Sleepy Hollow, and Mary Waters at $6,961. Parodi said all salaries are based on the existing salary schedule and subject to change if salaries are increased.

NEGOTIATIONS — Agreed to meet with the teachers' negotiation committee at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Red Hill School.

BLACK HISTORY — Authorized in-service credit for teachers who take an Afro-American history and culture course to be sponsored by the Marin Committee for Fair Play.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden, trustee, was absent.

U.C. Regents Tackling The Money Crisis

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California regents were told today that a $250 million bond issue plus tuition or new student fees may be the only solution to a growing money crisis.

The nine-campus university's governing board also prepared to review a controversial proposal that would give regents full authority over hiring professors and assistant professors.

Gov. Ronald Reagan who planned to attend today's board meeting, said he was disappointed last month when regents refused to approve the faculty hiring plan proposed by Regent Edwin W. Pauley of Los Angeles.

The regents' Educational Policy Committee voted yesterday to retain the current policy giving campus chancellors hiring authority. By close votes the committee rejected Pauley's plan for a compromise offered by U.C. President Charles J. Hitch.

Later, Hitch told the regents' finance committee that the university will need more than double the construction money expected to come from state funds over the next six years.

Condition Better

Cecilia Diez, 24, who works as a cook and maid at a Kentfield residence, was reported improved and in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today after an overdose of pills Tuesday. Mrs. Diez had been reported in critical condition in the hospital's intensive care unit since her husband found her unconscious shortly before midnight Tuesday.

Killing Suspects On Way To Bay

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI)— Charles Johnson, 22, and his girl friend, Terry J. Phelps, 19, both of Jackson, Mich., were scheduled to arrive in Oakland today where they have been extradited in connection with two slayings.

They were being transferred in separate planes.

Both were convicted and sentenced on armed robbery charges here but will face murder charges in California.

Both are charged in the slaying of Dr. Glen K. Olsen, 54, Oakland dentist, and Johnson is accused in the slaying of Loren Silliphant, 18, in Hollywood.

New Police Chief

Teen-Agers' Drive To Aid Boys Club

A do-or-die fund drive to raise $40,000 to have the Boys Club of Southern Marin in Marin City will be conducted by 1,000 to 1,500 Marin County high school students tomorrow, sponsors of the drive said today.

Club president Richard Bale, of Tiburon, said possibly as many as 1,500 teen-agers from seven high schools will join the drive. The club hopes to raise $40,000 so it can stay in operation another year.

If the "desperately needed" money is not raised, club leaders said, the boys club will fold.

The youths canvassing the county tomorrow will wear identification tags bearing the inscription "Marin City Boys' Club," Bale said. The tags were made for the club by inmates at San Quentin.

"We realize tax time just passed and people are short of money," Bale said in urging residents to help the club, "but nowhere will any citizen have a more worthy cause to which to contribute. This is a different kind of 'march' than we are accustomed to reading about."

Bale said students were recruited from Tamalpais, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake, San Rafael, Terra Linda, Marin Catholic and San Domenico high schools.

Accident Victim's Condition Improves

Harold Robert McAfee, 44, of 5 Kristin Way, Novato, who was critically injured when his car went over a steep embankment beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Wednesday, was reported in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today.

Shoreline Access Bill Gains Assembly Floor

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to require cities and counties to see that public access to public tidelands is provided through coastal subdivisions before they approve the subdivisions yesterday passed it first legislative test with a unanimous "do pass" recommendation by the Assembly Local Government Committee.

The bill (AB 941), by Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Vallejo, went to the Assembly floor for a vote. From there, it still must hurdle a Senate Committee and the Senate before it can reach Gov. Ronald Reagan's desk for signature.

The bill is similar to one Dunlap introduced last year at the height of the controversy on access to tidelands along the Sonoma County coast. That bill was defeated.

This year, Dunlap deleted a provision that parking areas may be provided.

The bill would leave it up to the county or city to determine what "reasonable access" means. The bill states that access may be by highway, foot trail, bike trail, horse trail or any other means of travel.

Two minor changes were made in the bill by the committee. One made it clear that it would not apply to subdivisions for which tentative maps already have been filed. The other added that the bill need not require access through every subdivision if that subdivision already had reasonable access adjacent to it.

Committee members reported receiving several hundred telegrams from throughout the state urging a favorable vote on the bill. Testifying for it was Richard R. Day, Rohnert Park attorney for Californians Organized to Acquire Acccess to State Tidelands.

Opposition was expressed by representatives of the Sea Ranch, the Sonoma development that sparked the battle last year, the Laguna Niguel Corp. and Irvine Co., Orange County firms with extensive coastal properties, and the California Cattleman's Association, whose members own large coastal areas.

The bill is expected to face opposition from these groups as it moves through the Legislature.

Singer's Mother Granted Decree

The wife of Dr. Earle M. Marsh, Mill Valley gynecologist, has been granted an interlocutory divorce decree in Marin Superior Court.

Mary C. Marsh, who had charged cruelty, received the family home at 118 Woodbine Drive in a property settlement.

The couple, whose daughter is soprano Jane Marsh, were married in 1940 in Reno, Nev.

Czechs Quiet After Fall Of Dubcek

PRAGUE (AP) — Police reinforcements and soldiers guarded strategic points in Czechoslovakia today, but there were no reports of disturbances protesting the replacement of Alexander Dubcek as Communist party chief.

The 190-member Central Committee at a crisis meeting yesterday named Gustav Husak, the dour pro-Moscow head of the Slovak party, to replace Dubcek.

No plans for demonstrations were reported so far. Moscow was reported to have warned that Soviet occupation troops would step in if local forces could not keep order.

CTK, the Czechoslovak news agency, said the Central Committee had finished its plenary session and further details of the leadership reshuffle would be announced later.

Students and young workers were reported planning meetings to determine how they would react to the leadership change. Although Dubcek, 47, lost much of his wildly enthusiastic following as he was forced to make concession after concession in the wake of the Soviet invasion last August, Husak is generally disliked and mistrusted by freedom-minded trade unionists and students.

Draft Case Uproar Leads To Sentences

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A federal judge fined 14 courtroom spectators for contempt of court yesterday when a disturbance broke out after he sentenced a draft card burner to five years in prison.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sherrill Halbert ordered the spectators into custody when they refused to sit down and remain quiet following the sentencing of Peter W. Schurman, a student at the University of California at Davis.

Fines ranged from $100 or 25 days in jail to $20 or five days. One spectator, Charles Papke, 28, of Davis, received a 30-day suspended sentence and was ordered on five years probation.

"You're not fooling around with some professor," Halbert told the spectators, including college-age youths and several housewives. "At least you should have some courtesy.

"This is not a show where you come in and sit down for the first reel and leave," Halbert admonished them. But when the commotion persisted, he ordered federal marshals to make contempt arrests.

"What a bunch of smart alecs you are," he said.

Fingerprint records in the U.S. Marshal's office indicated most of those cited for contempt were UCD students living at Davis, or were Sacramento housewives and mothers.

Hearing Scheduled In Escape Case

A preliminary hearing has been set Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court for Daniel Thomas Stathos, 22, of Pacifica, who is accused of escaping Sunday from Marin County Jail in a garbage can.

Stathos, who is awaiting trial on charges of robbing and kidnaping restaurant owner Luciano A. Sabella and of robbing the Greenbrae Lanes, was picked up about an hour after his escape. He was found walking along Woodland Avenue in San Rafael.

Six Convicted On Campus Mass Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The second jury to reach a verdict in the San Francisco State college mass arrest cases convicted all six defendants yesterday.

Six men and six women found the defendants guilty of unlawful assembly, failure to disperse and disturbing the peace. Spectators sat in stunned silence. Only 24 hours earlier another jury in another courtroom found 10 defendants innocent on the same charges. Then, the spectators cheered.

Convicted were Frank Alvarado, Ernest Brill, Connie Brozicevic, Carl J. Butz, Benjamin M. Cavanaugh and Laureen Chew.

Municipal Court Judge James J. Welch set May 19 for sentencing and hearing of motions for a new trial.

The trial of six other defendants ended in a hung jury. Five other trials still are in progress.

After yesterday's verdict was read, Judge Welsh cleared the courtroom of spectators and offered the jurors and three alternates free taxi rides home. Eight accepted. He refused to explain his unusual security measures.

The Republic of Liberia is about the size of Ohio.

Washington's Needy Due Federal Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, moving to meet some of the problems turned up by a Senate probe of hunger in the capital, will provide special food packets for some 45,000 needy mothers and children.

The decision to supply $3 million worth of "food for health" packets in Washington, similar to a program instituted earlier for 18,500 persons in 78 smaller communities, was sponsored by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and announced yesterday in his office by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

It enabled the Republican administration to seize the initiative on the hunger problem, which until now has been held by a Democratic-controlled Senate committee headed by George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

Javits, senior Republican on the committee, moved into the situation after reportedly becoming upset earlier in the week when the administration's revised budget failed to add anything to government food programs except $15 million for nutrition education.

Hardin announced two programs:

The supplemental food packets, which contain iron-enriched baby cereal, fruit juice, evaporated milk, corn syrup, peanut butter, canned meats and poultry, will be given to needy mothers, pregnant women and young children free at health centers in Washington.

Some 100,000 youngsters who receive free lunches at school during the year will continue to receive them at summer recreation centers.

Hardin indicated that the administration still hopes to expand other federal programs, relying on food distribution plans that are not covered by the monetary ceiling on the food stamp program.

New Notary Public

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Dorothy B. Larson of 51 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

Columbia Sit-In Gets Rough; Other Campuses Restless

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

About 200 militants seized a Columbia University building for a seven-hour sit-in marked by a violent clash with security guards as several of the nation's campuses continued to stir with student unrest.

The Columbia group voluntarily left Philosophy Hall late yesterday after being served with a restraining order. The students emerged chanting, "This is just the start. We will win."

Two administration officials accompanied by security guards served the court order. They were met by hostile students who unleashed a barrage of bottles and discharged fire extinguishers.

The officials escaped by throwing a chair through a window and jumping to safety. Three students were injured and one of the officials was cut on the wrist.

Many of the students then broke up furniture in the building, taking table legs to use as clubs if police were called. But acting President Andrew Cordier said no police would be summoned.

The demonstration led by the Students for a Democratic Society was to demand "open enrollment" at Columbia for all New York high school students who want to attend the Ivy League school.

At Harvard, the faculty of arts and sciences voted overwhelmingly to ask the school's two governing boards to reduce ROTC to an extracurricular activity without "special privileges or facilities."

Another general meeting of the student body was called for today to consider whether to continue the strike which began last Friday. An informal poll of nearly 2,000 students last night showed 75 per cent favored a return to class.

In Miami, a homemade bomb's explosion blew in the door and shattered windows of the dean of men's office at the university of Miami last night. No one was in the office and there were no injuries.

A school spokesman said he knew of no reason why anyone would want to damage the building.

In Ithaca, N.Y., a burning cross was dropped on the steps of a Negro woman's cooperative house at Cornell University.

Eleven Negro women live in the house set up after demands by black women students who said they felt ill at ease in regular dorms.

An earlier series of four false alarms occurred while a student-faculty disciplinary board weighed misconduct charges against six members of the Cornell Afro-American Society stemming from vandalism last December.

In Philadelphia the LaSalle College Council, an advisory body on student affairs, voted to make ROTC voluntary instead of compulsory for freshmen.

As many as 200 students have held a sit-in at the administration building since Tuesday to protest the compulsory program. LaSalle had an enrollment of about 3,300.

In Atlanta, trustees of Atlanta University were blockaded inside a conference room for two hours yesterday by protesting black students.

Is Personnel Panel Getting The Brushoff?

Is the Marin County Personnel Commission a do-nothing body that can be bypassed or ignored any time the county supervisors feel so inclined?

That in essence was the question posed repeatedly by Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie yesterday afternoon during a meeting of the commission at the Civic Center.

McKenzie, who has been in the labor relations field for 20 years and is a member of the National Panel of Arbitrators of the American Arbitration Association, declared that the personnel commission is "highly technically qualified" and its talents should be used.

He gave several instances where the personnel commission was ignored:

The New Careers program, aimed at bringing relatively untrained people into county jobs, was never referred to the personnel commission.

Supervisors picked a county bargaining team to negotiate with employee organizations without consulting the personnel commission.

Furthermore, said McKenzie, rules and regulations drafted by the commission after months of work can be rescinded by an agreement reached between the county team and an employee bargaining unit.

"That's my whole sense of frustration," said McKenzie. "I get a little disturbed over what I'm appointed to do. The technical experience of this commission is valuable. If our views are not wanted, then I'd like to be told. I'm not rocking the boat. I just want to know what chores I'm going to."

"I'm getting a little seasick myself," agreed Commissioner Robert B. McCreadie.

Commissioners agreed that the entire question of conflict between personnel commission rules and agreements reached through labor negotiations should be taken up at a workshop session with the Marin County Board of Supervisors, set for 9 a.m. May 27.

Other items on workshop agenda will be:

Availability of commissioners to attend statewide meetings such as the California Personnel Administrators Association, and if not, are commissioners authorized to sit in on such meetings if they pay their own way.

The county's philosophy on opening up new avenues for less qualified persons to get county jobs. "For example, exactly what is being done in the field of minorities," said Chairman Bella Aaron.

Bank Robbery Suspect Turns Out A Friend

PACIFIC PALISADES (AP)—Denise Rutkoskie looked up from her teller's cage at Glendale Federal Savings Co. yesterday to see a bandid. "Hello Frank," she said. "How are you?"

"Fine," he replied. "Gimmie the money."

Miss Rutkoskie, 21, handed $2,371 and called police, telling them her sister's former boyfriend had just robbed her again. She reported he took $745 at gunpoint March 27.

When Frank Sundey, 23, drove into his Santa Monica garage three hours later he was arrested on suspicion of armed robbery.

Police said Sundey gave up $2,371—except for $1,500 he used that afternoon as a down payment on his new car.

New Careers Compromise Plan Backed

A compromise New Careers program, which would open up 24 county jobs to the relatively untrained at a cost of $92,000, won the approval of the Marin County Personnel Commission yesterday.

Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie abstained from voting. "I'm just confused why a program of this nature was not brought to the personnel commission first," said McKenzie.

On a motion by Commissioner Robert B. McCreadie, the four other commissioners endorsed the program and urged that at least a portion of the program be adopted even if the supervisors decide not to accept the whole package.

Last week, the Marin County Human Rights Commission also approved the New Careers program in principle.

The Marin County Personnel Commission also:

AGE LIMIT — Received word from the Marin County Retirement Board that it is opposed to the proposed lifting of the maximum 35-year age limit for persons seeking safety jobs in the fire department and sheriff's office.

HEARINGS — Voted that in closed hearings involving dismissal, suspension or charges against an employee, the findings and decision of the commission will be public records. However, charges and answers will be private records unless the commission votes to make it public. A. Bruce McKenzie said he preferred to see a trend toward more open meetings, but he voted with the rest when assured that scurrilous attack under the cloak of secrecy would not be possible.

SPECIAL MEETINGS — Decided to give 72-hour notice, instead of the required 24-hour notice, of special meetings of the commission.

Bay Oil Curbs Gain Support

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Two bills limiting oil drilling in San Francisco Bay were endorsed yesterday by the Assembly Natural Resources and Conservation Committee.

One measure would prohibit oil drilling in state-owned San Joaquin Delta tidelands and other parts of the bay, including the San Jose area. The other would require the State Lands Commission to get approval of supervisors of affected counties before authorizing oil leases on state tidelands.

The bills, both by Assemblyman James W. Dent, R-Concord, and Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, are designed to prevent an oil well blowout in the bay such as occurred in the Santa Barbara Channel.

"Youth March for Youth" Tomorrow

WILL YOU HELP THE MARIN CITY* BOYS' CLUB?

(*Official name - Boys' Club of Southern Marin)

Executive director Manny Chandler instructs Boys' Club members in woodshop. Club wants to expand all programs currently in operation, add new ones, and add more personnel to the staff.

Some of the fine high school students who will be going door-to-door tomorrow (Saturday, April 19) collecting funds for the Boys' Club of Southern Marin (Marin City). If they come to your door, please help.

Marin City Boys' Club Desperately Needs Funds For Remainder of Year

The Boys' Club of Southern Marin is doing an outstanding job in serving the youth of Marin City.

HOWEVER, THE CLUB IS DESPERATELY IN NEED OF FUNDS TO OPERATE THROUGH THE BALANCE OF THIS YEAR.

Without additional funds, this club could easily fall by the wayside, and we think you will agree there is a definite need for a Boys' Club in this area.

WILL YOU HELP WITH YOUR CONTRIBUTION — LARGE OR SMALL?

FOUR TYPES OF MEMBERSHIPS (donations)

- ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR — $500 or more.
- V.I.P. MEMBER — $97.50 or more (it takes $97.50 to take care of one boy for one year).
- ASSOCIATE MEMBER — $25 or more.
- CONTRIBUTING MEMBER — $5 or more. (We'll welcome anything you might want to give . . . a dollar or two or three, etc.)

MAKE "IN MEMORIAM" DONATIONS TO BOYS' CLUB OF SOUTHERN MARIN

If you are making a contribution to a worthy cause in the event of the death of a relative or friend, why not make the donation to the BOYS' CLUB OF SOUTHERN MARIN? We will send suitable acknowledgement.

Thousands of High Schoolers March Tomorrow For Funds For Marin City Boys' Club

Tomorrow several thousand fine young men and women from seven Marin County high schools will ring as many doorbells as possible to ask for donations for the Boys' Club.

Here is an outstanding example of youth working for the betterment of other youth. We hope you will be able to make their door-to-door campaign tomorrow a rousing success.

CRAFT PASSES TEST

An X24A manned lifting body, one of two wingless craft being developed by the Air Force for use in the space shuttle program, goes aloft at Edwards Air Force Base. Tucked under a wing of its B52 mother ship, it was released yesterday at 45,000 feet and four minutes later its pilot Maj. Jerauld Gentry brought it to a safe landing on a dry lake bed. Also tested yesterday was the Air Force's other wingless craft, the HL10. (AP Wirephoto)

ABAG Will Delay On Regional Plan

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY—The Association of Bay Area Governments executive committee decided last night to wait until June to come up with details of its legislative proposal that ABAG be given broad powers over regional problems.

ABAG president Jack D. Maltester, mayor of San Leandro, pushed unsuccessfully for earlier action. By June, he said, "we may be sitting here debating something they've already passed" in Sacramento.

But Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort, chairman of the special committee drafting details of the bill introduced last week by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the work could not be done faster. Bagley's bill, based on an ABAG-sponsored "skeleton" bill that failed to pass two years ago, was introduced at the urging of several executive committee members who oppose another bill to set up a regional government that would elminate ABAG.

After debating for 40 minutes on when to meet again, the committee set a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. May 8 to receive a report from Bort's committee, and a general assembly meeting at 7:30 p.m. on June 11 to act on the committee's recommendations. Both meetings will be in the Hotel Claremont, where the executive committee met last night.

Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis and Sonoma County Supervisor Ignacio A. Vella are on the 11-member special committee.

Bort said the committee will make two assumptions in its work: that there should be some sort of continuation of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and that whatever regional government may be formed should be dominated by ABAG.

Victor Jones, University of California government professor helping ABAG draw up its legislation, cautioned that unless the skeleton bill by Bagley is filled in with details, "you'll introduce a skeleton bill every session."

The Executive Committee Also:

MARIN CITY — Endorsed Marin County's application for a $50,000 federal urban planning assistance program grant for a two-year community planning program for Marin City. Total cost of the plan will be $75,000. The federal government requires ABAG review of such grants.

ROHNERT PARK — Endorsed an application by the City of Rohnert Park for a $45,350 federal water and sewer facility grant to expand its water supply. Total cost of the project is $90,700.

PLANNING — Endorsed an application for a $96,694 federal grant toward ABAG's regional planning program next fiscal year. Total cost of the program is $144,446.

CRIME STUDY — Approved a proposal for a planning program of how to overcome deficiencies in law enforcement in the nine-county Bay Area. The program, proposed by ABAG's advisory board in comprehensive justice planning, would be financed by an annual federal planning grant of $113,000.

Investors Suing For $1.1 Billion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A group of former investors filed a $1.1 billion civil lawsuit against Insurance and Securities, Inc., charging misrepresentation in commissions for trust fund management.

The complaint was filed yesterday in federal court by William F. McGraw Jr. of Los Angeles. It also named Security Pacific National Bank of San Francisco.

Involved are brokerage commissions to ISI which were described in the complaint as "gratuitious payments for whch no service of value is rendered."

A similar complaint was rejected last July by U. S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert who called it "inadequate and unfair."

That decision is being appealed.

Mill Valley Budget Session Hears Police, Fire Personnel Requests

Mill Valley City Council heard a plea last night from Police Chief Dan Terzich for an additional patrolman to beef up the midnight to 8 a.m. graveyard shift.

Another officer is needed "desperately," the chief said as the council was reviewing sections of a proposed $2,381,770 budget for fiscal 1969-70.

There are four persons on the shift, a sergeant, two officers and a clerk, and because of days off, there are two days a week when "we have only two," the chief said.

Councilmen took no action on the request or any other budget matter discussed. Mayor Dean N. Meyer explained the session was just for budget review.

The chief also requested a relief police clerk, noting that on days when the present clerks are off, police officers have to serve as clerks. "Taking a car off the street is pennywise and pound foolish," he said.

There has been no increase in the number of police clerks, three, since 1964 and the workload for clerks has increased 400 per cent since then, the chief contended.

He also requested $4,500 so officers could be paid for holidays, rather than receive compensatory time off.

"At the present time we owe police employees a total of 316 days off," City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer reported. Granting holiday pay, he said, "with the size of our force, is impossible without seriously reducing the protection we require. Holiday pay, in lieu of time off, would add 192 days of additional policeman coverage."

The chief also requested that $2,000 be allocated to buy uniforms for reserve officers, who have been buying their own, noting some of the uniforms "are getting pretty tacky."

The proposed police department budget totaled $219,031, as compared to $195,676 for the current year.

Fire Chief Leslie Armager requested two additional firemen at a cost of $16,008 so he could have full strength on each shift and promote a man to captain.

For department equipment, the chief requested a new fire engine, estimated to cost $32,000 and the council suggested that the city investigate the possibility of buying it through the state purchasing system.

The proposed fire department budget is $174,804, as compared to $151,619 during the current year.

Councilmen also briefly reviewed the proposed parks recreation and golf course budgets.

The proposed parks allocation $104,207, up from $83,729 this year, includes $3,000 for material to construct 30 picnic tables at Boyle and Old Mill Park, and $1,200 for ground cover at Old Mill Park.

The proposed recreation budget, $51,560, up from $35,439, includes an $8,665 hike in salaries, to hire additional leaders for the after-school and summer programs.

Recreation director Don Dimitratos explained the intent to expand the after school program from three to five days a week, with two leaders at each playground, and to expand the summer program.

He reported that the park and recreation fund revenue during the current year was $14,778.

In the proposed capital improvements budget $30,500 has been earmarked for two new tennis courts at Boyle Park and resurfacing of existing courts.

The proposed golf course budget, $57,421, down from $58,461 for the current year, had few changes, but the capital improvements budget earmarked $8,000 for golf course improvements.

Also reviewed were the proposed streets budget, $128,952, up from the current $118,355, with $4,000 for street lighting.

A new street sweeper at a cost of $12,476, and a loader at a cost of $11,550, were included in the proposed equipment replacement budget.

Councilman George E. Wickham proposed that the city start on a street resurfacing program and Ross J. Benson, public works superintendent, noted streets haven't been resurfaced "for years and years."

Also reviewed were the proposed corporation yard budget, $14,938, up from $12,804; including a part-time auto maintenance man to service city vehicles at a cost of $1,320; water pollution control plant, $64,667, up from $62,922; sewer lines, $42,387, up from $33,798.

It was the council's second budget review, and Mayor Meyer announced that the third budget review would be at 8 p.m. next Thursday at city hall.

Gen. George A. Custer was indirectly responsible for the first documented discovery of gold in South Dakota, now the nation's third most important gold-producing state. Two miners attached to an expedition led by Custer found gold in gravel bars in the Black Hills, touching off a series of claims throughout the area.

Terra Linda Gets Mathletes Title

Marin Catholic High School students won the April Mathletes Contest held at San Domenico High School Wednesday in the final contest of the year for Marin County high school mathematicians but the season title went ot Terra Linda High.

The Marin Catholic team, captained by Katherine Paulist, includes Paul Butterworth, Les Catala, Edward Gutteling, Richard Howard, Douglas Moler and Steve Purcell.

Park District Signs Union Pact

OAKLAND (AP) — All of the East Bay Regional Park District's 130 employees must either join a union or pay it the equivalent of union dues.

The district announced that order yesterday, saying it had made the agreement with Local 1675 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Union spokesmen said such an agreement was rare for a public agency.

A "memorandum of understanding" names the union as the exclusive representative of the employees and says that those who do not join should pay for the services the union will be required to provide for them.

HIGH-RISE BASE

Agency Denies Richardson Fill

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — An application for a permit to fill 15 acres in Richardson Bay for a $25 million high-rise development was denied yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Commissioners by 16 to 5 vote turned dwon the application of Sausalito Associates. Voting with the majority to deny the permit were commissioners Melville Owen of Kentfield and Dr. William F. Upton of San Rafael. Approval would have required 13 affirmative votes.

Chairman Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park, noting that use of Richardson Bay is exceptionally complicated because the tidelands long ago were subdivided as if they were dry land, said the commission will tackle the problem — if it does not go out of existence 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

The commission's staff had recommended on April 3 that the permit be deinied on the ground that it would violate the commission's adopted master plan for the bay, which stated that a "substantial portion" of such a project must be built on existing land. Of the 17.2 acres to have been included in the project, only 2.2 acres already are filled.

Also, because adjacent property owners would be entitled to high-rise development, too, approval of the permit would "open the door wide to much more filling," the commission was told by its executive director, Joseph E. Bodovitz of Mill Valley.

Bodovitz also noted that an eight-acre lagoon in the project would "use property not owned by the applicant, thus an important part of the proposal could not be carried out unless a public agency were to acquire the property for a lagoon and devote it to this use."

The Architect for the project, Robert A. Bennighof of San Francisco, argued that it met an informal guideline by the Marin County Planning Commission that bay projects leave one third acre open for each two thirds acre filled. Commissioner Hans Feibusch of San Francisco, however, said this rationale would permit the filling of 56 square miles of the bay.

The applicant's attorney, Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere, told the Independent-Journal that his clients "probably" would try again for a fill permit from the commission. He said he did not know if they would amend their plan.

Their rejected plan included a 550-room, 14-story hotel, a 130-room motel about 10 stories high, a boatel-motel with shops up to four stories high, a restaurant, cocktail lounge, gas station, lagoon, and "transportation center for boats and helicopters.

Commissioners authorized the staff to work with Marin County officials in determining an over-all plan for Richardson Bay. The complicated problem could be worked out by the Marin County Board of Supervisors "if they don't chicken out," said Sonoma County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker, a member of the commission.

Commissioners, meeting at the Hilton Hotel, unanimously approved an application by Edgewater Yacht Co. to fill about one sixth of an acre on the Sausalito waterfront north of Turney Street for a restaurant parking lot.

The parcel to be filled is adjacent to a 101-seat restaurant planned in an existing building. The fill work, to cost up to $10,000, is to take a year to complete, according to the application.

The fill was recommended by the BCDC staff as consistent with the bay plan's approval of projects that provide for public access to the bay and for shoreline improvement, but with only minor filling, Bodovitz said.

Commissioner Owen stated that the permanent public access to be provided by the applicant was a result of the commission's existence. If the commission went out of business, as scheduled under current state law, the entire fill could be used for parking he noted.

McCarthy's Plan For Bay Under Attack

By PAUL E. PETERZEL

SAN FRANCISCO — A bill by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, to emasculate the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, and to give public navigation and fishing easements to bay fillers free, was strongly attacked yesterday by commission officials.

Chairman Melvin B. Lane of Menlo Park labeled the bill (SB 1181) "disastrous to our cause." It would take away virtually all of the commission's regulatory powers and make it only an advisory body, Lane said.

The implications of McCarthy's bill are "very serious" and could only mean that all the people of the Bay Area would lose the bay, Lane declared.

The commission's legal adviser, Deputy Atty. Gen. E. Clement Shute, asked his opinion of the McCarthy bill's provision that would abandon existing public easements over privately owned tidelands, said "it would be questionable" even if the California Constitution were amended. Such public trusts have been protected by law for centuries, Shute said.

Lane's report of this provision brought laughter from many commissioners.

Commissioner David C. Joseph, an alternate for Norman B. Livermore Jr., administrator of the state Resources Agency, warned that the public was being confused by about a dozen bills affecting the commission, which will go out of existence late this year unless there is legislation to extend its life.

Adding to the confusion, said commissioner Han Feibusch of San Francisco, was the headline over the Independent-Journal's story on Wednesday about the McCarthy bill. The headline termed the bill "mild" and said it "would keep BCDC on books."

"But what it would do," Feibusch said, "is put BCDC on the shelf."

McCarthy, who told the Independent-Journal on Tuesday that he owned about 1,000 acres in the bay, proposed in his bill that the commission would have to issue fill permits whenever the applicant had obtained local approval for his project "irrespective of any conflict with the commission's plan."

McCarthy's bill specifically would allow residential developments on bay fill. The BCDC's adopted plan for the bay would limit housing to the existing shoreline on the ground that there is no need to fill the bay for housing.

Youth Cuts Head In Auto Accident

Richard Paul Silvas, 19, of 242 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital today for a head cut suffered when his car went off Highway 101 on Puerto Suello Hill at 2:20 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

The patrol, which said his car skidded 600 feet and hit a guard rail, cited Silvas for speeding, after estimating his speed at 85 miles per hour.

Buses Still Not Without Danger

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. says the 4,000 school buses that received new brake parts in a nationwide recall campaign should be removed from service at once.

G.M. said the modifications may have caused six minor accidents.

Last month, G.M. began a recall campaign to correct a potential brake defect on 10,450 buses.

The giant automaker said yesterday the modified seal placed on the brake's check valve of the 4,000 buses brought in so far may have caused loss of braking. A new seal is being supplied for the buses.

Cousteau Will Design Museum

LONG BEACH (AP)—Jacques-Yves Cousteau, the underwater explorer, has been named chief designer-planner for the Museum of the Sea in the retired Cunard liner Queen Mary.

The liner is now owned by the City of Long Beach, but the oceanographic museum will be financed by the nonprofit California Museum Corp.

Cousteau told a news conference yesterday it will be "the largest oceanographic museum in the world."

NAMED SERGEANT — S.Sgt. John F. Ash Jr., of 1141 Ransome Drive, Novato, was named noncommissioned officer of the quarter for the 1902 Communications Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base. He is the watch supervisor and senior controller in the control tower at Hamilton.

1906 Quake Celebration Draws 5,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—More than 5,000 San Franciscans gathered before sun-up today to laugh and sing as they watched their city rocked by a giant rolling earthquake and a leveling fire.

But the devastation was on a movie screen as the city held a unique celebration on the 63rd birthday of its famed quake. It was April 18, 1906, when the city was ripped by the most disastrous temblor and fire in the nation's history. Nearly 500 died and 350,000 were left homeless as the three-day fire roared through 28,000 buildings.

Although today's ceremony was held at 5:13 a.m. to commemorate the moment of the quake, the big outdoor party was thrown by Mayor Joseph Alioto as a gentle put-down to the band of mystics, seers and assorted prophets of gloom who have said that an April quake will split California in two. Most of their predicted dates already have come and gone.

"We know we live in earthquake country, but there's no need to get hysterical," Mayor Alioto said.

The mayor's hour-long bash at Civic Center Plaza included records of Enrico Caruso singing selections from Carmen as he did here the night before the 1906 quake.

MGM made available its mid-30s film "San Francisco" and its famous earthquake and fire scenes were shown on a huge screen. A dazed Calrk Gable wandered through the city as firemen blew up buildings behind him to form a fire break. A high-volume sound system sent the sound of explosions roaring through the downtown area.

As the party ended, the big crowd sang "San Francisco" and then local restaurants provided soup and the Army passed out coffee and doughnuts —just as they did 63 years earlier.

One Coffee Break Proves Life Saver

NEWPORT, Ky. (UPI)—An Episcopal rector's decision to take a coffee break recently may have saved his life, or at least spared him from serious injury.

Rev. Edwin Taylor left his office at St. Paul's Church here to get a cup of coffee in the church's undercroft. When he returned, he found an out-of-control car had crashed through a wall of the office.

Cotati Council Votes For Wrecking Yard

The Cotati City Council last night heard protests, but approved the rezoning of an area on Industrial Avenue which could permit an auto wrecking business.

Several residents complained that an auto wrecking firm would be an unsightly addition to the area off East Cotati Avenue. Officials from Sonoma State College had protested at an earlier hearing that such a use would harm the appearance of the college entrance.

The front section of the land owned by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. was zoned for commercial use, but the rear section was zoned industrial which would permit the auto wrecking use. The railroad intends to lease the land.

Councilmen Alfred Falletti, John I. Groom and Robert Rasmussen approved the rezoning, saying architectural controls could be imposed at the time of the use permit application to control the appearance of any business. Mayor Frank P. Dolinsek and Councilman Morris J. Houser dissented.

The Cotati City Council Also:

REZONED — Approved the rezoning of 8356 Gravenstein Highway from rural residential to commercial to permit the installation of a commercial sign by Foster Freeze.

COMMISSION — Adopted an ordiance reducing the membership of the park and recreation commission from seven to five members.

LOITERING — Introduced an ordiance prohibiting loitering on streets, sidewalks and public places.

WEEDS — Approved resolution declaring weeds in several properties as public nuisances and directing the city clerk to post notices.

POLICE — Asked City Mgr. Gordon C. Howe to investigate the possibility of combining the Cotati police department with the Rohnert Park force.

SPECIAL MEETING — Scheduled a special meeting for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to consider adoption of the loitering ordinance. After adjournment, the council will hold a combined study session with the planning commission.

Nixons To Honor Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon will hold a black-tie dinner Wednesday in honor of Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren.

The White House, announcing the event today, said some 110 guests were being invited.

The chief justice tendered his resignation during the Johnson administration and is expected to leave the court by the end of the present term in June.

Nixon and Warren have had political disagreements in the past and the dinner party was seen as a special gesture.

Two Convicted On Marijuana

Two Forest Knolls residents, Terry David Haggerty and Sara Diane Hatch, both 21, were found guilty yesterday by Judge E. Warren McGuire of possessing marijuana Feb. 13, 1968, in San Geronimo.

Judge McGuire decided the case on the basis of the transcript of the preliminary hearing. He had earlier denied a motion to suppress evidence.

Sentencing was set for May 22.

North American Indians To Meet

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—A conference of representatives of all North American Indians will be held this summer in upstate New York.

"We're uniting all our people for action," said Iroquois Chief Leon Shenandoah, in explaining the conference will discuss treaty violations and the current status of the Indian in society. The meetings will begin Aug. 16 in Tonawanda, and conclude with a four-day session in Syracuse beginning Aug. 24.

The Scotch Drinkers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Four of the five top Scotch-drinking metropolitan areas are also in the top five in population, according to a survey by Barton Distilling Company. They are, in order, (1) New York, (2) Chicago, (3) Los Angeles and (5) Detroit. Status-conscious Washington is fourth.

Finch Pleads For Clearer Campus Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration urged Congress today to clear up confusion in its laws aimed at student rioters and to give the academic community time to deal with the situation before enacting any harsh new penalties.

At the same time, Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, called on the colleges to take a long hard look at their policies on the right of dissent in order that students will have a proper outlook for their views.

Finch said the federal government would assist the colleges through funds and information in their attempt to come to grips with the new phenomenon of campus disorders.

In testimony before a House education subcommittee Finch called the violence and classroom disruptions on the campus "a tragic element in the history of American higher education."

"We must focus on the hard core extremists," he said, "not the vast majority of hard working students, and adopt the appropriate instruments of policy. We want to solve the problem, not to wield an indiscriminate bludgeon."

California GI Sentenced For Passing Drugs

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—A U.S. military court today sentenced Chief Warrant Officer William J. Fry III, 23, of Ojai, to five years imprisonment at hard labor after the pleaded guilty to passing marijuana and opium to other servicemen.

The court-martial board also sentenced Fry to dishonorable discharge from the Army and forfeiture of all pay and benefits for the five years.

Under U.S. military law Fry could have gotten up to 20 years for the offenses.

Abel Reelected As Steel Boss

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers announced officially today that I. W. Abel won reelection as president of the 1.2 million member union by 75,000 votes.

The union's international tellers said Abel polled 275,651 votes to 181,122 for Emil Narick, a union lawyer who opposed him in the Feb. 11 election.

Also re-elected were Walter J. Burke as secretary-treasurer and Joseph P. Molony as vice president.

Copter Makes Street Landing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A helicopter landed at the busy Fifth and Bryant intersection in downtown San Francisco in the midst of workbound motorists today.

No traffic accidents were reported.

Pilot Bob Hallbeck, who operates the copter for KGO radio and television stations, said he was forced down by engine trouble, He was not hurt..

Reno Schools Opened Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Nevada teachers, pressuring the legislature for higher pay, closed public schools in the Las Vegas area but returned from a one-day walkout in the Reno area.

"We've been slapped in the face, It's disgusting," said Assemblyman Douglas J. Webb, R-Sparks.

Washoe County teachers in the north said they had ended their walkout which closed secondary schools. The Clark County Classroom Teachers Association in Las Vegas vowed to stay out until given $8,000 starting pay or the membership votes to go back.

Plan To Liberalize Abortions Defeated

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Assembly has rejected a proposal endorsed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to liberalize the state's 1883 abortion statute.

The 78-69 adverse vote yesterday, after five and one-half hours of emotional debate, complete with pictures of deformed fetuses, means the issue is dead for the Legislature's 1969 session, already in its final days.

The Earl of Leicester entertained Queen Elizabeth I of England at Kenilworth Castle for 19 days in July 1575. Clocks stopped when she arrived. Guns saluted, fireworks flared and 320 casks of beer slaked the guests' thirst. Amid halloos of huntsmen, Elizabeth hunted deer with bow and arrow.

Peace Pilgrim Visits Marin

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Peace Pilgrim is her name — really.

She is a white-haired woman of uncertain age who has walked 25,000 miles through 48 of the United States, many parts of Mexico and 10 Canadian provinces in the interest of world peace.

PENNILESS, SHE has blotted out her identity and history prior to the 15 years before she began her pilgrimage because, she says, they are no longer of any significance.

Everywhere she goes she speaks in private homes, churches of all denominations — seven sermons in one Sunday is her record — schools and college and universities.

Wednesday in Sausalito at the home of her hostess, Althya Youngman, she told her story and that of her crusade.

"My name is legally Peace Pilgrim," she said, "because it has the status of a professional name. My purpose is to put emphasis on my pilgrimage, not on myself. I would not even get a letter addressed to my old name."

HER HEAVY mail, she says, is addressed to a post office in Cologne, N.J., where it is forwarded general delivery to the various cities she visits. The only thing she would say about her previous life was that she had money and success and had spent 15 years in preparation — not in walking or speaking — for her mission.

"I had found life empty, and I decided I would live to give what I could instead of what I could get," she explained. "After I had sufficient stability in my own life, in those 15 years I did various things to be of service, beginning with work with the elderly and psychologically disturbed.

"My first vow was one of simplicity: 'I shall not accept more than I need while others in the world have less than they need.' My next vow was one of faith: 'I shall remain a wanderer until mankind has learned the ways of peace, walking until I am given shelter and fasting until I am given food.' "

Peace Pilgrim began her walk in January, 1953, publicizing it by walking along the line of march of the Tournament of Roses Parade before it began.

SHE COLLECTS no money and plans her itineraries according to where she is invited,

Leisure And Hobby Areas Are Features Of Fairhills Tour

Leisure and hobby areas of seven homes will be featured in Hillside Homes, a house tour sponsored by the Fairhills Guild of the Boyd Marin Museum of Science.

The tour Thursday will begin at 11 a.m. with luncheon served poolside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spero P. Spiliotis.

THE OTHER homes on the tour are the residence's of Messrs. and Mmes. Lawrence L. Luchetti, Joseph Anthony Lukes, Max Saul, Herbert C. Johnson, John D. La Noue and Ulrich Kraemer, all of Fairhills.

The Ulrich Kraemer home, designed By David Coleman Associates, has a large deck and offers a spectacular view of Mt. Tamalpais and San Francisco. The old oak trees lend an extra charm to the grounds.

LEISURE TIME artists Mr. and Mrs. Max Saul will have their paintings on display in their home. The Sauls' son Charles, a student at San Rafael High School, designed and built most of the deck and pool houses using an Oriental theme.

The Spero Spiliotis home reflects the family's active life. They enjoy relaxing by the pool, and Mrs. Spiliotis spends much of her time in Little League and Parent-Teacher Association activities.

The Herbert Johnson home was designed by Ursula Johnson, an artist and her husband, an engineer. The oak trees add a rustic beauty to the three-level home.

Mrs. Johnson is an art volunteer at West End School, a member of the Marin Museum Association and has had art shows in Sonoma, Marin and San Francisco.

"ART IS not just a hobby; it's a part of my life," she says.

The Johnson children are also involved in unusual artistic projects such as landscaping an electric train board, and a piece of Mrs. Johnson's pop art, an assortment of toys and household items sprayed gold, will also be on display.

All native plants and trees were retained on the grounds of the Joseph Lukes' home. LaVerne Luke's hobby is renovating older properties, and she enjoys swimming with her daughter Elizabeth. Several areas of the home were designed just for children.

The playroom leads to an upper level play yard, designed for small children, who require maximum supervision. This area provides a haven when adults relax a few steps away on the deck or are in the kitchen.

THE LOWER level provides much space and shade for summer and is an ideal spot for entertaining.

The wings of the house are built for the large family with the kitchen as the central point. Many of the paintings on display were done by the Luchetti children.

Mrs. Theodore A. Martin is chairman of the house tour, and Mrs. LaNoue is assistant chairman. Committee chairmen are Mmes. Bryce Anderson, sponsors; Neil Jannes, reservations and invitations; W. Charles Hasler, publicity; Jason Widmer, hostesses; B. J. Whitlow, refreshments; and Elsa Kay, luncheon.

Provisional Junior League Members Told

By MOLLY MARIN

Seven Marinites are among the new provisional members of the Junior League of San Francisco and will be introduced Wednesday at the annual meeting at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

They are Mmes. Blaine Scott Boyden (Nancy Cusack) of Greenbrae, John S. Caple (Ann Marie Lloyd) of San Rafael, Donald R. Cottle (Dulce Wilmott) of Mill Valley, Michael Demetrios (Patricia Ellerd) of Belvedere, Richard M. Duff Jr. (Julie Schieren) of Belvedere, Frank Ribbel III (Mary Jane Bennett) of San Rafael and Jeffrey Skov (Paula Daly) of Kentfield.

Among the league's new officers is Mrs. Kingsley L. Rice Jr. of Tiburon, who will serve as corresponding secretary.

SOME LUCKY guests at the cocktail preview at the Norman B. Livermore house in Ross tonight will make the trip from the rendezvous point at Ross Common aboard a vintage Rolls Royce driven by Alan Preston Maginis or Ross or a Chrysler Landau '32. David Marshall will drive the latter vehicle wearing a costume of the early 1930s. Another amusing vehicle to be used is the London double-decker bus on loan from Shaun Wiltshire of San Rafael.

Attending the opening with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. MacMillan of San Rafael will be Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Smith of Sonoma and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawson Jr. of San Rafael. The three couples have a dinner date in San Rafael afterwards.

Sponsors from Marin who will be greeting preview guests from 6 to 9 p.m. at the home are Messrs. and Mmes. Frank H. Abbott III, A. Barlow Ferguson, Dr. and Mrs. Mervyen F. Burke, Mrs. Courtney M. Benoist and Mrs. Thomas T. Kent, of Kentfield; Messrs. and Mmes. Curtiss Hayden Jr., Charles O. Jones, Percival M. Scales, John Irving Witter, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Homans Conner, of Ross; Messrs. and Mmes. Herbert A. Jacobs, Robert A. Jeppey Jr., and Miss Catherine Oberto, of San Rafael; Mrs. and Mrs. Lawrence Boucher and Gen. and Mrs. C. W. McColpin, of Novato; Messrs. and Mmes. Robert D. Ford, Gerald Kelleher Jr., Warren C. Meeker, Richard Mercer, of San Anselmo; Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Eichaedt of Larkspur, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens Manning of Belvedere; Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Smith of Tiburon, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Shaper of Sausalito.

The Robert Pomeroys of Ross, who have purchased the Livermore home and will raze it prior to constructing a Japanese style dwelling, are also sponsors. Mr. Pomeroy is chairman of the board of

Disrespectful Son Blames Mother For Present Army Status

DEAR HELEN:

Please tell me, am I a terrible person?

I tried to raise my son right, but he started drifting away from our church, and got in with a shiftless crowd. While I was working as a housekeeper, he was chasing around, giving me no help.

One day I came across a letter on his desk, stating that he was failing several courses at college. I asked him about it, and he shouted, "Why don't you mind your own d— business?"

Things got worse, and he finally flunked out of college. Then he started staying out all night, but not with the lovely girl he is engaged to. Instead of looking for work, he'd sleep all day.

In desperation I called his draft board, as I was afraid if he wasn't settled in something he'd get into the Army. As it turned out, he had never notified them he left college, but they heard it from me. I didn't "inform." I just assumed they knew.

Well, that was November and by December he had his call. He is now in the Service, but still in the States, and he has never forgiven me. He writes hateful letters and blames me for all his troubles.

Did I commit such an awful crime? — H. B. M.

DEAR H:

You notified the draft board of a change in your son's status, and that's no crime! Let's hope the Army makes a man of him! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I must argue. You said service station managers don't hire Peeping Toms, but sometimes they don't know.

A long time ago I used to hang around a gas station. The young men who worked there thought it was "cute" to peep into the ladies' room through a ventilator.

Recently on a trip through New York State, we stopped at a station and my wife and children went to the rest room. I walked into the servicing area and noticed a young man scrambling down from a ladder. I could see there was a small ventilator near the ceiling and it opened into the woman's rest room. I didn't report him because I couldn't prove he was peeping, but Helen, these things do happen. I would suggest that service station managers be more alert. — JAMES

DEAR HELEN:

I am a lone recluse of 74 and I like it that way.

On my birthday, I was in bed, trying to get over the flu, when I was awakened by red flashlights in my face. Two police officers said they were going to take me to the hospital. I said, "I'll be okay in a day or two. Leave me alone." They said, "No, we are going to do this for your own good."

Good indeed! After being assured that my bills would all be paid by Medicare, I am now hit with repeated duns for ambulance, hospital room, medical care. I keep mailing the bills to the prattling Police Department, as I will not pay for something I did not ask for.

Another thing: They assured me my house would be safe. While I was imprisoned in the hospital, someone broke in and stole $300 and a watch!

There ought to be a law that would protect a man from do-gooders in uniform! — ALONE

DEAR ALONE:

Contact your Chief of Police. Inasmuch as his men "helped" you into this problem, he should help you find the agency which can best solve it — and his call will carry a lot more weight than yours . . . Also I hope you get your $300 back, one way or another! — H.

P.S. Don't blame the police: They may have saved your life!

Tina Ragghianti Bride Of Charles Casazza

Tina Ragghianti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nello Ragghianti of Greenbrae, became the bride of Charles Casazza of San Francisco at a Saturday afternoon ceremony at St. Sebastian's Church in Greenbrae.

Patti Smith of Mill Valley was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Jacque French of Greenbrae, Mrs. Gary Ragghianti of San Rafael, and the bride's sisters, Mrs. Donald De Bisschop of San Rafael and Marylou and Charlene Ragghianti of Greenbrae.

Jack Rowe of Incline Village, Nev., served as best man for his brother-in-law. Ushers were Donald DeBisschop, Alan Grieve and Gary Ragghianti, the bride's brother, all of San Rafael, and Ronald Ross of San Francisco.

A reception was held afterward at the Athletic Club in San Francisco and the couple left on a Carmel wedding trip. They will live in San Francisco.

Tina is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and is employed with the Bank of America in San Francisco. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Shoneff and Mrs. Leona Ragghianti, both of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. John Casazza of Brooklyn, N.Y., are parents of the bridegroom, who is a graduate of Fort Hamilton High School there. He is employed with Safeway Stores in San Francisco and served two years with the Army. Mrs. Jack Rowe of Incline Village and Mrs. Alan Weiss of Brooklyn are his sisters.

A 'Fun Day' In The City

By STEVE BASSETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Need any partially used cans of shoe polish?

How about a 100-pound, hand-carved, wooden statue of a leering Japanese god — minus the big toe of its right foot?

If you're interested, the U.S. Post Office's frequent auctions of unclaimed merchandise may be the place for you. But first a warning:

THE AUCTIONEERS are fast and smooth and you'll be up against a flinty-eyed, shrewd bunch of bidders, many of whom have not missed an auction in decades.

Even if you don't bid, watching is fun.

At a recent auction in San Francisco an elderly woman sat toward the back of the hall. Settling in a chair, she removed cigarettes from her pocketbook, took out her false teeth, wrapped them in a handkerchief and settled down for a long and happy day.

SHE NODDED approvingly when a bidder made a good buy and chuckled sardonically when a novice bidder got stuck, in this case, with some leaky cologne bottles.

"We get a lot of stuff here we don't even know what to call it," said Martin Mardorf, a postal employee who has worked every auction in San Francisco since 1941.

"SOME PEOPLE get good buys and some don't," said Mardorf.

"But I guess it evens out."

A contented woman, in flower child regalia, pushed a baby carriage out of the hall. At first glance it contained a broken picture frame, some pipe fittings, a portable radio and an electric iron.

A closer look disclosed a multitude of mysterious little objects of different shapes. The whole batch cost her $10. It fit nicely in the trunk of the shiny, new Cadillac waiting at the curb.

"Eight, nine, ten, the deodorants go to the man in the back for $10," said Potts, late in the day. "Right now I could use some."

"Get it up fella, get it up," Potts yelled at a timid bidder. "Soon as ya drop that hand I forget ya."

"YOU IN or out?" he reproached a youth, who, intimidated by Potts and embarrassed by the attention he was receiving, dropped out of the bidding.

Potts and two women auctioneers moved the goods with speed and humor. Most of the merchandise went to bidders in the first three rows, many of whom were dealers owning second hand stores and other outlets.

Mardorf pointed out a red-haired, middle-aged woman in the first row.

The woman had several cartons of goods in front of her and more outside in the hall.

FARTHER DOWN the row was a bidder from San Diego. Across the aisle was one from Reno. Another came from as far as Las Vegas.

"Don't ever try to judge these people by their clothes," said Richard Kechler, director of administrative services at the San Francisco post office. "I've seen people who don't appear to have a dime in their pockets peel off bills from a roll that would choke a horse," said Kechler. "Some of the best dressed ones really watch their pennies."

THE AUCTION at the Civic Auditorium cleared 12,000 items and netted about $25,000 for the U.S. Treasury. The goods came from 2,600 post offices in California, Arizona, Hawaii, Utah, Nevada, Guam and Southeast Asia.

Included were government salvage goods, damaged merchandise which had been insured and packages which people never bothered to pick up.

The influence of our servicemen in Asia was apparent.

There were sets of china, mostly damaged, which had been purchased in Tokyo. Another popular item was stereo equipment. There were cameras, watches, kimonos and even a few suits made in Hong Kong.

EVERYTHING IS LISTED in a catalogue by lot and prospective buyers can check the merchandise the day before the auction — circling the item and marking the price they think it's worth.

Potts said veteran bidders scrupulously adhere to their guidelines.

But it was apparent the amateurs were the ones really enjoying themselves, as they returned — often puzzled — from the auctioneer's block with their leadky deodorant bottles, panty girdles and rusty can openers.

Anyone need a dead reckoning computer — or for that matter, know what it is?

Legal Secretaries Give Scholarship

Sandra Michel, a senior at Tamalpais High School, was selected to receive the $100 scholarship award of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association.

Annette Crawley, a senior at San Rafael High School, was second choice and received honorable mention.

Sandra will be presented as the recipient of the scholarship award to a student who is studying to become a legal secretary or a student who plans to become a legal secretary, at the installation dinner meeting of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association on May 2.

Sandra plans to major in business education at the College of Marin in the fall and to continue with her secretarial skills and hopes to take court reporting in the future.

This is the third scholarship program instituted by the Marin County Legal Secretaries Association as special project for the year.

MRS. JOHN ANDERSON

President Is Elected

Mrs. John K. Anderson is the new president of the Young Wives of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, now busily preparing for the church's largest money-making project of the year, the Marin County Antiques Show and Sale, which opens at the IDESST Hall in Sausalito on April 24.

Founded two years ago to help young couples in the church become acquainted, the young wives meet once a month on Friday mornings at the church. They also have a number of evening and weekend social gatherings.

Home-making is a full-time hobby for Annette, who loves to cook and entertain. She is a new antique collector and enjoys refinishing old furniture and doing "anything creative — to make her home a more interesting place."

Annette and her husband grew up in Lodi, where their families are both connected with the wine industry. She attended Sacramento Junior College and then worked for a securities firm in San Francisco until John was graduated from Stanford University. He is now a bond trader with Dean Witter and Company in San Francisco, and they have a two-year-old son, Jeff.

The Andersons moved to Marin four years ago and live in Mill Valley. The new president is also a member of the Tamalpais Guild of Sunny Hills.

Mill Valley Rite Unites Miss Burke, Stephen Wehr

Married Sunday in a ceremony at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley were Patricia Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Burke of Mill Valley, and Stephen Wehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Wehr of Sacramento.

The bride's attendants were Sandra Drange of San Rafael, maid of honor; and the bride's sister, Mrs. John Christiansen of Mill Valley, the bridgegroom's sister, Kathy Wehr of Sacramento, and Nancy Brown and Linn Dillon of Greenbrae, bridesmaids.

Best man was John C. Kerr of San Francisco, and ushers were Roger Ray Mulholland and Jeffrey A. Harper of Mill Valley and Thomas G. Pattenson of San Francisco.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Refectory in Greenbrae and the couple left afterward for a wedding trip to Carmel. They are living temporarily in Mill Valley until the bridegroom, a lieutenant with the Army, goes to Viet Nam.

The bride is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and attended San Jose State College. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Smith of Corte Madera.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of California. He is the grandson of Donald K. Baird of Oakland.

MRS. SERGE PETROFF

School Group Elects Head

Mrs. Serge Petroff, this year's secretary-treasurer, is the new chairman of the board of directors of the Tamalpais Nursery School Corporation which operates the Tamalpais Nursery School in Mill Valley and Maringate Nursery School in Marin City.

The new chairman is a newcomer to the area, having moved to Mill Valley two years ago with her husband, who is general manager for the New York Life Insurance Company in San Francisco, and their four children Paul, 12; Elizabeth, 10; Gregory, 5; and Andrew, 4.

Jane, or "Bunny" as she is known to friends, is also active in the Homestead Valley Parent-Teacher Association and is on the board of the Parents' Club of the Martin Luther King School in Sausalito.

A graduate of Simmons College in Boston, Mass., she was editor of a company newspaper in Boston and also worked in public relations for Shell Oil Company before her marriage.

The Petroffs have a cabin at Alpine Meadows, and Jane says she enjoys outdoor activities, such as skiing and back packing in the Sierra in the summer. She also enjoys attending the opera and symphony concerts.

going South in the winter and North in the summer. She has slept in barns and places open all night like bus stations, but usually she is invited into the homes of strangers.

To call attention to her crusade, on her dark blue uniform she has painted in white letters on the front "Peace Pilgrim," and on the back, "25,000 miles on foot for world peace." In the pockets of her cobbler-apron-like tunic are her total worldly possessions, a comb, folding toothbrush and ball point pen.

"The purpose of the words on my tunic is to make my contacts with people," she says. "They approach me when they see them."

The peripatetic wanderer says she has had no difficulties with people, even when walking through ghettos, except for being hit once by a mentally disturbed youth.

"I WAS able to meet the attack with love," she says. "This changed his life, and he is a fine person today."

The planet, she notes, however, has deteriorated.

"We need to deal with water and air polution, depleted farm lands and despoiled forests. These problems are increasing."

But her outlook on the human condition is optimistic.

"One hopeful thing is that people have turned so far in the direction of peace that the polls indicate this, and some congressmen are changing to peace positions.

"ANOTHER HOPEFUL thing is the awakening of youth — sometimes called the youth rebellion. Violence is an infinitesimal part of it. In general it is a good rebellion against the false values of society—war, racial prejudice, materialism and hypocracy.

"Most hopeful of all is the wonderful spiritual awakening among both the elderly and young people."

This the the fourth visit of Peace Pilgrim to Marin. Others were in 1955, 1959 and 1966.

She has a very heavy speaking schedule in California this time. She lectured Wednesday at the University of California anthropology extension division in San Francisco. This afternoon she spoke at the home of Mrs. S. E. Hool in San Rafael and will speak there tonight — 7 Lisa Court — at 8 p.m. Anyone interested is invited.

Curtains Usable

Plastic shower curtains no longer nice enough for bathroom duty can still be useful—as covers for outdoor furniture and grills. Just machine-wash them in soap or detergent suds, along with a couple of bath towels which rub the plastic clean. Remove curtains before final spin, allow to drip dry and cut them to size. If desired, glue weights around the edges to hold covers when wind blows.

trustees of San Dominico School.

The home will be open for art exhibits and light refreshments, with backround music from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Works by artists Stella Powowski of Sausalito and Rose O'Kane of San Rafael will be displayed along with those of other artists.

Tomorrow Mrs. James McCone of San Francisco, the first president of Dominican College student body, her sister, Miss Geraldine Hall of Corte Madera, Miss Estelle Nolan of San Francisco, and Mrs. T. Crockett Macormack of San Francisco will tour the Livermore home, then go on to Dominic's restaurant for lunch. Mrs. McCone is planning to move to Corte Madera soon.

Coming from their home in Hollister for the Sunday event are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith Jr. and their daughter, Robin, who will enter San Domenico in the fall. In the party will be Mrs. Smith's mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. Robertson Ward of Ross, and Russ Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Smith of Ross.

DRAMA REVIEW

'War Games' Fades Into Tedious Show

NEW YORK (AP) — The romantic woes of a draft-dodger fill "War Games," which opened last night at off-Broadway's Fortune Theater, unfortunately.

The piece by Neal Weaver tries to be slickly hip but comes off self-conscious silly with a jumble of homosexuality and straight boy-girl entanglement.

As a parable, hinted at times, of personal and social violence, the whole thing ticks off half a dozen mildly amusing lines. The rest is tedium.

Don Warfield plays a lad who has jumped the border to sanctuary in Canada with enthusiasm extending to total rear nudity but stadily diminishing credibility. As his first bedmate, Jean-Claude Vasseux conveys a deceptively soft savagery. Jane Whitehill rearranges the lopsided menage without giggling once during a sordid seance of confession.

Also on hand are a blustery general in search of the prodigal, performed by Shev Rodgers, and his cornpone-voiced wife in the person of June Graham.

The luckiest participant is Dorothy Greener, a veteran comedienne who animates short and abysmal lines with verve, then vanishes swiftly.

"War Games" was directed by James E. Dwyer, with most of the affray centered upon the rumpled bed that features a dilapidated setting by Neil Jampolis. Thanks to Dennis Parichy, the lights finally are turned off on the tedious rumpus.

Mill Valley To Present Ghost Opera

An ensemble of actors, musicians and singers known as the Ghost Opera Company will present a program of spontaneous opera at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in the Mill Valley golf clubhouse.

The company is composed primarily of members of the Committee, the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and several jazz and rock groups in the Bay Area.

Bill Mathieu, a resident of San Anselmo and musical director of the Committee, explains: "Our style runs from Berg to the Beatles. We play a kind of omnistyle that is at the same time an abstraction of style and antistyle."

Composed of music, acting and singing, the program, according to Mathieu, one of the founders of the four-year-old group, is termed "opera" because it is a presentation of dramatic events surrounded by music.

In the company are Bruce Mackey, an actor with the Committee; Victoria Domagalski, a performer at the Cannery; Tom Buckner, a student of Ali Akbar-Kahn; Judy Ledford, cellist with the San Francisco Conservatory symphony orchestra; David Wessel, who teaches mathematics and psychology at San Francisco State College; Susan Baldwin, an actress with the Committee theater experimental wing; and Steve Busfield, a member of the Loading Zone, rock group.

Theft Admitted By School Aide

OAKLAND (AP) — The former business manager of the Livermore United School District has pleaded guilty to embezzling $9,018 from school funds.

Walter L. Killion, who resigned in February after a special audit showed a $600,000 arithmetical error in the district's $8 million budget, entered his plea yesterday in Superior Court.

Judge Leonard Dieden set June 4 for hearing a probation report and for sentencing.

Amateur Dog Show Slated At Center

An amateur dog show open to all children and their dogs will be held at the Red Hill Shopping Center, San Anselmo, April 26 starting at 10 a.m. under the sponsorship of the Red Hill Merchants Association and Ken-L Ration.

There will be prizes for best costumed, best trick, smallest, largest and best groomed dogs. Winners in each class will compete for the top award of best in

Dominican Lecture, Recital Set

Dr. Marion Morrey Richter, New York composer and pianist, will present a lecture-recital on "Aspects of Americana" at 8 p.m. Thursday in Calruega Hall at Dominican College of San Rafael.

The program for the benefit of the American Music Research Center at Dominican College is sponsored by the college, the California Federation of Music Clubs and the Marin chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honor society.

The lecture-recital, stressing the role of music in American and world culture, will include works by 15 American composers: Louis M. Gottschalk, Edward MacDowell, Charles Ives, Ulysses Kay, Howard Swanson, William Grant Still, R. Nathaniel Dett, Julia Ott Smith and Charles T. Griffes.

In addition to her own contemporary compositions Richter will also play those of Gail Kubik, Wallingford Riegger, Norman Dello Joio and Samuel Barber.

Court Orders Suspension Of Novato Attorney

Jack L. Burnam who maintained law offices in San Francisco and Novato, has been suspended by the State Supreme Court after a complaint was filed by the State Bar of California, according to records of the state bar in San Francisco.

Burnam's suspension was asked by a committee of the state bar on charges of mishandling of $1,500 in funds belonging to a San Francisco client. After investigation, the charges were brought by the committee last Oct. 18, according to the state bar. The court suspension was for 24 months with all but three months stayed. The three months run from March 1 to June 1 according to the state bar records. He will be on probation for the remainder of the supension.

Burnam maintained an office at 1708 Grant Avenue and one in San Francisco. He worked out of his Novato office one day a week. Telephones in each office have been disconnected.

Macmillan Undergoes Gallstone Operation

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has undergone an operation for removal of a gallstone.

The hospital said his condition was satisfactory after the surgery yesterday. MacMillan is 75.

Library Open House Is Set

Archaeological collections of Dr. Kyle M. Yates Jr., professor of archaeology, at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry, will be on display at the seminary library 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through next Friday.

Student, faculty and staff art work will also be displayed in the library which is holding a special open house in observance of National Library Week.

A special open house will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday so that residents will be able to tour the library.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The councils' findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael library.

FAMILY:

"Support your Local Sheriff" — Clever spoof of western melodrama full of high adventure and laughter.

"Yours, Mine, and Ours" — An ingratiating cast in a warm, lively domestic comedy. Very human , filled with fun and laughter.

ADULTS AND TEENS:

"Charley"—Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Dracula has Risen from the Grave" — Effectively produced, gory British horror tale.

"Hell in the Pacific" — Set on uninhabited Pacific island during World War II. Film depicts the struggle for survival of two men. Handled with taste and sensitivity, photography is beautiful.

"Illustrated Man" — Carnival man has each of his adventures tattooed on his body. The stories are, to say the least, weird and best left to interpretation of the viewer.

"Lady in Cement" — Private eye Tony Rome again copes with murder. Crime is treated as comedy, language is gutter foul, action is brutal with lots of violence.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

BORDERLINE:
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"I Love You, Alice B. Toklas" — Establishment and the hippies are spoofed to a farethee-well in this lively contemporary comedy.

ADULTS ONLY

"Killing of Sister George" — Title taken from character which an actress portrays on TV. Film treats lesbianism with unprecedented explicitness with lewd scenes blatantly shown.

"The Magus" — Symbolic mystic drama in which no identity is clearly defined, has suspense and romance. Its abscure message is that "we all must learn to love." Much explicit sex and nudity.

"Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" — Story of the unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a girls school in Scotland in the 1930s. Her behavior is presented as amusing and acceptable. Nudity and sex are explicit.

"Touchables" — British sex fantasy, a wild, absurd tale of depravity.

"Two for the Road" — Sophisticated comedy has several explicit love scenes and extremely frank dialogue.

Marin City Has First Burglary In Three Months

A three-month respite from burglaries in Marin City was broken yesterday with the burglary of an old mansion while the victims were at home, sheriff's deputies said today.

Deputies said the home of Clyde Collings, located near the Marin County Housing Authority office on Drake Avenue, was broken into between 4:45 and 5:15 p.m. yesterday while both Collings and his grandmother were in the house.

Among the loot taken by burglars, who pried open a locked window in the living room, was a sterling silver service valued 40 years ago at $1,000. Also taken was a $150 portable television set, an FM tuner and radio and six bottles of liquor.

Neither Collings nor his grandmother heard the burglars, deputies said, adding that it was the first burglary in Marin City in three months.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Dining And Wining

Survivor Of The 1906 Quake Plans Another Grand Opening

On this 63rd anniversary of the San Francisco earthquake, there is a grand opening celebration going on at the old Marshall Hotel and Tavern on the east shore of Tomales Bay.

At least — a grand opening was planned for tonight. If there should be a recurrence of the 1906 quaver as has been predicted, all bets are off. On that memorable occasion, the hotel which was built about 1865 and was then known as the North Coast Hotel, dropped off its pilings into the bay. But it landed right side up and more or less intact and was subsequently raised a respectable distance above the high tide mark. It went back into business as usual, and I understand this included a variety of operations, some frowned upon.

All that has been changed. A few years ago the hotel was completely done over, although it still retains a Victorian decor and is furnished with antiques. The tavern and restaurant are located in a separate building and these have been done over,too.

Now operating both facilities — 13-room, year-round accommodations, food and bar — are two Marinites who have already attained some distinction for their past accomplishments — Mike Considine of Mill Valley, who lost his Lion's Share club in Sausalito last November when it was badly damaged by fire, and attorney and former Marin County supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

The tavern operates on a seasonal general liquor license nine months of the year February through October. This means that only wines and beer are served November, December and January — but those months aren't generally noted for a rushing business at the coast.

Starting this weekend, dinners will be served Fridays from 6 to 10:30 p.m. and the dining room will be open straight through for lunches and dinners on Saturdays and Sundays. Food is being prepared by Jenna Nichols McBride (recently married), whom you may remember for her cooking at Farallon East in Stinson Beach. Before that she was at the famous Red Dog Saloon in Virginia City. Steaks, chops and such good American food are on the menu.

Mike tells me that starting June 1 they hope to be open seven days a week for both lunch and dinner during the summer season.

Other plans include live entertainment on weekends and old fashioned movies, including a W. C. Fields film festival. Appearing tonight is John Stewart, formerly of the Cumberland Three. Buffy Ford will appear on another occasion. "Weird and unusual acts" are scheduled for the coming months. Tonight there's a belly dancer performing and she may be followed at other times by anyone from a magician to a sword swallower. There will be Dixieland jazz on Sunday afternoons, not this Sunday, but starting April 27.

All in all I'd say the Marshall Hotel and Tavern promises to have quite an interesting future. Of course, it is located on the edge of the San Andreas fault, and lightning has been known to strike twice in the same place.

A TERRIFIC DISH for dinner at the Oak Tree Inn in San Geronimo is the lobster a l'Armoricaine. It's a delectible lobster steak if you ever tasted one.

But there are a dozen other entrees you might enjoy, too, from spaghetti and canelloni to chicken cacciatora to veal scaloppini to steaks to Russian cabbage rolls.

Right now this is a Friday, Saturday and Sunday dinner house, like the Marshall Hotel and Tavern, with food service from 5 to 11 p.m. The bar is open throughout the week from 9 a.m. to 2 a.m. And like the Marshall Hotel, in bygone years the Oak Tree Inn has a "past" which eventually was lived down, as I expected a lot of places did west of White's Hill.

Over the years the road across the hill has improved and no one thinks of it anymore as a major driving hazard. I still remember back to the days when the turns were turnier, steeper and not well graded in the beam. And there was a spring at the side of the road for those overheated motors and boiling radiators that couldn't make it to the top in one lap. With the old lunk that provided me with transportation then, I had to patronize it regularly each trip, summer or winter.

In the four years Dee and Ray Brunal have had the Oak Tree, business has picked up amazingly among both denizens of the valley and visitors from afar — which probably accounts for the fact that Ray now actually looks like a happy man. I'm told that the first time he was seen to let loose with a smile, one customer at the bar was so overcome he spilled his drink.

Oh, yes: I should remind you, at the Oak Tree, Dee speaks Spanish, Polish and Russian. And I think Ray speaks some French, or at least he smiles in it.

FAMILY STYLE DINNERS now make up the evening food service at Anjo's at 535 Fourth Street, San Rafael. Menu includes steaks, barbecued spareribs, Italian dishes and seafood. Price range is from $2.50 to $4.25, including soup and salad. And youngsters under 12 travel at half price.

No more Chinese food here or decor either, as was the case when this place was known as Quan Lin of Marin. Everything has been changed. The dining room has blossomed out in new paneling, old wine casks and some enclosed booths.

Hours are from 11 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. for lunches and dinners, but with no food service on Sundays.

THE MARSHALL HOUSE in Santa Rosa (not to be confused with the Marshall Hotel on the Marin Coast) is closing the rest of the month for a doing over and will reopen May 1.

This is an interesting old Victorian house at 835 Second Street, close in to town. For about five years owner Harriette Watson has served lunches only and it has been a gathering place for groups and parties. Recently she has been joined by June Simpson, who had her own dinery in Carmel for many years. Now the Marshall House has also turned to serving dinners.

Menu specialty is pot roast, but also features other roasts, chicken and lamb but no steaks. The choice is generally limited to about four entrees. Wines and beer are served.

On reopening, the new schedule will call for lunches Mondays through Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and dinners Wednesdays through Sundays from 5 to 8:30 p.m.

A number of Marinites have already "discovered" it.

CHEF RICHARD RICHARDSON'S Cote Rouge Cooking School at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo has only 11 more enrollments available following last week's announcement. It will start the first Wednesday in May.

Next Thursday's California Night, features Mike Elwood, president of Llords and Elwood Winery. He will conduct "blind" tastings of his own award winning wines and equivalent wines of Europe. So you can tell which is which? Here's your chance to prove it. Just make your reservations early.

House Sinking Is Blamed On Widening Project

A Loch Lomond homeowner charged yesterday that his home suddenly sank six or more inches because of the county's road widening project along San Pedro Road at Lochinvar Road.

A. Thomas Panages of 5 Lochinvar Road filed a claim for damages against the county as a prelude to a formal court suit. He did not specify the amount of damages because "at this point, I am at a loss to place a value."

He said he has occupied the home for nearly 10 years, but and unnoticeable. Yet, the moment heavy equipment began working on the road next to his home, that side of the home sank, said Panages.

More Bids On Station Sought

The Bolinas Fire Protection District board will hold a special meeting at the Bolinas Fire Station at 7:30 p.m. Monday to call for fresh bids on a new fire station, Manuel S. Peters, chairman, announced today.

The board rejected two bids submitted Monday night without opening them, because it wanted more bids than just two.

The district can spend up to $45,000 for a new station, he said.

Registration Dates

Kindergarten registration for the 1969-70 school year will be held in each of Larkspur's four schools from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. on April 30.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

WINE BAEDEKER

(A guidebook to wine things)

At Cafe Bon Vin, events having to do with wine occur with delightful frequency. As wine lovers are captured by happy repetitions of pleasurable experiences here, and interest in the establishment mounts, it becomes more necessary than ever to phone ahead, reserve a place, plan the party, order the wine, sign up for the course, write the check—and all the intrusive details events of small capacity and large appeal always require.

Here is a check list of things both regular and occasional to take place in the weeks ahead. Check what you like and mail the ad to us; then it will be our job to see you're present and pleased.

☐ JUG OF THE MONTH. Only 220 jugs still remain of the thousand delivered. Foppiano Petit Sirah, aged to velvet softness. $3.50 gallon — and worth four times the price.

☐ APRIL 24. Mike Elwood of Llords and Elwood comes with wine and recipes for tasting, talk and a Vintner's banquet. Reserve now.

☐ COTE ROUGE COOKING SCHOOL. Instructions in classic French cooking by Chef Richardson plus special events—fashions, dance, and Fred Cherry's quick course in Wine Appreciation. Every Wednesday afternoon in May; enrollment very limited.

☐ CHAMPAGNE BRUNCH . . . "Doctor's Cap" and eleven other happy entrees rarely if ever served in America. With bottle-fermented brut champagne — $3.95.

Supervisor Salary Hike Aired Again

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Grand Jury last night gathered information for a review of salaries of county supervisors and plans another session for Monday to prepare a decision.

Representatives of the Irate Taxpayers of Sonoma County appeared to protest the jury's recommendation last month to increase supervisors' salaries from $13,200 to $16,000 in January 1971.

Jury foreman Herbert Schulze said the taxpayers presented a comparison of supervisoral pay in other countries and also discussed the influence of governmantal costs on inflation of the economy.

Also appearing were Supervisors Ignacio A. Vella of Sonoma, Robert Theiller of Sebastopol and Arthur R. Ruonavaara of Healdsburg. Vella gave information concerning a proposed salary of $2,600 per year for the supervisors when acting as directors of the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

An amendment to a bill coauthored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would pay the men $50 per day for directing the district affairs.

Controversial Artist Loses Home In Fire

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y. (AP) — A ball of fire and an explosion today destroyed the sprawling, Adirondack Mountain home of controversial artist Rockwell Kent, sending the aging Kent and his wife fleeing into a predawn rainstorm.

Firemen said the bulk of Kent's paintings were in a separate studio untouched by the fire. Some art works inside the frame home, however, were burned.

The two-story, ranch-style Kent home, 15 miles from here, was a total loss.

Fireman Henry Roudeau of Ausable Forks said that, from two miles away, he saw a ball of flame puff up from the vicinity of the Kent home at about 2:30 a.m. He told reporters he believed a bolt of lightning had hit on or near the home.

Kent, 87, has lived in this area for many years.

An artist who won fame for his landscapes, Kent renewed the lengthy political storm that embraced him when he visited Moscow in 1967 and received the Lenin Peace Prize.

He donated prize money of $10,000 to North Viet Nam.

Deadline April 30 For Report To State

The deadline for filing state unemployment insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the first quarter of 1969 is April 30, Charles J. Brady, auditor in charge at the state Department of Employment office in San Rafael, reminded today.

Penalty and interest will be charged if a report is filed after the deadline, Brady said.

INDUSTRIAL SITES

North Marin Potential Boosted During Tour

Novato Chamber of Commerce officials showed off the growing North Marin area yesterday to a busload of businessmen, military officials and newsmen.

The occasion was the chamber's Spring Industrial Tour, which had been planned for months.

The tour, first ever conducted by the chamber, sought to wipe out Marin's image as being opposed to industrial development.

"We want to show that we welcome development suitable to Marin," said chamber president George Barnwell. "We seek to erase the notion that Marin is antagonistic."

Beginning and ending at the Civic Center, the tour passed knots of construction throughout North Marin and even included a trip to Hamilton Air Force Base to watch the 78th Fighter Wing scramble two of its jets.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato greeted the group of about 30 persons — which included bankers and industrial real estate brokers — at the Civic Center in the morning. He told of the history of the Civic Center and cited statistics reflecting Marin's economic growth.

Large envelopes, containing maps, industrial park brochures and Marin facts and figures, were passed out.

The first stop was at the Holiday Inn under construction across from the Northgate Shopping Center. Scheduled to open next month, the inn will have 118 units and a banquet room seating 400 persons.

After the stop at Hamilton and a visit to 26-acre Hamilton Industrial Park off Highway 101, city officials greeted the tour at a luncheon at the Marin Golf and Country Club. After lunch, the bus passed through downtown Novato and the sprawling San Marin development, stopping at Gnoss Field, the county airport.

The McGraw Hill Book Co. distribution center, across Highway 101 from the airport, was the final stop of the tour from the airport, was the final stop of the tour. The center distributed about 6.5 million books in 1968 and employs 275 persons.

Harry P. Graves, vice president in charge of western operations for the book company, said that the facility formerly was located in San Francisco but was moved to Marin because of a better tax climate and a good labor supply.

"We have more applicants for jobs than we know what to do with," Graves said.

Ross Tankersley, chairman of the Novato chamber's economic development committee, said he felt North Marin's big attractions for industry were the climate and "uncluttered conditions."

"We hope to get any businesses in," he said "We're not kidding ourselves to think that the tour will bring a lot of industry into the area."

60 Bids Made On Apartment

The flat, a 12-room cooperative, went on the market soon after the Nixons moved to the White House.

Nixon recently valued it at $166,860, but real estate men say it probably will bring a high bid of $200,000 or more.

Black Student Needs Spark Shouting At College Board

Although Louis H. Herkenhoff, acting college president, and other officials and board members explained to the students that local tax money cannot be used for student aid, there was finally agreement to look for other sources.

Dean Irwin P. Diamond, who was shouted down when he attempted to explain the current sources of student aid, told the black students that the situation probably will be even worse next year because federal funds have been cut.

Sizemore said that the $270,000 is needed for aid to "ethnic groups" but added that it was not clear how much would have to be raised by the college.

"Hunger and lack of shelter are not abstract," Sizemore said, "but maybe hungry students shouldn't be in college."

CHARLES SIZEMORE
Voices black stand

Sizemore also added that black students did not want to go out and raise funds in the community and were not enthusiastic about work programs where students are paid for jobs.

"You'd be just like the rest of us if you had to work," shouted a white girl.

A middle-aged white woman suggested that funds from the student bookstore could be used for black students, and after a confused discussion, it was agreed to look at this source of money.

Board President Theodore C. Wellman pointed out that it would be illegal for the board to appropriate funds to the student government to distribute to black students, but Sizemore said he was not interested in discussing legalities.

After a good deal more confusion about whether a suggested committee should include a designated number of persons or anyone who showed up for a meeting, it was agreed to have some kind of a committee meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at a place to be announced.

When Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy earlier said that trustees could not come at 9 a.m. today to such a meeting, several students jeered at the trustees for putting their work above the students' demands.

Planned Flood Control Protest Bows To Black Student Demands

Residents of Kent Woodlans, in a last-ditch stand to prevent Tamalpais Creek from being cemented as part of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project, last night joined College of Marin students in a donnybrook staged before college trustees.

No action came out of last night's meeting of the Marin Junior College District board except the scheduling of another meeting after black students muddied the waters even further by shouting demands for immediate student aid.

The issue at the moment is a temporary right-of-way across college land which the Flood Control Project contractors need in order to construct a new bridge over Corte Madera Creek.

The board long ago agreed to the Flood Control project, but Kent Woodlands residents hope that if they can further delay the completion of phase two of the project (which includes the bridge), they can prevent phase three.

Residents of the plush suburb have tried for some months to have the third phase re-routed for the benefit of Kent Woodlands and have underground pipes instead of a concrete channel to carry off flood waters.

Told some months ago by the Board of Supervisors and the Army Corps of Engineers they could have this change if they (the residents) paid for it, the change floundered when only $17,000 of the needed $100,000 was raised.

Last night college planning director Dale E. Fleming attempted to describe the flood control project to the more than 200 people in the crowded room, but was shouted down by black students.

"We don't want to talk about water and mud when black students are coming to school hungry," cried one student.

After a monologue by black student Walter Turner, who called board members a "group of puppets" and an exchange of angry comments from various corners of the room, Fleming tried again.

At that point William M. Bennett, a Kent Woodlands resident, suggested the flood control project be deferred to the black students' demands. Architect Lawrence Halprin, another Kent Woodlands resident, agreed.

After County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost was booed when he said that the college had long ago agreed to the flood control contract, the board voted to continue the discussion of the whole matter next week.

A special meeting on the subject of flood control was set for 8 p.m. next Thursday with the place to be announced later.

Some Rainfall In Heavy Fog

A soupy fog rolling in off the Pacific yesterday turned into rain along the ocean shoreline but fizzled into an unmeasurable mist on the bayside in Southern Marin.

Bolinas reported .14 of an inch, the only measured precipitation in Marin County yesterday.

The fog rolling through the Golden Gate dipped down to the tops of the lower hills of Southern Marin during the afternoon but lifted in the early evening.

Crash Injures County Worker

James Michael Wong, 31, an employee of the Marin County Health Department, was injured yesterday when his car smashed into a tree west of Nicasio after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The highway patrol said the accident happened on San Geronimo-Nicasio Road at about 4:15 p.m.

The patrol said Wong, who lives in San Francisco, complained of a pain in his left shoulder and elbow and said he would see his own doctor.

Rohnert Park Has New Mayor

Rohnert Park City Councilman James W. Rodgers was chosen last night to head the council as mayor for the next year, succeeding Arthur N. Roberts.

Rodgers, who served as mayor in 1965-66, was first appointed to the council in June 1963 and was elected in 1966. He is the city's eighth mayor.

Named as vice mayor was Councilman Vernon P. Smith, who had served as mayor in 1963-64.

Board Votes For Building Despite Tax Rate Rebuff

Faced with the need to cut programs and postpone building programs after the defeat of a tax override Tuesday, the Marin Junior College District board last night nevertheless decided now is not the time for another election.

Trustees also decided to go ahead with planned building on the Kentfield campus for which funds are already available and voted to advertise for bids for a new science center and Harlan Center.

The science building is estimated to cost $2,378,300 and Harlan Center, which will contain laboratories, classrooms and seminar rooms, $898,000.

Trustee Donald K. Felt, in discussing the election failure, suggested that a very specific program should be offered to voters at any future election.

"We should be able to say, 'here is a program which will put Marin County on the map educationally,' " Felt said.

Felt also suggested that the board should reconsider hiring a superintendent for the district this year to lead the college in presenting programs to the community.

Although Trustee Harry J. Moore said he wanted building to start on the Novato campus before any more building is done in Kentfield, other trustees voted against him 6-1 to go ahead on the southern campus.

Students at the meeting objected to spending money on buildings and a superintendent instead of programs, but trustees pointed out that building money cannot be used elsewhere.

Student Michael McGinn suggested that the community residents and students design and build their own buildings on the new campus, but Moore said that Novato residents are "having trouble enough putting in a sprinkler system" at a community park in Novato.

Architects for the school agreed, however, to meet with the students and faculty to discuss new buildings.

Runoff Election Held At College

For sophomore men's representative, Mike Beyries outpolled Chuck Douglas, 110-81.

The Black Sea is black because of a high concentration of hydrogen sulphide. The Red Sea gets its red hue from the recurring bloom of small algae. Russia's White Sea earned its name from the ice that covers it most of the year. The Yellow Sea derives its color from mud that rivers carry into it.

$33,000 Worth Of Welfare Checks Lost

Welfare checks totaling $33,000 for Petaluma residents have disappeared, the Sonoma County County Sheriff's office reported today.

Officials said two mail sacks containing the checks have apparently been lost in the mail en route to Petaluma, but banks and grocery stores have been alerted to watch for the checks in the event they have been stolen.

LEAP INJURES WOMAN

Two Escape Death In Greenbrae Blaze

A Greenbrae housewife who leaped from the third floor of her burning home last night was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken back.

Elizabeth Susan Finsland, 47, jumped from the third floor of her home at 170 Corte Ramon about 10 p.m., minutes before the Larkspur Fire Department arrived on the scene.

Her husband, John P. Finsland, was trapped on a rear deck when firemen arrived. Firemen said they were unable to run a ladder to him because of the steep terrain, so Asst. Chief William Lellis donned a smoke mask and entered the house. He reached Finsland, gave him another smoke mask and led him to safety.

Firemen reported the blaze cause heavy fire damage to the living and dining rooms and extensive smoke damage to the second floor. Damage was estimated at a total of $10,000.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation, firemen said. However, Chief William C. Shurtz said it may have started in a couch, possibly from a cigarette.

Coroner Unsure Of Youth's Death Cause

Although toxicology tests showed a "moderate amount" of various drugs in the body of a 21-year-old San Anselmo man who died suddenly on March 26, Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, Marin coroner, said today he did not know if the drugs caused his death.

Forrest L. Rankin died when he choked on his vomit, Dr. Cooke said, but added that he did not know what had caused this to occur.

Moderate amounts of barbiturates and methamphetamine and traces of morphine were found during tests, he said, but Dr. Cooke said not enought facts were known to determine if they caused death.

The youth's friends who brought him to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael after finding him unconscious said that he had fallen from a motorcycle earlier in the day and then had taken drugs for pain.

Dr. Cooke said that bruises were found on the body but no serious injuries were present.

Rifle, Ammo Stolen

Burglars who entered Tarr General Store in Woodacre either Monday night or early Tuesday morning stole a .22 caliber rifle and 30 boxes of ammunition, sheriff's officers said yesterday.

Enrichment Courses Set For Summer

The Old Adobe School board last night approved a summer school program that will include enrichment courses rather than remedial programs.

Norman Ross, principal of La Tercera School, was named summer school principal for the session which will run from June 16 through July 9 at La Tercera. All students in the Petaluma area living on the east side of Highway 101 are eligible to attend, regardless of what school district they are in.

Ross said the remedial programs were dropped this year because it was found at last year's session that students received very few benefits from the short-term program.

Enrichment programs will include arts and crafts, physical education, choral singing, and a combined creative writing and dramatics course in which students will write and produce plays. Courses in mathematics, science, reading, language arts, history and geography will also be offered in two-hour sessions.

The Old Adobe School board also:

SUPERINTENDENT — Voted unanimously to offer Supt. Dean Magowan a four-year contract, the maximum permitted under the law. His salary will be discussed in June.

salaries — Approved resignation of trustee James Gambonini as board liason with the salary negotiating committee. Trustee Margaret Kullberg was named to replace him.

HIRE — Approved employment of Elaine Harris as a full-time speech therapist, and as unassigned teachers, Patricia Buford, Karen Carsey, Janice Hoove, Alice Morse and Karen Willis. Salaries have not been set for the new employees.

Teen-Age Park Hirings Asked For Tiburon

Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended that the city council hire three teen-age boys to work for the city's public works department during the summer, according to Russell L. Melquist assistant to the city manager.

The commissioners also suggested the council appropriate $1,500 for the salaries for the three youngsters, Melquist said. This is the third year the commission has recommended a summer work program but the council in past years has refused to approviate money for salaries.

The Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission also:

SUMMER RECREATION — Agreed to sponsor a summer recreation program for teenagers in cooperation with the City of Belvedere. The Reed School District will run a recreation program for kindergarten-eighth grade children.

AYALA DAY — Tentatively set Sept. 6 as Ayala Day to be celebrated by a picnic on Angel Island.

LANES — Heard that garbage is being dumped on some of the lanes and footpaths and agreed to ask the council to do something about the problem.

The Asmat of New Guinea believe so strongly in equality that when some schoolchildren were taught to play soccer, the game invariably ended in a tie. Only after much prompting did the children learn to play to win, according to the National Geographic Society.

FIVE CITIZENS SEEK TO JOIN ROSS COUNCIL

At least five aspirants for appointment to the Ross town Council are expected to be interviewed at a closed council session at 8 p.m. today at the town hall.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said today five Ross citizens had submitted applications "at the last count."

The appointment will be to fill out the term of Jack Carney, radio personality who was elected a year ago but resigned March 27.

Restoring Bike Trail Funds Will Be Sought

The Sausalito Recreation Commission last night asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors to restore $25,000 sliced from requests for a bicycle trail system in the county.

Sausalito Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger said the commission would write a letter to the supervisors asking them to restore the funds cut by County Administrator Alan Bruce from the county parks and recreation department's proposed 1969-70 budget.

Pierre W. Joske, director of the county department, had requested $50,000 for bike trails, $20,000 of which already has tentatively been approved by the supervisors. Bruce would agree to only $5,000 more and advised Joske to try to get the other $25,000 from the federal government.

The commission also began discussions last night on setting up a summer bowling program to provide free bowling lessons to the city's young people, Wohlschlaeger said.

Prosecutors Study Burglaries Wave

A representative of the Marin County district attorney's office said today that he and others in the office are still reviewing the almost 100 burglary cases allegedly cleared by the breakup of a five man ring.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunino added that no new charges have been filed yet against four of the alleged group who already have been arrested in connection with some of the burglaries.

Meanwhile, after a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court yesterday, Andrew Moncur Gillespie III, 19, of San Rafael was bound over to superior court on a charge of burglarizing a Greenbrae home on April 14.

A co-defendant in that case, who, police say, has also been a member of the ring, Robert Charles Baldi, 19, of San Rafael, was released when witnesses failed to identify him positively as having been connected with the offense.

Preliminary hearings for other cases in which Gillespie and Gordon Keith Jennings, 21, of Novato, have been accused of burglaries were continuing today in Marin Municipal Court.

A fourth man allegedly involved is in county jail awaiting a preliminary hearing on six charges of burglaries in Tiburon. He is Steven Wayne Mitchell, 19, an AWOL Marine from San Rafael.

The fifth alleged ring member has not yet been arrested.

Inspector Guido Battaglia of the sheriff's department said today he had received several calls from people who thought the ring had burglarized their homes.

He added that he had told the callers that the possibility of recovering their stolen property was negligible because the group disposed of it so quickly through San Francisco fences.

Gallinas Panel To Meet On Thursday

The Gallinas Village Community Services District directors did not meet last night but will meet next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Fireside Room of the Presbyterian Church on Adrian Way.

Secretary Marguerite F. Clark said the directors will discuss summer recreation and confer with the new maintenance supervisor, John Endemann of Fairfax about park maintenance. Endemann was hired a week ago to succeed William Toba, who resigned.

Teen Commission On Council List

The Mill Valley City Council will consider establishing a youth commission at 8 p.m. Monday at city hall.

The Parks and Recreation Commission has approved the plan to establish a 13-member commission with seven members under 21 years of age and six over 21.

The council also will hear a report on major street needs and will consider street lighting for Sycamore Avenue and Miller Avenue.

Bolinas-Stinson Budget Session Off

The Bolinas-Stinson School District board did not hold its scheduled meeting on the proposed 1969-70 school budget last night for lack of a quorum, Supt. Clarence B. Larison said.

The next board meeting is at 8 p.m. May 13 at Bolinas School.

A double car garage with work bench and easy commuting for Dad; built-in kitchen and wall-to-wall carpets thruout (even in the kitchen) for Mom; a family room off the large patio for the kids, along with a Doughboy pool and dressing room for the whole family! Extras include new paint, fireplace, matching refrigerator and dishwasher. Vacant — Our guaranteed trade in program should help with the financing. Price $34,950.

ON THE CANAL
Are you imaginative?? Think what you could do with a home that already has all these important qualities: 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, a huge kitchen, covered backyard BBQ, a 100' frontage on a deep water canal close to the Marin Yacht Club, and your own spacious dock. This home on Pt. San Pedro Road needs just a little fixing up. Price $59,950.

PRIVACY PLUS
One Acre: This peaceful family home high in the hills of Fairhills in San Rafael has a U-Shaped floor plan encompassing a delightful outdoor living area with ample room for a pool. The house has a separate dining room, a kitchen with a distinct breakfast area, four bedrooms in addition to a den or family room. If you have been looking for a home in this price range, this property is well worth the time to inspect and check the value at the price of $69,500.

ROOMS GALORE
Wish you had a separate room for sewing or the Hi-Fi or perhaps overnite guests? With this lovely home you would have the luxury of "rooms to spare." It includes 5 bedrooms, 4½ baths, a family room covering the entire first floor, and a balcony encircling the better portion of the home. There is even plenty of room for a pool! This is a "must-see" for any large family with that "fenced-in" feeling!!! Price $69,500.

Paradise Cay

★ Important Announcem'nt ★
Paradise Cay has only a limited number of lots & houses available at this time due to rapid sales in the last 6 months. Of the 132 lots developed the company has only 4 finished lots for sale. Prices have been held without increases.

Buyers are recognizing the limited opportunity for waterfront property. Paradise Cay is the only true deep waterfront development right in San Francisco Bay affording sheltered harboring for boats.

★ NEW ★
The only bay front view property left is a just completed 2800 sq. ft. 4 bdrm. home in utmost luxury. $78,000. This home was built by Pullman Building Co. (18 yrs. in luxury homes.) Now based at the Cay. You can have your plan built for you by them or buy your lot and select your own builder.

★ NEW ★
Horst Hanf, a well known Marin County builder, has recently completed a 4 bdrm., 2 bath home featuring a dining rm., family rm. w/frplc. & paneled walls, living rm. w/frplc., a deep water berthing area in the back yard. This is abundant living at the lowest price in the Cay, on the water for $59,500. THIS WILL SELL FAST!

Enjoy level living with sidewalks & the beauty of underground utils. In Reed Union School District with school bus service at entrance. If you haven't visited the Cay lately we suggest you find out what you are missing.

CONTEMPORARY MEDITERRANEAN VILLA
We are privileged to present one of the most distinctive and beautiful homes in San Rafael where man has vied with nature for superb effects, combining a level ½-acre with an unobstructed view and a 5000-sq.-ft. villa to bring you one of the finest marine pictures you will ever see. This magnificent home is only 2 years old and overlooks the bay and the San Rafael Canal, surrounded with terrazzo decks and balconies with wrought iron railings. The private driveway leads to a beautiful garden, with lawns, aggregate patios and a fountain. The entrance and reception hall are done in terrazzo, with a beautiful staircase and balustrade, 4 bedrooms, a family room, 4 bathrooms (all terrazzo floors), a study, family kitchen with too many features to describe, living room, formal dining room and a social room with a 15-ft. wet bar. This room you won't believe until you see it. We could go on and on describing this magnificent home. No cost has been spared in its construction, but seeing is believing. Only qualified buyers — by appointment only. $170,000. A Davis exclusive.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals or bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT at the Administration Building, 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, Belvedere-Tiburon, California, up to 4:00 o'clock P.M., April 30, 1969, for the construction of

REEDLAND WOODS MIDDLE SCHOOL, REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT, BELVEDERE-TIBURON, CALIFORNIA

located at Blackfield Drive and Via Los Altos, Belvedere-Tiburon, California.

Wages Scales:

All workmen employed by the Contractor or any sub-contractor in the construction of the above-named project must be paid in accordance with the scale of wages found to be prevailing and most recently adopted by the Board of Supervisors by resolution as the prevailing scale of wages and which is on file in the office thereof. Such prevailing wage scale resolution as it applies to the locality in which the work referred to is to be performed, is hereby incorporated in this notice by this reference as though fully set forth, and including specifications therein of per diem wages for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality of the project, and all fringe benefits included in labor agreements.

Said schedule of per diem wages is based upon an eight hour working day unless otherwise specified herein, and the wages prescribed are the per diem rates divided by the number of hours constituting the working day.

All skilled and other labor not listed is to be paid not less than union scale for such labor.

Bid Bond:

Each bid must be accompanied by cash, a certified or cashier's check, or a Bidder's Bond by a Surety Company satisfactory to the District in the sum of 10% of total aggregate amount of bid, and such checks or bond shall be made payable to the order of the School District giving this notice as liquidated damages, actual damages being difficult to ascertain, in case the successful bidder fails to file satisfactory bonds as required by the Contract Documents, or fails, refuses, or is unable to enter into a written contract within the specified time. Checks and bid bonds may be submitted separately from bids and will be opened along with the Proposal by the District's Administrator for inspection.

Performance Bond, Labor and Material Bond:

The successful bidder must furnish a Performance Bond and a Labor and Material Bond each in an amount equal to the total amount payable under the Contract.

Plans and Specifications:

Plans, specifications, and other documents may be secured at the office of the Architect:

RON D. YOUNG,
Architect & Associates
1350 Duane Avenue
Santa Clara, California 95050
Telephone: (408) 244-4880

A deposit of $50.00 will be required for each set of plans and specifications. If these documents are returned in good condition within ten days after the date of bid opening, the full amount of the deposit will be returned. Each Contractor will be limited to two sets of plans and specifications.

Time Limit:

The work of the Contract shall be full completed not later than 310 calendar days as called for in Article 5 of the Agreement.

Midyett Sued For Divorce

Donald E. Midyett, 51, senior criminal investigator for the Marin district attorney's office, has been sued for divorce by his third wife, Georgia.

They were married in Reno, Nev., in 1962, according to the suit filed Tuesday in Marin Superior Court and separated Tuesday.

Mrs. Midyett asked reasonable support and that the court award her all of the community property.

Reagan Support For Tax Refunds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has given his support to a bill which would extend for six weeks the deadline for homeowners to apply for their $70 refund on last year's property taxes and to file for this year's exemption.

The Republican governor sent a message to legislators yesterday asking for support for a bill introduced by Assemblyman George Milias, R-Gilroy.

Under Prop. 1-A approved by voters last November, homeowners are eligible for a $70 rebate on last year's taxes and a $750 exemption on the assessed valuation of their property for this year.

But the deadline for filing for both was April 15, and Reagan said that in Los Angeles County alone more than half a million property owners who asked for forms have not mailed them in.

The governor said the taxpayers should have "every possible opportunity to claim these benefits."

Schools' Image Hurt By Campus Violence?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Public confidence in state-supported schools never has been as low as it is today, declares the tentative report of a special Assembly committee on campus unrest.

The Select Committee on Campus Disturbances will meet several more times on the 14-point paper before it is put into final form, said Chairman Victor Veysey, R-Brawley, also Assembly Education Committee chairman.

Then it will go to Republican Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan of Tracy and be given wide public distribution, Veysey said folowing a committee hearing yesterday.

Other major findings of the draft copy:

The low level of public confidence is a direct result of disorder and disruption on college and university campuses — a position challenged by two Democrats on the committee, Assemblymen Willie Brown of San Francisco and John Vasconcellos of San Jose.

It is important to distinguish between legitimate dissent and social protest and unlawful activities and forced concession.

Administrators must do more to communicate with students.

Governing boards of the state's university, colleges and junior colleges must share blame for the situation.

Nonmilitant students also should assume roles of leadership rather than to "sit idly by."

Veysey emphasized the report is not in formal form.

At one point yesterday, Republican Newton Russell of Tujunga said: "We have to some way bear in mind that the public has had its belly full. We have to say we recognize this and we agree."

Russell was calling for a minimum three-month suspension or dismissal for any student convicted of a felony crime committed on campus.

Airport Noise Crackdown Bill Granted For Repair

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democratic Assemblyman John F. Foran of San Francisco thinks it's about time California stopped waiting for the federal government to deal with "noise pollution," jet noise at airports.

He proposed — and the Assembly Transportation Committee seemed in general agreement — that the state or counties should take the lead in setting noise limits at airports and fining violators $1,000 for each infraction.

But his measure doesn't specify which agency would determine the standards, who would enforce them, when they would go into effect and who would provide the funds for the overall operation.

So at Foran's request yesterday, the committee held over for one week his bill to give him time to prepare the amendments. The decision followed more than three hours of testimony.

The two sides were clearly defined — spokesmen for citizens groups and individuals and communities embroiled in airport noise lawsuits favoring the bill, representatives of aviation organizations opposing it.

Los Angeles attorney Gerald Fadem said damage suits involving individuals, communities, cities and airports are springing up because the airports are occasionally in jurisdictions other than the areas which get the worst of the noise.

Apolda is a German town noted for centuries for bell casting.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

THE ASSEMBLY

Constitutional Amendment Adopted

Retirement — Permits portion of Teachers' Retirement Fund to be invested in specific types of common and preferred stock and shares in mutual funds; ACA15, Barnes, R-San Diego.

Resolution Introduced

Medical — Creates joint legislative committee to study the high cost of medical care in California; ACR 145, Townsend, D-Torrance.

THE SENATE

No major action.

BART Warns Against Delays

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — As they sold their next-to-last issue of construction bonds yesterday, Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors warned against additional expenses.

Additions and delays threaten completion of the San Francisco Municipal Railway system subway through Twin Peaks, they said.

A syndicate headed by Halsey, Stuart and Co. made the low bid of 5.27 per cent for the $70 million issue, the highest yet for a BART issue.

Only one more issue, for $72 million, remains to be sold from the $792 million voted in 1962.

BART is constructing a rail line in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Agnew Sets Visit To California

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will make his first visit to California since taking office when he delivers speeches May 6 and in Sacramento and San Francisco.

Gov. Ronald Reagan's office announced yesterday that Agnew will meet with the governor during his California visit and discuss federal-state relationships.

On May 6 Agnew will attend a meeting of the governor's cabinet at the Capitol and hold a news conference. That night he is scheduled to address a Republican fund-raising dinner sponsored by the Sacramento Republican Fund.

U.S. Churches Facing Historic Fiscal Pinch

"The national church structures are hurting," says Rev. Francis X. Pirazzini, Silver Spring, Md., chairman of a special ad hoc committee set up in the United Church of Christ to analyze the problem.

"Some denominations are feeling it worse than others—but it seems to be hitting almost across the board," he said.

STAFF SQUEEZE

In numerous cases, the monetary squeeze has forced cutbacks in programs and personnel—with headquarters staff reductions estimated at 2 to 3 per cent in several major Protestant bodies.

Rev. Dr. John Coventry Smith, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church, says the churches may "be experiencing some of the antinational organization attitude that other institutions are experiencing."

A key feature of the trouble, as some officials see it, is an increasing diversion of church resources away from the national level to meet the costs of new local projects.

"The center of power is shifting," Rev. Pirazzini said in an interview. "It's taking more money to deal with a whole constellation of crises on the home scene, and this is siphoning support away from the big institutional operations."

OTHER FACTORS

Other factors cited as part of the situation includes:

Rising costs, with the inflationary climb outpacing income growth.

The redirection of substantial resources to finance urgent, new projects, involving slums and civil rights.

"It's quite evident that some people have withheld support because of the churches' stand on Vietnam and their activity for racial justice and on behalf of the poor," said Rev. Pirazzini, his church's Atlantic Conference executive.

"But new support has come from others who thank God that the churches now are doing something relevant to human need. Obviously, there's been a balancing out process taking place in this regard."

The Episcopal Church, its expected receipts down sharply had to trim its 1969 general budget to $14.2 million, down more than $1 million from the amount set by its governing convention, and $229,500 below that of last year.

The church had to use some reserves to meet even the lowered figure. Bishop Stephen F. Bayne, the Church's program coordinator, said it is suffering from a financial "problem unprecedented in our time," forcing retrenchments in various departmental programs.

The United Presbyterian Church reports that receipts for its general budget, for missions at home and abroad, decreased by $1.3 million last year, falling to $29.9 million from $31.2 million in 1967, the biggest drop since depression years, and $2 million below a projected budget, forcing program cutbacks.

LUTHERAN CUTS

The American Lutheran Church, at its convention last fall, cut its budget by about 5 per cent, reducing appropriations to missions and various educational and other institutions, because of reduced income.

The Christian Church Disciples reports receipts are down, with some agencies, such as domestic and overseas missions, facing a deficit this year, despite budget cuts.

Roman Catholic financial accounts generally are not publicized, but lack of funds is forcing the closing of a swelling number of parochial schools.

The Southern Baptist Convention wound up last year $722,530 short of its $27.7-million budget goal, preventing the distribution of some fund allocations for capital needs.

In contrast to the widespread pinch, the United Methodist Church still is in sturdy condition economically, a spokesman said, with receipts ahead of schedule this year, and a special $20-million racial reconciliation fund already oversubscribed. However, the Church involves two newly merged bodies, and comparisons with past statistics are not feasible.

NATIONAL COUNCIL

The National Council of Churches ran up a $110,180 general fund deficit last year, drawing on reserves. In an economy move, its relief arm, Church World Service, is closing down four clothing receiving centers July 1, concentrating operations at six other receiving and processing centers.

The American Bible Society says contributions from denominations dropped $101,675 in 1968 to $1.3 million.

Some local interdenominational bodies also were having financial trouble, including interchurch councils in Milwaukee, Louisville and Minneapolis, resulting in operational consolidations or special appeals.

Edward Johnson, finance director for the Minneapolis council, recently warned in a banking magazine that churches have become bad risks financially because "a sophisticated generation" is disenchanted with church institutions.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Not All High Temperature Is Caused By Fever In Human Body

VAN DELLEN

The clinical thermometer was invented 100 years ago, yet many misconceptions about fever continue. We know that every rise in body temperature is not fever. The reading may be elevated after eating, following exercise, and during ovulation, menstruation and pregnancy.

Many active convaelscent children have been kept in bed because their fever did not subside. Perhaps the mother does not realize that the temperature goes up briefly after a bit of roughousing in bed.

THE STANDARD 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit is a working average because normal body temperature varies a degree or two in different persons. It is highest in the afternoon and lowest between 3 and 5 a.m. This is reversed in night workers.

The mechanism that regulates temperature is monitored in the brain, and fever occurs when more heat is generated than the body is able to dissipate. Heat is lost mainly through the skin via radiation and sweating. Smaller amounts are expelled during exhalation as moist, warm vapor. Urination also eliminates some body heat. Drinking cold water does the same because the system uses some of its own heat to warm up the fluid.

ON THE OTHER HAND, fever can indicate disease, and although the cause must be treated, we must also try to lower the temperature.

Fever speeds up the metabolic rate which, in turn, increases the need for oxygen. Breathing becomes more rapid, and the pulse is faster. Tissues are broken down to supply the needed energy. Children with sustained high fever may devlop convulsions.

SPONGING WITH alcohol and water is cooling. In addition, many antipyretic drugs reduce temperature. Aspirin, the salicylamides, acetaminophen, and some of the newer synthetics are examples.

Most of us associate fever with infection, but body temperature goes up following heart attack, and when cancer exists. The symptom is caused by destruction of tissue.

BRANDY CURES NOTHING

A reader writes: In 1918 some people took brandy every day to ward off the Spanish flu. Would this help to ward off Hong Kong flu?

REPLY

Brandy cures nothing, but some people take it before, during, and after an illness. It's a good alibi, if nothing else. Flu vaccine is the only preventive of which I know. It offers up to 80 per cent protection.

CAUSES OF ERRATIC HEART

L. S. writes: What causes attacks of palpitation and fast pulse?

REPLY

Irritability of the timing mechanism of the heart, indigestion, or nervousness. In many instances the cause is not known. Send stamped, addressed envelope for our leaflet on heart symptoms.

BALANCED BLAND DIET

B. D. writes: If a person is on a bland diet for a long time, does he get all the essential food elements?

REPLY

Yes, provided his meals are balanced. After all, there is a wide selection of foods in the bland diet.

HEMORRHOIDS AT 2

I. T. writes: Could difficult bowel movements in a 2-year-old boy lead to hemmorrhoids?

REPLY

No. Strain does not cause hemmorrhoids but will aggravate this condition when it is present.

SHOTS FOR PRESSURE

S. G. B. writes: Can a person be given shots to reduce high blood pressure?

REPLY

Yes, if the level is exceedingly high. But as a rule, these medications are taken by mouth.

HARDENED ARM ARTERIES

A. K. writes: Do the arteries of the arms ever harden?

REPLY

Yes, but the vessels rarely become so narrow that symptoms develop.

WHY WATER ON BRAIN

A reader writes: What causes a baby to be born with water on the brain?

REPLY

The brain and spinal cord are bathed constantly in cerebrospinal fluid. The youngster with hydrocephalus has an abnormal accumulation of fluid due to obstruction of this liquid in the cranium. Tumor, malformation, or inflammation may be responsible for the blockage.

New Education Concept Is Due

"On Location Education," a project designed for non-motivated students from diverse backgrounds, will be proposed as an experimental program to the Tamalpais High School District board at its 8 p.m. meeting, Monday.

The pilot project, if approved, would set up single classes within schools for students who are identified as needing special attention or who are potential drop-outs. It will cost $2,745.

Trustees will also consider for adoption new 1969-70 courses of study, many of them elective English courses and a credit or no-credit grading program. They will look again at the 1969-70 budget forecast and will consider the appointment now of newly-elected trustee Robert W. Corlett whose term officially begins July 1.

Classes Still Open

Registration is still open for the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department's spring classes in beginning and intermediate folk guitar and karate. Persons interested in joining the classes, presently underway, should contact the recreation department at the Mill Valley Community Recreation Center.

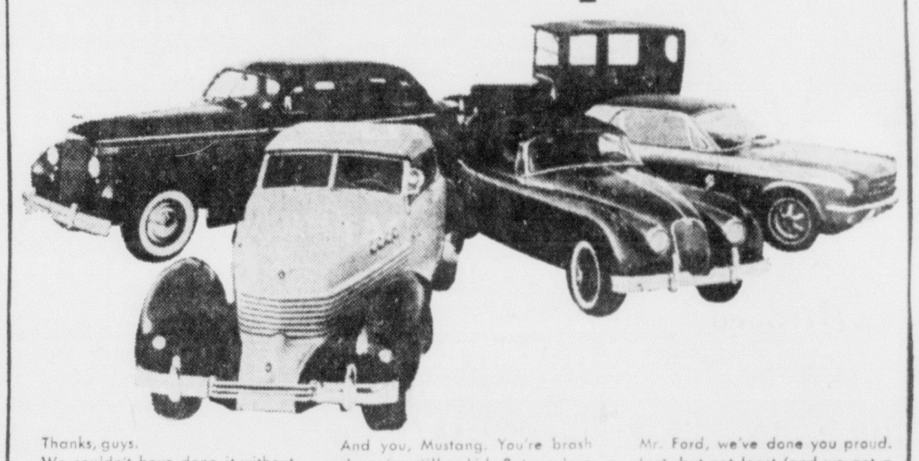
We'd like to thank all the guys who helped make the Austin America possible.



Thanks, guys.
We couldn't have done it without you.
You had some great ideas. And from bumper to bumper, we're loaded with them.
Like you, Cord.
Long before we were a glimmer, you were barreling around on front wheel drive. Safe, sure steering. Solid cornering. Okay, so maybe you were a little ahead of your time, but that's just the breaks of the game.
And you, Jaguar. Most guys just think about starting up and driving, but who thinks about stopping? You did, Jag. And if disc brakes are good enough for you, they're good enough for us.
And you, Mustang. You're brash and you're still a kid. But we love you anyhow. You dreamed up a fully automatic transmission that can be shifted manually also. It's beautiful, Mustang. All we've done is make it more so. Ours has four forward speeds instead of the usual three.
Now, every team has some forgotten soul who made a big contribution, and we've got ours.
It's you, Model T.
Henry, when you built that car, you really built a car. You put a rich man's luxury within every man's reach. A car that runs on pennies and lasts for years.
Mr. Ford, we've done you proud.
Last, but not least (and we get a little choked up here), we'd like to thank you, La Salle—wherever you are. You had one roomy rear, La Salle. Leg room, head room, knee room. You had it all. We think you'll be happy to know that your room lives on—even if you don't.
Well, guys, that about wraps it up.
Except for a few extra touches.
Like price.
An incredible $1860, automatic transmission optional.
And for that, there's absolutely no one around to thank.
Fortunately.

Marichal Had Better Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Juan Marichal has turned in better performances among his 172 career victories and the San Francisco Giants' pitching ace was happy and disappointed at the same time.

He hurled seven innings and received credit for the victory Thursday as the Giants clipped the expansion San Diego Padres 5-4 in the baseball opener at Candlestick Park.

But Marichal, who won 26 last year and has beaten the Padres twice this season, gave up 12 hits and two walks, and was in trouble every inning. He threw 133 pitches.

TIGHT ARM

"I'm used to the cold weather but my arm was tight," Marichal said as he sat on a clubhouse stool and rubbed his right arm.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was there and Marichal had plenty to tell him about the new rule lowering the pitcher's mound.

"No pitcher likes it," Marichal said. "There's no way I can like it."

"I wasn't too concerned because they weren't hitting the ball very hard," said Clyde King, whose club is now 4-4 in his first season as Giants' manager.

"He's not strong enough yet," King said of Marichal. "He came to me and told me his arm was stiff. I admire a player for doing that. He could have stayed in and finished but might have hurt his arm. That's the kind of attitude we're trying to build."

COMPETITION

Old-pro Davenport, who is 35 and in his 11th season with the Giants, faces tough competition at third base from youngsters Bob Etheridge and Don Mason.

'I'll play Jimmy until he gets tired," King said. "He's a good influence on the club." King described Davenport's blooper to right as "like a 9-iron" in golf.

Padres' centerfielder Tony Gonzalez, who rapped Marichal for three straight singles, said he's always had success with Marichal, but commented, "Today, he couldn't get the ball where he wanted to."

JIM GILMARTIN

And 14,000 People Came Dressed As Empty Seats

THE OPENER — I got the impression yesterday that baseball is in trouble. I mean, I attended the opening game of the 1969 major league season at Candlestick Park and there were only 30,722 souls there plus about 14,000 other persons who came dressed as empty seats.

I can remember in the not too distant past when opening games were sure sellouts. Heck, EVERYONE who was anyone would go to the opener just because it was the thing to do, the time and place to be seen. Society matrons who ordinarily wouldn't be caught dead at anything so violent as an athletic contest would be promintent at openers.

So what happens yesterday? Just before game time Shaun Wiltshire of San Rafael tried to give away six extra tickets. He brought a crowd of 60 Marin fans to the game aboard his famous double-decker London bus and had a half-dozen extra pasteboards which he had hoped to give to some youngsters. Not a kid in sight so Shaun just shrugged and "ate" the ducats.

Players May Be Lonely In August

What's going to happen in the days of August and September when expansion teams like Montreal and San Diego come to Candlestick. If by then there is not much of a pennant race in the making I think the players will be lonely. You'll be able to shoot a cannon into the bleachers without drawing blood.

Upon hearing the official attendance of 30,722, one press box wag said facetiously, "We wouldn't have had that many if San Diego wasn't playing here."

Except for the lonlinesss, it was a good opener for the home club, thanks to the muscles of Willie McCovey and Bobby Bonds who bailed Juan Marichal out of a lot of trouble. It was a rare sight indeed to see the patsy Padres cuff around the great Juan. Any guy who pitches a 12-hitter and wins has to be lucky. To borrow a golf term, Marichal "scrambled" to his second victory of the campaign.

Same Old Opening Day Jokes

There were the usual opening day jokes, too. About the 30,722 funerals for departed grandmothers.

And I overheard one gent say to his wife, "Gee, I wish I brought the piano along."

"Why?"

The gentlemen of the press were invited to meet baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn after the game, a rare treat indeed. Snarled the cynical Charles McCabe of Tiburon: "You mean we get a private audience? Do I get to kiss his ring?"

As usual, the trip aboard Wiltshire's double-decker bus was a barrel of fun. Borrowing a line from the airlines, Wiltshire welcomed the passengers aboard, announced "flight plans" and weather conditions, suggested the fastening of seat belts and concluded, "We hope you enjoy our non-stop flight to San Francisco. Thank you for flying Wiltshire Towers."

Double-Decker Barrel Of Fun

The double-decker shared equal billing with the Roos-Atkins cable car in the Candlestick parking lot. With about 50 Greyhound buses in the lot, the Wiltshire fans had little trouble locating their vehicle. It stood out like Carol Doda at a girl scout camp.

And it's always a blast when driver Clyde Robinson tools up to the bridge toll plaza. As the 60 passengers give out a roaring rendition of "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow," Wiltshire emerges from the rear exit and presents the toll collector the 50-cent fee. Yesterday, a toll taker named Jovliet joined in the singing and it was quite a show.

And quite an opener, except for those empty seats.

BELATED CONGRATULATIONS to Denny O'Brien of Novato, an employee of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., for his recent hole-in-one at Peacock Gap golf course in San Rafael. It was the first ace for O'Brien who has been golfing since 1926. Witnessing the 155-yard 8-iron shot were Elmo Petterle, Andy Anderson and Tex Newton.

'TAKE ME OUT'

Juan Surprises Skipper

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clyde King wasn't visibly shocked when he heard the request, but there were a couple of slack jaws among the press corps when he told about it later.

"Juan said he was stiff and cold," King said. "He asked to be taken out."

For Juan Marichal to ask to be taken out of a game was, in a word, a surprise.

Of Marichal's last 115 victores, 110 of them were complete games. Yesterday's 5-4 victory by the San Francisco Giants over the San Diego Padres makes it 110 out of 116.

The same teams go at it again tonight with Al Santorni facing Gaylord Perry.

San Diego Manager Preston Gomez was not surprised when Marichal left the game for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning, saying, "I don't think he's right yet. It looked like he couldn't get the ball where he wanted to."

Marichal said his foot, which recently underwent minor surgery, bothered him. So did the new lower mound. Juan said he couldn't get his pitches low enough. And for a while that meant trouble.

HOLD ON

The Padres, who have now lost six games in a row and four to the Giants, took a 3-0 lead in the first two innings on six hits. All Juan wanted to do after that, he said, was hold San Diego until the big Giant bats changed things around.

That started in the fourth inning when Bobby Bonds hit a line drive to the farthest reaches of center field for a 410-foot homer and Willie McCovey followed with a towering shot 390 feet to right. McCovey has now driven in at least one run in all eight Giants' games.

In the sixth, the Giants went ahead after Dick Dietz tied things up with a run-scoring single. Jim Davenport's bloop double to right drove in two runs after that.

ADMIRATION

King said he admired Marichal for telling him he wasn't up to finishing. Joe Gibbon came on in the ninth to get the Padres out 1-2-3 and end the game.

"I want to give Juan a chance to get stronger as the season goes on," said King. "I won't ask my pitchers to go the distance if they're not strong enough."

Gomez explained the Padres' trade, made earlier in the day, giving up veteran pitcher Al McBean to the Los Angeles Dodgers for shortstop Tommy Chance and pitcher Leon Everitt.

"It was a matter of needing a shortstop now," said Gomez. "We think Chance can help us right away and Everitt has good potential. We know McBean can help the Dodgers, but we're thinking of the future."

Tars Win In Normal Fashion, 9-6

College of Marin's streaking baseball team did things the easy way for a change, jumping off to a quick lead to down Contra Costa, 9-6, in a Camino Norte Conference game at Richmond yesterday.

The win kept the Tars tied for the league lead with DeAnza of Cupertino, a 9-5, come-from-behind winner over Solano. Both teams have 9-3 league records with eight games left.

The Tars jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead and led 9-1 when Contra Costa scored five runs in the ninth inning. Jeff Paquett with three singles and Bob Torre with a pair of doubles topped the hitting.

Frustrations For Chandler In Troubled Boy's Club

Athletes live in a world of reasonable certainties.

Somebody will win the game, the season starts on this day and ends on that day, so much equipment will be used and so many players will play.

For Manny Chandler, who has been an athlete, there are hardly any such certainties in his present position as activities director of the Boys Club of Southern Marin.

For the club, tomorrow is at best a risky proposition, and the possiblity that next year may not come is always just around the corner. Equipment is scarce, catch-as-catch can, often a case of square pegs in round holes. Transportation is private and limited.

The one thing the club does not lack is enthusiam on the part of the youngsters from whom it was intended. The 350 some youngsters, almost all from Marin City, who use the club, its equipment and facilities as a way to grow and to keep busy, creatively, show a continuous enthusiasm for the club, an enthusiasm etched sharply in frustration.

MANNY CHANDLER

MIXTURE

For Chandler, a former Boys Club member and a transplant from New York, his job is a mixture of frustration and reward. On the one hand, he envisions expanding the club's activities and facilities, now centered primarily around athletics and sees the need for balancing the activities. On the other hand he and the club's directors and personnel face the problem of raising and receiving enough money to merely survive for another year.

Part of that particular problem will hopefully be taken care

No Nerves In No-Hitter

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was a pretty good reason why Bill Stoneman wasn't nervous. The situation was completely unfamiliar.

"I never even came close to a no-hitter before," said the Montreal Expos' chunky little hurler after baffling Philadelphia with a 7-0 masterpiece last night.

The main reason for this is simple: Stoneman was consigned to an apparent life of oblivion in the bullpen until rescued by the Expos in the expansion draft.

Yesterday's brilliant effort was his first complete game in the majors, and only the second in his entire pro career. The first was with a minor league team two years ago.

That, explained the 25-year-old right-hander, was probably why he didn't "think there was any pressure. The nerves weren't there. I wasn't as nervous as I should have been. I had good stuff and I was getting the ball where I wanted it."

Before the Expos drafted him from the Chicago Cubs, Stoneman generally was a reliever because, "I'm so short (5-foot-10) that my managers and coaches always said, 'You're a reliever.' I was successful at it so I stayed there."

IMPRESSED

But Gene Mauch, Montreal manager, said he was impressed with Stoneman's appearances against Philadelphia, a team he managed for nine years until he was fired last summer, and decided to give him a shot at being a starter.

He lost his first two tries this season, but was untouchable against the Phils last night.

Stoneman, who said he threw a fastball and curves with a few change-ups, walked five and struck out eight for the nine-game old Expos, marking the first time an expansion team hurler has pitched a no-hitter in the team's debut year.

The closest Philadelphia came to a hit came in the first when Deron Johnson smashed a liner down third that was foul only by inches, when center fielder Don Bosch made a shoestring catch on Don Money in the second, and when Rusty Staub made a long running catch of a line drive to right field by Tony Taylor in the third.

ALLEN OUT

Meanwhile, Staub backed Stoneman with a homer, three doubles and three RBIs.

In other National League games, the sizzling Chicago Cubs boosted their record to 9-1 by blanking St. Louis for the second straight night 3-0. Pittsburgh stopped the New York Mets 4-0, Atlanta ripped Houston 9-3, and San Francisco edged San Diego 5-4. Los Angeles and Cincinnati were idle.

Dick Lotz Takes Lead At La Costa

RANCHO LA COSTA (AP)—Young Dick Lotz, who tamed La Costa with a fantastic start, held a two-stroke lead going into today's second round of golf's Tournament of Champions, but there was an omnious group of five charging at his heels.

Lotz, a dark-haired 26-year-old native Californian, tore five strokes off par in his first four holes yesterday, coasted in and announced that it was nice to be back to his own territory.

"I didn't play well in Florida," the stocky, good looking guy said. "I'm not used to that kind of grass. And there was still a different kind of grass in North Carolina.

"It's always nice to get back around your home area. You're more adapted to the conditions and you play with more confidence. I know the course here. I can't complain about anything."

OTHER MOANS

His opening 67, five under par for the 7,114-yard La Costa Country Club layout, helped. But there were plenty of other

HERB MICHELSON

Last Few Words On Oakland Seals

OAKLAND — Before the ice melts completely, and to satisfy the needs of historians yet unborn, let us quickly wrap up the decline, rise and decline of the Seals.

That they are not still involved in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoffs these days is inexcusable, despite a bunch of plea-coppings coming from club headquarters.

The official word is that they were tired, that inexperience in the wrong places finally caught up with them, that they did much better than anyone dreamed in the first place.

I RECALL Hubert Humphrey spouting similarly on a Wednesday morning last November.

It's not that I have a winner complex. Simply, I despise a team that loses in an embarrassing manner — and the Seal performance in the seventh game of the Cup series against Los Angeles was preposterously embarrassing.

After the first 10 minutes, only two or three of the Greenshirts appeared to be interested in their occupation. This is downright deplorable; you should excuse the faint praise.

ENOUGH ABOUT a performance that will annoy me for weeks to come, and on to the Seal ownership situation.

Two months ago we described the team's supposed takeover by a group of Easterners calling themselves Trans National Communications or something. Among their numbers is Whitey Ford and former CBS-TV sports executive Bill Creasy. At that time, the conclusion was that the Seals had new, fresh ownership.

Really?

NO, NOT really.

The Seal franchise was purchased by the Knox Brothers of Buffalo — also known as Niagara Frontier Corp. or something. (I'm weak on conglomerates.) And Trans-Nat was picking up 80 per cent of Niag-Front's $4½ million purchase price.

They were?

NOT YET they haven't, although Creasy has been running the operation, and getting mixed reaction from the old timers in the front office.

Still, the Knox boys have not received the purchase dough from Creasy's people. And my sources say the payment deadline is Saturday.

So what happens if the big check doesn't happen? Well, the Seals will belong to two gentlemen from Buffalo who want to own a hockey team in Oakland as much as I want to own a delicatessen in Buffalo. (Although I understand there are a couple of good downtown delicatessen locations in Buffalo now available.)

THE BROTHERS Knox would love to move the team to Buffalo. They would love to move any team from any major league to Bufffalo. But the NHL is on record as wanting the Seals to remain in Oakland.

And if anyone from Buffalo saw the Seals in the seventh Cup game, I doubt if they'd want the franchise moved. Oakland's experienced players are the forwards — aging, tired forwards. And their green kids are the defensemen — young, healthy, error-prone defensemen.

NHL ROUNDUP

Plante Magic Rubbing Off On Cheever

Cheevers brushed aside 34 Montreal shots last night and Phil Esposito triggered the Bruins' attack with two goals and three assists in a 5-0 shutout victory over the Montreal Canadiens.

The victory vaulted the Bruins back into contention in their National Hockey League East Division final playoff series after a pair of sudden-death setbacks at Montreal.

Plante, who tied Turk Broda's playoff record of 13 shutouts by blanking Los Angeles 4-0 Tuesday night in the opener of the West Division finals, became the second goalie ever to record an assist in Cup play as the Blues edged the Kings 3-2.

The Bruins, down 2-1 in their best-of-7 set, entertain Montreal again Sunday afternoon. St. Louis takes its 2-0 advantage over the Kings to Los Angeles for Saturday night's third game.

GREAT GLOVE

"That was really Stanley Cup goalbending," Boston Coach Harry Sinden exclaimed after Cheevers' acrobatics helped end the Canadiens' skein of successive playoff victories at 11. "He had a great glove tonight. He really hit it moving."

Montreal captured the Cup last year by sweeping its last five games—four of them against St. Louis in the finals. The Canadiens also ousted New York in four straight to move into this year's showdown with Boston.

Esposito, who didn't pick up a point in the two playoff games at Montreal after setting an all-time regular season record of 126, broke loose on home ice. The rangy center scored a first-period goal, set up Ed Westfall's marker in the middle period and hit for a power play goal early in the finale before assisting on wrap-up tallies by Ron Murphy and Ken Hodge.

EARNS ASSIST

Gary Sabourin's second goal of the game, with less than six minutes to play, snapped a 2-2 tie at St. Louis. Plante earned an assist on Sabourin's second period tally with a long pass from the crease to Larry Keenan, who relayed to Sabourin in front of the Los Angeles cage.

Vince Brown Leads Novato Track Victory

Vince Brown won the 100 and 220 yard dashes in 10.3 and 23.7 seconds yesterday to lead the Novato High School track and field squad to a 74-53 victory over the Tamalpais Indians in a Marin County Athletic League meet at Novato.

Top varsity performances were a 49-foot, 6¾-inch shot put by Verdean Herbold of Tam and a 148-9 discus mark by Novato's Ray Sparling.

Tam had a triple winner in Gerald Robertson (high and low hurdles and high jump) and a double winner in Mark Miller (880 and 440-yard runs).

Money, People Needed For Club

of by a county-wide fund drive march of several thousand Marin County high school students Saturday. It's called "Youth March for Youth," and it is designed to help the club survive for another year.

The youngsters will gather at Redwood High School beginning at 9:30 a.m. and will canvass the county in a door-to-door plea for help.

The youths will have identification tags, reading "Marin City Boys' Club" — although the official name of the club is the Boys' Club of Southern Marin. High schools participating are Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake, San Rafael, Terra Linda, Marin Catholic and San Domenico.

"Right now, the athletic part of the club is pretty well built up," Chandler said. "But we have to have some kind of balance. The arts-craft section needs more people and work. The woodworking, the photography, they all need growth.

"Not all kids like to run off their energy in running, or some kind of sport," he said. "You'd be surprised how a kid can get with a piece of clay, or a camera, or some shop project or painting and get totally wrapped up in it."

FRUSTRATION

Part of the problem in attaining some kind of diversity in the club is getting the right kind of personnel to supervise or teach an activity. And here too, is where it can get frustrating for a child.

"We've had part-time people in arts and craft," Chandler said. "But these people have their own lives to lead, and they can't do it permanently. So a man takes over a project, the kids get to identify with him and know him and vice versa, and he's gone. This can be frustrating."

Even in athletics, there are certain logistical problems.

"We use some of the facilities at Tamalpais High School," Chandler said. "A boy has to either take a bus to get there, or hitchhike, which is illegal. And trying to set up some kind of track meets, ball games with other boys clubs is difficult, because we don't have a regular bus."

Still, Chandler, an all-around athlete in the Marine Corps and a professional baseball player in the now defunct Negro National League, feels that he's established some rapport and had some success with the boys.

GETTING ALONG

"You have to get a boy involved early," he said. "And they really do get involved, if they get the opportunity. We have out little sessions, our boy talks.

Chandler has worked with the Bedford-Stuyvesant Boys Club in New York, a club that seemed to operate much more fluidly.

"In a city, you have a bigger conglemeration of boys," he said. "Transportation is not much of a problem, since the club is centrally located, along with its facilities. A kid can just walk a couple of blocks and be there."

Tomorrow's fund drive would seem to point out the chancy financing of the club. It exists on foundation funds, fund drives and private donations. It has yet to be included in the Bay Area United Fund Crusade.

"What we need is a regular source of income," Chandler said. "We need nore varied facilities and more volunteers. Then we'd have a chance to grow, and offer the boys what they need."

NBA ROUNDUP

Lakers Take 3-1 Lead Over Hawks

ATLANTA (AP) — The New York Knicks' battle with the Boston Celtics will be followed closely tonight by the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Atlanta Hawks aren't very interested.

The victory enabled the Lakers to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-7 series and they can wrapt it up by winning the fifth game in Los Angeles Sunday.

So the Lakers naturally want to know what team they probably will face in the playoffs for the NBA championship.

Los Angeles Coach Bill van Breda Wolff refused to claim the division title but he did admit the triumph in Atlanta was "a very big one for us.

"I don't think we're over the hump yet. You never think that," he said, "until the last game is won.

"But it was a big victory for us, coming on the road. Anytime you win on the road it's great. Now we've got to work to win one at home."

Atlanta Coach Richie Guerin said, "We're in a difficult spot, trailing 3-1 and going to Los Angeles."

The Celtics also are counting on the home-court edge tonight when they try to clinch the Eastern Division title by beating the Knicks.

NO CLAIMS

Van Breda Kolff points out, however, that neither the Western or the Eastern crowns have been decided yet.

"Nobody is going to claim the title until its won," he said.

However, the Lakers' coach was elated about beating Atlanta after an erratic start.

"Both teams played like college teams in their first tournament he said. "I don't know how many times we lost the ball without getting a shot, and so did Atlanta."

The low-scoring battle finally was broken open in the last seven minutes when the Lakers scored 38 points.

Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West led the outburst, including a surge in which the Lakers scored 12 straight points and turned a 73-70 deficit into an 82-73 lead.

"Wilt blocked a few shots, West made a few steals, and we finally got rolling," Van Breda Kolff said.

Lou Hudson scored 22 for the Hawks, and Zelmo Beaty got 18. But Joe Caldwell was held scoreless, Walt Hazzard scored only five and Bill Bridges was limited to seven.

JACK HANLEY

Mays Likes To Pull A Few Surprises

Chris Cannizzaro knew what Willie Mays was up to. Cannizzaro had seen the captain of the Giants go from first to third before. And Cannizzaro knew instinctively that Mays now would try to advance from corner to corner on a slow roller Ron Hunt tapped to Ed Spiezio, third baseman of the Padres, San Diego's new expansion team in the National League.

It happened in the first game ever played between the Giants and Padres last weekend in San Diego Stadium. Most players are surprised by the chances Mays takes. Rookies, such as Nate Colbert, are astounded at Mays' daring.

MAYS TAKES great delight in doing the unexpected, exploiting the element of surprise. He had just reached first base on a throwing error by Spiezio. Clyde King, rookie manager of the Giants who moved Mays from the No. 3 batting position into the No. 1 spot, flashed the hit-run signal to Mays and Hunt.

Mays was off and running as Hunt sent the slow grounder to Spiezio at third base. Spiezio routinely threw to first base for the putout of Hunt. Before he threw to first, Spiezio, of course, checked to see if he had a possible force play on Mays at second base. He didn't. In fact, Mays already was at second as Spiezio threw to Colbert, the rookie first baseman.

CANNIZZARO, a veteran of seven major league campaigns, six of them as catcher for the Mets against whom Mays used to enjoy running from first to third, immediately analyzed the setup and Cannizzaro started running to third base even before Spiezio made his throw to Colbert.

It seemed like Cannizzaro was reading Mays' mind. As soon as Spiezio threw to Colbert, Mays shifted into high gear and sped toward third where Cannizzaro moved into a blocking position instead of assuming a catcher's customary backup role on such a developing play.

CANNIZZARO literally stationed himself in front of third base. He was going to defend it with his shin guards in the same manner a catcher protects home plate while waiting for a throw. Spiezio was a bit startled. He, too, was covering the bag — but in back of the Padre catcher.

Mays, running all-out, took just one look at Cannizzaro and decided what he would do. Willie took off 10 feet in front of the bag in a crunching slide. Colbert's return throw to third base skipped past Cannizzaro and Spiezio as Mays upended both of them.

THEN, MAYS, seeing the ball rolling away from the fallen Padres, calmly picked himself out of the dirt and leisurely jogged home.

Mays not only had gone from first to third on a ball that didn't get out of the infield, he actually scored on it by teasing a rookie into a throwing error.

A Rare Victory

Drake High School handed Tamalpais its first loss in three years yesterday, 60½ to 27½ in a girls' track and field meet at Tam.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Weekend Prospects Dependent On Winds

This weekend's fishing is going to depend almost entirely on the winds.

Each year at this time and usually through June, the northwest winds blow every day. Most of your fishing will have to be done in the morning hours before these winds come up.

SALMON FISHING continues to be good out of Sausalito, especially in the morning. The improved river and stream conditions will probably bring about a change in the salmon limits. It is now very possible that an emergency measure will be put through and that the former limit of three salmon instead of the present two will go back into effect, probably in late May.

Charlie Davis, the congenial barber from Point Reyes Station who like all barbers has Monday off, took an early ride to the mouth of Tomales and picked up tow salmon while drifting for halibut.

STRIPED BASS — With most fish going up the delta to spawn, things have slowed down, though it's not impossible to still pick up a good fish or so. It's certainly possible to pick up a trophy sturgeon anytime.

NICASIO LAKE — If it's nice and not windy, fishing immediately picks up. Lots of small bass caught last Saturday before winds came, if windy, stay home. Winds blowing nearly all this week.

CLAMS AND COCKLES — On Saturday at 7:12 a.m., and on Sunday at 7:54 a.m., the tides will be minus -0.5 and -0.3. These are excellent clam tides and with the clams in top shape at this time, it is worthwhile going. Remember, a fishing license is required.

Gaper Clams (Horsenecks) are found in Bolinas Lagoon and Tomales Bay areas. They are found in Drakes Estero too, but with some access problems. I would suggest going to either Bolinas or Tomales.

In the Bolinas Lagoon, they are found generally throughout the area, especially on the islands near the mouth of the lagoon. Their presence is easily noted by the tips of the necks sticking out of the mud and when touched, the withdrawing action causes the clam to squirt.

IN THE TOMALES Bay area, most of the Gapers are found north of Hog Island. If you have a skiff, you can launch at Nick's Cove. A good bet for a fun family outing is to go to Dillon's Beach, near the town of Tomales on Highway 1, by car. At Dillon's a barge takes clam diggers across the channels to the excellent beds. The limit on Gaper Clams is 10 per person.

It is possible to take Washington clams at either of these areas. They are more difficult to find, but an experienced digger can usually find them by their tell tale "keyhole-like" opening in the surface of the mud. The limit on Washington clams is 10. One can have both a limit of gapers and a limit of Washingtoms at the same time.

THE GIANT Geoduck clam is also found at Dillon's Beach, but in very limited numbers. I checked about 10 of these monsters on a day when 400 people were out, so they are scarce. The limit on Geoducks is three per person — but it is possible to get one of these clams that weigh up to six pounds.

Cockles are found at both Bolinas and Tomales bays also. The bed at Bolinas is small and heavily dug, so limits are a rarity. The type of cockle from this area is called the "sea cockle." In Tomales Bay, cockles are found from the Marconi Cove Launching area almost to the mouth of the bay, along both shorelines. These cockles are known as bay cockles and are much more abundant than sea cockles.

Not long ago it was estimated that there were 200 cars along the Tomales Bay shoreline with an average of four people to the car. That would be 800 people. If they all took a limit of cockles, that would be 40,000 clams. The limit on cockles is 50 per person, none can measure less than 1½ inches in diameter. Undersized clams in your bucket will be considered to be in your possession by the Department of Fish and Game. It is important that the under-sized cockles be returned and buried as they are the spawners which enables the cockle population to continue to exist.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

McLain-Boudreau

O's Enjoy Boston Stay

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ah, Friendly Fenway. If only the Baltimore Orioles could spend the whole season playing in Boston's cozy ballpark.

But a whole season in Fenway isn't Boog Powell's idea of paradise. "Heck no," says slugger Powell, "then we wouldn't be able to look forward to coming back."

Powell and the rest of the Orioles can't wait for the next trip to Fenway after winning three straight from the Red Sox climaxed by a 9-5 victory yesterday.

Baltimore scored 30 runs and had 48 hits in the three games and gave the Red Sox' outfielders quite a workout.

The Orioles had 17 safeties yesterday including home runs by the Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, Rookie Billy Conigliaro had his third homer in two days for the Red Sox and Boston's Rico Petrocelli also connected.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit outlasted Cleveland 7-6 and New York split a doubleheader with Washington, taking the 10-inning opener 7-3 on Joe Pepitone's grand sam home run and dropping the nightcap 5-2. The other teams were not scheduled.

Dave Johnson led the Orioles' attack against Boston with his second straight four-hit day. Johnson had two doubles and two singles.

IN TROUBLE

The Red Sox knew they were in trouble right away when the Orioles loaded the bases on starter Lee Stange's first three pitches, Don Buford opened with a first-pitch double, Paul Blair singled on the next one and then Frank Robinson was hit by the third.

Two runs scored when Ken Harrelson threw wild on Powell's grounder and then Baltimore tacked on three more in the second when Frank Robinson tagged his fifth homer of the year and 423rd of his career.

Mel Stottlemyre won his third straight and Stan Bahnsen lost his third straight for the Yankees, who split with the Senators.

THIRD LOSS

Washington tied the opener in the ninth inning on a two-run homer by Mike Epstein. But the Yankees loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the 10th and then Pepitone tagged his grand slam.

Pinch hitter Gary Holman's double broke an eighth inning tie and pushed the Senators to their second game victory and the split. Bobby Murcer homered in each game for New York, running his season's total to five.

Detroit scored three runs in the ninth inning and then held off a Cleveland rally to beat the Indians.

Campbell Shares Golf Lead

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI)—Joe Campbell, who smokes a lot of cigars, and graying Bob Stone hold a one-stroke lead going into the second round of the Azalea Open golf tournament today.

But there's a mob right behind them.

Campbell and Stone both shot 66 yesterday to take the opening-round lead of the 21st Annual Azalea which is worth $35,000 this year.

44 BREAK PAR

In opening action, 44 of the 134 golfers broke par 71 on the 6,470-yard Cape Fear County Club course and 60 were at or under par. Campbell and Stone were five under.

Tied with 67s were Tommy Bolt, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Jim Langley, Salinas, Calif.; John Joseph, Greensboro, N.C.; Dick Hart, Hinsdale, Ill.; Chick Evans, Chicago, Ill.; Hugh Royer, Columbus, Ga.; Skee Riegel, Jamison, Pa.; Wilf Homenuik, Winnepeg, Can.; and Lee Elder, Washington, D.C.

Elder and Mike Reasor played the hottest nine holes yesterday. "I changed my putting stance about midway through the round and things started to drop," said Elder, who had a 31 on the back nine.

Reasor had to beg an invitation to play in the tournament, having failed the PGA pro school by two strokes. He was not eligible for competition unless he got special permission and an invitation from Wilmington. Both happened and he had fans stirring when he shot a 30 on the front nine. He finished at 68.

Cokes Rated As Favorite Over Napoles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World welterweight champion Curtis Cokes regained the role of favorite—at least until fight time— in defense of his title tonight against Jose Napoles of Mexico.

The 31-year-old veteran from Dallas opened as a 10-6 betting choice two weeks ago. Several days ago the odds dipped to even money and take your pick.

Lastest on the score today was Cokes 10-8, with the possibility the champion and 29-year-old challenger would enter the ring at the Forum in neighboring Inglewood again on even terms.

Cokes, defending the 147-pound division crown for the sixth time, and Napoles, a Cuban expatriate now living in Mexico City, figured to attract some 14,000 fans and gate receipts of possibly $180,000.

Oaks Rested Up, Set To Battle New Orleans

OAKLAND (UPI) — If anything, the Oakland Oaks should be rested when they open their final ABA Western Division playoffs against the New Orleans Buccaneers at the Oakland Arena tomorrow night.

The Oaks have been biding time since beating Denver 115-102 Wednesday night to win their semifinal series four games to three.

New Orleans downed Dallas 101-95 last night to take the other semifinal, also 4-3. The Bucs should be a bit more pooped than the Oaks, considering they must travel to Oakland.

The second Oakland-New Orleans game will be played Tuesday night at the Arena instead of Sunday as had been previously announced. This was due to scheduling difficulties in New Orleans.

The third and fourth games of the series will be played next Thursday and Friday at New Orleans.

MARIN COUNTY BOWLING NOTES

A Big Pro Show; Lu Sharp Rolls 622

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Things are getting back to normal at Nave Lanes near Ignacio these days, following a two-day invasion of the pros.

From all reports we've heard, the Professional Central California Bowlers tour will again hit Nave Lanes next year. The PCCB officials had a lot of kind words for the grand Bill Nave and his three boys, Bill Jr., Bob and Rich.

Novato's Terry De Young, who won $400 for second place, averaged 211 in qualifying rounds, then rolled games of 238, 246, 215, 247 before that final match with Joe Spano of Fresno. The Fresnan won that match, 185-155, Spano rolling three splits in that game and De Young four.

Also in that tournament, Bill Henderson of San Rafael, lanes man at Country Club Bowl, made it to the Sunday finals, but lost his first two matches. He still picked up $105 for his 23rd place finish.

THIS AND THAT — What about that 662 series Lu Sharp of San Anselmo rolled in the Mixed Travel League when it stopped off at Country Club Bowl. It's Lu's highest series ever. A 174 average roller, Lu had games of 212, 234 and 216. That's quite a score for Mrs. Sharp, mother of two . . . Another 600 by a woman, this one a 606 by Roberta Thorsen in the Hits and Mrs. League at Greenbrae Lanes — was Roberta's first time in the sixes . . . Nancy Richards had an all-spare game in the Nave Lanes' Lutheran Early League, coming out with a 184 line . . . Kitty Weber missed a 144 triplicate by three pins in her last game, a 141, and that was in the Nave Lanes Classy Lassie League.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — The Marin County Ladies 600 Club Tournament is scheduled Sunday, 5 p.m., at Greenbrae Lanes . . . Don De Vere wowed them in the Nite Owls League with a 255 game and 606 series at Country Club Bowl . . . Marge Lehman had high game in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes, 226, while Sheila Bebo had high series, 589 . . . Maria Von Lowenfelt missed a 118 triplicate series by just one pin in the Magic Four League at Country Club Bowl . . . Verna Cook rolled her first 200, a 202 in the Forget Me Nots League at Nave Lanes . . . In the Gutter Belles League at Greenbrae Lanes, Arlene Parker went 76 pins over her average with a 220 game, while Eloise Burns rolled a single pin step ladder, 111, 112, 113.

PIN CRACKERS — Butch Steele picked up a 6-7-10 split in the Agents 1108 League (sounds like spies) at Country Club Bowl . . . It's a unique international bowling league, with teams from 21 countries scheduled to start May 12 at Downtown Bowl in San Francisco . . . In junior scores coming out of Country Club Bowl, Rich McPherson is the leader, 217-561, while bantam Larry May rolled a 329 two-gamer and 7-year-old Guy Henderson a 128 line.

49ers Hire Holovak As New Aide

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mike Holovak, deposed head coach and general manager of the Boston Patriots, has another job across the country and in another league.

Head Coach Dick Nolan of the San Francisco Forty Niners of the National Football League announced yesterday he has hired Holovak as his offensive backfield coach. Holovak has been without a job since January when he was fired by Patriots President William Sullivan after Boston posted a disappointing 3-11 record in the American Football League last fall.

Today is Friday, April 18, the 108th day of 1969 with 257 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Saturn, Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1775 American patriot, Paul Revere, began his famed ride through the Massachusetts countryside, calling . . . "The British are coming."

In 1906 the San Francisco earthquake began. When it ended, three days later, 500 persons were dead.

In 1942 Lt. Col. James Doolitte and a squadron of 16 B25's bombed Japan for the first time.

In 1964 17 servicemen were killed when two troop planes collided over Ohio.

A thought for the day: John Selden said, "They that govern the most make the least noise."

Matched Shirts, Ties Make It Easy

NEW YORK (UPI)—Every man who wears a shirt and necktie to work has, at last, the perfect answer to the question he asks himself every morning of his working life: what tie shall I wear today?

Meinhard-Commercial Corp., a financing firm for apparel companies, say shirt manufacturers are now featuring matched sets with the necktie made from the same fabric as the shirt. You also can also get a matching pocket handkerchief.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

An Alert Player Sometimes Can Invent A Tricky Play

A certain type of false card is invented every day by some desperate bridge player when he judges that nothing else will lure declarer away from the winning line of play. You may be the next to invent this play if you are desperate and alert enough — but your task may be easier if you've seen the play in operation.

LOW SPADE

West led the eight of spades, and East topped dummy's king with the ace. East removed dummy's single trump with the ace and then took the ace of clubs. West signaled encouragement with the ten, and East continued with the three of clubs to declarer's king.

South led the queen of hearts to drive out the king, and East led another club to the queen. Now West saw that a club continuation would allow South to ruff and draw trumps. South would then obviously make the rest of the tricks.

The only chance was to put declarer in the dummy and hope that he'd find the wrong way to get to his hand. West therefore switched back to spades.

CASHES DIAMONDS

Declarer took the queen of spades and the top diamonds, intending to ruff a third diamond in his hand. It was at this stage that a desperate West re-invented a play familiar to experienced bridge players. When declarer cashed dummy's second top diamond, West dropped the queen.

Of course, South should have paid more attention to East's ten of diamonds than to West's queen. Of course, West's opening lead indicated shortness in spades. The fact remains that only the fall of the queen of diamonds could make any impression on South.

Declarer actually did fall for the antique swindle. He led a spade from dummy instead of a diamond. Now if South ruffed low, West would get the setting trick by overruffing; and if South ruffed high, West's ten would become the master trump.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one club.

If partner responds in a red suit, you can bid one spade. If partner bids one notrump, you can raise to two or three notrump. You avoid an opening bid of 1-no-trump with a very weak doubleton, and it's easy to steer clear of this danger when you have a comfortable rebid of one spade.

Lapps in arctic regions traditionally try to improve the weather by speaking the names of seven bald men, then throwing salt into a camp fire. The men named must be completely bald, not a hair on their heads, or the magic won't work, says the National Geographic Society.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

It's Possible To Acquire Shares From Other Nations

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Is it possible to buy shares in a foreign-based company? If so, how does one go about making such a purchase? — S.K.

A. Yes, and the most common method is through the purchase of American Depository Receipts. These certificates neatly circumvent the entangling legal restrictions and heavy taxation frequently involved in the actual ownership of foreign shares. Although ADRs are usually issued in a 1-to-1 ratio, the buyer should check this point prior to purchase.

The issuing bank or agent — Morgan Guaranty Trust represents the greatest number of issues — forwards dividends, annual reports and proxies to holders. ADRs are not available on all foreign securities, but are issued as the result of domestic interest in the shares or at the request of a company. Because price differentials occur between foreign shares and their domestic representatives there is a certain amount of trading by arbitrage specialists. ADRs are actively traded on the various exchanges and have been in use for over 60 years.

Q. We have 50 shares of Pan American World Airways and are concerned over reports of Resorts International "raiding" the shares.—S.P.

A. Resorts International has disclosed its recent activities in regard to the purchase of Pan American shares. A maximum of 1,650,000 shares or 4.8 per cent of the outstanding stock, half the amount planned originally, may be purchased. The apparent object of Resorts' maneuver is Pan American's hotel subsidiary, Intercontinental Hotels. Through private placement of 275,000 Resorts shares, the company has raised more than $10 million. Included in these transactions were 150,000 warrants to purchase Resorts shares. An additional $8 million was raised by mortgaging a hotel. The maximum purchase of Pan Amer. shares could involve 2.5 million shares of Resorts; there are fewer than 4 million. A and B shares outstanding at present. In view of the recent congressional attitude toward mergers, it is doubtful that any raid will be successful.

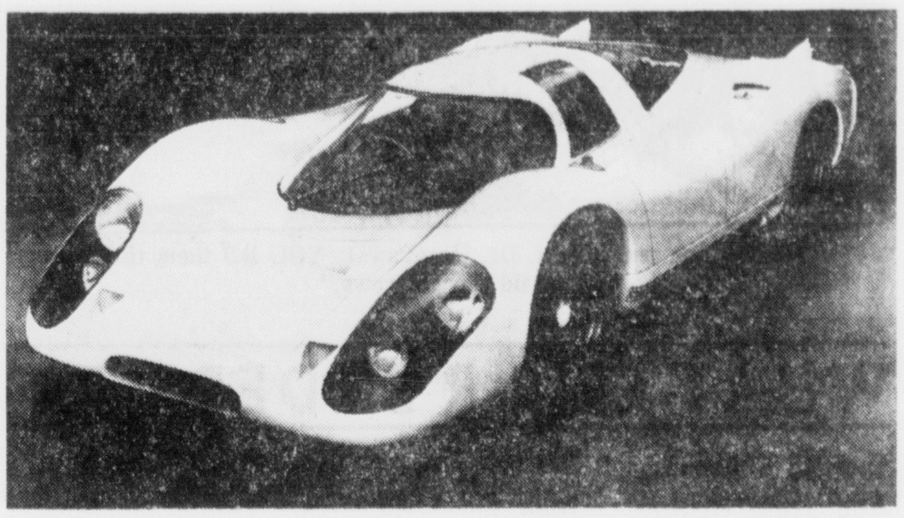
NEW 550-HORSEPOWER PORSCHE

Already the star of the 1969 Geneva auto salon, Porsche's newest racing car will take to the track April 25 in the Monza 1,000-kilometer race. Known as the Model 917, it boasts a 12-cylinder, gas injection engine designed for a top speed of 233 miles per hour. About 25 examples of the 917 have been produced so far, at a price tag of $35,000 each. (German Features photo)



March's Banking Up For Marin

Marin County bank debits and deposits for March were up substantially from 1968 figures.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco reported unadjusted debits of $205,240,000, compared with $168,994,000 in March, 1968. Unadjusted deposits increased to $101,705,000 from $96,641,000 a year ago.

Seasonally adjusted debits, deposits and turnover ratios are not yet reported for Marin County.

Howard Hughes' Air West Plans Get Boost From Federal Ruling

Civil Aeronautics Board hearing examiner Ross I. Newmann this week approved industrialist Howard Hughes' $94 million purchase of Air West, following extensive public hearings last month in Washington, D.C.

In his decision hearing Newmann stipulated that Hughes' purchase would be in the public interest and insure the financial responsibility of Air West and continuance of its air service.

Final Civil Aeronautics Board and White House approval is anticipated by the end of next month.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES has agreed in principle to acquire all outstanding shares of stock in the San Franciscan Hotel in San Francisco. The airline has no plans to change the present methods of operation and agreements with other major airlines and travel agents throughout the United States for tour packages at the Franciscan will be continued.

INSURANCE AND SECURITIES, INC., owner of several diversified mutual funds, has changed it corporate name to I S I Corp. Directors of I S I Income Fund, Inc. have recently increased the quarterly dividend from 3 cents to 4 cents per share.

MORRIS PLAN CO. shareholders have voted to change the name of the company to Morlan Pacific Corp., earlier recommended to avoid confusion with its principal operating subsidiary, The Morris Plan Co. of California. Consolidated net earnings of Morlan for the first quarter were $439,714, or 58 cents per share, compared with $331,733 or 47 cents per share in the first quarter last year.

THE BEKINS CO. shareholders have authorized a two-for-one stock split of the outstanding $5 par value common shares as part of a change in the stock structure of the company. The corporation is now authorized to issue 10 million shares of common stock without par value and one million shares of preferred stock in series. Approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission is required before new stock may be issued or sold.

MARCOR, INC., recently formed parent company of Montgomery Ward and Container Corp. of America, has reported a 43 per cent increase in earnings on a 6 per cent increase in sales for the 1968 fiscal year. Total sales were $2.5 billion and profits were $37.4 million.

FIDELITY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, Berkeley has record earnings of $1,109,000, equal to $1.80 per common share for the three months ended March 31, compared to last year's first quarter profits of $220,000, or 53 cents a share. Fidelity will acquire Don Pedro Savings and Loan of Modesto, subject to approval by state and federal regulatory agencies.

GEOTHERMAL RESOURCES INTERNATIONAL, INC., which has developed several producing steam wells in The Geysers area of Sonoma County, will commence drilling a test well in the Kelley Springs area of Modoc County by May 1.

STAUFFER CHEMICAL CO., San Francisco has reported record sales and earnings for the first quarter ended March 31. Net earnings were $8.9 million or 90 cents per share, up from $7.4 million or 74 cents a share last year.

MONSANTO CHEMICAL CO., St. Louis first quarter sales were up 7 per cent and net income increased 20 per cent over figures of a year ago.

Stocks Close Higher In Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished slightly higher today as an apparent calm settled over the latest Korean incident. Trading was moderate.

President Nixon called the downing of a U.S. reconnaissance plane by North Korea "unprovoked, deliberate and without warning." But it seemed that Washington would limit its action only to a stiff warning.

Steels were mostly higher, partially reflecting a price hike by U.S. Steel on bar products. This move followed recent action by Republic Steel.

Texaco, Superior and Clark Oil gained ground in the oils. Clark officials announced the beginning of drilling concessions in North Africa and the East Indies.

Conglomerates moved in mixed fashion, while chemicals showed scattered strength. Motors generally gave ground.

Airlines ranged to about a point higher. Rails and aircrafts traded in both directions.

Drugs Criticized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration has proposed that 78 combinations of antibiotic products be withdrawn from the market on the grounds they are no more effective than the separate ingredients. The pharmaceutical companies have 30 days to file objections and supporting evidence.

Manufacturing Grows In March

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California manufacturing swelled to $25.18 billion in March, the Bank of America said.

The metal industrial complex, accounting for 48 per cent of all manufacturing, increased .83 per cent in one month to $12.4 billion.

Primary metal production led the gains, advancing 10.8 per cent in 12 months to $820 million. Fabrication of metal parts was up 9.3 per cent to $1.64 billion. Machinery increased 8.2 per cent to 2.11 billion.

Food processing went up 7.9 per cent in a year to $3.41 billion and the printing and publishing industry gained 5.4 per cent to $1.16 billion.

No gains were reported for transportation equipment, lumber and apparel.

Annexation Of Voters May Not Annex Votes

Ten years ago, there was a big drive to annex Terra Linda to San Rafael. An election was held, but residents of the Terra Linda tracts — at that time mostly north of Manuel Freitas Parkway and well west of Highway 101 — turned annexation down. Instead, they organized their own community services district and recreation district.

Residents of one small part close to the highway, Terra Linda Oaks, favored annexation. So, after a suitable interval, they voted their land into the city.

As the years went along, the original Terra Linda became pretty much surrounded by San Rafael. Freitas, Pimentel and Nunes ranchlands were annexed as uninhabited territory. Such things as the Northgate Shopping Center, Northgate Industrial Park, Terra Linda High School, and a spate of new Dixie School District elementary schools arose on those lands. Also, many acres of them were filled with new apartment buildings and single-family homes.

THESE ANNEXATIONS brought within the city quite a lot of land that is in Dixie School District, thus further confusing the school boundary nonsense which has San Rafael Meadows and Santa Venetia in the San Rafael Elementary School District though outside the city. (All are in San Rafael High School District.)

For the first time this week — thanks to a change in the city charter — San Rafael combined its municipal election with school board elections throughout the county.

An interesting thing happened.

IN THOSE PRECINCTS which are within the city but in Dixie School District, from 8 to 20 per cent more votes were cast for elementary school trustees than for mayor or city councilmen or city charter amendment proposals.

Still more interestingly, the vote on the proposed Marin Junior College District 77-cent special tax was almost identical at these polling places with that on the mayoralty — from 8 to 20 per cent below the vote on Dixie School District trustees.

THERE CAN BE no doubt of the tremendous value to San Rafael of the annexations which have given the city sales tax revenues from Northgate Shopping Center and real property taxes from development of Northgate Industrial Park.

But the fact that in some areas one out of every five voters who went to the polls didn't bother to ballot on the men who run his city, although he voted on elementary school district trustees, is rather disconcerting. (Unfortunately, there is no way to tell whether the interest is limited to the elementary schools, for the two incumbent candidates for San Rafael Board of Education — which runs Terra Linda High School — were unopposed so naturally quite a few didn't bother to vote for them.)

FROM TIME TO TIME we hear complaints that the city does not give enough attention to its residents who live "over the hill."

The vote tallies would cause us to think that too many of our "over the hill" residents do not give enough attention to their city.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Lack Of Offers For Bonds Puts State In Financial Bind

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The problems of inflation which are now besetting thousands of California families are not confined to the citizens. The state of California itself faces a crisis in the sale of bonds.

Recent failure to receive bids for a $40 million block within the five per cent limit the state can pay as interest resulted in the cessation of some activities.

IVY BAKER PRIEST, state treasurer, is holding up sale of other bonds until the bond market approaches this rate.

Bonds totaling $1.34 billion are authorized to be sold, but when the people voted this authorization, they also set the interest limit. The bonds are for the water project, school construction aid, state construction, higher education construction, and veterans' farm and home loans.

Mrs. Priest has come up with a solution which may solve the problems temporarily at least.

She has recommended the finance committees of the various state bond programs that the best available method for raising money to continue operations is to issue "bond anticipation" notes.

This would be something like selling futures in the market. The bond anticipation notes, in amounts necessary to assure continued functioning of the program, would be sold and the money used in anticipation of a later bond sale, after which the notes would be replaced with bonds.

Mrs. Priest proposes a two-year maturity time for the notes. She thinks this should make them readily saleable under the constitiutional five per cent ceiling.

ONLY ONCE previously has this method of financing been used in California, and this was not because bonds were unsaleable but becausethe validity of state water bonds was being tested in the courts. The notes were sold in 1963, to permit work to proceed on the state water project.

The bond situation serves to point up additional massive charges to be faced by taxpayers in the future. It may, in fact, prove the death knell of future bond issues as taxpayers become more reluctant to finance long-term public works because of the impending high interest rates.

Thus, it could cause a trend toward more pay-as-you-go financing, which has been sought since the administration of Gov. Ronald Reagan took over the reins of state government.

The $1.34 billion of unsold bonds authorized by the people, when eventulally all sold, will cost the taxpayers some $67 million a year in interest, in addition to the interest already being paid to fund the state's outstanding bonds.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

The end of the law is, not to abolish or restrain, but to preserve and enlarge freedom; for liberty is to be free from restraint and violence from others, which cannot be where there is no law.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Spanish Schooner And State History

I, too, would like to enter the game: When was California settled? If not in 1769, as Glen Dines declares ("Readers Say" April 12), but in 1781, then our celebration this year of two centuries since discovery stands as a most embarrassing error in our records as well as those of Spain and Mexico, and, what is least, those four years I passed as an undergraduate in pursuit of historical accuracy were days utterly wasted in this regard.

The mail packet San Carlos was, indeed, under order to supply and support the Portola expedition in the spring of 1769 — not long after it was built at San Blas. Later, in 1775, it was under orders to support Anza, when that hard-riding captain was en route with the colonists who were to compose the First Families of California in San Francisco.

It is to be hoped the San Juan Sebastian has or will enter the port of San Diego during her voyage this year, then, in order to signal the triumph of two full centuries behind Spanish seamanship.

(Editor's note: Glenn Dines' disagreement was not over the settlement of California, but over when the schooner entered San Francisco Bay—if ever.)

Decorative Displays Worth Encouraging

I have enjoyed the bright display of artificial flowers, and other decorations, in front of Dollars and Sense, on Magnolia Avenue, for some time now. It provides a pleasant oasis of color all year on a street that is otherwise rather dreary much of the year. True, it cannot compare with such things as the Magnolia tree at the intersection of Magnolia and Piedmont, or the baby rose that climbs the tree near the foot of the Corte Madera-Mill Valley Road. But these, as well as beautiful garden displays, endure for too short a time.

Is it true that the City of Larkspur is attempting to prevent the store owners from continuing to put out these colorful and pleasant displays? If this is true, I wonder what the objection is. . .

I appreciate any business man who tries to improve the appearance of his place of business. I believe such activities should be encouraged, even though they have a commercial aspect.

TV Viewers Hold Final Trump Card

Remember the day parents were shocked by headlines, "Johnnie Can't Read"? Johnnie now at the tender age of innocence finds the stork story of his baby sitter is untrue. The parents are shocked when they discover Johnnie knows the mystery of it all. They go into a tizzelewhiz, and rush to every parents' meeting on juvenile delinquency. Some guest speakers are prominent judges, lawyers, and psychiatrists. The words of these wise men soothe many parents.

The mothers, relieved in mind, settle to their home duties. One of these is to wax and polish that beautiful handcrafted TV set. Little do they know, this elegant harmless thing has today an uncontrolled power of a powder keg, and if not controlled can destroy the minds of their children.

Some radio and TV smutmongers brazenly tell the home viewers, if you don't like what you see or hear, flip the switch. The TV drama backup behind some products is on a down spiral of moral decay. They are simply vulgar, and in bad taste. Flip the switch; there is no guarantee another program on the dial is not contaminated, and off-color . . .

These same smut-creative writers, condoned on lewd programs, would shriek to high heaven if a member of their family by telephone be insulted by a voice whispering obscenities. Yet they have the unmitigated gall to tell the consumer viewer of the goods they advertise, if you don't like our presentation, snap it off!

It is up to us, the consumer, radio listeners and TV viewers, to snap our trump card to Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C.

Baar Overloks Voters' Decision

I attended the meeting of the board of supervisors yesterday (April 15) and must say I was distressed at the attitude of L. H. (Bud) Baar on the Bolinas Lagoon, since this is the district which he represents.

The former board of supervisors authorized an election on this matter in good faith, the people of the two precincts concerned have shown how they feel about it by an election, yet he now appears to question the election result and raise the whole matter again.

He objected to possible future costs to the county. The obligatory cost was stated on the ballot and any other costs will have to be approved by the board of supervisors. He even mentioned the $6 million breakwater, long since a dead issue. If Mr. Baar fails to support the state legislation, already introduced, he also fails to support his constituency and furthermore would load two precincts with exhorbitant costs and debts through the board of harbor commissioners which so far has shown little restraint.

He also suggested that the Board should hear the opinion of the board of harbor commissioners, already rejected by the voters who elected them.

Bolinas Lagoon is an asset and a resource for all of the county, and the county is surely better prepared to plan its future than a local board from unincorporated areas.

Infanticide Not Same As Abortion

Your headline on page 17 of the April 1 edition contains a misleading error. Killing newborn babies is not the same thing as abortion and your paper's terminology is a disservice to doctors and women who terminate pregnancy in its early development.

THOMAS P. LOWRY, M.D.
Kentfield.

(Editor's note: The headline read, "Clues Sought on Abortion Ring in East." The story told of what it called an "abortion ring," members of which persuaded pregnant women seeking abortions to wait for the babies' birth, then took them "for adoption" and smothered them.)

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A CONSERVATIVE city girl, vacationing in the Adirondacks, threw caution to the winds one hot summer morning and, seeing nary a soul in view, took a dip in the lake naked as a jay-bird. To her consternation she suddenly heard a voice informing her, "No swimmin' allowed in this spot, ma'am." It was the sheriff, his badge gleaming in the sun!

"You must have seen me disrobe," she cried indignantly. "Why didn't you stop me before I jumped in?"

The sheriff told her with infuriating calm, "There ain't no law against undressing, ma'am."

THE DRUMMONDS

Liberals Now Telling Nixon: 'Not So Fast, Not So Far'

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — It is fantastic to see the political liberals — heckling and pulling at President Nixon's coattails — trying to keep him from entering full scale into the era of negotiation with the Soviet Union.

Mr. Nixon didn't make many campaign promises, but he made some. One important end the era of "confrontation" and begin the era of "negotiation."

But now that the President has told the Soviet Union that he wants the negotiating agenda to include not only arms control but also political questions like the Middle East, Berlin, European security and Vietnam, the Democratic liberals are raising their hand in horror and saying, "Not so fast, not so far!"

Both the conservative left, like Hubert Humphrey, Edmund Muskie and Clark Clifford, and the more radical left, like Edward Kennedy, Eugene McCarthy and George McGovern, are joining forces to try to persuade Mr. Nixon that he ought to move to the era of negotiation with small steps on a small agenda.

But the President won't buy a tiptoe policy and there is some irony in the fact that he is finding it easier to persuade the Russians of the merits of the broad agenda approach than his critics at home.

THERE ARE THREE ways to approach the U.S.-Soviet talks:

1—The John Foster Dulles approach: There could be no arms control without prior agreement on political issues.

2—The Humphrey-McCarthy-J. William Fullbright approach: There can be no useful negotiation on political issues lest they make it impossible to reach any agreement on nuclear arms.

3—The Nixon approach (which seems to us to us the best): U.S.-Soviet talks on both political and arms controls matters could best go forward in parallel.

MR. NIXON is not talking an either-or attitude. He is not saying that political issues must be resolved simultaneously with arms control issues. He is saying that we should begin the discussions of them simultaneously and it is his conviction that "progress" — that's the word he used — on one or more political issues would improve the prospect of getting mutual arms reduction because it would vastly improve the climate for arms reduction.

It should be understood that Mr. Nixon is not contending that agreement on political issues is indispensable to arms talks. He is simply saying that progress would be a valuable boon.

On this approach the President is being supported by Humphrey's chief campaign foreign policy adviser, Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski, director of the Columbia University Research Institute on Communist Affairs and a widely recognized expert on the Communist world.

On a "Meet the Press TV show, Brzezinski said he thought talking simultaneously about both arms and political issues was "a practical and realistic" thing to do. It is his view that substantial progress on political issues could so enhance mutual confidence that an arms agreement would be easier to reach and would not have to be so tightly controlled.

THERE IS HONEST argument on the side that the Soviet Union may want the nuclear arms reduction and nothing else and that, if so, we ought to take what can be had. But it just desn't make sense not to try for both and to find out soon whether Moscow might not want to remove one or more of the causes of the cold war which brought about the arms race in the first place.

Mr. Nixon intends to try, and there is every reason why he should reject the timid counsel of those who fear he is undertaking too much.

New Court Decision May Muddy Election Races

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court has given the state legislatures another dose of confusion with its latest decision on the one-man, one vote requirement for charting congressional districts.

After six years of turmoil over population equality of legislative and congressional districts, political party officials thought they had entered a period of quiet to last at least until after the 1970 census. Now they are not sure.

IN ONE of two congressional apportionment decisions April 7, the Supreme Court ruled that Missouri congressional districts failed to meet adequate standards of equality. The largest district, on the basis of 1960 census figures, was only 3.1 per cent larger than the average population for all districts. The smallest was 2.8 per cent below the average.

More shifts in population since 1960 could account for greater discrepancies.

EVEN BEORE the court first applied its one-man, one vote doctrine to the state legislatures in 1962, the legislatures were wrestling more than usual with congressional redistricting because of population shifts in the 1950s.

Twenty states redistricted as a result of the 1960 census for the 1962 elections. The court's 1964 decision applying the same principle to congressional districts set off another wave of reapportionment; some states have redistricted two or three times and federal courts did the job when the legislatures could not agree on a plan.

PARTY OFFICIALS are uncertain whether more lawsuits will compel further reapportionment before the 1970 elections. The cases last week affected Missouri and New York.

Even before the most recent decisions, the legislative elections of 1970 were regarded as "supervital," the term used by one Republican agent, because party control of the legislatures will determine the way congressional districts are drawn in 1972.

Each party now controls both houses in 20 legislatures. Control is divided in eight, and two states do not elect legislators formally identified with the national political parties.

FROM 1872 to 1929, a federal law required congressional districts to be equal in population as closely as practical. The law never was enforced.

In 1964, the Supreme Court decided that the 14th Amendment compelled that equality. But it has said nothing about the gerrymander—the mapping of districts equal in population to favor the party controlling the legislature.

The House passed a bill in 1967 to require compact and contiguous districts in each state with population deviations among districts no more than 15 per cent above or below the average for each state. The bill got lost in the Senate.

The "inalienable rights" referred to in the preamble to our Constitution are often given away. Not trampled by government, not stolen by foreign nations, not ignored by giant corporations or labor unions—but given away by the people of the United States, given away by unconcern and apathy.

Mystery Of DOIBOCFMMFS– Are You Listening, Wally Hickel?

Memo from Minor Mysteries of Marvelous Marin Department to the Interior Department's Bureau for Better Bureaucratic Bungling (cc to Secretary Wally Hickel): We've found your marine mammal field station. It's alive and well — if somewhat inactive — in Mill Valley.

Since this is the season for thinking about giving money to our friendly federal government, we were browsing through the new numbers book the other day just to see what we're getting for our annual contribution to bigger and better government.

Hark, what's this? "We thought as we ran across the rather portentous announcement of the Marin County phone number of the Department of Interior Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Field Station.

DASHING to the nearest phone to call this new government activity in Marin to see what marvelous thing the government was doing for us now, we got no answer from the DIOBOCFMMFS.

No mind, we thought assuredly as we dialed the number of the Department of Interior Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife Tiburon Marine Lab (listed in your new phone book just under the Department of Interior Bureau of Mines Marine Mineral Technology Center). Surely the DOIBOSFAWTML will know about the DOIBOCFMMFS, we reasoned.

You may have guessed already that it didn't. "That is a puzzle," mused the DOIBOSFAWTML man. He said he would check up on his sister operation and call us back.

WHILE WAITING for him to call back, we whirled away the time by dialing the new listing without success. The next day, the DIOBOSFAWTML man called back to say,"That is a puzzle."

He had, he said, called the Seattle regional office of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Laboratory. "Seattle said they didn't have a field station here," he reported.

A CALL to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., however, revealed that the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Laboratory did indeed have a bona fide paid-up phone number for a field station in Marin. What's more, the phone people said, the bill was paid by the DOIBOCFMML in Seattle. What's even more than that, the phone people continued, the Seattle office had faithfully paid the monthly bill since last September.

Call back to Seattle.

"What a puzzle!" the Seattle Marine Mammal people said.

They did, they said, have a man in Mill Valley named Bernard Lenheim who did work on whales for them intermittently. But still, according to the man at the marine lab in Tiburon, "They were as puzzled as I was."

DETERMINED NOW to solve this mini-mystery of Marin and make sure we taxpayers knew what we were paying for, we started dialing the Mill Valley number of B. H. Lenheim.

Finally he answered and yes, indeed, he did know about the number listed for the COIBOCFMMFS. In fact, that was his house, he said.

Where is this laboratory located? we asked interestedly.

Well, there's not actually a lab, Lenheim said. He does, however, do research on whales brought into area whaling stations during the shaling system.

A LITTLE WHILE later, we wondered why this relatively short-term type of research — after all, even the longest whaling seasonis not very long — should require a year-around phone number.

We tried to call the new number of the Department of Interior Bureau of Commercial Fisheries Marine Mammal Field Station in Marin to find out.

But of course there was no answer.

COUNTY COMMENT

'10 Per Centers' Still Figuring In Events Of Decade Later

There were two errors in the column last week which must have confused you somewhat. Here is the way the next to the last paragraph should have read:

Fusselman

"In late February of this year Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell presented some figures to the board which were repeated in this column at the time — just under $20 million (not $30 million as appeared) for the Administration Buidling and the Hall of Justice. With the interest item of $3,242,751 it comes to $24,222,009 (not $28,183,740 as appeared). Then with the figure of $3,761,731 for the Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building project the total is $27,983,740 and when the three-acre exhibit building, which Wright showed in his design plans, is completed it will top $30 million."

In the middle of the typing the "M" type bar seemed to think it was a taxpayer and understandably became weary with the repeated demand for more and more "millions" and balked. The result was a pile-up each time an "m" was needed for a word. Yours truly, struggling to meet a deadline, got a sweat up and goofed the biggest mistake. I don't know who did the other. Sorry, real sorry.

THOSE OF YOU who read "10 and 20 Years Ago" noticed that 10 years ago on April 9, Mr. Wright passed away. This brought to mind an occurence which was checked out for me at the paper. Here is an excerpt from the May 26, 1959 issue:

"The Marin County Board of Supervisors voted 4-1 to continue the architectural contract with the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation on the same basis the county had with the late architect.

"The action means that the foundation will be paid 10 per cent architect's fee. A reduction to 8 per cent had been sought last week by Supervisor William D. Fusselman, and at the time there was an indication that the other board members would go along with him." It goes on to say that I voted no after written statements by me and the principal proponent on the board had been presented, and: "Comments were heard from Harold Stockstad, a structual engineer of . . . Mill Vallley, and Felix Warburg, an architect of . . . Belvedere.

"They both called for a continuation of the contract. 'I think the work is amazingly complete,' Warburg said." (I couldn't get a second upon the death of Mr. Wright, over a month before, to have the board see the plans so as to know how much work had been done.) "Stockstad said that keeping the fee to 10 per cent would mean only a few cents more in taxes."

Stockstad now heads the Fair-Marin group and Warburg was largely instrumental in getting Paul C. Zucker employed as planning director.

THIS IS BEING written Thursday morning. By the time you get your I-J on Friday, the hearing on Zucker's performance as planning director will quite likely be over. Nevertheless, here are a few comments, dating back to his being hired in 1966:

He was 31 years old and had been employed for four years by three professors at Cambridge, Mass. — Adams, Howard and Opperman, who had a contract with the town of Brookline, Mass. This was an old established New England community of about 54,000 population. He then had worked for a few months as an aide to the chairman of the National Capitol Planning Commission — hardly such an impressive background as to pay a man $18,000 for a position which had been paying $14,000.

He has been arrogant and cheeky with both the planning commission and the board of supervisors on numerous occasions, has elbowed into matters that were no concern of his at all, has built up an expensive staff that has been, in the main, making work for itself that rarely reached fruition (the Parkinson Law procedure).

After Friday's hearing, it may be well to sight some specifics.

Meeting Off In Marin City

The monthly meeting of the Marin City Community Services District directors was canceled last night, apparently without notice.

Reached at home, board member Alvin C. Bynum said that the meeting was not held "because of the people didn't show up and some were sick."

The board meetings are scheduled for the third Thursday of each month and are held in the Manzanita Center in Marin City. About six persons showed up for the meeting and waited until 8:30 before leaving.

The meetings are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Albania has less than 100 miles of rail transportation.

Novato Candidates Ballots Are Listed

In the vote tabulation for the Novato Unified School District trustee candidates in the Independent-Journal on Wednesday, Ronald D. Schenck was erroneously listed as having 1,461 votes. He received 1,521 votes.

The number of votes for John M. Lane was omitted. He received 612 votes.

Mill Valley School Workshop Postponed

A community relations workshop on school problems and programs to be held by the Mill Valley School District board has been rescheduled for 9 a.m. May 3 at Park School.

The workshop originally was scheduled April 26 but has been postponed since April 26 is opening day of the Little League baseball season.

Burglars Get $45

Burglars who forced a sliding glass door at the home of Larry A. Moulton at 157 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, Tuesday took a coffee can containing $45, sheriff's officers said today.
